BUSINESS SNAPSHOT

Amtek Auto is one of the largest integrated component manufacturers in India with a strong global presence. It has world class technical and operational expertise in the manufacturing of both auto and non-auto components. Given the global manufacturing base, broad product range and focus on quality, the Company is a preferred supplier to many domestic and global blue chip OEM's.

In the Auto segment, it has proven capabilities in forging, aluminium casting, machining and sub-assemblies. This has enabled the development of a highly engineered component product portfolio including the manufacturing of complex components for engines, transmissions, suspensions and chassis for passenger cars, Two or Three wheelers, light and heavy commercial vehicles. The Non-Auto segment currently manufactures components for tractors, earth moving, construction and locomotive segments.

The Joint Ventures are progressing in line with the management expectations. The Joint Venture with American Railcar Industries has produced the first prototype of railway wagons which has now been accepted by the Indian Railways. The Joint Venture with Sumitomo is in the final stage of expanding its forging capacity and significant new orders have already been secured. The Company remains focused on improving operational productivity and implementing quality excellence programs such as lean Six Sigma across the manufacturing facilities.

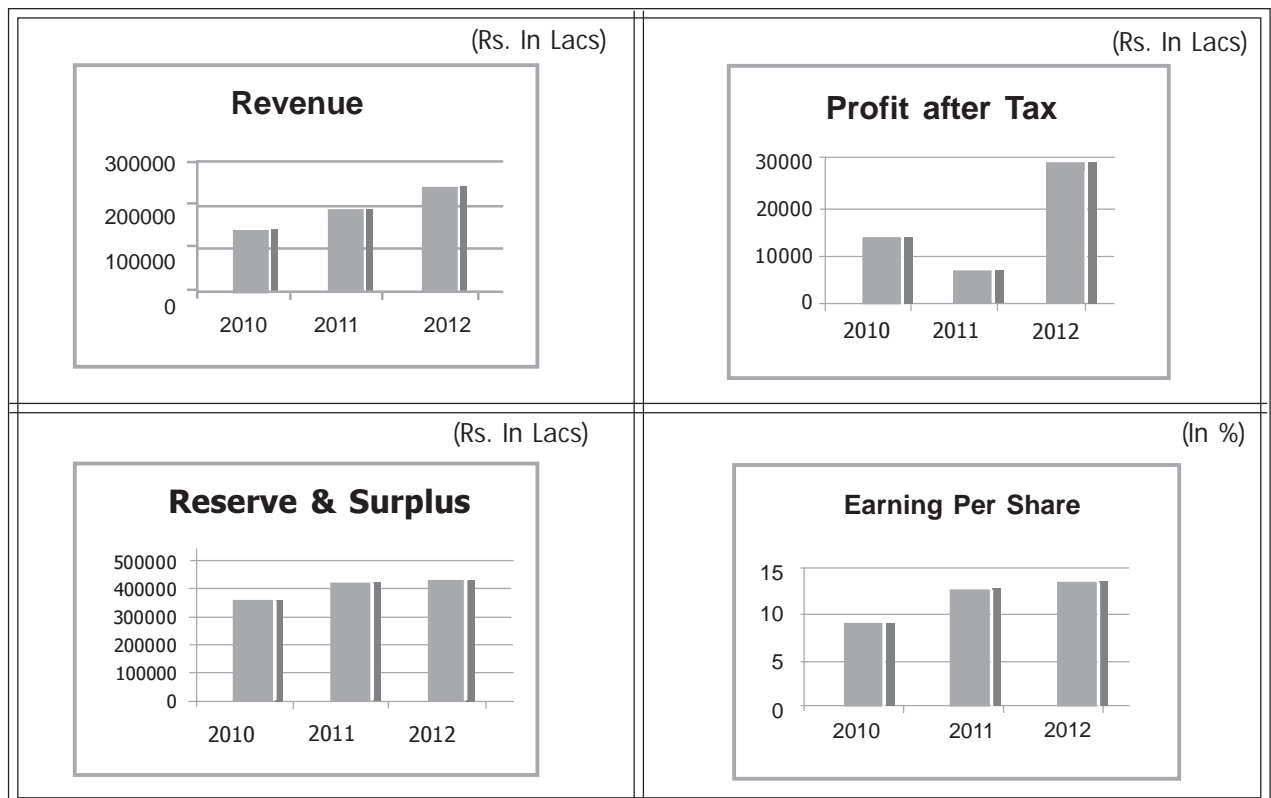

As the domestic auto OEMs continue to increase exports, this will result in a growing share of indirect exports for Amtek Auto. In context of the volatile industry dynamics, good new order intakes at the Amtek Auto have been encouraging across all geographies. Management remains positive on the long term domestic industry growth story based on continued significant investments from global OEMs and the low auto penetration levels. The Company is strategically leveraging its core strengths to capitalize on these growth opportunities. Shareholder register is now comprised of both long term domestic and international investors.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

1. INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

Global Economy

Downward pressure on global economic growth has intensified particularly during the second half of the year. Despite increasingly accommodating policies from the European Central Bank, controlling regional fiscal deficits remains challenging. High levels of unemployment coupled with austerity programs also foster social unrest. The UK re-emerged from a double dip recession with the help from additional consumer spending during the Olympics. However, there is no doubt that European uncertainty has had a rippling effecting across the global economy. The United States has delivered positive growth but without a commensurate recovery in the jobs market. The Federal Reserve has continued its quantitative easing strategy with QE3 and kept interest rates at record lows. However, the high unemployment rate, together with concerns over the fiscal deficit and an election year cause concern over the sustainability of the recovery. Growth rates in China have declined dramatically, which is also in a year of a once in a decade political transition.

Overall global real GDP growth is forecasted by the IMF to decline to about 3.3% in 2012, from 3.8% in 2011, and to return to 3.6% in 2013. In the developed economies, growth is projected around 1.3% in 2012 and 1.5% in 2013. Eurozone GDP is forecasted to contract in 2012 by approximately 0.2%, after expanding by about 1.6% in 2011. Expansion in the emerging and developing economies is projected to remain at about 5.5 to 6.0% through 2013.

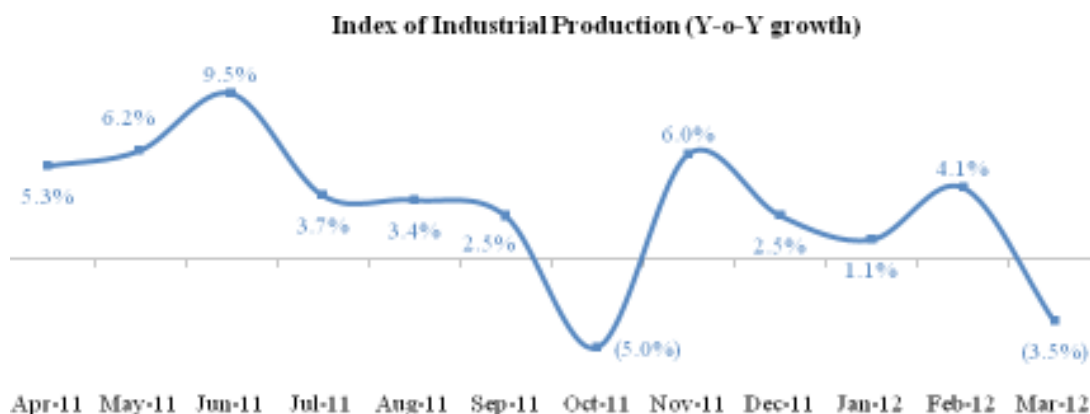

Indian Economy

The economic environment in India has deteriorated significantly over the last 12 months. In response, the Government of India has introduced a series of wide ranging reforms to facilitate foreign investment, control the fiscal deficit and improve growth prospects. These have ranged from reducing subsidies on fuel to the opening up of previously protected sectors such as multi brand retailing and insurance to foreign direct investment.

However, whilst these policies are implemented, controlling inflation remains a high priority. For the year ended March 2013, WPI based inflation is expected to be 7.5%. This assumes continued near term staple food price inflation and the impact of the pass-through of market based oil prices into retail fuel prices. The increases in the indirect and services tax rates in the last budget are likely to add to the inflationary pressures.

Inflation is also the key driver for broader fiscal policy. The Reserve Bank of India has been unable to reduce interest rates meaningfully to stimulate consumption led growth. Ongoing volatility in the foreign exchange market and the depreciation of rupee has added additional complexity for policy makers.

As per RBI, India's GDP growth is [estimated to be 6.5% for the year ended March 2012], lower than the 8.4% growth in Year Ending (YE) March 2011 and 10% in YE March 2010. In YE March 2012, Index of Industrial Production (IIP) registered a growth of 2.8% compared to 8.2% in YE March 2011. Except Electricity which grew by 8.2%, the remaining two sectors – Mining and Manufacturing remained under pressure at (2.0)% and 2.9% y-o-y, respectively in YE March 2012. Despite a delayed monsoon season, the agriculture sector is expected to grow by 3.0%.

