3. We are dependent on our management team for success whose loss could seriously impair the ability to continue to manage and expand business efficiently.

Our success largely depends on the continued services and performance of our management and other key personnel. The loss of service of the Promoters and other senior management could seriously impair the ability to continue to manage and expand the business efficiently. Further, the loss of any of the senior management or other key personnel may adversely affect the operations, finances and profitability of our Company. Any failure or inability of our Company to efficiently retain and manage its human resources would adversely affect our ability to implement new projects and expand our business.

- 4. Our Company has limited operating history in the business of Real Estate Development and therefore investors may not be able to assess our company's prospects based on past results.

We have been incorporated in the year of 2011 and commenced full fledged operations in the fiscal 2012. Since we have limited operating history in this business. We have not yet completed any major project and consequently, there will be only limited information with which to evaluate the quality of our projects and our current or future prospects on which to base the investment decision.

- 5. The implementation of the project for which proposed issue is planned is at a very preliminary stage. Any delay in implementation of the same may result in incremental cost and time overruns of the Project and in turn could adversely affect our business operations and profitability.

For further details see section titled "Our Business" and "Government and Other Licenses / Approvals" on page 64 and page 118 respectively.

- 6. We require substantial capital for our business operations, and the failure to obtain additional financing in the form of debt or equity may adversely affect our ability to grow and our future profitability.

Our business is capital intensive, requiring substantial capital to develop and market our projects. The actual amount and timing of our future capital requirements may also differ from estimates as a result of, among other things, unforeseen delays or cost overruns in developing our projects, change in business plans due to prevailing economic conditions, unanticipated expenses, regulatory and engineering design changes. To the extent our planned expenditure requirements exceed our available resources; we will be required to seek additional debt or equity financing. Additional financing could increase our cost, in case of debt increase in interest cost and additional restrictive covenants and in case of equity dilution of our earnings per share. We cannot assure that in future, we will be able to raise additional financing on acceptable terms in a timely manner or at all.

- 7. We may not be able to identify and acquire suitable sites at reasonable cost which may adversely affect our business and prospects.

Our future performance is dependant on our ability to identify and acquire suitable sites at reasonable prices. Our ability to identify and acquire suitable sites is dependent on a number of factors that are beyond our control. These factors include the availability of suitable land, the willingness of landowners to sell land and/or assign development rights on terms acceptable to us, the ability to obtain an agreement to sell from a number of land owners where land has multiple owners, the availability and cost of financing, encumbrances on targeted land, government directives on land use and the obtaining of permits and approvals for land acquisition and development. The failure to acquire or obtain development rights may cause us to modify, delay or abandon projects, which could adversely affect our business.

- 8. The business and future results of operations of Our Company may be adversely affected if we incur any time or cost overruns.

Our Company's business plans are subject to various risks including time and cost overruns and delays in obtaining regulatory approvals. The length of time required to complete a project usually ranges from 24 to 48 months, within which there can be changes in the economic environment, local real estate market, prospective customer's perception, price escalation, etc. If the changes take Place during the duration of the project, then our projections regarding the costs, revenues, return on the project, profitability as well as our operations will be adversely affected.

There could also be unexpected delays and cost overrun in relation to our projected / future projects and thus, no assurance can be given to complete them on scheduled time and within the expected budget.

9. Our Company may enter into MoUs, Agreements to sell and similar agreements with third parties to acquire land or land development rights, which entails certain risks.

Since we do not acquire ownership or land development rights with respect to such land upon the execution of such MoUs, as a result, our Company is subject to the risk that our Company may never acquire registration of title or land development rights with respect to such land. Our Company may also be required to make partial payments to third parties to acquire certain land or land development rights which our Company may be unable to recover under certain circumstances. Our Company's inability to acquire such land or land development rights, or if Our Company fails to recover the partial payment made by it with respect to such land, may adversely affect our Company's business, financial condition and results of operation.

10. We have been promoted by first generation entrepreneurs.

Our Promoters are first generation entrepreneur. Their experience in managing and being instrumental in the growth of our company is limited to the extent of their knowledge and experience and we cannot assure that this will not affect our business growth.

11. We do not have any insurance coverage for protecting us against any material hazards.

At present, we do not have any insurance policy for protecting us against any material hazards. Any damage suffered by us in respect of any events would not be covered under any insurance and we would bear the effect of such losses.

12. Our Company's joint development / venture partners may not perform their obligations satisfactorily.

Our Company has entered in to and may in the future undertake development of certain projects through joint development / ventures with third parties. The success of these joint development / ventures depends significantly on the satisfactory performance by the joint development/ venture partners and the fulfillment of their obligations. If either of the party fails to perform its obligations satisfactorily, the joint development/ venture may be unable to perform adequately or deliver its contracted services. In such a case, our Company may be required to make additional investments in the joint development/ venture or become liable for its obligations, which could result in reduced profits or in some cases, significant losses and delays in completion of development projects. The inability of a joint development / venture partner to continue with a project due to financial or legal difficulties may put our Company in financial and legal difficulties to the extent of the share which may have impact on the results of operations.

