Annual Report

2018-19

The Chairman & Managing Director, Shri Yogesh Agrawal & his daughter Ojaswini Avantika with the then Prime Minister of India Hon'ble Shri Atal Bihari Vajpayee showing him gratitude for suggesting the name of the Company as "Genomic Valley".

PM asks scientists to create genomic valley

Our New Delhi Bureau
NEW DELHI 3 JANUARY

PRIME Minister Atal Behari Vajpayee today heralded the advent of the 'bioinformatics wave' in India. Ruing the fact that the country caught up with the Silicon Valley phenomenon rather late, he urged the bio-sciences and IT communities in the country to take the lead in creating the new 'Genomic Valley' of the 21st century.

Mr Vajpayee said bold and unconventional initiatives were needed to seize the big new opportunity arising out of the information generated by the human genome project. Armed with this 'base' information India could be in the vanguard of a new revolution as it had a vast human genetic diversity that would provide the 'knowledge of variation' required to establish an edge, he pointed out.

Inaugurating the 88th Indian Science Congress in here today, he added that such initiatives needed huge investments which could not come from budgetary allocation alone and it was necessary to promote publicprivate partnerships. He, however, expressed concern over the demand and exodus of software professionals which was leading to a lack of enthusiasm for careers in other streams of science. Citing the proposal of a group of US-based entrepreneurs to set up global institutes of science and technology in India, he said the government would facilitate such initiatives.

While the private sector was responding to opportunities in the knowledge sector of late, pressing reforms were needed in the administration and governance to remove bureaucratic control and 'facilitate' science to flourish, he added. Reiterating that his government would hike investments in R&D from the 2 per cent of GDP, he underscored the earmarking of Rs 50 crore for the India Millennium Missions to be executed by the Technology Information, Forecasting and Assessment Council (TIFAC) and an additional Rs 50 crore for the New Millennium Technology Leadership Initiatives by CSIR.

FUTURE ACTIVITIES

As you all know Honourable Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi had explicitly stated in his election campaign that farmers would be the priority and the government would ensure they got 50% returns over their total costs. Keeping this in mind your company has started implementing measures to provide all round support to ensure a minimum return and also increase their production and earning multi-fold.

The buzz word in today's agricultural sector is "Farmers Producer Company". Producer companies can help smallholder farmers participate in emerging high-value markets, such as the export market and the unfolding modern retail sector in India. As elsewhere in the developing world, in India, small farmers' livelihoods are being threatened due to the liberalization and privatization of Indian agriculture and the increasing interest of private capital in the agribusiness sector. The withdrawal of the state from productive and economic functions, and changes in the organization of marketing channels, present new challenges for small-scale farmers. In this environment of greater instability and competition, organization and collective action can help to enhance farmers' competitiveness and increase their advantage in emerging market opportunities. We build on the ideas of value-chain governance and collective-action literature and introduce the functions and organizational structure of producer companies in India within this context.

Thus by collecting around 300 small farmers on a single corporate platform your company has formed a "Farmers Producer Company". This model will ensure at least a minimum profit to the farmers and also in the process your company will also earn handsomely.

Thus your company is involved in the following profit making activities and planning for the future progress of your company:

1. Formation of a Farmer Producer Company
2. Has set up a Farmers Training Centre at the company's site and is imparting training to the farmers and agri-entrepreneurs

DRONE TECHNOLOGY

Drones are one of the fastest growing technology segments with the potential to provide extraordinary value to the agriculture business.

Imagine a flying robot that you could easily control as an extension of your own eyes and arms - to reach places, see things you can never see and execute tasks that would otherwise be impossible or not affordable.

Drones are remote controlled flying objects which is having capability to collect different data regarding any agricultural field, any vegetation such that optimal treatments can be given to the soil and crops to increase yields many fold with minimum expenditure.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

To avoid duplication between the Board Report and the Management Discussion and Analysis, we present below a composite summary of performance of the various businesses and functions of the Company.

Economy and Markets

India's agriculture sector is likely to grow at 2.1 per cent in 2017-18, followed by Industry (4.4 per cent) and services (8.3 per cent), according to the Economic Survey 2018-19

Credit from institutional sources will complement all such government initiatives like Soil Health Card, Input Management, Per Drop More Crop in Pradhan Mantri Krishi Sinchai Yojana (PMKSY), PMFBY, e-Nam, etc, the survey said.

