4 Decades of Enduring Value.

We continue to progress at a steady pace with the objective of creating enduring value. We are enhancing our capabilities, empowering our talent pool and building execution agility while embedding sustainability into our business and operations. We believe that this will help us better capitalise on emerging opportunities and provide us with greater scale and profitability over the long-term.

Over the past decade, our business model has undergone a transition from being dependent on large volume Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients (APIs), to an optimal mix of Specialty APIs and Custom Manufacturing Solutions(CMS) business.

More recently, commercialisation of our CMS molecules, enabled by ongoing improvements in R&D, project management, operations and business development have helped us gain momentum.

Going forward, building a differentiated portfolio and nurturing enduring partnerships with all our clients will remain a key priority. As we continue to progress and amplify value creation for our stakeholders, we remain committed to supporting our customers in advancing healthcare and improving patient outcomes.

Executive Chairman's Message

Our Company remains committed to enhancing value for our shareholders. This year, our Company has announced the highest ever total payout of dividends in the last three decades.

Dr. Davuluri Rama Mohan Rao
Executive Chairman

Dear Shareholders,

As I reflect on Neuland's journey it leads me to reiterate a few things which many of you may be aware of, but it is important to state them again. From the very beginning my purpose has been to build a quality conscious pharmaceutical company high on integrity. At that time, the task seemed herculean as a lot of the basic expectations were not met by the industrial environment in India. My educational background and experience in the industry helped me envision such a company. Employee safety and well-being were embedded into the organisational DNA even as we began operations. While Neuland has always been conscious of the environment, I was able to contribute significantly from the 90s to ensure the Patancheru area was ecologically safe. Even as I think there is still some way to before my initial vision is fully realised, I am grateful for the journey and those who have been part of it as we have completed 40 years as an organisation.

I am mindful that a few companies get to cross this milestone and that this is a result of contribution from all our key stakeholders. I particularly want to thank the government authorities and the banks that played an instrumental role during the initial years of Neuland's journey when capital was limited, and we had very few partners.

Even as FY24 is a landmark year in terms of performance, I see it as the result of the journey that we have taken over the last 40 years. Reaching where we are today meant that we went through certain failures, which were the basis for learning and the building of a stronger Company. While we had a certain direction in mind, the execution in terms of how things fell into place took longer than we anticipated due to reasons both internal and external. Internally, we have realised the need to build robust capabilities in R&D, Quality and Manufacturing, even as we prioritised Project Management as a function to ensure agile delivery. Having said that, the strategy that we have been pursuing over the last fifteen years has enabled us to move away from low-margin products and consequently reduce debt. We have been able to develop a portfolio of complex specialty APIs like Paliperidone Palmitate, Salmeterol, Apixaban while working with innovators on novel therapies.

Despite having seen this transformation in terms of the business, we recognise the need for multifaceted development. While the strategic priorities have provided the structure for our actions over the last three years, sustainability is now increasingly becoming integral to our strategy and operations. Over the last few years, we have consciously and formally worked on several sustainability initiatives and have offered to get rated by reputed agencies such as S&P Global and EcoVadis. We have been writing about them regularly in our annual and our sustainability reports. This Integrated Report is one major milestone in this regard as it presents our readers with an improved understanding of how our organisation's ability to create, preserve or loose value are linked to other stakeholders, society and natural environment.

You would have seen me emphasise the importance of our people and the need to continuously develop the organisation so that we can sustain growth ambitions. The leadership team has dedicated significant time in the past year to advance our people initiatives. We have had senior members of the team embark on individual development plans so that they are prepared to take on even more responsibilities and we can build a more robust leadership pipeline. At the other end of the spectrum,

We have embarked on a structured induction process for hires across all the levels, along with relevant learning calendars throughout the year. We place a strong emphasis on people as we will need to have a strong organisation for the growth journey that we envisage.

we are continuing to focus on the management trainee program and in the previous year, we have embarked on a structured induction process for hires across all the levels, along with relevant learning calendars throughout the year. We place a strong emphasis on people as we will need to have a strong organisation for the growth journey that we envisage.

As stated earlier, Neuland is committed to upholding the highest standards of governance and ethics. We prioritise compliance with applicable laws and regulations, recognising the importance of strong institutional governance and risk frameworks in protecting the interests of our stakeholders. Since becoming a public limited entity 30 years ago, our Board has consistently maintained a balanced composition of skills, capabilities, and diversity to fulfil its responsibilities. We are continually assessing and enhancing our governance structures to ensure they encompass robust controls, enable effective decision-making, and align with evolving best practices, both locally and globally.

Looking ahead, I firmly believe that Neuland is well positioned not just for significant growth but also for being recognised as a leading sustainable service provider in the pharmaceutical space. Our strategic priorities are aligning us more closely with our customers and driving Neuland's transformation as a stronger and more agile entity. Customer centricity has been at the core of Neuland's intent, and we continue to make every effort to serve customers in a more responsible way. Our ongoing investments, robust product pipeline and strong reputation in the pharmaceutical sector further underpin our ability to deliver long-term value. We are continuously working on our plans for the medium- to long-term, which will entail significant decisions with respect to enhancing capabilities and capacities. As we complete 40 years, I look forward to a new decade where Neuland plays an increasingly crucial role in enabling a healthier world.

Our Company remains committed to enhancing value for our shareholders. This year, our Company has announced the highest ever total payout of dividends in the last three decades.

Once again, I want to express my heartfelt gratitude to our esteemed customers, bankers, vendors, the regulatory authorities, other partners, and my fellow board members. I also express my deepest appreciation to our employees for their hard work and dedication. At Neuland, we remain steadfast in our commitment to collaborating with all our stakeholders to produce high-quality pharmaceuticals and enabling a healthier world.

Warm Regards,

Dr. Davuluri Rama Mohan Rao
Executive Chairman

In Conversation with Sucheth Davuluri, Vice-Chairman and CEO

Our steadfast dedication to operational efficiency and cost optimisation remains unwavering, serving as a cornerstone for the continual advancement of our organisation.

Sucheth Davuluri
Vice-Chairman and CEO

The financial year 2023-24 has seen us build on the momentum of the previous year to cross more milestones in line with our long-term strategy. The performance this year is a result of the direction that we set for ourselves a long while ago. For over fifteen years, focus on molecules where Neuland's presence makes a difference to customers has been the guiding principle for the GDS business and our Portfolio Management team. The CMS business had its origins from the time we had helped an innovator file a NDA for a small ophthalmic molecule around 18 years ago. We had been striving to build an organisation which would be the leading partner of choice for the pharmaceutical industry's API needs and had a clearly articulated Strategy focussed on the CMS and Specialty GDS businesses. The central idea has always been to improve the overall quality of business through quality conscious customers, products which are technologically differentiated, advanced markets with more barriers to entry, efficient processes, better asset utilisation and agility to cope with market forces and the changing demands of the customer. We have been able to achieve more with less.

The results we see today are a result of our steadfast commitment to that strategy even as we had to make some difficult decisions over time to sacrifice short term revenue growth for long term business viability. The total income for FY24 was ₹ 1,571.1 crores as against ₹ 1200.9 crores in FY23, an increase of 30.8%. This is on the back of FY23 where we recorded growth of 26%. The performance has been driven by high growth in the CMS business and steady growth of the Specialty GDS business, both of which were in line with our plans and expectations. The CMS BD team has done well by focussing on the right customers even as our R&D and manufacturing teams executed in an agile manner. Additionally, the steady growth of Specialty GDS driven by the GDS Sales team has improved the gross margins. Our EBITDA for FY24 stood at ₹ 474.5 crores with an EBITDA margin of 30.2%, an increase of 680 bps over FY23.

While the overall operating environment continues to be unpredictable, we have lately witnessed stability in terms of input costs. We also continue to be mindful in managing our operational costs resulting in financial resilience. This also gives us the ability to grow without undue cost additions. Our steadfast dedication to operational efficiency and cost optimisation remains unwavering, serving as a cornerstone for the continual advancement of our organisation. We have been strategically optimising operations and resource allocation to boost internal cash flow, thereby enhancing business resilience in the face of potential fluctuations. We generated free cash flow for FY24 of ₹ 116.4 crores. We utilised part of this cash surplus to reduce debt by ₹ 39.4 crores. Consequently, our net debt position stands at ₹ (32.6) crores and we are currently rated A+ by CRISIL. The finance team along with the manufacturing and procurement teams have put in commendable effort on the inputs impacting working capital reducing the cycle from 141 days in FY23 to 122 days in FY24. We continue to invest in upgrading our facilities and have invested ₹ 143.7 crores in capex during this period. Furthermore, our ROCE has risen to over 33% in FY24. However, we expect this number to fluctuate given that our investments have a 5-7 year time frame for optimum utilisation. Our Net Promoter Score (NPS) improved from 37 in FY23 to 44 in FY24. The areas for improvement highlighted by are customers are significant inputs for our plans. We have continued to demonstrate our commitment to strong governance and sustainability as will be evident throughout this report which is our first Integrated Report. In my annual communications, I also aim to address the key questions frequently raised by our stakeholders. These communications are driven by our commitment to transparency and providing valuable insights that empower stakeholders to make informed decisions about our Company.