13. We may depend on various sub-contractors or specialist agencies to construct and develop our projects.

In order to efficient completion of our projects we enter into the agreements with the various sub-contractors and agencies such as construction contractors, architects structural designer contractor etc, and we primarily rely on these third parties for the implementation of our projects. Accordingly, the timing and quality of construction depends on the availability and skill of those sub-contractors. Although we believe that our relationships with third party sub-contractors would be cordial, we cannot assure you that skilled sub-contractors will continue to be available at reasonable rates and in the areas in which we conduct our operations.

14. We have entered into certain related party transactions and may continue to do so.

We have entered into related party transactions with our Promoters and Directors. While we believe that all such transactions have been conducted on the arms length basis, however it is difficult to ascertain whether more favorable terms would have been achieved had such transactions been entered with unrelated parties. Furthermore, it is likely that we will enter into related party transactions in the future. For details of these transactions, please refer to section titled “Related Party Transactions” at page 96 of this Draft Prospectus.

- 15. There is no monitoring agency appointed by our Company and the deployment of funds are at the discretion of our Management and our Board of Directors, though it shall be monitored by the Audit Committee.

Further, our Company shall inform about material deviations in the utilization of Issue proceeds to the BSE Limited and shall also simultaneously make the material deviations / adverse comments of the audit committee public.

- 16. We may face risks of delays/non-receipt of the requisite regulatory approvals for our objects arising out of the Issue. Any delay in receipt or non-receipt of such approval could result in cost and time overrun.

We would be applying for various licenses, approvals, registrations at various stages of implementation for the Project. Any delay in receipt or non-receipt of licenses or approvals that may be required for the Project could result in cost and time overrun, and accordingly adversely affecting our operations and profitability. For details, please refer to section titled “Government & other Approvals” on page 118 of this Draft Prospectus.

- 17. Delay in raising funds from the IPO could adversely impact the implementation schedule.

The proposed expansion, as detailed in the section titled “Objects of the Issue” is to be entirely funded from the proceeds of this IPO. We have not identified any alternate source of funding and hence any failure or delay on our part to mobilize the required resources or any shortfall in the Issue proceeds may delay the implementation schedule. We therefore, cannot assure that we would be able to execute the expansion process within the given timeframe, or within the costs as originally estimated by us. Any time overrun or cost overrun may adversely affect our growth plans and profitability.

- 18. The Company has not appointed any independent agency for the appraisal of the proposed Project.

The Project, for which we intend to use our Issue proceeds as mentioned in the objects of the Issue, has not been appraised by any bank or financial institution. The total cost of Project is our own estimates based on current conditions and are subject to changes in external circumstances or costs. Our estimates for total cost of Project has been based on various quotations received by us and our internal estimates and which may exceed which may require us to reschedule our Project expenditure and may have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

- 19. We face competition in our business from both domestic and international competitors. Such competition would have an adverse impact on our business and financial performance.

The real estate market is highly competitive and fragmented, and we face competition from various domestic real estate developers. Some of our competitors have greater financial, marketing, sales and other resources than we do. Going forward as we may seek to diversify into new geographical areas, we will face competition from competitors that have a pan-India presence and also from competitors that have a strong presence in regional markets. Competitive overbuilding in certain markets may have a material adverse effect on our operations.

- 20. Our trademark is not registered under the Trade Marks Act our ability to use the trademark may be impaired.

Our company’s business may be affected due to our inability to protect our existing and future intellectual property rights. Currently, we do not have a registered trademark over our name and logo under the Trade Marks Act and consequently do not enjoy the statutory protections accorded to a trademark registered in India and cannot prohibit the use of such logo by anybody by means of statutory protection. Our Company is in process of making application for registration of logo. We cannot guarantee that all the pending application will be decided in the favor of the Company. If our trademarks are not registered it can allow any person to use a deceptively similar mark and market its product which could be similar to the products offered by us. Such infringement will hamper our business as prospective clients may go to such user of mark and our revenues may decrease.

Prior to this Issue, there has been no public market for our Equity Shares. Naysaa Securities Limited is acting as Designated Market Maker for the Equity Shares of our Company. Each of these factors, among others, could materially affect the price of our Equity Shares. 34. There are restrictions on daily movements in the price of the Equity Shares, which may adversely affect a shareholder's ability to sell, or the price at which it can sell, Equity Shares at a particular point in time.

Following the Issue, we will be subject to a daily "circuit breaker" imposed by BSE, which does not allow transactions beyond specified increases or decreases in the price of the Equity Shares. The BSE may not inform us of the percentage limit of the circuit breaker in effect from time to time and may change it without our knowledge. This circuit breaker will limit the upward and downward movements in the price of the Equity Shares. INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

Overview of the Indian Economy

The Indian economy is ranked fourth in the world, on a purchasing power parity basis, after the United States, China and Japan (Source: <https://www.cia.gov/library/publications/the-world-factbook/geos/in.html>). For the fiscal year 2015, the forecast for real GDP growth rate in India is estimated at 6.3% - 6.5% by the National Council of Applied Economic Research (“NCAER”) in their ‘Quarterly Review of the Economy’ on September 30, 2014. (Source: NCAER’s Quarterly Review of the Indian Economy 2014-15 and Forecast for 2015-16).