Indian farmers are adapting to farm mechanisation at a faster rate in comparison to recent past. The Economic Survey further added sale of tractors to a great extent reflects the level of mechanisation.

According to the World Bank estimates, half of the Indian population would be urban by the year 2050. It is estimated that percentage of agricultural workers in total work force would drop to 25.7 per cent by 2050 from 58.2 per cent in 2001. Thus, there is a need to enhance the level of farm mechanisation in the country.

India is expected to be self-sufficient in pulses in the coming few years due to concerted efforts of scientists to get early-maturing varieties of pulses and the increase in minimum support price.

PLANT TISSUE CULTURE INDUSTRY GROWTH

The growth of Biotechnology industry as per Transparency Market Research is estimated to observe substantial growth during 2010 and 2018 as investments from around the world are anticipated to rise, especially from emerging economical regions of the world. The report states that the global market for biotechnology, studied according to its application areas, shall grow at an average annual growth rate of CAGR 11.6% from 2012 to 2018 and reach a value worth USD 414.5 billion by the end of 2018. This market was valued approximately USD 216.5 billion in 2011. The market of bio agriculture, combined with that of bio seeds, is projected to reach a value worth USD 27.46 billion by 2019. The field of biopharmaceuticals dominated the global biotechnology market and accounted for 60% shares of it in the year 2011. Many biotechnological industries flourished by the technological advancements leading to new discoveries and rising demands from the pharmaceutical and agricultural sectors.

Opportunity and Threats

AGRICULTURE

As you all know Honourable Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi had explicitly stated in his election campaign that farmers would be the priority and the government would ensure they got 50% returns over their total costs. Keeping this in mind your company has started implementing measures to provide all round support to ensure a minimum return and also increase their production and earning multi-fold.

The buzz word in today's agricultural sector is "Farmers Producer Company". Producer companies can help smallholder farmers participate in emerging high-value markets, such as the export market and the unfolding modern retail sector in India. As elsewhere in the developing world, in India, small farmers' livelihoods are being threatened due to the liberalization and privatization of Indian agriculture and the increasing interest of private capital in the agribusiness sector. The withdrawal of the state from productive and economic functions, and changes in the organization of marketing channels, present new challenges for small-scale farmers. In this environment of greater instability and competition, organization and collective action can help to enhance farmers' competitiveness and increase their advantage in emerging market opportunities. We build on the ideas of value-chain governance and collective-action literature and introduce the functions and organizational structure of producer companies in India within this context.

Thus by collecting around 300 small farmers on a single corporate platform your company has formed a "Farmers Producer Company" This model will ensure at least a minimum profit to the farmers and also in the process your company will also earn handsomely

BIOTECHNOLOGY

Biotechnology is one of the "hot spots" in research and development in this century. Great chances and opportunities lie ahead, but also tremendous threats. While technology and knowledge is easily available all over the world, it can be quite difficult to access markets and to commercialize biotechnological products.

Biotechnology, regardless of red, green or white biotechnology, promises high profits. However, the field is also complex, fast moving and costly. Especially in the field of medical applications there are many risks associated with biotechnology. One example is a drug developed against multiple sclerosis, which had possible profits of 3$ billion.

After two patients developing a rare brain disease in clinical trials the profits vaporized and the stock market were in an uproar. Nevertheless does the United Nations Development Program see "biotechnology innovation and globalization as a means of helping the poor of the world live fuller, richer and more secure lives". Only through commercialization this promise will come true. Commercialization is converting or moving technology into a profit making position

In our opinion the most important point is to bridge the gap between technology and markets. The matching of technological challenge and market challenge is difficult and many tools have been developed to address this problem.

Customer Development

As you all know Honourable Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi had explicitly stated in his election campaign that farmers would be the priority and the government would ensure they got 50% returns over their total costs. Research & Development

India's agricultural research system has contributed in a large way to increasing agriculture production and productivity. Development of high yielding and disease resistant varieties has been its major hall mark. The country has one of the largest Public Agricultural Research Establishments in the world. With Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR) at the top, we have 30 State Agriculture Universities, 46 Institutes including 4 Deemed Universities, 4 National Bureau, 9 Project Directorates, 31 National Research Centres, 158 Regional Stations and 80 All India Coordinated Research Projects. However, despite having such a huge manpower and infrastructure, the predominant critique has been that it is very weak in transfer of technology and does not benefit small farmers.