What were the tweaks in strategy which brought about the performance in FY24?

We need to keep in mind that the strategy we had in place was one with a long horizon given that Neuland is in the B2B space in one of the most regulated industries. We also had a few setbacks in terms of certain CMS projects falling at the FDA approval hurdle, products taking longer to scale, and our own operational failures which we have talked about in the past. Based on the lessons learnt, we have done a few things differently over the years.

For example, for the past few years we have had a strong focus on segmental revenue within the businesses meaning that we were not just satisfied with the overall numbers but were actively monitoring not just the revenue from new projects but also the number of new CMS projects. We have looked to steadily add to the projects base even as we looked to deliver well the projects that we had in hand. Another key element which has been strengthened is the budgeting process itself where we have been increasing the emphasis on inputs rather than outcomes. On the projects front, we have strengthened our technical capabilities especially on the process engineering/ tech transfer front even as the project management capabilities and systems have been bolstered.

On the manufacturing side, we have worked to create agile capacities which has been particularly aided by the availability of Unit-3 capacity where we actively took a call not to fill the capacity with sub-optimal Prime products for Less Regulated Markets. Our manufacturing team continuously simulates the need for capacity based on the business visibility as well as strategic business plan which means that we are unlikely to face issues of the past where there were mismatches in terms of demand and capacity.

Our manufacturing team continuously simulates the need for capacity based on the business visibility as well as strategic business plan which means that we are unlikely to face issues of the past where there were mismatches in terms of demand and capacity.

We have had particular focus on costs especially from a product sustainability perspective which has enabled us to improve gross margins even as there is environmental benefit too. All of this has been underpinned by the focus on improving the quality of the team we have in place both through people development and talent acquisition.

So, while the strategy hasn't really changed, we have worked on a few substantial elements operationally which have helped us improve on execution which is reflected in the performance.

What are some of the areas where you feel that there is scope for improvement?

Even as we have seen successes in the past, we can do much better on the R&D front especially when it comes to the GDS business. While the development process is complex, long and elaborate taking into consideration our focus on Specialty molecules, there are multiple opportunities for improvements from the lab to the plant. This is going to take collaboration across functions, and we have our leadership team actively taking steps to move us to where want to be.

Similarly, we can do more with less if we can better collaborate with the surrounding ecosystem of suppliers, other API/Intermediate companies, academia, ancillary service providers. Again, this is an area where we have our leadership team actively identifying way in which we can institutionalise this competency.

We have significant room for transformation when it comes to digitisation in line with our strategic priorities, and we are making significant investments on that front too.

We have had particular focus on costs especially from a product sustainability perspective which has enabled us to improve gross margins even as there is environmental benefit too. All of this has been underpinned by the focus on improving the quality of the team we have in place both through people development and talent acquisition.

What are the other areas of focus from a strategic perspective?

As we work on strategy and look at the markets one of the things which stood out to us is that there is opportunity for us to cover the market more deeply especially when it comes to the Innovator space in North America. There are similarly certain pockets of opportunity which can be better targeted on the GDS front too.

Our R&D team will be working towards deepening competencies as well as embedding new capabilities which will both broaden the opportunities available to us even as the technologies will make us more sustainable. Based on our long-term plan we will actively monitor the situation with respect to manufacturing capacity and take decisions based on the opportunities arising both a demand and supply perspective.

As we have emphasised in the past, our people continue to be a key area of focus and the leadership team is spending significant time on making sure we have the right structure and people to deliver our long-term objectives. In FY24, we have had around 40 key people embark on individually tailored development plans to ensure they are ready to take on greater responsibilities moving forward.

What are the key risks on top of your mind and how is Neuland's geared to deal with the risks?

Given the nature of the pharmaceutical API industry, safety and quality remain our top priorities – and I am always paranoid about them. Neuland has been performing well so far on both aspects. Data rigour in Safety, helps us actively address the likelihood of accidents ahead of time. The British Safety Council inspected Unit-3 and give it a 4-star rating. We are constantly strengthening our Quality Management systems to ensure we are up to the mark in every aspect.

Our teams in business, operations, and supply chain have shown resilience, effectively monitoring and responding to evolving situations.

Through our ERM portal, we monitor all key risks, adding new ones, updating ratings, and revising mitigation strategies, supported by Metrics/KRIs. Risk owners take accountability for their risks and mitigations. The Leadership Council has access to the portal and meet periodically to provide direction to the program. This year, we began our formal BCMS journey, aligning with the ISO 22301 framework, aiming for accreditation by the first half of FY26. We deeply value the role played by our Risk and Sustainability Committee (board sub-committee) in influencing our program rigour and in seeking that risk management understanding is well grounded.

Could you briefly highlight the ESG initiatives of the Company for a sustainable way forward for Neuland?

During FY24, we formalised our ESG goals, marking a significant milestone in our sustainability journey. We deliberated and adopted short-term, medium-term, and long-term goals in alignment with our key ESG priorities. Some of these goals are also presented in our Integrated Report this year. Additionally, we committed to the Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi) framework, pledging to achieve net-zero emissions and align our targets with scientific guidelines. As we seek validation for these goals from SBTi in FY25, we may need to adjust some to ensure they are tight but achievable. These goals demonstrate our commitment to sustainability and responsible business practices, contributing positively to the environment and society. Since FY23, we have adopted the S&P (DJSI) Global ESG framework, which provides a consistent and globally recognised standard for our ESG initiatives. This framework has served as a barometer to assess our ESG performance. We are pleased to report an improvement from our baseline score of 48 in FY23 to 64 in FY24, ranking us among the top 5% of companies in our sector and placing us in the S&P yearbook. From a societal perspective, through our CSR outreach programs we actively engage in healthcare, women's empowerment, rural development, education, and skill enhancement through our social impact projects. We are committed to upholding high standards of corporate governance, transparency, accountability, and ethical conduct across our operations. As we invest more in ESG as a pivotal driver of long-term value creation, we recognise the need to overcome several internal and external challenges. Embedding ESG into our business and operations will involve outreach and collaboration with multiple internal and external company stakeholders. Being part of a highly regulated industry, our capacity for swift and significant changes is limited. Beyond our commitment to significant capital investments, governmental policies and incentives should play a catalytic role in transitions, such as adopting renewable sources.

What is going to be key to Neuland's performance in FY25 and beyond?

As we have indicated in our investor calls based on the business visibility available to us, FY25 is going to be a year of consolidation. This is due to the nature of our business and the lifecycle stage of various products in our GDS and CMS portfolios. However, FY25 is going to be key in terms of setting in place actions which will drive our performance over the next 5 years. As an organisation we are constantly looking at the 7-10 decisions that will have the biggest impact on the business performance. We will have to take steps internally on various functional fronts even as we step up our BD efforts given the opportunity as well as the evolving geopolitical situation. We will be making investments which will be key both for our medium- and long-term plans. So even while it may seem that momentum has slowed in terms of financial metrics in FY25, the internal focus on strategic execution is going to put in the place the platform for sustained long term performance.

Message from Vice-Chairman and MD

We are increasingly trusted by innovators to develop and manufacture APIs that meet their business needs for breakthrough products.

Saharsh Davuluri
Vice-Chairman and Managing Director

Dear Members,

I am pleased to report that in the financial year 2023-24 (FY24), Neuland continued its growth trajectory, creating enduring value for its customers and other stakeholders.

As you would have seen elsewhere in this report Neuland celebrates its 40th anniversary, a milestone that not only reflects our legacy but also our commitment to a future of innovation and excellence.