Real Estate Industry

India’s construction sector is forecast to grow at 7-8 percent each year over the next decade following the election of a new government, according to a news report by an international consultancy giant.

The country will see increased economic growth, and the removal of barriers to foreign investment will “spur demand for construction” over the coming 12 to 18 months. (Source: PricewaterhouseCoopers India report).

An estimated US$1 trillion is being spent on infrastructure over the five years to 2017 and there is increased investment in industrial projects by the government. But it is the private housing sector which is a key growth area.

Demand for real estate has been one of the drivers of construction sector growth over the last 10 year. Improvement in economic conditions has the potential to drive demand for real estate, as housing continues to be a favoured investment asset among Indian households.

The total construction market in India for FY 2014 was US$157 billion, an increase of US$4 billion over FY2013. Infrastructure accounts for 49 percent, housing and real estate 42 percent and industrial projects 9 percent.

The demand for office space for example in the top 8 metros - Delhi-NCR, Mumbai, Bengaluru, Chennai, Hyderabad, Pune, Kolkata and Ahmedabad - was up 58% for the period January-March 2014 as compared to the same period the previous year, as per report of consultants Cushman & Wakefield. Of these, Ahmedabad and Delhi-NCR recorded the maximum demand.

Meanwhile, the residential segment saw an increase of 43% during the first quarter of 2014 across the eight major cities, with Bengaluru recording the largest number of units, followed by Mumbai and Chennai.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

Overview of the Indian Economy

The Indian economy is ranked fourth in the world, on a purchasing power parity basis, after the United States, China and Japan (Source: <https://www.cia.gov/library/publications/the-world-factbook/geos/in.html>). For the fiscal year 2015, the forecast for real GDP growth rate in India is estimated at 6.3% - 6.5% by the National Council of Applied Economic Research (“NCAER”) in their ‘Quarterly Review of the Economy’ on September 30, 2014. (Source: NCAER’s Quarterly Review of the Indian Economy 2014-15 and Forecast for 2015-16).

The Indian real estate sector is one of the most globally recognised sectors. In the country, it is the second largest employer after agriculture and is slated to grow at 30 per cent over the next decade. The market size of real estate sector in India is projected to reach US$ 180 billion by 2020. The expected growth rate of the industry is at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 19% for the period 2010-2014, with Tier I metropolitan cities contributing to almost 40% of this growth.

According to a study by ICRA, the construction industry ranks third among the 14 major sectors in terms of direct, indirect and induced effects in all sectors of the economy.

The four components of this sector are - housing, retail, hospitality, and commercial with housing being the key one, which comprises 5 - 6 % of India’s gross domestic product (GDP), at present. However, the remaining three sub-sectors are also showing an increased pace of growth over the last few years. The growth of this sector is well complemented by the growth of the corporate environment and the demand for office space as well as urban and semi-urban accommodations.

It is also expected that this sector will incur more non-resident Indian (NRI) investments in the near future, as a survey by an industry body has revealed a 35 per cent surge in the number of enquiries with property dealers. Bengaluru is expected to be the most favoured property investment destination for NRIs, followed by Ahmedabad, Pune, Chennai, Goa, Delhi and Dehradun.

Private equity (PE) funding has picked up in the last one year due to attractive valuations. Furthermore, with the Government of India introducing newer policies helpful to real estate, this sector has garnered sufficient growth in recent times. (Source: IBEF Sectoral Report, October, 2014)

Real Estate Industry

India’s construction sector is forecast to grow at 7-8 percent each year over the next decade following the election of a new government, according to a news report by an international consultancy giant.

The country will see increased economic growth, and the removal of barriers to foreign investment will “spur demand for construction” over the coming 12 to 18 months. (Source: PricewaterhouseCoopers India report).

An estimated US$1 trillion is being spent on infrastructure over the five years to 2017 and there is increased investment in industrial projects by the government. But it is the private housing sector is a key growth area.

Demand for real estate has been one of the drivers of construction sector growth over the last 10 year. Improvement in economic conditions has the potential to drive demand for real estate, as housing continues to be a favoured investment asset among Indian households.

The total construction market in India for FY 2014 was US$157 billion, an increase of US$4 billion over FY2013. Infrastructure accounts for 49 percent, housing and real estate 42 percent and industrial projects 9 percent.

The demand for office space for example in the top 8 metros - Delhi-NCR, Mumbai, Bengaluru, Chennai, Hyderabad, Pune, Kolkata and Ahmedabad - was up 58% for the period January-March 2014 as compared to the same period the previous year, as per report of consultants Cushman & Wakefield. Of these, Ahmedabad and Delhi-NCR recorded the maximum demand.

Meanwhile, the residential segment saw an increase of 43% during the first quarter of 2014 has across the eight major cities, with Bengaluru recording the largest number of units, followed by Mumbai and Chennai.

