MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

INDUSTRY OUTLOOK

Currently Consumer Electronics Market is growing rapidly in the Asia-Pacific region, accounting approximately for more than 31.9% of the total market share worldwide. The existence of multiple manufacturers, an expanding population, and rising earnings available to consumers are the primary factors contributing to the region's market growth.

Furthermore, the emergence of semiconductor technology due to technological advancement is the other major factor driving the growth of the Consumer Electronics Market. Additionally, the increasing adoption of consumer goods like automated home appliances, and the rising trend of Smartphones is projected to boost the Consumer Electronics Market growth in the upcoming years.

The market is extremely competitive, with many different producers and brands vying for a part of the consumer base. Apple, Samsung, LG, Sony, and Microsoft are among the major participants in this sector. Other major companies include Xiaomi, Oppo, Vivo and OnePlus. These businesses put a significant amount of money into research & development in order to produce new items and enhance their existing offerings. This helps businesses stay one step ahead of their rivals.

ECONOMY

GLOBAL ECONOMY OUTLOOK

The global economy faces a mixed outlook as it navigates a complex landscape of opportunities and challenges. On the one hand, advanced economies are showing signs of resilience, with growth driven by technological advancements, robust consumer spending, and investments in green energy. Emerging markets, particularly in Asia, continue to experience strong growth, fueled by urbanization and increasing middle-class consumption. However, global economic recovery remains uneven due to persistent inflationary pressures, geopolitical tensions, and supply chain disruptions. Central banks are tightening monetary policies to combat inflation, which could slow growth in the short term. Additionally, the ongoing energy transition and climate-related risks are reshaping industries, creating both uncertainties and avenues for sustainable growth. Overall, the global economy is expected to grow at a moderate pace, but risks to stability and growth remain high.

Considering the global scenario, the economic outlook remains cautiously optimistic but fraught with significant challenges. The continued recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic has been uneven across regions, with advanced economies rebounding faster due to strong fiscal and monetary support. However, emerging markets and developing countries are still grappling with slower vaccination rates, economic scarring, and external vulnerabilities.

Global inflationary pressures are a major concern, driven by supply chain disruptions, rising commodity prices, and labor market tightness. Central banks in key economies are raising interest rates to combat inflation, which could dampen economic growth and increase the cost of borrowing, particularly in developing countries.

Geopolitical tensions, such as the Russia-Ukraine conflict, have exacerbated energy and food security concerns, leading to higher costs and market volatility. This, coupled with ongoing trade disputes and protectionist policies, could further strain global economic integration.

On the positive side, technological advancements, digitalization, and the green transition present opportunities for growth and innovation. However, the global economy's path forward will depend on how well nations manage these risks while fostering sustainable and inclusive growth.

INDIAN ECONOMY OUTLOOK

The Indian economy is poised for steady growth despite global headwinds. India is projected to remain one of the fastest-growing major economies, driven by robust domestic demand, a strong services sector, and continued government reforms. The nation's focus on infrastructure development, digital transformation, and manufacturing through initiatives like "Make in India" and "Digital India" is expected to support long-term growth.

However, India faces challenges such as inflationary pressures, particularly in food and energy prices, and the impact of global economic uncertainties on trade and investment. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has been managing inflation through monetary tightening, which could slow growth in the near term.

The agricultural sector remains crucial, and good monsoon seasons are vital for rural income and consumption. Additionally, the government's fiscal policies, including subsidies and welfare programs, aim to support lower-income households and boost economic resilience.

Despite these challenges, India's young and growing population, rising middle class, and increasing digital connectivity present significant opportunities. Foreign direct investment (FDI) inflows are strong, and the country is emerging as a key player in global supply chains.

Overall, India's economic outlook is positive, but maintaining momentum will require careful management of inflation, global risks, and structural reforms to ensure sustainable and inclusive growth.

These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in our opinion, there is no any such matter to be reported by us.

Information Other than the Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation of the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report, Management Discussion and Analysis, Business Responsibility Report and Report on Corporate Governance but does not include the financial statements and our auditors' report thereon. The above-referred information is expected to be made available to us after the date of this audit report.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact.