Our performance reflects the effectiveness of various initiatives that we have implemented over the past several years in line with our strategic priorities. We have transitioned from a business built on large-volume prime APIs to a healthy combination of CMS, Specialty APIs and Prime APIs. This transition has been catalysed by the commercialisation of some CMS molecules in the last two years as well as molecules close to launch. Even as our strategy has not undergone any significant change, we have refined elements of our approach across functions like R&D, Project management and Manufacturing to ensure agile delivery. We are increasingly trusted by innovators to develop and manufacture APIs that meet their business needs for breakthrough products. The focused approach on quality-conscious customers for Specialty APIs gives us a chance to explore complex products and technologies.

GDS

In our GDS business, we have done well on the Specialty segment even as revenues from Prime products were flat. Paliperidone, Ezetimibe, Apixaban and Dorzolamide have driven growth in the Specialty segment, which involves complex chemistry and certain level of customisation based on the formulation delivery mechanism. In the prime segment, which comprises mature and competitive APIs, our key molecules were Mirtazapine and Escitalopram.

Our strategic priority is to gradually strengthen our GDS portfolio that caters to quality-conscious customers and offers products differentiated by technology. This enables us to command a premium and offset pricing pressure and competition.

Our emphasis on maintaining a strong pipeline of new molecules to ensure the sustainable growth of the GDS segment. We aim to file around six to eight US DMFs annually to further strengthen our GDS portfolio and growth potential.

CMS

During the year, our CMS business saw healthy growth, led by both commercialised projects as well as those, which are close to commercialisation. We are witnessing growing interest from customers with larger pipelines, which reinforces Neuland's reputation as a well-regarded CDMO. During the course of the year, we have added projects, which will be exciting in the long-term as we have some projects progress through the clinical life cycle. So even as the key commercial molecules have patent protection beyond 2030, the new projects that we are adding will act both as safeguards and aid in long-term growth.

The overall operating environment continues to be unpredictable. Although we have witnessed stability in terms of input costs, we continue to be vigilant in optimising our costs and driving operating leverage.

Road Ahead

While the operating environment remains volatile, the pharmaceutical sector continues to grow across regulated and other markets. The global pharmaceuticals market size is expected to grow from $1,444 billion in 2023 to $2,172 billion in 2030 at 6% CAGR. In addition, the global market for generic drugs is estimated at $477 billion in 2023 and is projected to reach a revised size of $760 billion by 2030, growing at 7.1% CAGR.

In the GDS business we are enhancing wallet share from quality-conscious customers and focusing on markets where there is a premium for customisation. At the same time, we are seeking to grow our pipeline through quick commercialisation of pipeline molecules through the identification of new leads and conversion. Filing DMFs for peptides and investment in new areas are key priorities.

We are encouraged by the fact that CDMOs are strengthening their position as indispensable partners and creating strategic, integrated partnerships with innovators. CDMOs are expanding beyond traditional technologies and producing advanced therapies, while becoming end-to-end service providers. With a CAGR of 6.7%, the API CDMO market size is poised to grow to $166 billion in 2030, driven by rising lifestyle diseases. In the CMS business, we will continue to invest in R&D capabilities and manufacturing technologies to attract more Request for Proposal (RFPs), while improving our conversion rate. We will continue to diversify our geographic focus and prioritise biotech companies. At the same time, we are working to strengthen our capabilities so that we can leverage the situations, which will arise from Big Pharma acquiring our customers.

To strengthen our leadership in key molecules, we are implementing specific initiatives across various fronts. Our efforts include modernising and expanding our facilities, strengthening our R&D infrastructure and team, while providing need-based training to our cross-functional teams to deliver complex products, which are margin-accretive.

We are continuously navigating the competitive landscape for all types of products, building our capabilities for both generic and specific products. We have created the right infrastructure, attracted the best talent, and directed them to projects, which are contributing to a system built for sustainable growth.

Our aim is to leverage our brand recall as a manufacturer of high-quality products to secure customer commitments before capacity creation, which minimises risks associated with capital investments.

We continue to foster enduring trust and partnerships on the strong bedrock of transparency and ethical values for four decades. Our aim is to leverage our brand recall as a manufacturer of high-quality products to secure customer commitments before capacity creation, which minimises risks associated with capital investments.

Across both generic APIs and the CDMO space, the primary catalyst of our success has been our steadfast commitment to high quality standards. We will continue to empower progress, enrich lives, while delivering long-term value to all stakeholders.

Before concluding I must convey my heartfelt appreciation to all our employees for their dedication and efforts, and gratitude to our customers, investors, community members and other stakeholders for their continued trust in our vision and capabilities.

Warm Regards,

Saharsh Davuluri

Strategic Priorities

Creating enduring value through targeted strategies

Through our framework of six strategic priorities (SPs) aimed at business transformation, we have identified key performance indicators (KPIs) to measure our progress against these priorities. Our priorities are also aligned with our growth and ESG commitments.

While each of the SPs have identified KPIs, we believe their cumulative impact requires immense collaboration. SPs are being effectively communicated across Neuland in a manner that is easy to understand and implement, also it can be reviewed using technology, which would foster accountability and collaboration.

Building competencies, succession planning, and passion for strategic goals along with enhancing leadership communication, building managerial capabilities, and fostering diversity will all be key for adapting our strategic roadmap across all the employees in the organisation.

business practices, opportunities and risks are intricately connected with our environment and communities.

At an organisational level, to guide our environmental, social, and governance (ESG) efforts, we have established a dedicated ESG Stream leading up to the ESG Steering Committee. The Steering Committee comprises leaders from different functions and is responsible for setting Environment (including emission and climate change), Social and Governance goals, identifying and assessing sustainability-related risks and developing policies and strategies to integrate sustainable practices into our operations.

The ESG stream complements the Risk Management Stream that is presently managed through the Leadership Council.

Both organisational streams are led by our highest-ranking official, the Vice-Chairman and CEO.

About the Leadership Council

The Leadership Council is the apex body for reviewing the Company's risk management and BCMS programs. Our ERM program requires risk owners identified for each key risk, and they take accountability for the overall progress of risks and their mitigation together with mitigation owners. More about the ERM process is covered below.

About the ESG Steering Committee

Internally, the ESG organisation structure has a ESG Steering Committee and a Core Committee. The Steering Committee comprises leaders from different functions and is responsible for setting sustainability goals, identifying and assessing sustainability-related risks, and developing policies and strategies to integrate sustainable practices into the organisation's operations. The Sustainability Core Committee collaborates with site teams to implement sustainability initiatives across departments and operations. Its responsibilities also include identifying opportunities for sustainability improvements, monitoring performance, and creating sustainability communications. The Core Committee executes and reports on sustainability initiatives to the ESG Steering Committee.

Risk and sustainability are closely intertwined, Our Governance pillar also focuses on the following four Risk areas and our priorities and goals are set in each of these areas

- Ethics and Compliance
- Risk Management and Business Continuity
- Digitalisation, including Cybersecurity and Privacy
- Sustainable Supply Chain

See our Material Topics on Page 34 for more information about each of them.

We are committed to excellence in Corporate Governance and continuously strive to enhance our practices by benchmarking and obtaining external validations from rating agencies. Our ESG strategy encapsulates the following priorities, goals and KPIs.

Our Priorities	Our KPIs and Goals
Risk and Crisis management capability	Baseline and improve risk management maturity Secure and maintain BCMS accreditation from H1 FY26
Compliance and Ethics	Minimise excursions Awareness and Education to all employees
Integrity in Reporting	Minimise excursions and errors External audit /assurance
Sustainable Supply Chain	Create roadmap and progress on supplier sustainability initiatives

Enterprise Risk Management

Our enterprise risk management program connects business risks to objectives and integrates within its oversight ESG, Cybersecurity and Business Continuity risks. Additionally significant financial reporting and regulatory risks are part of our risk universe.

Our ERM operating model incorporates three broad kinds of activities

Health-checks	Deep-dives	Outside-in Validation
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Periodic review of risk ratings Progress on mitigation Metric monitoring Risk Governance - through the Leadership Council and the Board 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Core risk topics for Neuland Significant emerging risks (e.g. Pandemic, War) 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Peer risks and responses Emerging PESTLE risks

Health-checks basically help us understand the progress of our key risks, and their mitigations. Risks are refreshed periodically by risk owners. Risks are rated on a 5*5 grid for Likelihood *Severity, aligned to the Company's risk appetite. Risks are also rated for their velocity (speed of onset of risk). Our risk appetite is derived from a combination of risk rating and velocity.