The company has set up an in-house Plant Tissue Culture Laboratory for doing research in the field of plant tissue culture and also to take such researches through steps to commercial levels.

Apart from this your company is continuing its researches in varied field of biotechnology.

OUTLOOK

The promise of doubling farmers' income by 2022 dangled heavily as reports of severe agrarian distress started pouring in from the country. Farmers dumping their produces for lack of fair price made headlines throughout 2017 and 2018. The report pointed out that agriculture and rural sector is currently in a deep crisis because during 2004-14 the country's agriculture sector witnessed its highest ever growth "recovery phase". Despite the highest ever food grain production the year 2016-17 (275 million tonnes) and 274.55 million tonnes in 2017-18, the rural economy has completely collapsed.

As you all know Honourable Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi had explicitly stated in his election campaign that farmers would be the priority and the government would ensure they got 50% returns over their total costs. Keeping this in mind your company has started implementing measures to provide all round support to ensure a minimum return and also increase their production and earning multi-fold.

Risks and concerns

There is a rich public debate about how the potential risks associated with biotechnology methods and bioindustry products should be assessed and about whether and how bioethics should influence public policy. A general structure for guiding public policy discourse is emerging but is not fully developed. Groups perceive risks differently depending on their culture, scientific background, perception of government, and other factors. Expert opinion supports a range of positions. Deeply and honestly held but often conflicting beliefs and values about nature, animals, and the community good animate the debate. The result is that biotechnology issues are often highly contentious and debated on both scientific and ethical grounds. Two contemporary examples are:

- ❖ Do human social benefits such as living a longer and leading more productive life due to biotechnology outweigh the harm that an animal or groups of animals must experience to produce those benefits.
- ❖ Should an insurance company require information about an individual's genetic inheritance as a condition of eligibility for health insurance?

Biotechnology's risks are sometimes purely conjectural. Without research and clinical trials, risks cannot be fully assessed. Yet conjectural and ethical issues are important because biotechnology affects not only human practices and economic sectors, but also medical practices and the relationship between humanity, animals and the environment.

In Paul Thompson's view, [Biotechnology] is not simply another type of mechanical or chemical creation aimed at making the world better for us. In this instance, we are not simply reshaping matter, but are harnessing life. By manipulating life and natural evolution, we are taking the process that shaped our existence and that of every other living organism on the planet and restructuring it for our own benefit.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

GENOMIC VALLEY BIOTECH LIMITED

Report on the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying standalone financial statements of Genomic Valley Biotech Limited ("the Company"), which comprise the Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2019, the Statement of Profit and Loss (including Other Comprehensive Income), the Statement of Changes in Equity and the Statement of Cash Flows for the year ended on that date, and a summary of the significant accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as "the standalone financial statements").

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid standalone financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended, ("Ind AS") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2019, the profit and total comprehensive income, changes in equity and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the standalone financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing specified under section 143(10) of the Act (SAs). Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone

Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) together with the independence requirements that are relevant to our audit of the standalone financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules made there under, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the standalone financial statements.

Information Other than the Standalone Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation of the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report, Business Responsibility Report, Corporate Governance and Shareholder's Information, but does not include the standalone financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Management's Responsibility for the Standalone Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, total comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the Ind AS and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143 (3) (i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the standalone financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

- a) We have sought and obtained all the information and explanations which to the best of our knowledge and belief were necessary for the purposes of our audit.

ANNEXURE “A” TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR’S REPORT

(Referred to in paragraph 1(f) under ‘Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements’ section of our report to the Members of M/S Genomic Valley Biotech Limited of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (“the Act”)

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of M/S Genomic Valley Biotech Limited (“the Company”) as of March 31, 2019 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management’s Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Board of Directors of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to respective company’s policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor’s Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls over financial reporting of the Company based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the Standards on Auditing prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial controls system over financial reporting of the Company.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2019, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.