Automobile Industry

The long term Auto industry dynamics in India are attractive from both end market and manufacturing platform perspectives. Consumer demand has been underpinned by favorable demographic changes, in particular by ongoing urbanization and an increasing middle class. Disposable incomes have also increased and correspondingly raised vehicle ownership levels. Over the last 5 years, relatively high GDP growth and industrial activity increased the demand for commercial vehicles. Current low levels of agricultural mechanization have resulted in strong tractor demand. India is expected to be the third largest automotive market by volumes in 2015 after US and China.

India has also been acknowledged by many global OEMs as one of the most strategically important emerging auto markets in the world. It is not only an attractive destination for OEMs as an end customer market but also an increasingly critically important manufacturing base. For example, global majors Ford, GM and Renault-Nissan have all announced that they will set up their manufacturing facilities in India. These manufacturing facilities will be used to service both the domestic and export markets.

Automobile Component Industry

Indian auto component manufacturers have been able to successfully support global OEMs in their international expansion strategies, as they seek to penetrate Indian and other Asian markets. Their technological and manufacturing base also enables Indian auto component firms to supply global OEMs by cost effectively exporting key products to Europe and the US. Furthermore, many of these companies will also be able to selectively participate in a consolidating industry where scale and operational efficiencies are critical.

With an increase in demand for auto components from both domestic as well as foreign OEMs, the auto-component industry is expected to ramp up capacities. India is also emerging as a major global outsourcing hub for auto components. This will require constant investments in the auto component sector, especially at the Tier 2 and Tier 3 levels where capacity is a constraint. The auto component industry will be upgrading technology, quality levels and product development capabilities to design and manufacture the next generation of components.

Auto component manufacturers have also been able to capitalize on their access to India's large and growing replacement demand. The key players in the industry continue to evaluate additional ways of capturing value, including expanding service networks, developing branded generic parts, forward integrating and building scale.

As part of synergistic strategies to leverage their core skills sets and manufacturing platforms, non-auto markets such as tractors, off-highway, construction equipment and railway components have provided continuing growth opportunities for auto component manufacturers. Although the Indian tractor market does get impacted by the monsoons, generally strong farm output with high MSPs (minimum support price), increasing farm income and availability of financing are favorable dynamics. Tractor annual sales volumes have increased by 9% compared to the prior year.

Auto Industry: Outlook

In addition to an overall declining GDP growth environment, near term demand pressures have had a significant impact on the Indian passenger vehicle sector. This has been a consequence of a number of different factors including: increased excise duties and fuel prices, relatively high interest rates and generally weaker consumer sentiment. Production volumes are now effectively flat year-on-year at 1.1% for 1Q FY13. This is a significant decline compared to previous two quarters which grew by +9.0% and +10.2% year-on-year.

Industrial activity has also experienced sequential contraction and volatility. Commercial vehicle production has had its second sequential quarter of negative growth in Q1FY13 of (5.2)% and (3.8)% in the previous quarter. This is in context of a 22.9% growth in the last year. Although LCV production volumes have shown marginal growth, MCVs volumes have declined by over 15%. 2/3 Wheeler volumes have deteriorated rapidly during the last quarter from +7.9% to -3.0% in Q1 FY13. Despite these current challenges, there are some favorable dynamics: new product launches to stimulate demand, OEMs have re-balanced inventory levels, replacement market demand is improving and import costs reduced with a depreciating rupee.

Looking ahead more broadly, SIAM expects domestic passenger car sales to grow at 1% to 3% for the year ending March 2013 and commercial vehicles by 3% to 5% for the same period. Longer term the Indian auto component industry is expected to reach over US$ 110 billion by 2021, growing at a CAGR of 11%. For the year ended March 2013, the overall industry is expected to grow 5-7%. Tractor production volumes are expected to reach 710,000 by 2015-16, growing at a CAGR of 2.6%. Production of construction equipment is expected to reach 100,000 units by 2015-16, growing at a CAGR of 16.7%. International markets diverge significantly with the US expected to remain flat, whilst Europe is exposed to further stress due to ongoing difficulties in the financial markets. As we look forward we expect continued volatility in the global economic environment.