Neuland's ERM process has a structured framework with dedicated risk owners. These risk owners, in collaboration with the mitigation owners and the Risk team - the second line of defence, report to the Leadership Council. The risk team in turn report to the Board Risk and Sustainability Committee.

Lead and Lag indicators are defined for our key risk areas and help us objectively assess our risks as part of our health-checks. Also, aligned with the COSO 2017 ERM framework, risks to our strategic priorities as well those having potential downside impacts to our P&L are identified and mitigated.

Based on potential impact to the Company from external or internal risk drivers, as well as inherent significance to our industry we identified the following key risk themes-

Risk Theme	Rationale	Risk Rating (based on Likelihood and Severity)	Velocity	Read more about how we address this in Safety and Health	Inherent to Chemical and API industry	Moderate	● Instant to 1 month	Human Capital
Quality and GxP Risks	Inherent to Pharma industry	Moderate	● 1-6 months	Manufactured Capital
Cybersecurity Risks	Increasing external drivers	Moderate-High	● Instant to 1 month	Intellectual Capital
Regulatory Compliance, Ethics and Fraud	Inherent to Manufacturing Industry/Corporates	Low-Moderate	● 1-6 months	See below : Compliance risks
Commercial and Execution risks	Internal drivers	High	● 1-6 months	Intellectual and Manufactured Capitals
Oil and economic risks	External drivers	High	● 1-6 months	Our customer contracts allow us to pass predefined impacts in the subsequent periods, however current period and unagreed impacts on are absorbed by the Company
Business and Growth risks	Internal/External drivers	High	● >6 months	Our Strategic priorities
Geopolitical risks	External drivers	High	● 1-6 months	See below: Emerging risks
Supply Chain risks	Inherent to Pharma industry, as well as external drivers	Moderate	● 1-6 months	Sustainable Supply Chain
HR/People risks	External drivers	Moderate	● >6 months	Human Capital

Automation of our ERM software provides us with the visibility of our risks across functions and business segments. It is accessed by our Risk Owners and mitigation owners, and helps our leadership keep a live tab on our risk and concerns heatmap and progress on residual risks. Going forward, we plan to democratise our ERM program further by percolating risk management thinking and culture at the operational and functional levels via focused ERM trainings and evangelisation efforts.

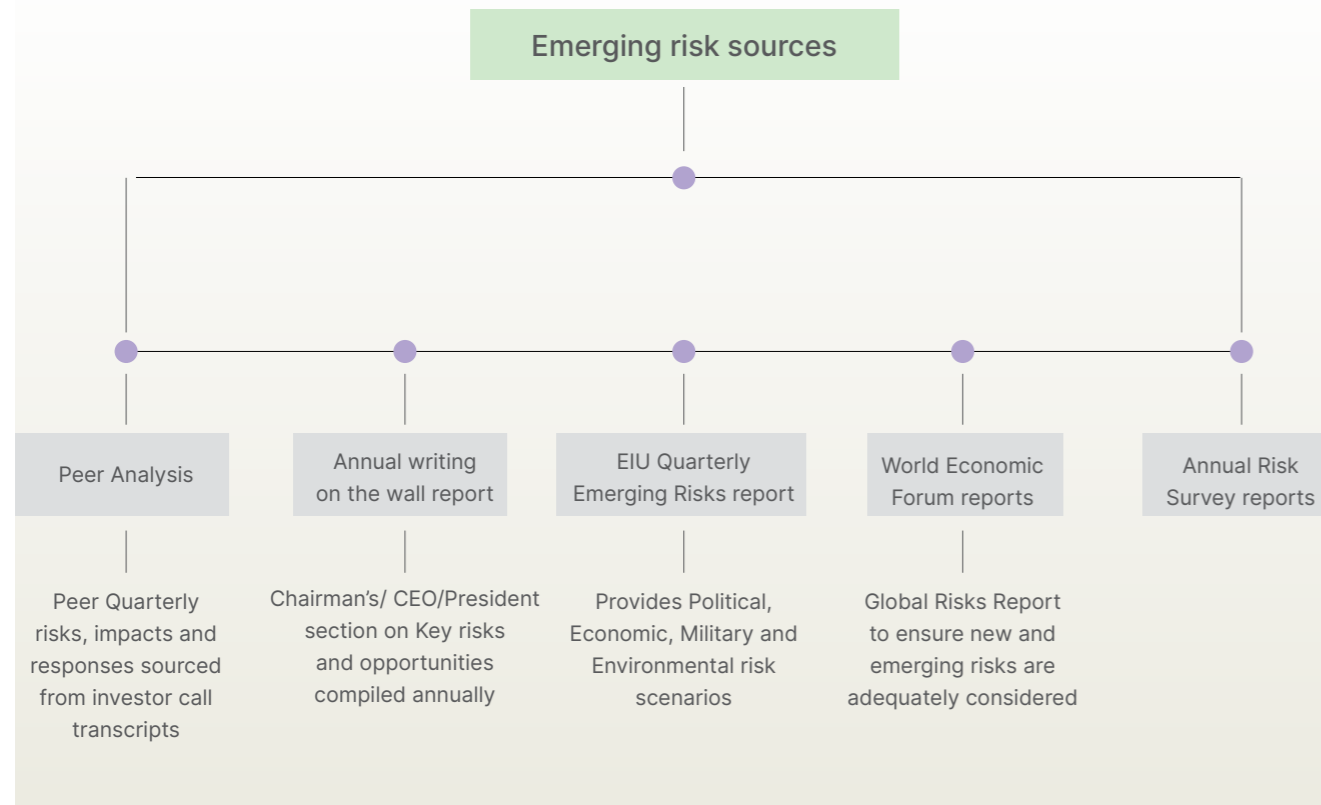

Risk Culture a diagnostic survey was conducted by surveying over 50 leaders and function heads in FY22. Nine questions were scored across three categories- Pressures related to growth; Pressures related to culture and Pressures related to information management. Accordingly, we identified the overall conditions that enable risk taking to be moderate to high (three to four on a scale of five). Such a diagnostic is proposed to be conducted once every few years to validate the conditions to pressures and culture surrounding risks. A RACI structure is implemented in our Company to clarify accountability and responsibility for risks. Line management and function heads have risk management and Sustainability/ ESG KPIs on their scorecards that are linked to their variable pays. As mentioned earlier, in the coming periods, our goal is to percolate risk management thinking and culture at the operational and functional levels.

Deep dives are carried out for some of our core risk topics in Neuland and presented to our Risk and Sustainability Committee and may cover critical enterprise risks, both inherent and emerging risks. During FY24 deep-dives were conducted for Cybersecurity, Health and Safety and Regulatory Change risks. These provide a deeper insight into the challenges and opportunities in each critical risk area, as well as promote greater accountability with the risk owners/domain specialists.

Emerging risks are an active part of our ERM program. Our emerging risks lens has helped us minimise blind spots, assess and develop company readiness to tackle unfolding risk scenarios, and understand key trends and best practices on risk management through annual publications.

The quarterly Peer Analysis helps us remain focused on the key risks impacting our peers and how they are responding to the same—our risk inventory is updated with all relevant risks occurring from any of these sources.

During FY24, we assessed at least at two intervals, three emerging geopolitical risk events, including the Russia-Ukraine War, the conflict in the Middle eastern region and the potential of China annexing Taiwan. There are four broad categories under which we evaluate the potential impact of these infolding risk events so suitable response strategies can be carved out.

- Employee Safety
- Revenues at Risk for the current year as well as future years
- Receivables at risk
- Supply chain uncertainties

As we move ahead, we will incorporate correlations and interconnectedness between risks and expand our risk quantification to Climate Change and other Sustainability risks in line with new version of the TCFD framework as aligned with IFRS (discussed separately). Additionally, faster democratisation of the ERM program via automation will help us increase our speed of risk identification and response.

Business Continuity Management Systems

Currently the Company has a Disaster Management plan from an IT perspective. Also, a plan exists for Supply Chain Management and Manufacturing/Operations setup that has enabled the Company to quickly respond to the pandemic situation and other emergencies. In terms of continuity from a manufacturing perspective, the Company has qualified key products from multiple lines and have lines that are qualified for multiple products, which is a key risk mitigation step.

In FY24, the Company initiated its formal BCMS program, aligned to ISO 22301 scoping in all departments and five locations, and aims to secure accreditation by the first half of FY26.

Climate Change Risks and TCFD Framework

Climate Change risk is on our watchlist as part of emerging enterprise risks to the organisation.

