Chairman and Managing Director

Dear Shareholders,

The highlight of this year's operations, without a doubt, has been the Design, Development and Supply of LED based 3D-Holographic Displays. In all probability, this Development is the first of its kind in the world. The uniqueness of day-light visibility of 2D LED displays is extended to 3D displays, which provide Auto Stereoscopic Vision rendering them as Naked eye 3D displays which can be viewed without wearing any special glasses. This feature enormously enhances their application potential. In addition to the political campaigns for which these displays were deployed in the last General Elections, it is expected that the 3D and 2D Displays will have a great role to play as information dissemination devices in the domains of Education, Agriculture, Health Care, Governance, Rural Commence and a host of other applications in addition to the traditional ones like product Advertising, Entertainment etc. The export of LED displays are continuing at a steady pace.

The development of the 3D Holographic displays is yet another milestone reached by your company which amply demonstrates its R&D capabilities. Development of small-pitch displays is yet another R&D achievement of the year. Continuous steps are being taken to protect the Intellectual Property that is getting generated, which will eventually enable your company in the creation of a comprehensive LED Ecosystem.

I am particularly happy to inform you that the supplies have commenced for the prestigious Nashik Municipality street lighting project, in the state of Maharashtra. The installation operations will commence very soon and the project is expected to be completed before the end of the current financial year. The success achieved in respect of this is particularly gratifying because your company had to battle several legal hurdles, which it did successfully, based on its technical and technological strengths.

Lot of importance is being given to bring in energy efficiency in the public lighting systems of the Country. The Nashik project, it is strongly believed, will be a show case example in this regard and will open up several similar business opportunities for your company. Supplies have already commenced for a similar project in Visakhapatnam in the state of Andhra Pradesh. Another gratifying development is the opportunities that are coming our way in the export of LED street lights.

The newly formed states of Telangana and Andhra Pradesh, unfortunately, have been affected by serious power shortages. Energy efficient lighting and solar powered lighting will be of great relevance to these states and your company will endeavour to render its best possible service to these states in the area of LED lighting.

Industry analysts have been observing that Railways and street lighting offer the best business opportunities, in the short term, for LED lighting. Your company, by dint of the pioneering work done already, is positioned well to make its presence strongly felt in these important market segments.

Government of India is committed to enhance the manufacturing operations in the Country. Hon'ble Prime Minister of India, in his Independence Day speech made a fervent appeal to 'Sell Globally but Make in India'. This National support and the initiatives launched by the Department of Electronics and Information Technology (DeitY) to promote Indigenous manufacture and self-sufficient in the Country augur well for an R&D and Technology driven company like yours. I would like to assure you that we will fully leverage on the opportunities that present themselves.

The business potential in the domain of Coach lighting for Indian Railways has been dormant in the last 4-5 years despite the fact that your company has been the first and only company to supply these coach lighting products which have successfully undergone field trails for extended periods of time. The administrative issues that were delaying the purchase process have since been resolved and your company can look forward to sizeable business from this segment, sooner than later. In respect of Display products, again in the Railway sector, decisions taken to introduce Multi-Colour / True-Colour displays to substitute single colour displays as Coach Guidance and Platform Displays will open up fresh business opportunities for your company. Further, certain pending issues regarding Passenger Information Systems (PIS) in the Eastern region are getting resolved on a priority basis. The technical clearance for the next generation PIS is also expected to be received by your company shortly. These are welcome developments in respect business enhancement in the Railway Sector for display products.

I once again sincerely thank all the shareholders for the trust reposed in your company.

With best wishes,

Sd/-

The era of LED lighting has come to stay in India and has already taken firm roots in the Country. The industry analysts are projecting a conservative 38% CAGR over the next few years while there are many who feel that there will be a far more aggressive penetration. M/s Frost and Sullivan, who have been making focused studies on the Indian LED lighting market, are envisaging a US $1.6 Billion LED lighting market by the year 2018. This does not include off-grid solar powered LED lighting business opportunity. Based on the incentives being offered for local manufacture by the Department of Electronics and Information Technology (DeitY), Government of India, Indian industry associations are anticipating even bigger business opportunities, considering the energy saving potential of LED lighting for the energy strapped Country.

The market space, therefore, is already crowded with giant Multi-National Companies, lighting majors in India of long standing history, Joint Venture Companies, Domestic Manufacturers, Importers and Traders. While there will be shake-out and consolidation eventually, all the players will be vying frantically for maximising their market share.

Central organisations like Bureau of Energy Efficiency (BEE), Energy Efficiency Services Limited (EESL), Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) and Ministry of New and Renewable Energy (MNRE) will function both as promotional and regulating agencies. Specifications and performance standards of the luminaires as such, will only be qualifiers. Prices, delivery cycle times, pre-sale and post-sale services, warranties and guarantees offered will be the differentiators in addition to other distinguishing factors like longevity, elegance and futuristic features.

Against this backdrop, a company like MIC Electronics Limited, which is essentially an R&D driven technology oriented company will do well to create its own rich market position based on its established USPs and chances of success in the market place. Varying marketing strategies and channels need to be put in position to optimise on the resources available concurrent with maximisation of market reach and share.

The domain of LED lighting has gone beyond the phases of concept proving and experimentation. The users are convinced that the 'first-cost-barriers' can be overcome by the energy savings that these lights offer and the pay-back periods are proving more and more effective. The industry has already entered the realm of 'Price-Performance' benefits to the end users and 'economy of scales' for the manufacturers. It is in this context that MIC Electronics Ltd, with its inherent R&D capabilities and established manufacturing capabilities, has to look at the National perspective to benefit its own corporate interests. Such a holistic view will help the company to formulate its own long term objectives and in firming up its business verticals concurrent with the degree of integration levels of manufacturing. The 'Preferential Purchase Policy' enunciated by the Government of India and incentives offered and concessions announced for R&D and Indigenous manufacture will be the guide for the company in shaping its Business Policy.

In respect of the Display products too, 'Value for Money' will be decision parameter for the customers independent of the market segment to which they belong. However, MIC needs to substantially expand its market share by consciously exploiting the application potential of its display products - both the 2D and 3D varieties. While the LED based 3D Holographic Display developed by MIC is certainly a technological milestone, lot of promotional work needs to be carried out to maximise these business potential of this wonderful, day-light visible, life-like display product. In respect of the 2D displays, focused and targeted cultivation of the customers will help positioning these products as excellent information dissemination devices in several societally beneficial application domains.

Energy efficiency is not just a National priority now. The awareness in the user communities in the rural parts of the country in this regard are very high today. Related diversification and creation of an ecosystem with respect to both energy efficient devices and devices that can be powered by solar energy can be a relevant option provided such a step makes commercial and economic sense.

The uptrend of the economy and the relevance of MIC's LED lighting products in the energy starved states of India offer the Company excellent business opportunities. Strong foundations are needed to be laid now on the organisational, financial and marketing fronts concurrent with introduction of effective systems and procedures for ensuring sustainable growth and desired performance levels.
