FUTURE OUTLOOK

2013 again been a mixed bag, but has nevertheless seen the return to growth in some geographies compared with the preceding years. The US has begun its gradual pullout from Afghanistan and recession, for some time, and is gradually returning to better times and consistent growth, perhaps better than expected and better than most developed nations. Europe has also seen steady growth in the past year. While not substantial, but encouraging especially driven by Germany. Asia on the other hand is not quite on the same page. China is seeing the pressure of rising labour costs, an aging population, tapering of high tech investments which are now more centered around home markets in the developed world. Even "time to market", logistics, freight costs has impacted growth prospects. Industries where labour costs matter of course continue their migration to China and the rest of Asia, the latter also gaining investments due to this factor including Indonesia, Vietnam, and other South Asian countries, whose rising prosperity is also critical for the growth of world markets. As Japan continues to deal with disasters such as Fukushima, among others, and Thailand from the floods, supply chains are relocating and diversifying to avert the impact of the fallout of such events. What we see is a more even distribution of manufacturing worldwide with all aspects of the supply chain being evenly located.

The PCB industry has seen positive growth in 2012 at $ 60.6 Billion (Source N.T. Information), 4% over US$ 58.3 Billion in 2011. There have been dramatic changes in technology, for the electronics industries and therefore the PCB industry necessitating a proliferation of materials to cater to diverse, high end uses and product profiles. BPA Technology Consulting projects growth at US$ 68.5 Billion by 2016, with China still accounting for over 51% of the world's total production. However, high technology applications such as defence, aerospace, proprietary technologies and designs etc. are increasingly getting localized, with this trend beginning to accentuate in the past few years.

The Indian PCB market has been growing at a healthy pace, with large investments in the mobile communications, telecom, industrial, consumer electronics, EMS, and automotive industries already made. The growth which was expected to exceed 17% CAGR however, now seems unlikely with a discernable downturn spiral in the Indian economy, driven by a variety of domestic factors. The total market which was approx. US$ 650 Million has shrunk considerably, as demand for electronics drops, and some companies implement down-sizing strategies or move overseas. Domestic production is close to US$ 200 Million, with the rest being imported, thereby presenting an opportunity to existing domestic PCB producers. However, with very little or no substantial investments forthcoming, this trend of import of PCBs of all types and materials will continue, and volatility of the Indian Rupee will exacerbate imports and yet cut backs in domestic production.

The Company expected to receive permission to exit from the 100% EOU Scheme for which it had applied well over three years ago and in was forced to suspended production till receipt of the de-bonding permission from the Commerce Ministry (NSEZ). Keeping in view continuing and exceptional delays in the de-bonding process, the Company is contemplating recommencing exports out of lack of choice very soon as a 100% EOU. With the Rupee having depreciated by almost 20% at the time of writing, exports seem to be the logical direction of business, a lucrative option at this time for the short run.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS STATEMENT

In view of the strong growth potential in the domestic market of PCBs, and the difficult recessionary outlook in the developed economies since 2008 onwards, the largest importers of PCBs, the Company had requested the relevant Government of India Departments and Ministry for De-bonding of its PCB unit as of July 2010, to enable the Company to have unlimited access to the domestic market, specifically due to the lack of suppliers of quality PCBs at large volumes, especially in North India. The NCR region itself constitutes over 33% of the total Indian market of US $ 2 Billion.

However, the Company currently is still not in production as a result of delays in obtaining the requisite permissions, i.e. issues outside management control, are compelling it to review its' decision regarding the proposed domestic sale focus, some of which are listed below:

1. The de-bonding application is still pending with Governmental agencies / departments, and the likelihood of the outcome of this decision / permission is still unknown.
2. The domestic market has slowed down considerably in view of the current domestic political and hence economic scenario.
3. The volatility of the Rupee and its depreciation by almost 20% viz-a-viz hard currencies e.g. US Dollar, Euro, UK Pound, as well as the Chinese RMB and the prospect of it remaining as such for the foreseeable short to medium term future once again makes exports remunerative, especially in industries where skilled labour is a major cost component such as PCBs.

The Company is thus considering recommencement of exports very shortly and will review its domestic market presence in the future as the domestic political and therefore economic scenario improves and stabilizes.

Opportunities and threats

We present below a SWOT analysis of the Company.