In FY23, we also adopted the Task Force for Climate Related financial disclosures (TCFD) framework in order to ascertain the resilience of our business strategy to climate related risks.

Five climate change risks are expected, but their probability and impact on our operations are yet to be determined through studies.

Physical or Transition risks	Brief Description	Current Mitigation
Riverine Floods [Physical Risk]	Neuland's sites in Hyderabad are exposed to high riverine flood risks due to the city's susceptibility to heavy rainfall and flooding. These physical risks pose significant threats to the company's operations and business continuity. The heavy rainfall and flooding have an impact on the ease and ability of employees and workers to commute to workplace during such events. Flood risks additionally may result in risk of loss of life and damage to infrastructure.	The local municipal corporation actively addresses flood risks through various measures, such as improving the drainage system, controlling encroachments in catchment areas, and conserving and protecting areas requiring groundwater recharge. Neuland incorporates flood risk considerations into its business continuity plan to enhance resilience against potential flood events.
Supply Chain Impact from Extreme Weather Events [Physical Risk]	Extreme weather events can disrupt Neuland's supply chain, resulting in delays in material dispatch and receipt.	Neuland is currently evaluating critical supplier sites for eco-system integrity on parameters such as climate events, water stress and biodiversity impact, to ensure supply chain resilience.
Policy or Regulatory Pressure Requiring Transition from Coal-Fired Boiler [Transition risk]	Transitioning from a coal-fired boiler to a gas-based boiler presents transition risks, such as a 50% reduction in capacity and potential gas unavailability.	Neuland aims to assess the impact on capacity and gas availability. The Company is also keen on understanding if this transition effectively reduces greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions
Employee Training for Operational Changes [Transition Risks]	Transitioning to new paradigms and technologies may require educating employees to adapt to operational changes effectively.	Neuland has initiated necessary training for employees to familiarise them with new paradigms and technologies once the transition strategy is finalised.
Extreme Heat and its Consequences on Our People and Operations (New) [Physical risks]	2024 summers have seen unprecedented high temperatures of >46 degrees centigrade in some of the districts. India is witnessing severe to extreme weather conditions and some of these events may indirect consequences on our workforce and supply chain operations.	Neuland is evaluating the consequences and mitigations of these extreme temperature event on our construction and supply chain operations and workforce.

In FY24, as part of our ESG objectives, we established emission reduction targets and pledged commitment to the SBTi, with its validation slated for FY25. We have integrated sustainability metrics into the KPIs for leadership performance assessments. Furthermore, as previously noted, our Risk and Sustainability Committee of the Board supervises both ESG and ERM activities. Moving ahead, we will persist in assessing, quantifying, and disclosing our Sustainability and Climate risks, as well as the advancement of our emission targets, in accordance with the updated TCFD recommendations embedded into the IFRS Sustainability (S1 and S2) reporting standards.

We are currently advancing the implementation across our operations and supply chain to identify and quantify any significant risks. Additionally, we have executed an ESG awareness initiative for selected value chain partners in both 2023 and 2024. Also, 100% Scope 3 inventorisation is proposed in FY25 that will feed into our SBTi validation submissions. Based on the findings from our engagements, we will evaluate changes to our supply chain strategy and financial planning.

Compliance, Regulatory Risks and Ethics

The Company has a robust process and dedicated team in place to ensure timely updates on adherence to applicable legal compliances, using a customised web-based program that provides a centralised monitoring and tracking mechanism. During the year under review, the Company revisited the applicability of legislations and compliances as a green-field project, updated all the statutory compliances and upgraded the software as well as conducted related workshops. The Company also has a mechanism in place for the timely updation of new compliances arising from regulatory changes, in consultation with the respective functions. The Audit Committee and the Board are provided with a status update on adherence to the compliances generated from the software, on a quarterly basis.

Code of Ethical Conduct and Whistleblower Mechanism

The Company has mechanisms in place to guarantee that its Code of Conduct is followed to the letter. These mechanisms are intended to promote an ethical conduct and accountability culture across the organisation. All employees have access to the Company's extensive Code of Conduct Policy that outlines the standards of moral behaviour and appropriate business practices. Every year, an assessment is conducted, employees acknowledge that they understand the policy, and it is evaluated on a regular basis. Over the year, every employee has acknowledged the Code of Conduct Policy.

Due to the Company's zero-tolerance stance towards breach of Code of Conduct, discrimination, harassment, sexual harassment, and other related offenses, disciplinary actions are enforced. Depending on the seriousness of the infraction, these actions might vary from warnings to termination.

The Whistle Blower Policy and Vigil Mechanism of our organisation provide a safe channel for directors, personnel, and other interested parties to voice legitimate concerns regarding unethical behaviour, real or suspected fraud, or transgressions of the Code of Conduct without fear of retaliation.

All of our employees can lodge concerns using our intranet portal, the Grievance Redressal portal, which is handled in an organised way, and it is ensured that all grievances raised are resolved in a timely and complete manner.

Financial Reporting and Internal Controls

Our reputed Internal Audit firms, carry out internal audit of the Company's activities. The Audit plan, along with the audit process is defined on an annual basis, in consultation with the Auditors, and post approval by the Audit Committee. Internal audit is directed towards the review of internal controls and risks in the Company's operations such as manufacturing, R&D, supply chain management, accounting and finance, IT processes, EHS following international practice rules. Business-specific compliances such as quality management, production management, and information security, among others are periodically reviewed and audited by specialised third-party consultants and professionals. The Audit Committee reviews the reports from the management and audit reports submitted by internal auditors and statutory auditors. Improvements and corrective actions as required are also suggested by the Audit Committee.