When we read the other information, if we conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance and take appropriate actions necessitated by the circumstances and the applicable laws and regulations.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, total comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the Ind AS and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on the Internal financial controls with reference to financial statements under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (“the Act”)

We have audited the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements of Salora International Limited (“the Company”) as of 31st March 2024 in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management’s Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company’s management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company’s policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditors’ Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls with reference to financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) and the Standards on Auditing as specified under section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects. Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls with reference to financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with reference to financial statements

A company’s internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company’s internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that: -

- 1) Pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;
- 2) Provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and
- 3) Provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company’s assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with reference to financial statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management, override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control with reference to financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Company has, broadly, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system with reference to financial statements and such internal financial controls with reference to financial statements were operating effectively as at 31st March, 2024, based on the internal financial control with reference to financial statements criteria established by the Company considering the essential Component of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Internal financial controls are to be strengthened with respect to reconciliations/confirmations, review of legal/ disputed cases and statutory dues recoverable. However, this does not render the financial statements to be materially misstated.

1.03 Basis of preparation

These financial statements are prepared under the historical cost convention on the accrual basis except for certain assets and liabilities which are measured at fair value / amortised cost / transaction price as stated in respective accounting policies / notes.

Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly-issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

Functional and presentation currency

These financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees ('INR' or 'Rs.') which is also the Company's functional currency. All amounts are rounded-off to the nearest lakhs, unless indicated otherwise

The Financial statements were approved by the Board of Directors on 27th May, 2024

1.04 Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of the financial statements, requires management to make estimates, judgments and assumptions. These estimates, judgments and assumptions affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the year. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Appropriate changes in estimates are made as management becomes aware of changes in circumstances surrounding the estimates. Changes in estimates are reflected in the financial statements in the year in which changes are made and, if material, their effects are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements.

Areas involving critical estimates and Judgements are:

- Estimation of useful lives of property, plant and equipment (Refer note no. 2.01 below)
- Impairment of financial assets ((Refer note no. 2.04 below))
- Estimation of current tax expenses (Refer note no. 2.08 below)
- Estimation of employee defined benefit obligations (Refer note no. 2.07 below)
- Estimation of provisions and contingent liabilities (Refer note no. 2.09 below)

2 Material Accounting Policy information

2.01 Property plant and equipment (PPE):

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost, less accumulated depreciation and impairment, if any. The company depreciates property, plant and equipment over their estimated useful lives on Straight Line Method. The estimated useful lives of assets are as follows:-

Category	Useful Life
Buildings (including roads)	30- 60 Years
Plant & Equipment	15 Years
Mould & Dies	8 Years
Furniture & Fixture	10 years
Office Equipment	5 Years
Vehicles	8 - 10 Years
Computer	3 Years

The useful lives for these assets is in compliance with the useful lives as indicated under Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013

Addition to the property plant and equipment have been accounted for on the date of installation irrespective of date of invoice. Depreciation on asset added /sold/discarded during the year is being provided on prorata basis from/ upto the date on which such assets are added/sold/discarded. Leasehold Land is amortized over the period of lease. Advances paid towards the acquisition of property, plant and equipment outstanding at each balance sheet date is classified as capital advances under other non financial assets and the cost of assets not ready for use before such date are disclosed under 'Capital work-in-progress'

2.02 Leases-(Right of use)

The Company enters into hiring/service arrangements for various assets. The Company evaluates whether a contract contains a lease or not, in accordance with the principles of Ind AS 116. This requires significant judgements including but not limited to, whether asset is implicitly identified, substantive substitution rights available with the supplier, decision making rights with respect to how the underlying asset will be used, economic substance of the arrangement, etc.

As a lessee the Company has measured lease liability at the present value of the remaining lease payments, discounted using the incremental borrowing rate at the date of initial application. After the commencement date / transition date, The Company measures the right-of-use asset applying a cost model, where the Company measures the right-of-use asset at cost:

- (a) less any accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses; and
- (b) adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liability

The Company recognises the finance charges on lease expense on reducing balance of lease liability. The Right of use asset is depreciated over the lease term on straight line basis.

The Company applies the above policy to all leases except:

- (a) leases for which the lease term (as defined in Ind AS 116) ends within 12 months of the acquisition date
- (b) leases for which the underlying asset is of low value (lease having monthly rental less than ₹ 5000)

As a lessor the Company identifies leases as operating and finance lease. A lease is classified as a finance lease if the Company transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an underlying asset.

For Operating leases as a lessor the Company recognises lease payments from operating leases as income on straight-line basis.

Lease liability and ROU asset have been separately presented in the Balance Sheet and lease payments have been classified in financing activities in cash flows.

2.03 Financial instruments

(i) Initial recognition

All financial assets and liabilities are recognized at fair value on initial recognition, except for trade receivables which are initially measured at transaction price. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities that are not at fair value through profit or loss, are adjusted from the fair value of financial assets / financial liabilities on initial recognition.

