IBA seeks training sessions by CBI to tackle bank fraud

HARSH KUMAR
New Delhi, 17 December

The Indian Banking Association (IBA) has suggested to the finance ministry to direct public sector banks (PSBs) to organise regular training sessions by the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) for bankers to enhance vigilance and prevent fraud.

"We have seen a surge in frauds in recent times. For better coordination and to give more knowledge to the bankers to handle fraud-related situations, IBA has suggested to the finance ministry that PSBs may hold capacity-building sessions with CBI officials, should invite CBI officials for some sessions," a senior IBA official said.

The official also added that banks should establish a robust mechanism for the empanelment and de-empanelment of third-party agencies, particularly rating agencies, to ensure transparency, accountability, and reliability.

"This process should include clear criteria such as the agency's track record, methodology, regulatory compliance, and performance history," the official added. The number of frauds in the banking sector increased over four times in the past five years to 36,075. However, the amount involved came down significantly to about ₹14,000 crore in FY24 from over ₹1.85 trillion in FY20.

- Digital payment frauds rose to 29,082 in FY24 from 2,677 in FY20

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI), in its latest annual report, said over the last three years, while private banks reported maximum number of frauds, PSBs continued to contribute most to the fraud amount. The number of frauds have predominantly been witnessed through digital payments (card or internet), rising from 2,677 in FY20 to 29,082 in FY24.

In terms of value, frauds have been reported primarily in the loan portfolio, which has witnessed a gradual decline to ₹11,772 crore in FY24 from ₹1.81 trillion in FY20. About 89 per cent of the frauds reported in 2023-24 by value occurred in previous financial years.

An official document, reviewed by Business Standard, showed that 1,078 cases of registration of FIR by CBI are pending. It further added that 868 complaints are pending from more than 24 months for FIR registration.

Earlier this month, the finance ministry held a meeting with PSB officials, other ministries, and investigative agencies, including the CBI, to discuss measures for expediting investigations into bank frauds. The ministry emphasised the need for enhanced cooperation between departments and agencies, which is expected to help resolve stressed banking assets more effectively.

The finance ministry further highlighted that frauds perpetrated by PSB staff have increased in recent months. From April, 2020, to September, 2024, there were 1,810 such incidents, involving ₹1,820.74 crore. Under the RBI's Master Direction on Fraud Classification and Reporting, banks are required to report cases involving their own employees to the CBI or local police if fraud is suspected.

"Other operational issues related to filing of complaints with CBI in bank fraud cases, regular review of investigation and support required by CBI during investigation was also discussed. It was observed that regular discussion between bankers and CBI will bring in operational efficiencies in the investigation of bank fraud cases," said the finance ministry statement.

Four of 10 in rural, semi-urban India prefer UPI: Report

AJINKYA KAWALE
Mumbai, 17 December

Only about four out of ten users in rural and semi-urban India have the country's real-time payments system, Unified Payments Interface (UPI), as a preferred mode of transaction, with about two only preferring cash, according to a joint report by EY and CII.

However, UPI is the most favoured mode of financial transactions in such regions.

Over 400 million users transact using the payments ecosystem, either transacting to peers (peer-to-peer) or merchants (peer-to-merchant).

On an average, the National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI) has recorded over 14.13 billion transactions per month in 2024.

According to the report, about 11 per cent of respondents polled in its survey did not prefer UPI as a mode of payment in rural and semi-urban geographies in the country. The survey polled 1,033 respondents, out of which 73 per cent were from rural areas and 22 per cent were women.

The sample included users from geographies such as Delhi, Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Maharashtra, West Bengal, Uttar Pradesh, Bihar and North East.

"Our report's findings suggest a fertile ground for financial institutions to introduce innovative saving and investment solutions, particularly in rural and semi-urban India, where there is inclination to learn about financial management," said Saurabh Chandra, senior partner & Financial Services (Domestic) consulting head, EY India.

On an average, about 94 per cent of Indians have access to a smartphone, signalling strong penetration of devices and potential to expand the footprint of digital transactions.

Despite strong adoption of smartphones and affordable telecom coverage, more than 86 per cent of bank account holders in rural and semi-urban India prefer visiting branches highlighting reliance on traditional banking channels.