Review of Regulatory and Financial reporting Risks by Audit Committee

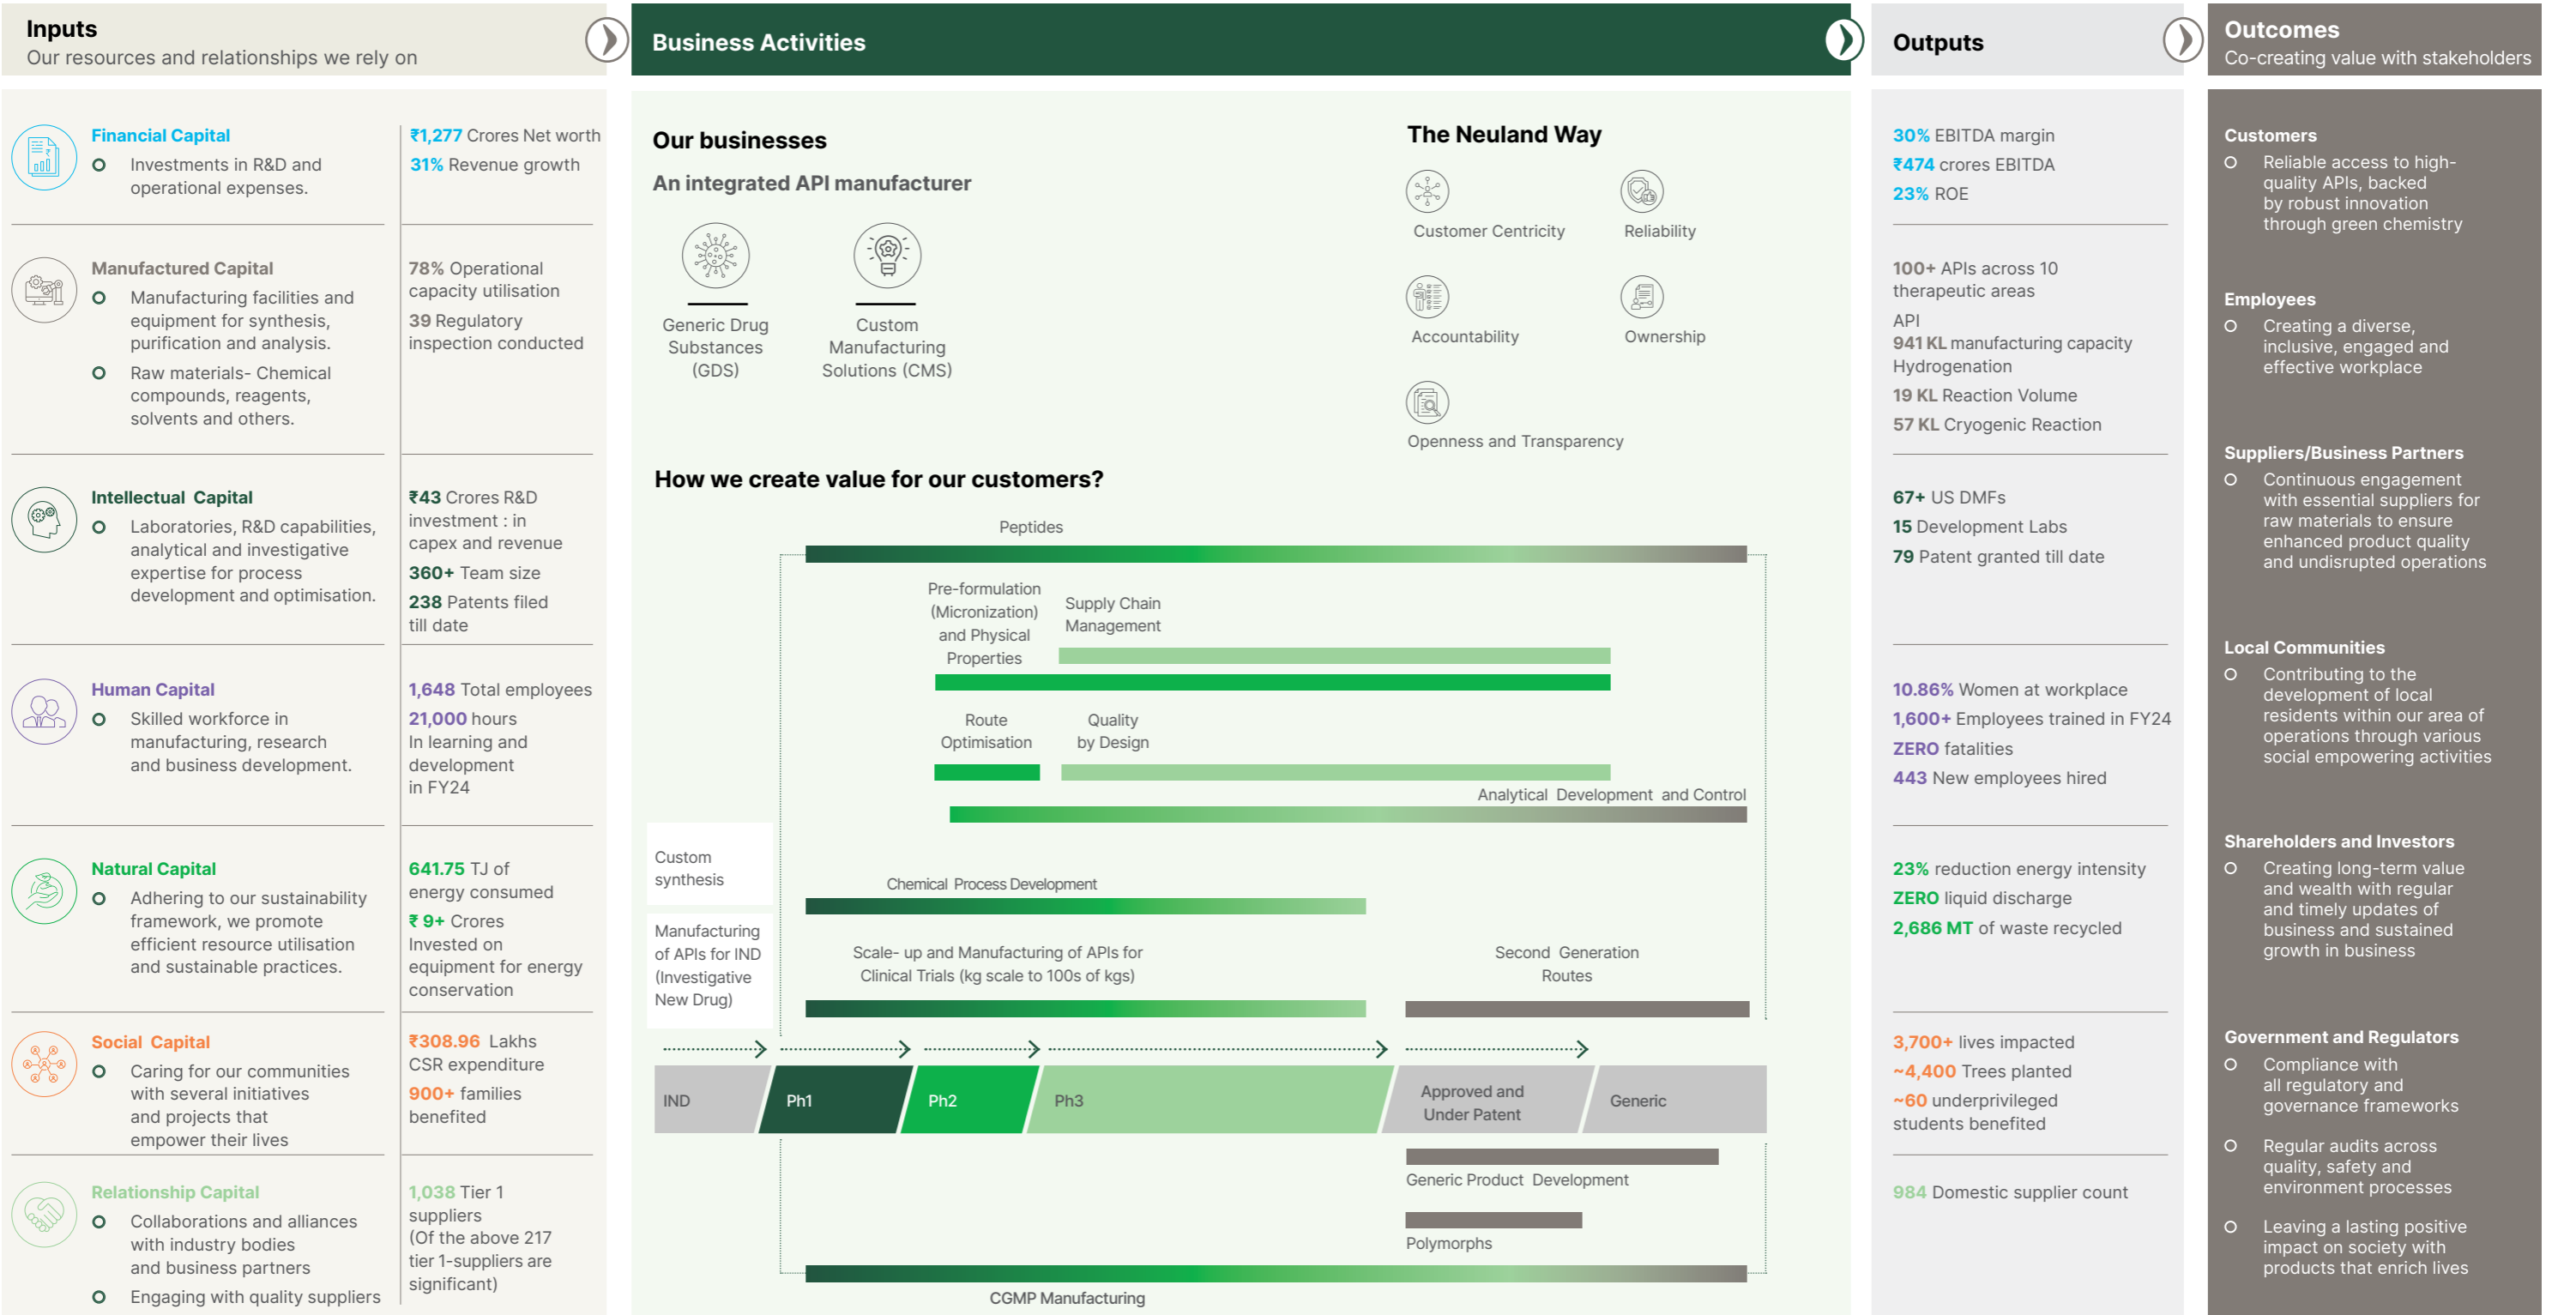

Neuland's Audit Committee diligently reviews a range of information, including internal audit reports related to internal processes and controls, management analysis of financial condition and results of operations, audit reports, related party transactions and approvals, the reports and certificates placed before it. This encompasses statutory compliance reports and other reports such as compliance with insider trading and whistle blower mechanism, the appointment of auditors and such other matters as prescribed from time to time.

Additionally, The Audit Committee and the statutory auditors discuss and review the adequacy of internal control systems. Major observations from this meeting are discussed with the Board of Directors on a periodic basis.