Real Estate Industry Background

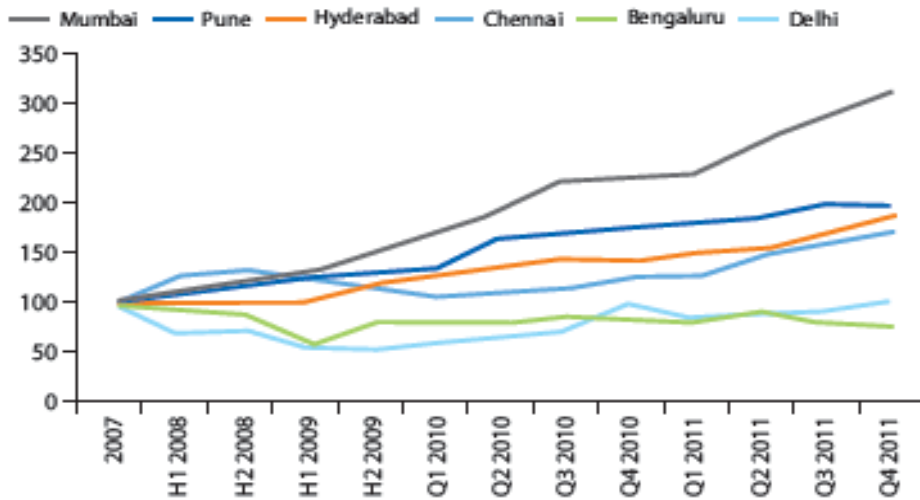

Real estate tends to be a particularly cyclical industry, going up and down based on trends in the economy at large such as the fluctuation in interest rates. The story of real estate often mirrors the general story of the American economy. Real estate soared in the post-World War II 1950s, sank in the 1970s, rose again in the early 1980s until the depression at the end of that decade, and was prosperous again at the end of the 1990s. Because of low interest rates in the mid-2000s, residential real estate was booming even when the economy was slow until the mortgage crisis hit and the bubble collapsed. After that point it sank and as of 2011 has yet to truly recover. Brokerage firms have taken on property management divisions in order to diversify their revenue streams and combat poor economic climates.

The real estate industry consists of three primary fields: brokerages, leasing, and management. Brokers bring together buyers and sellers of property, assist in the price negotiations and arrange the steps between a buyer first taking interest in a property and closing, including appraisals and inspections. Generally, the seller pays a commission, dependent on the sale price (usually 5 or 6 percent), and this is split between a broker working for the buyer and the broker working for the seller. Real estate brokers must be licensed in the state in which they work. Leasing brings together property owners with tenants, sometimes owning that property themselves, or subleasing property they have leased from someone else. Management companies are responsible for making sure their buildings are filled with tenants, deciding what to charge these tenants, making sure the buildings run properly, paying utilities, hiring staff and other maintenance for owners who do not want to manage buildings themselves. Since most property expenses are fixed, maintaining low vacancy rates is critical to management companies. In particular, property management has been a fast growing field and should continue in its expansion, as commercial and residential properties that were overbuilt during the real estate boom will continue to need management until they are sold.

Residential Segment:

Favorable demographics of the country have led to a healthy growth of real estate market in the residential sector. Improving socio-economic factors are leading to a consistent fall in the average age of ownership of the first house and consistent increase in the number of house owned. The rising demand and limited availability of the dwelling units within the city limits will continue and the same would result in higher prices of residential real estate. A recent study by CRISIL estimates the overall housing shortage in India to reach 75.5 million units by the end of 2014 and suggests the housing prices to consolidate between 2010 and 2014 period.

During the financial year 2011-12, led by hardening of interest rate, macro uncertainties and sharp increase in capital value of residential units post 2008-09 financial crisis slowed down the demand momentum in most cities. Despite that, the capital value of residential market in most cities continued to remain stable with a positive bias. While in cities like Bangalore and Hyderabad the prices are still at or below the 2007 level, in most other cities prices have more than doubled during the same period.

Commercial Space:

The commercial office space in India has fast evolved over recent years with the emergence of India as an IT/ITeS hub. As shown in the graph below, the demand of commercial real estate has been driven largely by services sectors.

Commercial properties earlier were majorly concentrated towards Central Business District areas in large cities. However, with the huge office space requirement, commercial development started moving towards other areas like Lower Parel & BKC in Mumbai, Gurgaon near New Delhi and the Electronic city in Bengaluru (Bangalore). In addition locations such as Bengaluru, Gurgaon, Hyderabad, Chennai and Pune have established themselves as emerging destinations for commercial development.

Leasing of Offices Space by Various Sectors

During 2011 while the new completion increased by 9.1% to 44.5 msf, the demand grew by 20.3% to 36.7 msf. As per JLL report, in 2012 while the new completion would increase by 20%, the demand would contract by 7%, driving vacancy rates further up.

According to CRISIL Research in 2010, commercial office lease rentals may show an additional correction of another 3-10% in most of micro markets primarily due to the considerable oversupply across cities and lack of adequate demand.

