NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS - 31ST MARCH, 2010

These notes form an integral part of the financial statement.

The financial statements were authorized for issue by the Board of Directors on 3rd August, 2010.

1) DOMICILE AND ACTIVITIES

KANIKA INFOTECH (SINGAPORE) PTE LTD is incorporated in the Republic of Singapore and has its registered office at 10, Anson Road, #31-10, International Plaza, Singapore - 079983

The principal activities of the company are those relating to software and multimedia work development. There have been no significant changes in the nature of these activities during the financial year.

The immediate and ultimate holding company during the financial year is Kanika Infrastructure & Power Limited (Formerly known as Kanika Infocom Global Ltd. (India).

2) SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

2.1 Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Singapore Financial Reporting Standards ("FRS").

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis, except for the following assets and liabilities which are measured at fair value: certain plant and equipment, certain financial assets and financial liabilities. Non-current assets and disposal groups held for sale are measured at the lower of the carrying amount and fair value.

The financial statements are presented in Singapore Dollars which is the Company's functional currency.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with FRS requires managements to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected.

a) Adoption of new and revised standards

On 1 January 2007, the Company adopted the new or revised FRS and interpretations of FRS (INT FRS) that are mandatory for application from that date. Changes to the Company's accounting policies have been made as required, in the accordance with the relevant transitional provisions in the respective FRS and INT FRS.

The following are the new and amended FRS and INT FRS that are relevant to the Company :

Amendment to Presentation of Financial Statements - Capital Disclosures Financial Instruments : Disclosures
FRS 1FRS 107

The adoption of the above FRS and INT FRS did not result in any substantial changes to the Company's accounting policies nor any significant impact on these financial statements. FRS 107 and the complementary amended FRS 1 introduce new disclosures relating to financial instruments and capital respectively.

b) New FRS and INT FRS yet to be adopted

At the date of authorization of these financial statements, the following FRS and INT FRS were issued but not yet effective:

FRS 108	Operating Segments (effective 1 January 2009)
INT FRS 29	Amendments to Disclosure-Service Concession Agreement (effective 1 January 2008)
INT FRS 101	Amendments to Changes in Existing Decommissioning, Restoration and Similar Liabilities (effective 1 January 2009)
INT FRS 104	Amendments to Determining whether an Arrangement contains a Lease (effective 1 January 2008)
INT FRS 111	Group and Treasury Shares Transactions (effective 1 March 2007)
INT FRS 112	Service Concession Arrangements (effective 1 January 2008) Amendments to Service Concession Arrangements (effect 1 January 2009)

The management expect that the adoption of these FRS and INT FRS in the initial period of application will have no material impact on the financial statements.

2.2 Plant and equipment

Plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses.

Cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. Purchased software that is integral to the functionality of the related equipment is capitalized as part of that equipment.

When parts of an item of plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of plant and equipment.

The cost of replacing parts of an item of plant and equipment is recognized in the carrying amount of the item if it is probable that the future economic benefits embodied within the part will follow to the Company and its cost can be measured reliably. The cost of the day-to-day serving of plant and equipment are recognized in the income statement as incurred.

Depreciation on plant and equipment is recognized in the income statement on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives (or leased term, if shorter) of each part of an item of plant and equipment.

The estimated useful lives are as follows :

- Software 10 Years
- Office equipment 3 Years
- Furniture and fittings 3 Years

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed, and adjusted as appropriate, at each reporting date.

2.3 Financial Instruments

Non-derivative instruments

Non-derivative financial instruments comprise investments in equity and debt securities, trade and other receivables, cash and cash equivalents, financial liabilities, and trade and other payables.

Non-derivative financial instruments are recognized initially at fair value plus, for instruments not at fair value through profit or loss, any directly attributable transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, non-derivative financial instruments are measured as describes below.

A financial statement is recognized if the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Financial assets are derecognized if the Company's contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial assets expire or if the company transfers the financial assets to another party without retaining control or transfers substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset. Regular way purchases and sales of financial assets are accounted for at trade date, i.e., the date that the Company commits itself to purchase or sell the asset. Financial liabilities are derecognized if the Company's obligations specified in the contract expire or are discharged or cancelled.

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash balances and bank deposits. Bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand and that form an integral part of the company's cash management are included as a component of cash and cash equivalents for the purpose of the cash flow statement.