Value Creation Model

Co-creating value, empowering progress, enriching lives

Our business model is transformational and forward-looking. It has demonstrated the resilience to withstand various challenges—geopolitical uncertainties, supply chain constraints, volatility in input costs and shifting requirements of customers—and create enduring value. As the quality and size of our business grow, we are getting a better visibility of our growth trajectory.

Customer Centricity

At Neuland, customer-centricity is a core value that we consistently uphold. From understanding customer needs thoroughly to going beyond the stated requirements, we strive to ensure that our customers are delighted with our products and services. Our reputation as a preferred partner is supported by rigorous quality and EHS systems, skilled project management and extensive experience in contract manufacturing. An integral part of our customer engagement approach are customer facility audits and annual customer satisfaction feedback program. Areas of improvement are identified and internal teams focus on these areas to enhance customer experience.

Expanding Expertise

Leveraging our expertise in synthetic chemistry and process development, we have pursued a strategic shift to focus on complex molecules. This approach has allowed us to expand beyond serving the API needs of generic pharmaceutical companies and enter new markets. We now produce Specialty APIs, New Chemical Entities (NCEs), and Peptides. Furthermore, we have significantly grown our Custom Manufacturing Services (CMS) offerings for innovative pharmaceutical companies over the past decade.

Customer Focus

Our commitment extends beyond product quality. As a full-service provider for NCE development and production, we understand the importance of confidentiality. We strictly adhere to Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) of both customers and partners. Customer data privacy is a top priority, and our comprehensive data security practices ensure its protection.

We have scored 83% on Customer loyalty and a strong Net Promoter Score of 44 against an industry benchmark of 52

Creating Customer Value Through Innovation

To differentiate ourselves and deliver superior value to our customers, we are placing a strategic emphasis on cutting-edge technologies. This includes building deep expertise in bio-catalysis, flow chemistry, and physical properties, areas that are highly valued by our target market. We have expanded our process engineering lab, integrated single fluid heating and cooling systems across R&D and production, and deployed advanced equipment like High Shear Homogenizers and Electronic Microscopes. This momentum extends to product design, with a meticulous focus on distinct crystal morphologies such as co-crystals and non-hygroscopic polymorphs. The successful filing of two US Drug Master Files (USDMFs) for products developed using these innovative technologies serves as a testament to our progress and commitment to excellence.

Quality Assurance and Control

Our quality management framework ensures that we comply with international standards and regulations. Our focus extends beyond mere compliance; we strive for continuous improvement in both products and processes. Furthermore, we maintain a proactive approach, anticipating regulatory changes and ensuring prompt implementation of new policies. Our quality assurance and control are reflected in our success with regulatory inspections and customer audits.

Neuland prioritises maintaining a state of perpetual readiness for inspections through ongoing monitoring of current Good Manufacturing Practices (cGMP) trends and industrial regulatory audit findings. This proactive approach allows for the timely implementation of corrective and preventive actions (CAPA) whenever necessary. We cultivate a culture of quality by organising regular training sessions on current regulatory guidelines for our entire workforce.

Data Privacy and Security

We have a comprehensive policy for cybersecurity framework aligned with leading industry standards, enhancing the reliance of our data protection system. We have reported zero incidents of data breaches or losses, showcasing the effectiveness of our security measures. Furthermore, we focus on fulfilling contractual obligations related to client data protection.

Our ISO 27001:2022 certification demonstrates our adherence to rigorous international information security standards.

ESG Strategy

We recognise that our Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) aspects of our business are crucial for sustainable growth. We believe that by integrating ESG principles into our core operations, we can create long-term value for our stakeholders, the environment, and the communities we operate in. As a pure-play 100% API provider, we efficiently serve our customers across the full spectrum of their API needs. Read more about how we add value to our customers in our value creation model section on Pages 46 and 47.

Performance Review

Our FY24 financial performance marked by the highest revenues we have achieved so far was driven by high growth in the CMS business and steady growth in the Specialty GDS business, both of which were in line with our plans and expectations. Complementing our revenue from operations, have been our industry-leading EBITDA and PAT margins, while our operational and financial ratios are at superior levels. Continuing our work on optimising costs and processes in a sustainable manner will make us truly sustainable. By targeting new growth opportunities with a shift in business strategy, we remain optimistic of continued strong financial performance in the coming periods.

Value-Creation

Our Company has consistently focused on profitable growth, optimising returns on capital employed, and maintaining a prudent financial structure. By focusing relentlessly on cash flow and working capital, we are able to minimise excessive debt and optimise our financial leverage. Led by our leadership and empowered teams, we remain confident of delivering long-term value to our shareholders, customers and business partners year after year.

Prudent Capital Allocation

We are committed to a 'balanced-growth' strategy that allows for both near-term and long-term capital expenditure requirements, while ensuring optimal dividend distribution and retention of capital. The Board analyses macro and microeconomic factors to recommend dividend. In FY24, the dividend pay-out of 6% of PAT is a testament to our commitment to sustained value-creation, while managing funds for business growth. In the coming years, we intend to integrate ESG checklists and carbon budgets into our Capex budgets, reflecting our dedication to sustainable development and responsible usage of resources.

Tax Strategy and Reporting

Our Company maintains a straightforward corporate structure, with minimal transactional complexities with our subsidiary companies, thereby negating the need for an elaborate Taxation Strategy and Tax Transparency report. Our tax policy, founded on principles of honesty and integrity, fairness, legality, and transparency, affirms our commitment to simplicity and clarity in our tax affairs. We engage in transparent and constructive dialogues with tax authorities, fostering trust and cooperation. Our leadership exemplifies 'tone at the top' by promoting ethical tax practices.

Both direct and indirect taxes are reviewed and/or audited by our statutory auditors as well as tax auditors every year, who ensure our compliance with tax laws and regulations. Contingencies and claims are separately captured in the Independent auditors' report (See Page 225 in our Financial reports). Stakeholders who review our reports are provided with clear and concise tax information.

Manufactured Capital

We are investing in our infrastructure to enhance our manufacturing capabilities. The growing interest from our esteemed customers, coupled with an exciting product pipeline, has reinforced Neuland's reputation as a globally acclaimed CDMO.

We have steadily established multiple production facilities, broadened our capabilities and built a reliable track record of global regulatory excellence. Our investments in infrastructure address evolving customer requirements and drive long-term competitiveness. As the quality and size of our business grows, we are gaining a better visibility of our future and crafting an appropriate roadmap for growth.

Robust Manufacturing Facilities

We operate three manufacturing facilities located around Hyderabad, all of which service national and international markets.

Our manufacturing facilities adhere to stringent (cGMP) standards, serving as the backbone of our high-quality manufacturing capabilities. Our plants have been inspected by US-FDA and other global regulatory bodies such as EDQM, BfArM (Germany), TGA (Australia), PMDA (Japan), AFSSAPS (France), ANVISA (Brazil) and Cofepris (Mexico) on multiple occasions and have been compliant consistently across these agencies for years.

Our production capacity is capable of handling large-scale and niche

API production, enabling us to serve a large client pool. Additionally, we have incorporated a dedicated mini-plant, specifically designed for developing and scaling up new API production processes.

Located at Bonthapally, near Hyderabad Airport, the site is spread across an area of 11.2 acres with seven production blocks (including the kilo labs). The unit focuses on the production of APIs, covering various therapeutic areas.

We recently upgraded certain key equipment, including an advanced Gas Induction type Hydrogenator. Additionally, we are planning to introduce humidity control feature in one of our clean rooms which will help us effectively handle sensitive moisture-absorbent Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients (APIs).

Expanding Capacities

We are scaling the production capacity within our existing facilities to cater to the growing demand for our offerings. To minimise downtime and ensure faster response times to the specific needs of our global customers, we have created alternative production lines for key products.

Moreover, we are undertaking several initiatives aimed at reducing our year-on-year (YoY) operations cycle time by 10%, while ensuring faster production, reduced cycle time, improved yields and accelerated delivery of orders. We have established three mini plants, especially designed for efficient small-scale productions runs to fulfil specialised customer requirements.

Operational capacity utilisation (%)

Digitising Operations

We are adopting advanced processes and automation tools to simplify our manufacturing processes. Embracing Industry 4.0 practices has further streamlined our operations and contributed to substantial improvement in key performance indicators, enhancing our operational efficiency.

Data Acquisition Systems

Data acquisition systems are being put in place to capture real-time process data from sensors and instruments across facilities. This will facilitate ongoing tracking and analysis, enabling us to identify any potential concerns and optimise process parameters for improved efficiency and quality control.