Strengths

1. The Company has re-established itself as a reliable producer of high quality and technology Printed Circuit Boards (PCBs),
2. The Company had adequate orders and is still receiving business enquiries. Existing and past customers, domestic and foreign have been following the Company's re-start plans to resume purchases.
3. The Company has also received enquiries / permission from new export customers.

Weaknesses:

1. The Company being a 100 % Export Oriented Unit, is subject to market variations resulting from events and circumstances that impact the international, political and economic scenarios, e.g. post Sept 11 business downturn, rising oil prices slowing business growth, the global recession, fluctuating currencies, and now the prospect of renewed war in the Middle East.
2. The Company needs to further upgrade its technology in certain areas as also increase production capacity even further than that effected in FY 2009-10, as also bring down material costs.

Opportunities:

1. The depreciating Indian Rupee recently by over 20% against most western currencies again makes exports highly remunerative.
2. The Indian advantage: Low cost skilled labour and low cost indigenous pollution control is a compelling factor for manufacturing PCBs in India.
3. Indian quality and mid-volume capability is being well received internationally and also by domestic importers, especially in comparison to Chinese producers.

Threats:

1. The demand for PCBs in the international market is subject to cyclical fluctuations to which the global electronic industry is normally characterized by.

2. The profitability of the Company could be affected by adverse movements in foreign currencies.
3. Competition with Chinese imports who are continually reducing pricing to gain market share despite delivering questionable quality standards. However, buyers in developed countries now have a marked preference for other sources of supply with high technology capabilities and capacities, reliability, and consistency.
4. Political instability and rampant corruption locally discouraging domestic and foreign investments and hindering business operations of existing companies.

The foregoing SWOT analysis suggests in conclusion that the Company's prospects, its future strategy are fundamentally sound and a substantial opportunity exists.

Segment-wise or Product-wise performance

The Company has only single line of manufacturing of Printed Circuit Boards. Therefore, segment-wise analysis is not required. However, there are different categories of professional grade Printed Circuit Boards viz. Single sided (SS), Double sided plated-thru. -Holes (DSPTH) and Multi-layer (ML) PCBs. The total capacity of the Plant is 54,000 sq. mtrs. per annum. The plant has resumed commercial production and operation after 6 years. Having recommenced commercial operation in 2008 – 09, the Company failed to export its products as envisaged. With limited domestic market access and consequent to it's application pending to exit from the 100% EOU Scheme, the Company was forced to suspend production for over a year till date.

Outlook

With the progression of science and quantum jumps in technology, the electronic information processing needs for all types of products are gradually enhanced. New electronic products are emerging as a result, which continuously expand the end-use and market for PCBs. Emerging 3G mobile phones, automotive electronics, LCD, IPTV, digital TV, computing products will also substantially widen the global PCB market. The growing demand for smart phones, touch screen tablets are major drivers of this industry currently, communications equipment, consumer electronics, automotive electronics and computers and related products are the major end-use application markets for PCBs, account for about 80% of the total market demand.

China continues to dominate both PCB demand and production in both volume and value terms. However the total market demand in Asia in 2013, at least, will be reduced by the economic downturn in the West, which is expected to continue for some years till the Euro zone restructures and recovers. Asian growth will be sustained mainly by domestic demand. From a respectable average annual growth of just under 5% in 2013 it is expected to start picking up in 2015 resulting in a growth rate of between 6% and 7% for China between 2011 and 2016. Global PCB market by value will increase from $56.6 billion in 2011 to $68.5 billion in 2016. China's share of PCB production is expected to increase further from 45% to 51%. (Source: BPA Consulting)

The downturn in China at the end of 2011 and reduced growth rates particularly in the latter part of 2012 has been more severe for small and medium sized fabricators than in the rest of Asia and this has continued through the first half of 2013. China will be looking to boost exports to emerging economies to compensate for lack of demand from the West. However, China is still substantially reliant on the major U.S. and European markets and the turbulence that has affected these economies will continue to suppress demand for PCBs in China seen at the end of 2012 and will still affect the market for laminates and PCBs during 2013.

India exports 24% of its domestic production to US, UK, Spain, Germany, Italy, Austria, Belgium, Netherlands, Thailand, New Zealand mainly (Source : IPCA). ITL has in addition to Germany, Austria, and some other European countries, also exported to Scandinavian countries where prices have been very remunerative. The Company proposes to tap these markets as also other emerging Asian markets which are expected to be future growth areas in times to come.