Retail:

Organized retail penetration has grown to about 5.6 % in 2009-10, which is further expected to increase to about 7.3 % by 2012-13, according to a CRISIL report for real estate. In the past few years, India’s organized retail industry has posted high growth rates giving improvement in key driving factors namely, lavish lifestyles and high disposable incomes. The US-based global management consulting firm, A T Kearney, in its Global Retail Development Index (GRDI) 2011, has ranked India as the fourth most attractive nation for retail investment, among 30 emerging markets.

After growing at high rate over the last decade, the organized retail industry in India witnessed a sudden slowdown in investments after financial crisis in 2008- 09 which led to large build up in supply. During 2011, fresh completion doubled to 13.8 msf and absorption increased by over 140% to 9.7 msf. This also led to further increase in vacancy rate. As per JLL report in 2012 the demand is expected to slow down to 8 msf. Going forward, due to weak demand environment and lack of any evident demand trigger, the lease rentals are expected to remain under pressure.

The absence of a clear approval towards FDI in multi brand retail segment has also played a key role in disturbing the demand-supply curve, as fresh demand has slowed down. Corrective measures such as reforms from government and right pricing of lease rentals & selling prices may help in due course of time.

Market Size of Real Estate Industry in India

According to data released by Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (DIPP), the construction development sector in India has received foreign direct investment (FDI) equity inflows to the tune of US$ 23,874.1 million in the period April 2000-September 2014.

The Indian real estate market size is expected to touch US$ 180 billion by 2020. The housing sector alone contributes 5-6 per cent to the country's gross domestic product (GDP). Also, in the period FY08-20, the market size of this sector is expected to increase at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 11.2 per cent. Retail, hospitality and commercial real estate are also growing significantly, providing the much-needed infrastructure for India's growing needs.

According to a study by Knight Frank, Mumbai is the best city in India for commercial real estate investment, with returns of 12-19 per cent likely in the next five years, followed by Bengaluru and Delhi-National Capital Region (NCR). Also, Delhi-NCR was the biggest office market in India with 110 million sq ft, out of which 88 million sq ft were occupied. Sectors such as IT and ITeS, retail, consulting and e-commerce have registered high demand for office space in recent times. (Source: www.ibef.org)

FDI in construction development sector as a per cent of India's total FDI:

Total FDI in the construction development sector during April 2000-April 2014 stood at around US$ 23.38 billion.

Real estate demand in education sector:

The top seven cities are likely to account for 70 per cent of total demand for real estate in the education sector.

Real Estate Industry Future

Real estate plays an important role in the Indian economy. This sector happens to be the second largest employer after agriculture and is expected to grow at the rate of 30 per cent over the next decade. The real estate sector in India is ready to take a big leap in the coming years. Since 2010, the residential sector has been on a strong growth trajectory and with increasing urbanisation the momentum is expected to continue.

Emergence of nuclear families and growing urbanisation has given rise to several townships that are developed to take care of the elderly. With a number of senior citizen housing projects been planned, the segment is expected to grow significantly in the future. Increase in the number of tourists has resulted in demand for service apartments. This demand is likely to be on uptrend and presents opportunities for the unorganised sector. The number of hotel beds in the country is expected to increase to 461,000 by 2015 from the current capacity of 235,000.

Potential obstacles for the industry include factors beyond the control of the business owner, such as downturns in the local or national economy, as well as changing neighborhood demographics where agencies are located. Also out of the owner's control is the building of properties, and what properties in the area are available. For management companies, indoor air quality liability has become a serious legal issue in recent years. Removal of mold growth in particular has been increasingly necessary for property owners and managers.

The use of technology will continue to transform the field in the years ahead, enabling home buyers to research both properties and the areas in which they are located, including looking at pictures and finding out about the neighborhood's schools, crime rates and other statistics. Marketing over the internet with pictures of properties and virtual tours will be important for brokers. More than ninety percent of people use the internet before purchasing real estate. United States population growth will also be an important driving factor in the growth of the industry at large. The workforce is expected to grow fourteen percent between 2008 and 2018. The internet arguably may eliminate the need for brokers altogether in the future. Banks also represent a potential competitor. Recently they have been freed by rule changes to enter the commercial real estate field in a limited way, and it is possible to see future rule changes allowing them to enter the residential field. The biggest growth areas are expected to be in the southern half of the country, particularly in the southwest. A recent survey revealed the hottest buyer's market to be Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Even in spite of the poor economic conditions and the state of the industry, analysts are confident in the future growth in the industry. Brokers commissions are expected to grow at a compounded rate of fourteen percent annually from 2010 to 2015. The output of United States real estate businesses is expected to grow at an annually compounded rate of six percent between 2010 and 2015.

The Challenges and Outlook for Indian Realty

The challenges that I see for Indian real estate, now and in the near future, are the expensiveness of liquidity for real estate, the lack of availability of serviced urban land, continuing procedural delays in approvals, the slow pace of infrastructural growth and the fact that the country still has relatively low transparency in real estate terms.

