The prototype of the Vande Bharat sleeper express train set manufactured by BEML was unveiled at the Integral Coach Factory (ICF) on Wednesday. Around 15 days ago, the first set came to ICF and is undergoing initial tests and minor works, including furnishing. By November 15, the train will be ready for testing, said ICF General Manager U Subba Rao.

The order was given to BEML a year ago by the ICF. The cost of the train set is ₹120 crore, he said. He said the testing will be done by the Lucknow RDSO, and on the Western and Central Railways. The train will be dispatched there for trials, which includes checking braking and control systems in running conditions, he said.

As the State-owned Bharat Sanchar Nigam Ltd (BSNL) gets set to launch 4G and ultimately 5G services, the Centre for Development of Telematics (C-DOT) is working on meeting the target of erecting one lakh towers and mini data centres to meet the requirements for the services.

Apart from that, C-DOT is also working on cybersecurity mechanisms with Defence and 4G (LTE) for Railways where C-DOT has installed LTE router in locomotives. Multiple drive tests have been done with smartphones inside the passenger trains and LTE Cab router.

4G CORE DESIGNED
The biggest achievement is that the 4G core for BSNL has been designed, developed and deployed by us in BSNL network. It is 100 per cent indigenous and there are 40,000 sites operational now across India. Zonal core in each zone and circle core in each circle are in operation. There are four zones where they are operational — North (Chandigarh), South (Trichy), East (Kolkata) and West (Pune). There are mini data centres in each circle too," Rajkumar Upadhyay, CEO and Chairman, C-DOT told businessline.C-DOT along with Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) and Tejas Networks has collaborated to establish a 4G network for BSNL, and according to sources another 10,000 sites will be operational soon.

According to DoT's annual report 2023-24 recently, it has mentioned that C-DOT's key project achievements also include 3G Core — an indigenous end-to-end 3G solution consisting of 3G standalone (SA) core, along with indigenously developed BharatMAN2.

It has also signed agreement with second consortium consisting of Lekha Wireless, Sooktha, Resonous and Signatron for development of disaggregated 5G Bharat RAN (radio access network) solution.

Last month, Telecom Minister Jyotiraditya Scindia inaugurated 5G O-RAN testing lab that will benefit the startups, academia and the industry to test various components of 5G open RAN system developed by C-DOT in Bengaluru campus.

The lab will facilitate development of a complete Indian end-end 5G ecosystem in the areas of core, access, transport, cloud, orchestration and security.

"C-DOT has also developed products on quantum communications, one of the systems from Department of Telecommunications (DoT) to National Informatics Centre (NIC) to carry live traffic using quantum key distribution system. Our quantum systems are open to detection of breach with a reward of ₹10 lakh per breach. While many companies tried to breach it (as tests), the real money is yet to go out," Upadhyay informed.

Centre admonishes X, Meta over recent bomb hoax posts

Our Bureau
New Delhi

The government has come down heavily on social media platforms Meta and X for failing to give details of some of the handles in the recent bomb hoax threats to national and international flights.

The government has maintained that these social media companies did not handle the situation responsibly. Their actions, according to sources, amounted to 'abetting the crime'. The companies were told to immediately pull down such handles from their sites.

Sources said a top official at the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (MeitY) called a virtual meeting on Wednesday with officials from affected airlines and the two social media platforms. In this meeting, X and Meta officials were severely reprimanded for not divulging information in time about the bomb threats.

The platforms were seen to be reluctant in sharing details about user handles who sent out fake threats. "The government official stressed that prompt response is needed to ensure that the perpetrators and repeat offenders are identified swiftly, and nabbed," sources said.

VIA 'PROPER CHANNEL'
The social media giants are also understood to have told the government that they are ready to cooperate, but can do so only when the requests come through the "proper channel" under the law, the sources said. "The Home Ministry and the IT Ministry have the powers to seek details under specific provisions and specific conditions. The companies have been cooperating when the requests are coming through the proper channel and under the specific provisions," an official told businessline.

In the past week, Indian airlines have received more than 100 hoax bomb threats resulting in inconvenience to passengers and monetary losses to the airlines. Most of the threats were posted on accounts on X and the accounts were created by using a virtual private network or dark web browser that investigative agencies have been unable to detect.

The Delhi Police have filed eight cases in connection with bomb threats. The threats messages were received through anonymous posts on X which were later suspended by the authorities. All the handles engaging in such messaging were found to be fake, which meant that the Delhi Police was not able to locate the real people behind them.

Air India, SIA expand codeshare partnership

Our Bureau
Mumbai

Air India and Singapore Airlines (SIA) are enhancing their codeshare partnership, adding 11 Indian and 40 international destinations in a first extensive expansion of the arrangement since 2010.

The expansion comes in the backdrop of the impending merger between Vistara and Air India.

It will give Air India better access in markets in Southeast Asia and Australia, and bring more passenger feed to its India-Europe flights. While a codeshare gives passengers benefits like a single itinerary, through check-in and frequent flyer miles, it allows airlines to expand their reach and increase revenue.

From October 27, the two airlines will codeshare on each other's flights between Singapore-Chennai and Singapore-Bengaluru.

TRAI floats consultation on network authorisations to be granted under Telecom Act

Our Bureau
New Delhi

The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) on Tuesday floated a consultation paper, titled 'Terms and Conditions of Network Authorisations to be Granted Under the Telecommunications Act, 2023', in which it has asked stakeholders to comment on satellite-based networks.

DoT approached TRAI, through a letter dated July 26 this year, asking it to provide recommendations on terms and conditions, including fees or charges, for authorisation to establish, operate, maintain or expand the telecommunication network as per the provisions of the Telecommunications Act, 2023.

The 169-page consultation paper comprises 37 queries seeking comments from the stakeholders, including whether there is a need to change/modify any of the financial conditions of the Satellite Earth Station Gateway (SESG) authorisation from those recommended by TRAI in November 2022.

TRAI sought comments on which equipment should be included in the ambit of 'in-building solution'

In its recommendations on 'Licensing Framework for Establishing Satellite Earth Station Gateway (SESG)', sent to DoT in November 2022, TRAI provided detailed recommendations on eligibility conditions, scope and terms and conditions of the SESG authorisation.

SEPARATE SESG LICENCE

The Authority had recommended that there should be a separate SESG licence under Section 4 of the Indian Telegraph Act and added that the SESG licence will not form a part of the Unified License (UL).

It also recommended that the Service Area for the SESG licence should be at the national level and the SESG licensee may provide satellite-based resources to any entity that holds a licence/permission granted by DoT or the Ministry of Information & Broadcasting and is permitted to use satellite media for the provision of services under its licence/permission.

TRAI also sought comments on which telecommunication equipment/elements should be included in the ambit of 'in-building solution' (IBS) and whether there is a need to introduce a new authorisation under Section 3(1)(b) of the Telecommunication Act.

Section 3 of the Act grants the power of authorisation to the Centre. It says the Centre may, while making rules, provide for different terms and conditions of authorisation for different types of telecommunication services, networks or radio equipment. Also, if it determines that it is necessary in the public interest to do so, it may provide exemption from the requirement of authorisation.

TRAI also asked if there is a need to introduce a new authorisation for establishing, operating, maintaining or expanding a satellite communication network, which may be used to provide a network as a service to entities authorised under the Telecom Act, 2023.