Internal Control Systems and their adequacy

The internal control system of the Company is designed in a manner to provide timely information on deviations from projected standards in both technical and commercial areas and flow of information through various steps of the hierarchy of management to enable implementation of corrective measures to avoid further delay and deviations. Since the Company's start of commercial operations, management systems and control mechanisms have been instituted towards this end, and towards the eventual goal of optimizing the Company's resources, financial, technical, human resource base, and materials.

Discussion on Financial Performance with respect to Operational performance

The position with regards to business operations remains unchanged and the domestic sales permission completely depleted in the previous years, the Company has been forced to suspend production till receipt of approval for exit from the 100% EOU Scheme, which till date is yet to materialize. The Company has taken all possible steps to reduce overheads and hence costs till that time to minimize losses, and now proposes to commence exports subject to relevant Indian Government authorities.

Material developments in human resources / industrial relations front including number of people employed

The Company is headed by Mr. Rajeev Bali, Managing Director. He is an MBA (Finance), USA.

The Company has a policy for (i) initiating new personnel into the Company's designated systems for any particular functional area, (ii) monitoring of personnel and HRD programmes, and (iii) ensuring leadership in its industry through effective HR management.

Due to suspension of production till receipt of necessary permission to exit from EOU Scheme, in the interim period most production employees have chosen to leave the Company for other opportunities due to perceived uncertainty of the Company's future plans and prospects.

SCHEDULE “17”

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND OTHER NOTES

(I) Significant Accounting Policies

1. Accounting Convention

The financial statements are prepared by following the Going Concern Concept under the historical convention, on accrual basis, in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in India, the accounting standards issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the provisions of the Companies Act, 1956.

2. Fixed Assets

Fixed Assets are stated at cost of acquisition less accumulated depreciation. Cost includes all expenses related to acquisition and installation of the concerned assets.

Gross block of fixed assets includes assets purchased under Hire-purchase agreements for which the company does not have full ownership.

3. Depreciation:

Depreciation on fixed assets has been provided on Written Down Value method in accordance with the rates prescribed in Schedule XIV of the Companies Act, 1956, as amended from time to time.

4. Impairment

At each balance sheet date, the management reviews the carrying amounts of its assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets were impaired. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the assets is estimated in order to determine the extent of impairment loss. Recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's net selling price and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows expected from the continuing use of the asset and from its disposal are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects the current market assessments of time value of money and risks specific to the asset.

Reversal of impairment loss is recognised immediately as income in the profit and loss account.

5. Inventories:

Inventories are valued at lower of cost or net realizable value. Cost is determined on the weighted average method. Finished goods and Work in Progress include cost of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present locations and condition.

6. Revenue Recognition:

As a consistent practice, the company recognizes revenue on accrual basis. Sales are recognized when goods are dispatched to customers and are recorded net of returns.

7. Expenditure

Expenses are accounted for on accrual basis.

8. Foreign Currency Transactions:

Income and expense in foreign currencies are converted at exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction. Foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rate prevailing on the balance sheet date. Gain or loss arising out of fluctuations on realization/payment or re-statement is charged/credited to the profit and loss account.

9. Taxes on Income:

Current income tax expense comprises taxes on income payable as determined in accordance with the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961.

Minimum alternative tax (MAT) paid in accordance to the tax laws, which gives rise to future economic benefits in the form of adjustment of future income tax liability, is considered as an asset if there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay normal income tax in future. Accordingly, MAT is recognized as an asset in the balance sheet when it is probable that the future economic benefit associated with it will flow to the Company and the asset can be measured reliably.

Deferred Tax Assets or Deferred Tax Liability is recognised on timing differences being the difference between taxable income and accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

In the event of unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward of losses, deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that there is virtual certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available to realise such assets. In other situations, deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that there is reasonable certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available to realise these assets.

10. Borrowing Cost:

Borrowing costs are expensed in the year in which it is incurred and charged to revenue account.

11. Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets

A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past event and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which reliable estimate can be made. Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to its present value and are determined based on best estimate required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Contingent liabilities are not recognised in the financial statements. A contingent asset is neither recognised nor disclosed in the financial statements.

7. No amount is payable to small scale industrial undertakings under MSMED Act, as per information available with the company.
8. In the opinion of the Management, the Gratuity Act, 1972 is not applicable to the company, since no employee has completed 5 years of uninterrupted service and therefore no provision for gratuity is made.