In terms of commercial real estate outlook, there has been a demand contraction of about 15% with reference to absorption in 2011. We expect an supply correction for 2013 and 2014, but supply for 2012 is by and large on track. The market will continue to be under stress for another four quarters, with vacancies going up, but rents are unlikely to fall further as they are already at the bottom.

In retail real estate, we are seeing a process of polarization - superior malls are with low vacancy and high rents, while inferior malls are failing to lease despite heavy rental discounts. Many new malls that are now completed or are under construction are superior, which is a definite sign of the market maturing.

The Indian residential property market is behaving like a swinging pendulum. Sale velocity has been rising and falling over the last two or three quarters, and now capital values are going up because of increased input costs. I can see a definite slowdown in new launches already, and this is likely to continue for the interim.

Financial strength

Our Net Worth stands at Rs. 514.03 Lacs as on 30th September, 2014. Our profits have grown from Rs. 1.20 Lacs in fiscal 2012 to Rs. 22.09 Lacs for the fiscal 2014.

Our growth strategy:

We intend to pursue the following strategies in order to consolidate our position and grow further:

Focus on Performance and Project Execution

We believe that it is important to identify additional land and development rights in strategic locations at a competitive cost, we currently intend to focus on developing our Forthcoming Projects in a timely and efficient manner. We intend to continue to focus on performance and project execution in order to maximize client satisfaction. We will continue to leverage advanced technologies, designs and project management tools to increase productivity and maximize asset utilization in capital-intensive construction activities.

Continue our Focus on a Diversified Business Model

We are currently focused on the development of residential, commercial, office use, retail and mixed use projects. We also undertake infrastructure projects. Apart from that we also indulge in trading of real estate units. We intend to maintain a spread of the different types of projects we are involved in as this provides us with a strategy for growth as well as mitigating the risk of focusing on only a certain types of projects and ensures stability of our revenue stream.

Penetration in to Mumbai Metropolitan Region

The real estate industry in India is predominantly regional due to difficulties with respect to large scale land acquisition in unfamiliar locations, inadequate infrastructure to market projects in new locations, the complex legal framework and the large number of approvals which must be obtained from different authorities at various stages of construction under local laws, and the long gestation period of projects. We also believe that due to our base at Mumbai and experience of our management about markets in and around Mumbai, we will be able to penetrate our operations in and around Mumbai.

Our operations and Projects:

The below table sets forth the details of Planned Projects

Key business processes for real estate development

A. Identification Process

Land identification at reasonable pricing and strategic locations is a key factor for the success of our business. We undertake research for our projects prior to making any decisions to acquire or develop any of the properties. We do our in-house market research, wherein we gather relevant market data; assess the potential of a location after evaluating its demographic trends and identifying relevant government schemes and incentives.

B. Land Acquisition and/or Development Arrangements

Once the requisite knowledge of land title is obtained, based on feasibility, we either acquire the land on an outright basis or enter into a development agreement or other arrangements with the owners. Negotiations are undertaken, which involve total consideration, the type of agreement and the fulfillment of other statutory formalities such as pending litigations on the property

C. Project Planning, Regulatory Approvals

The project planning and execution process commences with obtaining the requisite regulatory approvals, environmental clearances and location specific approvals. While evaluating the feasibility of an area for the implementation of a project, it is critical to understand and comply with the regulations governing land development at the location. The approvals generally required for the development of a property include change of land use, approvals of building plans, layouts and infrastructure facilities such as power and water. Similarly, approvals from various government authorities, including from the relevant environmental authorities, airport authorities and fire authorities are required for buildings above a stipulated height. Building completion or occupation certificates are obtained from the appropriate authorities after the construction of properties is completed, in accordance with applicable law.

D. Construction

For our project execution, we rely primarily on external contractors for the construction of our properties. Our execution process team has developed relationships with third-party contractors and suppliers through working on multiple projects, which we utilize for our projects. We believe that by outsourcing our construction work, we can more effectively compete in our core business of real estate development.

E. Sales and Marketing

We use a mix of sales and marketing strategies to market our projects depending on whether the project is a residential or commercial project.

We plan to utilize domestic sales agents and international property consultants to market our properties.

Collaborations

The Company has so far not entered into any technical or financial collaboration agreement.

Human Resources

The details of manpower employed as on 30th November, 2014 are as under:

Sr. no	Category	No. of employees
1.	Project Manager	1
2.	Chief Finance Officer	1
3.	Sales & Marketing Manager	1
4.	Company Secretary	1
5.	Accounts, Marketing, Administration Etc.	2
	TOTAL	6

Competition

The real estate market is highly competitive and fragmented, and we face competition from various domestic real estate developers. Some of our competitors have greater financial, marketing, sales and other resources than we do. Moreover, as we seek to diversify into new geographical areas, we face competition from competitors that have a pan-India presence and also from competitors that have a strong presence in regional markets. Competitive overbuilding in certain markets may have a material adverse effect on our operations in that market.

Export possibility and obligation

Our Company doesn't have any export obligation as we are not exporting any material.

Health, Safety and Environment

We are committed to complying with applicable health, safety and environmental regulations and other requirements in our operations. To help ensure effective implementation of our safety policies and practices, at the beginning of every property development, we identify potential material hazards, evaluate material risks and institute, implement and monitor appropriate risk mitigation measures.