(ii) Subsequent measurement

a) Financial assets carried at amortized cost

A financial asset is subsequently measured at amortized cost if it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold the asset in order to collect contractual cash flows, and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified date to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

b) Financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss

A financial asset which is not classified as subsequently measured at amortised cost is subsequently fair valued through profit or loss.

c) Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are subsequently carried at amortized cost using the effective interest method. For trade and other payables maturing within one year from the Balance sheet date, the carrying amount approximate fair value due to the short maturity of these instruments.

d) Equity instruments

Equity instruments issued by the Company are recognized at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

2.04 Impairment:

Financial assets

The company recognizes loss allowances using the expected credit loss (ECL) model for the financial assets which are not fair valued through profit or loss. Loss allowance for trade receivables is measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECL. For all other financial assets, ECLs are measured at an amount equal to the 12-month ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition in which case those are measured at lifetime ECL. The amount of ECLs (or reversal) that is required to adjust loss allowance at the reporting date to the amount that is required to be recognized is recognized as an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss.

The company considers financial assets as credit impaired which are outstanding for more than 3 years in case of trade receivables.

2.05 Inventories

- a) Inventories are valued at cost or net realisable value whichever is lower.
- b) Cost of manufactured finished goods and work in progress includes cost of material, labour and manufacturing overheads.
- c) Cost is calculated on FIFO basis in respect of mainly trading goods and on weighted average basis in respect of manufactured goods.

2.06 Revenue from contracts with customers

Revenue is the transaction price the Company expects to be entitled to. In determining the transaction price, the Company considers effects of variable consideration, the existence of significant financing component, non cash consideration and consideration payable to the customer, if any. The Company considers whether there are other promises in the contract that are separate performance obligations to which the transaction price needs to be allocated (e.g. warranties etc.).

Variable consideration

If the consideration in a contract includes a variable amount, the company estimates the amount of consideration to which it will be entitled to in exchange for transferring goods to the customer. The variable consideration is estimated at contract inception and constrained until it is highly probable that a significant reversal of revenue will not occur once associated uncertainties are resolved. Some contracts with the customers provide them with a right to return and volume rebates. The right to return and volume rebates gives rise to variable consideration.

The amount of variable consideration is calculated by either using the expected value or the most likely amount depending on which is expected to better predict the amount of variable consideration.

Sale of products

The Company recognizes revenues on the sale of products, net of returns and trade discounts at a point in time when customer obtains control of the goods, provided a contract with enforceable rights and obligations exists. Customer obtains control of goods based on the contracted terms either on dispatch from factory premises or on delivery at the customer's premises, as the case may be.

Other operating revenue

Other operational revenue represents income earned from activities incidental to the business and is recognised when right to receive the income is established.

Other Income

Interest income from a financial asset is recognized using the effective interest rate.

Other income is recognized on accrual basis.

2.07 Employee benefits

Short term employee benefits :

Benefits like salaries, wages, leave salary, contribution to Provident Fund/ Employee State Insurance contributions etc. paid or payable during the reporting period and the expected bonus expense are recognised as an expense on an undiscounted basis in the period in which the employee renders the related service.

Long term employee benefits :

Compensated absence:

The liability for leave encashment and other compensated absences is recognized on the basis of actuarial valuation made at the end of the year.

Post -employment benefits

a) Defined contribution plan

Defined Contribution Plans for Provident Fund, Family Pension benefits are recognised by contribution at specified rate or percentage on salary. No actuarial assumptions are required to measure the obligations or expenses and there is no possibility of any actuarial gain or loss. Moreover the obligations are measured on an undiscounted basis. The contribution paid /payable under the schemes is recognised during the period in which employee renders the related service.

b) Defined benefit plan

The Company's Gratuity is Defined Benefit Retirement Plan. The Company 's liability towards Gratuity is determined using the Projected Unit Credit Method which recognises each period of service as giving rise to additional unit of employee benefit entitlement.

The liability is provided based on actuarial valuation certified by consulting actuary. The Company recognizes the net obligation of a defined benefit plan in its balance sheet as an asset or liability. Remeasurements comprising of actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the asset ceiling (excluding amounts included in net interest on the net defined benefit liability) and the return on plan assets (excluding amounts included in net interest on the net defined benefit liability) relating to retirement benefit plans are recognised in Other Comprehensive Income which are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods.

