MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

1.0 SEGMENTS OF POWER IN INDIA

Being a tropical country, India has huge potential for solar power generation and as per government estimates, India receives 5,000tn kWh per year, with most parts of the Country receiving 4-7 kWh per square meter per day. India has a booming power industry and the country's power sector is expected to account for over 12 percent of the Asia Pacific Power Sector by 2015. Coal is the primary fuel used for power generation and accounts for over fifty percent of the energy demand in the country, along with oil and gas. Power consumption in India is going to increase in the coming years as the country's population increases exponentially and industrial growth is also expected to boom. Indian total installed capacity will add nearly 45,000 MW by 2013-14 to the existing production. However, demand is much higher than supply with deficit projected to be more than 12% during the year 2010-11. As on March 31, 2012, installed capacity of renewable energy based power generation was 24,503 MW, which is about 12 percent of the total installed capacity of 199,626 MW. The major renewable energy sources are wind energy, solar energy, biomass and waste energy, and small hydro energy.

India comes up as a global leader in terms of hydro-electric power generation. It represents 17% of the total installed generating capacity – placing the country as the sixth largest producer of hydro-electric power. Along with solar and wind power, India has set ambitious targets to utilize nuclear energy sources as well. Earlier in 2009, the government announced its plans to generate 470 GW of nuclear energy by 2050, thus opening doors of huge opportunities in the sector.

2.0 DEVELOPMENT OF RURAL AREAS

State governments in co-operation with central and private players are devising strategies to ensure that the power deficits can be reduced and large number of villages can be electrified. The states are focusing on those aspects of energy, in which they have an edge, such as solar power, wind power, or hydro power. To tap the underlying potential, the states are making targets for capacity additions and funds availability. The states are complementing the efforts made by the government at the central level with respect to the power sector.

3.0 RENEWABLE ENERGY

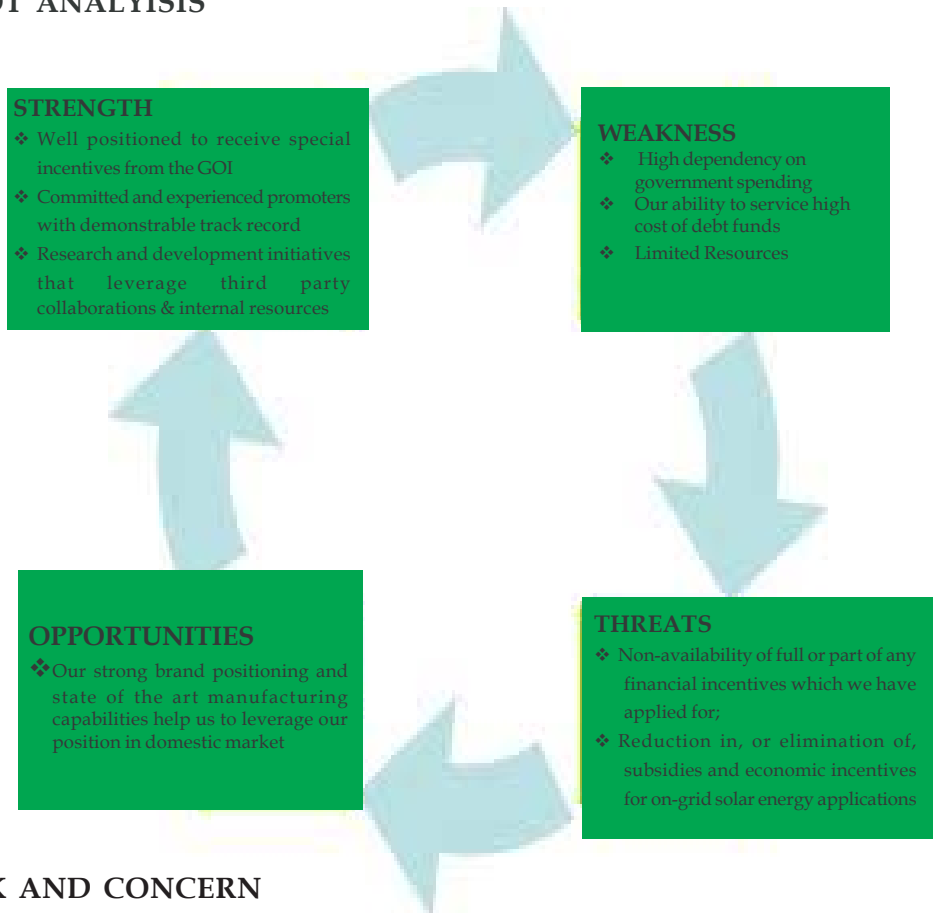

In terms of all renewable energy, India are currently ranked fifth in the world with 15691.4 MW grid connected and 367.9 MW off grid renewable energy based power capacity. India is among the top five destinations worldwide for solar energy development according Ernst & Young's renewable energy attractiveness index. India has been attracted over USD 3 billion investment every year in renewable sector.

India renewable energy market has become increasingly dynamic in recent years as a result of strong natural resources. Solar and wind energy will be the major areas to witness overseas investments and acquisition in near future.

4.0 FOREIGN DIRECT INVESTMENT

The Government has allowed foreign direct investment (FDI) in the renewable energy sector and has put in place conducive policies to attract foreign companies in the sector. With all the above attractive characteristics and potential, India presents a significant market opportunity for renewable energy firms worldwide.

5.0 SWOT ANALYSIS

6.0 RISK AND CONCERN

Your Company has laid down the procedure to inform Board members about the risk assessment and minimization procedures. These procedures are being periodically reviewed to ensure that management controls risk through the means of a properly defined framework.

7.0 FUTURE OUTLOOK

Your Company is Committed to provide world class services to rapidly develop India with a desire to further the economy under a 'Public -Private partnership' structure. In particular, it has special focus in developing rural India and is committed to focus on rural electrification especially in hilly areas, forest regions, islands, far flung villages, unmanned location and other areas which require reliable and uninterrupted power supply.

The Company is planning to launch various projects in the market as follows:-

- Solar Energy Projects: The Company is now able to provide off grid power solutions through Solar energy products. The product line includes solutions for domestic as well as commercial sectors and has a vast range in models and pricing. Some of the products are going to be imported from China and some custom made domestically. The sale of products is designed to be done through sales agents across the country. The Company hopes that this venture will provide products with superior quality and services then currently available in the sector.

Solar power has so far played an almost non-existent role in the Indian energy mix. The grid-connected capacity in the country now stands at 481.48 MW, while the total energy potential has been estimated at 50,000 MW.

- Thermal Projects & Coal Trading: The Thermal Power plant in India use coal, petroleum and natural gas to produce thermal electricity. The Company addresses the huge emerging opportunities in Jharkhand. The Company is currently at the initial stages of developing a 100 MW coal-based power plant near Jamtara district of Jharkhand. The project capacity is proposed to be enhanced to 200 MW by addition of a second unit of 100 MW at a later stage. The project site is located about 30 km from Jamtara district of Jharkhand.
- Wave Energy Projects: Waves are generated by wind passing over the surface of the sea. As long as the waves propagate slower than the wind speed just above the waves, there is an energy transfer from the wind to the waves. Both air pressure differences between the upwind and the lee side of a wave crest, as well as friction on the water surface by the wind, making the water to go into the shear stress causes the growth of the waves.