KEY INDUSTRY REGULATIONS AND POLICIES

The following description is a summary of the relevant regulations and policies as prescribed by the Government of India, Government of Maharashtra and the respective bye laws framed by the local bodies in Mumbai, and others incorporated under the laws of India.

The information detailed in this chapter has been obtained from the various legislations and the bye laws of the respective local authorities that are available in the public domain. The regulations and policies set out below are not exhaustive and are only intended to provide general information to the investors and are neither designed nor intended to be a substitute for professional advice.

We are primarily engaged in the business of real estate development. We undertake development of residential, commercial, office use, retail and mixed-use projects.

Additionally, our projects require, at various stages, the sanction of the concerned authorities under the relevant Central and State legislations and local byelaws. The following is an overview of some of the important laws and regulations, which are relevant to our business.

PROPERTY RELATED LAWS:

Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (“LA Act”)

The Gol and the state governments are empowered to acquire and take possession of any property for public purpose, however, the courts in India have, through numerous decisions stipulated that any property acquired by the government must satisfy the due process of law. The key legislation relating to the expropriation of property is the LA Act. Under the provisions of the LA Act, land in any locality can be acquired compulsorily by the government whenever it appears to the government that it is needed or is likely to be needed for any public purpose or for use by a corporate body. Under the LA Act, the term “public purpose” has been defined to include, among other things:

- the provision of village sites, or the extension, planned development or improvement of existing village sites;
- the provision of land for town or rural planning;
- the provision of land for its planned development from public funds in pursuance of any scheme or policy of government and subsequent disposal thereof in whole or in part by lease, assignment or outright sale with the object of securing further development as planned;
- the provision of land for any other scheme of development sponsored by government, or, with the prior approval of the appropriate government, by a local authority; and
- the provision of any premises or building for locating a public office, but does not include acquisition of land for companies.

The LA Act lays down the procedures which are required to be compulsorily followed by the Gol or any of the state governments, during the process of acquisition of land under the LA Act. The procedure for acquisition, as mentioned in the LA Act, can be summarised as follows:

- identification of land;
- notification of land;
- declaration of land;
- acquisition of land; and
- payment and ownership of land.

Any person having an interest in such land has the right to object and the right to receive compensation. The value of compensation for the property acquired depends on several factors, which, among other things, include the market value of the land and damage sustained by the person in terms of loss of profits. Such a person has the right to approach the courts. However, the only objection that the land owner can raise in respect of land acquisition is in relation to the amount of compensation. The land owner cannot challenge the acquisition of land once the declaration under the LA Act is notified in the Official Gazette.

Building Consents

Each state and city has its own set of laws, which govern planned development and rules for construction (such as floor area ratio or floor space index limits). The various authorities that govern building activities in states are the town and country planning department, municipal corporations and the urban arts commission. The municipal authorities regulate building development and construction norms. The Urban Arts Commission advises the relevant State Government in the matter of preserving, developing and maintaining the aesthetic quality of urban and environmental design in some states and also provides advice and guidance to any local body with respect to building or engineering operations or any development proposal which affects or is likely to affect the skyline or the aesthetic quality of the surroundings or any public amenity provided therein. Under certain State laws, the local body, before it accords its approval for building operations, engineering operations or development proposals, is obliged to refer all such operations to the Urban Arts Commission and seek its approval for the project. Additionally, certain approvals and consents may also be required from various other departments such as the fire department, the Airports Authority of India and the Archaeological Survey of India.

Special Economic Zones, Act, 2005 and the Special Economic Zones Rules, 2006

Special Economic Zones (“SEZ”) are regulated and governed by the Special Economic Zone Act, 2005 (the “SEZ Act”) which came into force on February 10, 2006. The SEZ Act provides that the Government of India, any State Government or any person either may, jointly or severally, establish a SEZ in accordance with the procedure under the SEZ Act. SEZs are specifically delineated duty free enclaves deemed to be foreign territories for purposes of Indian custom controls, duties and tariffs. Any person who intends to set up a SEZ after identification of the area, is required to make an application to the Board of Approval of the concerned State Government for approval. The developer of the SEZ is required to take effective steps for implementation of the SEZ project within the said validity period. The developer is required to furnish intimation of fulfilment of conditions specified in the „in-principle“ approval to the Department of Commerce, the Ministry of Commerce and Industry and the Government of India (the “DoC”) within the specified validity period of the „in-principle“ approval. The DoC, on being satisfied with the proposal and compliance of the developer with the terms of the approval, issues a notification declaring the specified area as an SEZ.

The incentives and facilities offered to developers of SEZ include:

- Single window clearance for Central and State level approvals;
- Exemption from dividend distribution tax; service tax and minimum alternate tax;

The Special Economic Zone Rules, 2006 have been enacted to effectively implement the provisions of the SEZ Act. The SEZ Rules also prescribe the procedure for the operation and maintenance of an SEZ, for setting up and conducting business therein, with an emphasis on „self certification“, and the terms and conditions subject to which the entrepreneur and developer shall be entitled to exemptions, drawbacks and concessions etc. The SEZ Rules also provide for the minimum area requirement for various categories of SEZs. Various states have their own state SEZ policies.