Amtek Auto Strategy and Outlook

In the context of a volatile global economy, auto sector demand continues to be dampened as end customers adopt a conservative approach to discretionary spending. Given this ongoing uncertainty, Amtek Auto is cautious on the near term market but remains optimally positioned to capitalize on its technology and product design capabilities. The Company's overall strategy remains focused on leveraging its manufacturing base to address both the domestic market and international markets. India is an attractive central hub for OEM global exports and a world class manufacturing base. Continuous investments within India from major OEMs will significantly enhance mid to long term prospects of the domestic auto industry. Over the years, we continue to successfully execute our strategy of expanding the Non-Auto business across the group.

Management is focused on achieving operating excellence by reinforcing lean manufacturing and quality improvement programs across all production facilities. This will result in further enhancing utilization levels and productivity improvements.

As a step further the Company during the year, has entered into a long term arrangement for materials with OCL Iron & Steel Limited. Additionally, the Company, being into a capital intensive industry, is also exploring the possibility of setting up an inhouse EPC division, in technical collaboration with globally established players for constant upgradation of technology and facilities.

The Group has a long track record of successfully partnering with its high profile global customer base, which is essential for managing its business going forward.

INTERNAL CONTROL SYSTEMS AND THEIR ADEQUACY

The Company has in place adequate system of internal control. It has documented procedures covering all financial and operating functions. Based on the nature of business and size of operations, the Company's internal control system has been designed to provide for:

Accurate recording of transactions with Internal Checks and prompt reporting.

Adherence to applicable Accounting Standards and Policies.

Review of Capital Investments and Long Term Business Plans.

Periodic review meetings to guide optimum utilization of resources.

Compliance with applicable statues, policies, listing requirements and management policies and procedures.

Effective use of resources and safeguarding of Assets.

Continuous audit and verification of the systems enables the various business groups to plug any shortcomings sooner rather than later. The status of implementation of the recommendations is reviewed by the Committee on a regular basis and concerns, if any, are reported to the Board

Opportunities / Strengths

- Favorable demographic profile and increasing dieselization: India's cost effective manufacturing base, due to economies of scale, coupled with low R&D and sourcing costs are increasing affordability and attracting major OEMs. Launch of new models, especially diesel variants, should deliver growth for the industry.
- Increasing Interest among the Foreign Players: The Government of India has permitted 100% foreign direct investment (FDI) in the automotive industry through automatic route. Global and Indian OEMs are focusing their efforts to develop innovative products, technologies and supply chains.

Relatively low-penetration levels: In terms of current market size, the Indian vehicle market is relatively small as compared to the other emerging auto markets like China, South Korea and Brazil. Despite strong growth witnessed for a nearly a decade, penetration of cars in India continues to remain the lowest among emerging markets.

Export Potential: Sourcing from low-cost countries has increased, which in turn, has enhanced India's potential as an automotive hub. Proximity to Emerging Markets: India's proximity to emerging markets such as Asia and Africa is another advantage. Shipments to Europe from India are more cost-effective as compared to those from Brazil and Thailand. Product Development Capabilities: India is emerging as a R&D and manufacturing hub for low cost compact cars.

Risks / Concerns:

Changes in tax, tariff or fiscal policies: Imposition of additional taxes and levies designed to limit the use of automobiles could adversely affect the demand for the Company's products. Changes in corporate and other taxation policies, as well as changes in export and other incentives given by various governments, or import or tariff policies could also adversely affect the Company's financial results.

Political instability, wars, terrorism, multinational conflicts, natural disasters, fuel shortages / prices, epidemics, labour strikes:

The Company's products are exported to a number of different geographic markets. Consequently, the Company is subject to various risks associated with conducting the business both within and outside the domestic market and the operations may be subject to political instability, wars, terrorism, regional and / or multinational conflicts, natural disasters, fuel shortages, epidemics and labor strikes

Input Costs: Input costs on account of commodities like steel, non-ferrous, precious metals, rubber and petroleum products have risen over the year and resulted in higher input costs. While the Company continues to pursue cost reduction initiatives, increases in commodity prices and other costs resulting from inflationary pressures, could impact the Company's profitability to the extent that the same are not absorbed by the market through price increases and/or could have a negative impact on the demand.

Global Competition: India is the [second fastest growing economy] in the world and continues to be an attractive destination for the global automotive players. To counter the threat of growing global competition, the Company continues to intensify its drive to improve quality and product offerings, while maintaining its low cost product development and sourcing advantage.
