At all-party meet, JDU seeks extension for JPC on ONOE

hen asked about the stampede at Maha Kumbh, Rijiju said the issue was also mentioned for discussion.

Defence minister Rainath Singh, who chaired the meeting on Thursday, informed parties about the legislative agenda and sought their inputs. According to sources, Singh mentioned that Uttar Pradesh govt had ordered a probe into the tragedy in Prayagraj.

Opposition parties, including Congress and Samajwadi Party, protested the functioning of Joint Parliamentary Committee on waqf bill. Congress MP Jairam Ramesh criticised the committee's operations, calling it a "farce" on X.

"It has made a complete mockery of all parliamentary traditions and practices. Such committees used to be a force to be reckoned with—now they have been reduced to being a farce to be reckoned with," he said. Including waqf bill, govt on Thursday circulated a list of 16 bills that are likely to be taken up during the session. The list includes waqf bill, banking laws and disaster management bills, immigration and foreigners bill, finance bill and coastal shipping bill.

While the last session saw opposition parties divided over Adani, Congress's Pramod Tiwari said INDIA bloc would collectively address issues during the Budget session. He and SP's Ram Gopal Yaday criticised the management of VIP movements at Kumbh, claiming it inconvenienced common pilgrims.

During the meeting, BJP's ally JDU sought an extension in the tenure of JPC scrutinising bills proposing simultaneous elections, while another partner, LJP (Ram Vilas), demanded a "special industrial package" for Bihar. Sources said JDU working president Sanjay Jha called for an extension in the tenure of the JPC, which was asked to submit its report by the first day of the last week of the Budget session.

The party said it sought the extension as the committee has met only once and that

Not granted bail to attend Parl session, J&K MP Rashid to go on hunger strike

ot able to attend the upcoming Budget session of Parliament because of his incarceration, Baramulla MP Engineer Rashid Thursday announced that he will go on an indefinite hunger strike in Tihar jail from Friday, the date of commencement of Lok Sabha. Rashid, who won from prison, has not been given bail to attend Parliament since his election in June. Awami Ittehad Party (AIP) chief Rashid has written to LS Speaker Om Birla, informing him of his plan for hunger strike, stating that he was being denied his democratic right to represent his constituency in Parliament, despite being an elected representative. Rashid condemned the "systematic deprivation" of his parliamentary rights and described the authorities' actions as a "mockery of democracy".

He said his hunger strike is a reminder to govt to respect the voice and mandate of people of North Kashmir. AIP spokesman Inam Un Nabi said party members too will hold a hunger strike at Srinagar's Press Colony Friday: "Rashid's decision to go on an indefinite hunger strike from jail is a desperate yet dignified response to the injustice he continues to face. We urge the authorities to respect democracy and allow him to fulfill his duties as an elected MP." TNN

Locals thrash tourists Man accused of drinking on Goa beach pushing GF off Maha Panaji: Days after 28-year-old high-rise acquitted Arambol man Amar Bandekar

Mumbai: Two years after a man, 28, was arrested for allegedly pushing his girlfriend off a water tank in a Dahisar high-rise while sharing a few drinks, a sessions court on Thursday acquitted him of the attempted murder charge, reports Rebecca Samervel.

The acquittal came after the woman, 26, testified in court that the accused never hurt her and she believes he should be released. She requested the court to allow the man, Amey Darekar, to get on with his life, stating that jailing him would not serve any purpose.

Darekar was charged under Section 307 of IPC (attempt to murder). which carries a maximum of life term. Five witnesses testified during the speedy trial. Priyangi Singh, a BPO staffer, who had sustained brain injury and broken spine and bones from the fall, said in her deposition that she could not recall the events of the Nov 12, 2022 night. Her father told TOI: "We were traumatised by the incident and are unable to forget it due to the court hearings. I took a dip in the Ganga and thought we should end this matter. Our daughter is still suffering due to the injuries — she is wheelchairbound. We thought why should we harass the boy and ruin his career."

During her deposition on Jan 2 this year, the woman told court, "There were multiple injuries in my brain and leg. I do not know how the injuries were sustained. I was hospitalised from the date of the incident till Sept 2023."

Defence advocate submitted that the transcript of the woman's videographed statement was belatedly made after chargesheet was filed and bail pleas rejected: "The transcript states the victim may have fallen on her own."

Homeopath kills GF; uses chemicals to mask smell for mths

Chennai: An undisclosed mix of chemicals sprayed by a homeopath had halted the decomposition of two dead bodies — that of his girlfriend and her father — for over four months inside their flat in an apartment complex in Thirumullaivoyal in Chennai, reports Sindhu Kannan. The bodies, however, had started decaying and were discovered on Thursday after neighbours complained of a foul smell from the flat.

Police arrested the 34-year-old Samuel Ebenezer Sampath, a homeopathy practitioner from Austria. They claimed he had killed his girlfriend, Cynthia, 37, after a quarrel with her about her father Samuel Shankar's (78) death four months ago.

Police said Samuel Ebenezer Sampath had been living with Cynthia and her father since Sept 2024. Ebenezer and Cynthia met through social media. Due to her father's ongoing dialysis treatment and medical care, the two moved into his apartment in Chennai later. Cynthia blamed Ebenezer for his inability to save her father. During an altercation, Ebenezer pushed Cynthia, who fell down and became unconscious. She died shortly thereafter, police claimed.

Ebenezer then sprayed a complex of chemicals to mask the odour from the decomposing bodies and turned on the air conditioner. He then left to stay with relatives in Kancheepuram, police said.