Industrial Parks

Industrial parks are industrial model towns/industrial parks for carrying out integrated manufacturing activities (including common facilities, such as roads, power, water, drainage and telecommunications within its precincts) and research and development. Industrial parks enjoy certain tax benefits and can be established under a scheme pursuant to Notification S.O. 354 (E) dated April 1, 2002 by the DIPP, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India. Any undertaking which develops, develops and operates or maintains and operates an industrial park is required to make an application in a prescribed form to the Secretary, Central Board of Direct Taxes following which the Central Board of Direct Taxes notifies the undertaking and the industrial park under section 80-IA of the I.T. Act. Proposals to establish industrial parks which meet the criteria set out in the Industrial Park Scheme (such as minimum land area to be developed, minimum percentage of area to be allocated for industrial use, approval for FDI or non resident Indian investment from the FIPB or any authority specified under any law for the time being in force, as the case may be etc.) are accorded automatic government approval by the Secretariat of Industrial Approvals. Proposals not meeting such parameters require the prior sanction of the „Empowered Committee“ set up by the DIPP. The Industrial Park Scheme, 2008 (the “IP Scheme 2008”) has been framed by the Central Government for industrial parks established on or after April 1, 2006 and before March 31, 2009. Under the IP Scheme 2008, an industrial park means a project in which plots of developed space or built up space or a combination, with common facilities and quality infrastructure facilities, is developed and made available to the units for the purposes of industrial activities or commercial activities. A tax holiday is available for undertakings which develop, develop and operate and operate or maintain and operate an industrial park for a continuous period of 10 years in relation to the profits and gains derived by the undertakings from its activities, subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions. The undertaking to be considered for such tax benefits is required to fulfil certain conditions, inter alia the date of commencement of the industrial park should be on or after April 1, 2006 and not later than March 31, 2009. The IP Scheme 2008 was amended vide the Industrial Park (Amendment) Scheme, 2008 notified on July 2, 2008.

Modes of Acquisition of Interest and Development Rights in Property

Due to the constraints under the laws prescribing a ceiling on the acquisition of land, a real estate development company may enter into a range of agreements in order to acquire interests in land. Brief details of the most common arrangements are provided herein below:

- Agreements for acquisition of land - A company enters into agreements with third parties which may be in the form of an agreement to sell or a memorandum of understanding for the acquisition of land and pooling of land resources, for the purpose of the development of specified projects such as integrated townships. Under such agreements, the contracting parties agree to acquire land in certain areas selected by a company which agrees to provide an interest-free fund to such contracting parties for meeting the costs of the acquisitions. Further, the contracting parties are required to pool the acquired land with the land owned by a company and deliver possession of the same to our Company for the purpose of developing the project. Typically, a company is free to develop the land at its discretion and is also authorised to develop, market and sell the project at its own cost, risk and expense.
- Sole development agreements - A company enters into development agreements (“DA”) with the title holders of land for acquiring sole development rights. Typically, under the terms of the DA, whilst the title owner may continue to own the land, the company is entitled to sole development rights in the project and can sell units in the project and appropriate the receipt of the same at its sole discretion. For acquiring the sole development rights, generally a lump sum consideration is paid to the title holders of land.
- Joint development agreements - Another mode of acquiring land used by a company is to enter into joint development agreements (the “JDA”) with the title holders of land for joint development or development by the company of the real estate projects. The JDA may be in the form of a memorandum of understanding or a joint venture agreement. Under the terms of a JDA, a company may be authorised to develop, construct, finance and market the project on the relevant land.
- Public auctions and Government allotment - Various State Governments undertake large real estate development projects, for the purposes of which bids satisfying certain eligibility criteria (such as technical and financial criteria) are invited. After evaluation of the bids submitted by a company, the Government through the various regional bodies and local development authorities, selects the most eligible company for the development of the project and undertakes to grant certain rights for the purposes of a project such as a perpetual lease of the project land in favour of the company, subject to satisfaction of certain conditions. The governmental authority may grant such an undertaking in the form of a reservation-cum-allotment letter, the salient terms of which usually include among other things, the nature of allotment (such as lease and conveyance), the period of grant, the consideration for allotment and the payment schedule.

LAWS REGULATING TRANSFER OF PROPERTY:

Transfer of Property Act, 1882

The Transfer of Property Act, 1882 (the “TP Act”) establishes the general principles relating to transfer of property in India. Act or as collateral), unless it has been registered. Evidence of registration is normally available through an inspection of the relevant land records, which usually contains details of the registered property. Further, registration of a document does not guarantee title of land.

The Indian Stamp Act, 1899

An employee in a factory is said to be in ‘continuous service’ for a certain period notwithstanding that his service has been interrupted during that period by sickness, accident, leave, absence without leave, lay-off, strike, lock-out or cessation of work not due to the fault of the employee.