2.08 Income taxes

The accounting treatment followed for taxes on income is to provide for Current Income Tax and Deferred Income Tax. Income tax expense is recognized in the net profit in the Statement of Profit and Loss except to the extent that it relates to items recognized directly in equity, in which case it is recognized in other comprehensive income. Current income tax for current and prior period is the aggregate amount of income tax determined as payable in respect of taxable income for the period, using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the Balance Sheet date. Deferred Income Tax asset and liability are recognized for all temporary differences arising between the tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the financial statements except when the deferred income tax arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss at the time of the transaction. Deferred Income tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realized.

Deferred tax is recognised based on the balance sheet approach, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying values in the financial statements. Deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised. Deferred tax is determined using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

2.09 Provisions and contingencies

A provision is recognised if, as a result of a past event, the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. Provisions for onerous contracts are recognized when the expected benefits to be derived by the Company from a contract are lower than the unavoidable costs of meeting the future obligations under the contract. A disclosure for contingent liabilities is made where there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may probably not require an outflow of resources or an obligation for which the future outcome cannot be ascertained with reasonable certainty. When there is a possible or a present obligation where the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision or disclosure

2.10 Government grant

The company receives export incentives in the form of Duty Drawback. The said scheme is related to income. The company recognises income from government grant when the condition for export is met and it is certain that the grant under the scheme will be received. The company presents the grant income on gross basis aggregated with other operating income line item in profit or loss.

2.11 Exceptional Items

When an item of income or expense within Statement of profit or loss from any activity is of such size, nature or incidence that their disclosure is relevant to explain the performance of the Company for the year, the nature and amount of such items is disclosed as exceptional items.

2.12 Statement of Cash flows

Cash flows from operating activities are reported using the indirect method where by the profit before tax is adjusted for the effect of the transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past and future operating cash receipts or payments and items of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the company are segregated.

The risks which the company is exposed to and policies and framework adopted by the company to manage these risks are explained as under:

A Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Company is exposed to interest rate risk as its Market risk.

B Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of changes in market interest rates relates primarily to the Company's debt obligations with floating interest rates. As the Company has no significant interest-bearing assets, the income and operating cash flows are substantially independent of changes in market interest rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of changes in market interest rates relates primarily to the Company's debt obligations with floating interest rates, which are included in interest bearing loans and borrowings in these financial statements. The company's fixed rate borrowings are carried at amortised cost. They are therefore not subject to interest rate risk, since neither the carrying amount nor the future cash flows will fluctuate because of a change in market interest rates. At the reporting date the interest rate profile of the Company's interest bearing financial instrument is at its fair value:

D Credit Risk

Credit risk refers to the risk of default on its obligation by the counterparty resulting in a financial loss. The exposure to the credit risk at the reporting date is primarily from trade receivables which are typically unsecured and other financial assets. Majority of the company's transactions are earned in cash or cash equivalents.

The company assesses the creditworthiness of the customers internally to whom services are rendered on credit terms in the normal course of business. The credit limit of each customer is defined in accordance with this assessment. Outstanding customer receivables are regularly monitored.

The company recognizes loss allowances using the expected credit loss (ECL) model for the financial assets which are not fair valued through profit or loss. Loss allowance for trade receivables with no significant financing component is measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECL. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12-month ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition in which case those are measured at lifetime ECL.

(i) Exposure to Credit Risk

The carrying amount of financial assets represents the maximum credit exposure. The maximum exposure to credit risk at the reporting date was:

(ii) Provision for expected credit losses

Financial assets for which loss allowance is measured using life time expected credit losses

The Company uses a provision matrix to determine expected loss on portfolio of its trade receivable which is measured using lifetime expected credit loss model. The provision matrix is based on its historically observed default data over the expected life of the trade receivable and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates.

The loss allowance has been measured using lifetime ECL except for financial assets on which there has been no significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition. At each reporting date, the Company assesses whether financial assets carried at amortised cost is credit-impaired. A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred since initial recognition. A simplified approach has been considered for measuring expected credit losses (ECLs) of trade receivables at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs. The ECLs on trade receivables are calculated based on actual historic credit loss experience over the preceding three years on the total balance of undisputed trade receivables and in case of disputed trade receivables on the basis of recovery pattern. The Company monitors all the receivables, loans and other financial assets continuously basis the factors considered while dealing. If there are any indicators of impairment on management assessment of these receivables, loans and other financial assets, these are provided for. The Company uses the ECL method for impairment.

The following table summarises the change in the loss allowances measured using life time expected credit loss model (ECL):
