E. Management Discussion and Analysis.

- i) Industry Structure & Development: Edible Oil industry being based on agriculture depends heavily on vagaries of nature. This is more specific to Madhya Pradesh where majority of soya cultivation is non-irrigated. Farmers have small holdings of land where mechanised and scientific methods of cultivation are difficult to be adopted. Soyabean Processors Association of India (SOPA) has undertaken various schemes to educate farmers for better yield of soyabean.
- ii) Internal Control Systems & Adequacy: The day to day operations of the company are looked after by the Director who have a team of professionals to man key areas of operations. In addition, the company has the following committees to over view the management.
 - 1. Audit Committee of Board of Directors.
 - 2. Share Transfer and Investors' Grievance Committee of Board of Directors.

The Company has an adequate internal control system, procedures, checks designed to provide reasonable assurance on achievement of the objectives relating to efficiency and effectiveness of operations, reliability of financial reporting and compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

- iii) Opportunities and the outlook: The industry foresees a potential growth in view of a wide gap between demand and supply of edible oil in the country. Efforts have been made by the Central and State Governments to enhance edible oil production by way of various incentives and schemes.
- iv) Threats: Owing to cheaper imports of oil, there is severe pressure on the industry to be competitive. In the era of globalisation and liberalisation of economy many foreign players have entered the market with their large infrastructure and economics of scale which pose a threat to the local industry.
- v) Risks & Concerns: Nature plays very important role in functioning of the industry. Monsoons and climatic conditions can influence production of soyabean to a great extent. Similarly Government policies can also adversely affect the industry.
- vi) Human Resources: The company has its own system to monitor all its functions to ensure proper and adequate control, facility, transparency and accuracy. The employer-employee relations have been cordial. The company considers the quality of its human resources as its important assets and tries to attract, employ, train and retain the best talent available in the industry.