Financial assets are fair value through profit or loss

An instrument is classified as at fair value through profit or loss if it is acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the short term or is designated as such upon initial recognition. Financial instruments are designated as fair value through profit or loss if the Company manages such investments and makes purchase and sale decisions based on their fair value in accordance with the Company's documented risk management and investment strategies. Upon initial recognition, attributable transaction costs are recognized in the income statement when incurred. Financial instruments are fair value through profit or loss is measured at fair value, and changes therein are recognized in the income statement.

Held-to-maturity investments

If the Company has the positive intent and ability to hold debt securities to maturity, they are classified as held-to-maturity. Held-to-maturity investments are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment losses.

Available-for-sale financial assets

The Company's investments in certain equity securities and debt securities are classified as available-for-sale financial assets if they are not classified in any of the other categories. Subsequent to initial recognition, they are measured at fair value and changes therein, other than for impairment losses, and foreign exchange gains and losses on available-for-sale monetary items, are recognized directly in equity. When an investment is derecognized, the cumulative gain or loss in equity is transferred to the income statement.

Other

Other non-derivative financial instruments are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment losses.

Impairment of financial assets

A financial asset is assessed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any objective evidence that it is impaired. A financial asset is considered to be impaired if objective evidence indicates that one or more event have had a negative effect on the estimated future cash flows of that asset.

An impairment loss in respect of a financial asset measured at amortised cost is calculated as the difference between its carrying amount, and the present value of the estimated future cash flows discounted at the original effective interest rate.

An impairment loss in respect of an available-for-sale financial asset is calculated by reference to its current fair value.

Individually significant financial asset are tested for impairment on an individual basis. The remaining financial assets are assessed collectively in groups that share similar credit risk characteristic.

All impairment losses are recognized in the income statement. Any cumulative loss in respect of available-for-sale financial assets recognized previously in equity is transferred to the income statement.

Impairment losses in respect of financial assets measured at amortised cost and available-for-sale debt securities are reversed if the subsequent increase in fair value can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognized.

Impairment losses once recognized in the income statement in respect of available-for-sale equity securities are not reversed through the income statement. Any subsequent increase in fair value of such assets is recognized directly in equity.

Share Capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity.

Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of ordinary shares and share options are recognized as a deduction from equity, net of any tax effects.

When share capital recognized as equity is repurchased (treasury shares), the amount of the consideration paid, including directly attributable costs, net of any tax effects, is presented as a deduction from equity. Where such shares are subsequently reissued, sold or cancelled, the consideration received is recognized as a change in equity. No gain or loss is recognized in the income statement.

2.4 Impairment of non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of the Company's non-financial assets, other than investment properties, inventories and deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, the assets' recoverable amounts are estimated.

An impairment loss is recognized if the carrying amount of an asset or its cash-generating unit exceeds its estimated recoverable amount. A cash-generating unit is the smallest identifiable asset group that generates cash flows that largely are independent from other assets and groups. Impairment losses are recognized in the income statement unless it reverses a previous revaluation, credited to equity, in which case it is charged to equity. Impairment losses recognized in respect of cash-generating units are allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the units and then to reduce the carrying amount of the other assets in the unit (group of units) on a pro-rata basis.

The recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset or cash-generating unit.

An impairment loss in respect of goodwill is not reversed. In respect of other assets, impairment losses recognized in prior periods are assessed at each reporting date for any indications that the loss has decreased or no longer exists. An impairment loss is reversed if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount. An impairment loss is reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortization, if no impairment loss had been recognized.

2.5 Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost is calculated using the weighted average cost formula and comprises all costs of purchase, costs of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. In the case of manufactured inventories and work-in-progress, cost includes an appropriate share of production overheads based on normal operating capacity. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and selling expenses.

2.6 Income tax expenses

Income tax expenses comprise current and deferred tax. Income tax expense is recognized in the income statement except to the extent that it relates to items recognised directly in equity, in which case it is recognized in equity.

Current tax is the expected tax payable on the taxable income for the year, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date, and any adjustment to tax payable in respect of previous years.

Deferred tax is recognized using the balance sheet method, providing for temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for taxation purposes. Deferred tax is not recognized for the following temporary difference: the initial recognition of goodwill, the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and that affects neither accounting nor taxable profit, and differences relating to investments in subsidiaries and joint ventures to the extent that it is probable that they will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to be applied to the temporary differences when they reverse, based on the laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax liabilities and assets and they relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on the same taxable entity, or on difference tax liabilities will be realized simultaneously.

A deferred tax asset is recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realized.