When it comes to credit, 60 per cent rely on formal banking channels.

"The ecosystem should leverage artificial intelligence (AI) and advanced automation to provide personalized, accessible and secure financial services. By clearly outlining each participant's role in this system and motivating their involvement through gamification and measurable goals, a sustainable financial inclusion model can be built," the report said.

Digital scams: NPCI lists 'tricks' to watch out for

AJINKYA KAWALE
Mumbai, 17 December

With incidents of online frauds, including 'digital arrests' on the rise, the National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI) — that oversees India's retail payment systems — has issued an advisory outlining steps to protect users against such scams.

It has asked citizens to identify such scams based on themes such as unexpected calls from alleged government officials, a fear-induced language from perpetrators, and attempts to coerce individuals to divulge sensitive bank details.

"Terms like 'clearing your

KEEP AN EYE ON

- Unexpected calls from alleged government officials
- A fear-induced language from perpetrators
- Attempts to coerce individuals to divulge sensitive bank details

name (from involvement in an alleged crime)', 'assisting with the investigation', or 'refundable security deposit/escrow account' might be used by scammers to persuade you into transferring money to specified bank accounts or UPI IDs," the NPCI said in a note.

It added that authentic government officials or law enforcement agencies (LEAs) will never ask for money or investigate cases on phone or video calls.

A digital arrest refers to scams where fraudsters pretend to be law enforcement officials who trick victims into sending money or sharing personal information. These scammers pretend to file fake cases against victims or their family members and initiate communication via digital channels such as video calls over Skype or WhatsApp, among others.

Users should report suspicious numbers and accounts to the National Cybercrime Helpline by dialling 1930. The NPCI has urged users to document interactions by saving screenshots and messages which can help LEAs during investigation.

The advisory comes as people continue to lose money to digital frauds.

Indians have lost ₹485 crore to frauds on the Unified Payments Interface (UPI) across 632,000 reported incidents during the ongoing financial year 2024-25 (FY25) until September, according to data from the Ministry of Finance.

NTA to be restructured, will only focus on higher edu entrance exams

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, 17 December

The NTA will not conduct any recruitment exams from 2025, instead will only focus on higher education entrance tests, Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan announced on Tuesday.

The agency will be restructured next year and new posts are being created, he added.

The move is part of examination reforms based on the recommendations of a high-level panel set up earlier this year following alleged leaks in the National Eligibility-cum-Entrance Test (NEET) medical entrance exam and a series of cancellations of others due to suspected leaks and other glitches.

The education ministry is also in conversation with the health ministry on conducting NEET in the traditional pen-and-paper mode or switch to a Computer Based Test (CBT).

"The National Testing Agency (NTA) will be limited to conducting only entrance exams for higher education and not conduct any recruitment exams from next year," Pradhan told reporters.

He clarified that the Common University Entrance Test - Undergraduate (CUET-UG) would continue to be held once a year.

Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan said the NTA will be restructured next year

The high-level panel headed by former Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) chief R Radhakrishnan noted that the NTA outstretched itself to accommodate diverse requests from many test indenting agencies for handling end-to-end operations of tests.

"The NTA should primarily conduct entrance examinations. Enhancing its scope for other examinations may be considered after the capacity of the NTA is augmented," the panel said in its report.

Suggesting restructuring of the NTA, the committee recommended 10 specific verticals, headed at the director level. The verticals will be related to technology, products and operations, test security and surveillance.

OTT platforms warned against drug promotion

The government has cautioned OTT platforms of further regulatory scrutiny if they are found streaming content that inadvertently promotes, glorifies, or glorifies the use of drugs through the main protagonist and other actors without disclaimers or user warnings.

In an advisory to OTT platforms, the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting said, "Such a portrayal has serious repercussions, particularly regarding the potential influence on young and impressionable viewers". PTI

Use tech to drive progress: Jeet Adani

India cannot stay out of global technological race and should build capabilities that will keep it at the top while remaining vigilant against its misuse, said Jeet Adani, Director, Adani Airport Holdings. Speaking at IIT Bombay's Techfest 2024, Adani, the 27-year old younger son of infrastructure magnate Gautam Adani, said the future of technology is both scary and exciting. PTI