Utility Automation

We are focusing on automating utility systems such as heating, ventilation, air conditioning (HVAC), boiler, chiller, cooling tower and water treatment plants. Some of these efforts have already resulted in reduced energy consumption and waste generation.

Process Automation

We are integrating automation solutions into our production processes. This includes automating tasks such as equipment control, recipe management and data logging. These new-age automation tools reduce human error, maintain consistency and optimise resource utilisation.

Advanced analytics

By leveraging advanced analytics in our manufacturing processes, we are able to better track our performance, provide corrective measures and improve overall efficiency. Overall, we have been able to reduce our failure rate to below 1%.

Sustainable Manufacturing

We acknowledge our responsibility towards minimising our environmental impact. Thereby, we have implemented various sustainability practices within our operations that are anchored in the principles of circular economy.

Minimising carbon footprint

Installed scrubbers at all units to capture acid gases and neutralise emissions from our processes, ensuring cleaner air

Reducing Waste, Conserving resources

Diverting all waste from landfills through various initiatives such as recycling, co-processing (using waste as fuel in cement kilns) and recovering valuable materials

Reducing our reliance on freshwater by implementing water conservation measures and increasing use of recycled water

Recovering and reusing solvents and raw materials whenever possible, minimising waste generation and water consumption

Enhancing Quality Processes

We maintain exceptional quality standards throughout our operations with a comprehensive Quality Assurance Management System (QAMS). In addition to this, we meticulously compile Annual Product Quality Reviews (APQRs) and analyse quality trends for all commercial products on a quarterly basis, ensuring proactive defect prevention and continuous improvement in quality. To streamline quality control processes, our Laboratory Information Management System (LIMS) allows us to manage and analyse all data efficiently, ensuring data accuracy, integrity and accessibility for informed decision-making.

Our proactive audit-readiness approach, ensuring timely CAPA closure for the investigations and regulatory audits, aligns with prescribed timelines. We firmly believe that conducting internal and customer audits across all units contributes to enhancing the overall quality culture within our Company.

Microbiology

We conduct regular testing to identify and quantify the presence of microorganisms, such as bacteria and fungi, in both the product and the surrounding environment. We also implement rigorous water quality monitoring throughout the production process and continuously evaluate the effectiveness of our disinfection program used to control environmental microbial populations.

Building a Reliable and Sustainable Supply Chain

In our endeavour to establish a robust supply chain, we closely monitor market trends and forecast the availability of all key inputs. By leveraging the data obtained, we improve predictability across our upstream supply chain. This enables us to take direct action and optimise our overall procurement strategy. We benchmark 90% of our procurement by value, helping us capture opportunities in getting new supply channels market, reducing price and providing higher quality options.

Almost 81% of our suppliers are ISO 9001-certified.

E-procurement

We have implemented a quarterly rolling fulfilment programme (three-to-four-month contracts) with key suppliers to optimise our inventory levels and enable quicker replenishment with faster lead times.

Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) systems provide a centralised platform for managing inventory, production and other critical supply chain functions.

Further, we have mitigated 86% of procurement vulnerability through geographical derisking. We have achieved 80% localisation of procurement, with a significant share coming from the MSME sector.

We maintain high On-Time in Full (OTIF) standards through strong internal Service Level Agreements (SLAs) with all user departments, thereby enabling high utilisation of resources. We track OTIF (> 95%) for outbound shipments, ensuring on-time deliveries and top-notch customer service all the way to the last mile.

Sustainability in our Supply Chain

As a significant step in our Supplier Sustainability initiative, we are collaborating with the CII on several programs. We are evaluating our suppliers' carbon footprint, with a specific emphasis on assessing Scope 1 and Scope 2 CO₂ emissions, as well as their adoption of sustainable practices. Through the CII programme, we educated 180 key materials suppliers, representing 47% of our procurement value, on how to calculate their CO₂ emissions.

Capacity Building Programs in FY24

Total number of suppliers in capacity building programs – 180 (of 217 significant suppliers)

We focus on reducing the carbon footprint associated with the company's supply chain operations. This includes optimising transportation routes, increasing energy efficiency in manufacturing facilities, and implementing renewable energy sources where feasible.

We have a focused program initiated in 2024 related to supplier capacity building, inventorisation of emissions and target setting

In collaboration with the CII-Sohrabji Godrej Green Business Centre, we have been training our vendors on sustainable practices.

Supplier Management

Early Collaboration

We work closely with raw material suppliers early in the development process to guarantee timely and uninterrupted supplies that meet all quality standards.

Qualified Vendor Pool

We maintain a pool of pre-vetted suppliers that adhere to our Supplier Code of Conduct, relevant ISO standards (9001, 14001, 45001), labour laws (child labour prohibition, minimum wage, anti-sexual harassment), and other statutory compliances.

Comprehensive Tier 1 Evaluation

All critical suppliers from Tier 1 undergo a thorough evaluation based on established vendor assessment parameters.

Strategic Sourcing

We leverage industry references, utilise reliable sourcing databases, and conduct due diligence checks to identify the most suitable suppliers, enhancing our overall supplier management process.

Inventory Management and Logistics

Strategic Inventory Management

We employ a lean-based approach to inventory management, helping to optimise raw material inventory to cater to fluctuating demand patterns efficiently.

Good Distribution Practices (GDP) Certified Partners

We prioritise working with logistics partners who hold Good Distribution Practices (GDP) certification. This ensures product integrity during transportation, increases overall efficiency, and reduces waste.

We work closely with suppliers to minimise waste generation and increase recycling throughout the supply chain. This includes initiatives to reduce packaging waste, reuse materials where possible, and implement recycling programs in manufacturing facilities.

Preparing Our Team for Sustainable Supplier Engagement

Our supply chain personnel are equipped with expertise through training in Sustainable Procurement Practices (ISO 20400:2017) and certifications in Supply Chain Risk Management (BSI PAS 7000:2014). Furthermore, we foster a shared understanding of sustainability through ESG awareness programs for top-tier vendors. As mentioned earlier over 180 vendors also participated in discussions on critical topics such as Planet-People-Profit, Growing Sustainably Together, and the Opportunity Landscape in ESG within the Supply Chain.

Reducing Geographical Dependence and Optimising Supply Chains

To ensure a smooth flow of materials and minimise disruptions, we are taking a multi-pronged approach to supply chain risk mitigation. We have reduced our dependence on a single geographic region (like China) to just 14.2%, diversifying our supplier base across different locations. We're also de-risking our supply chain by finding alternative providers for materials currently sourced from single company. This proactive approach extends to new product development, where we identify and qualify new suppliers to meet those specific needs. In addition to this, we are prepared for potential market shifts and regulatory changes by having backup suppliers in place, minimising any disruption these events might cause. By implementing these strategies, we are building a more robust and reliable supply chain for the future.

To strengthen our supply chain and mitigate risks, we have implemented a two-pronged approach.

Strategic Sourcing

We have strategically reduced reliance on imports by qualifying and engaging with domestic suppliers for key molecules. This not only shortens our supply chain but also lessens exposure to potential geopolitical disruptions. Additionally, we have identified competitive Indian sources with strong capabilities for other materials, ensuring a stable supply and further lowering dependence on China. Our efforts have yielded significant results, with China procurement dropping from 31% to 25% in FY24.

Digital Procurement Platform

We have fully integrated a cloud-based Procure-to-Pay (P2P) platform. This digital platform has transformed our procurement process, creating a level playing field for both large and small suppliers. The increase in supplier engagement has fostered greater diversity within our supply network.

Furthermore, digitalisation has driven competitive market pricing, facilitated collaboration with a broader range of suppliers, and provided ease of transactions, transparency, and traceability, ultimately leading to quicker and more informed decision-making.

Nurturing strong relationships with our suppliers and vendors

We have maintained long-standing relationships with our suppliers, who play a pivotal role in ensuring a continuous supply of APIs and other materials. We are also collaborating with industry partners, sharing industry-best practices and participating in industry forums to further strengthen our network and forge new connections. These initiatives have enabled us to stay abreast of emerging risks and trends with our supply chain. Moreover, we educate our suppliers about the significance of sustainable practices while conducting audits.

Supplier Code of Conduct

We have implemented a comprehensive Supplier Code of Conduct that delineates expectations for ethical conduct, environmental stewardship and social responsibility. Compliance with these standards is mandatory for suppliers seeking to engage in business with us. This Code encompasses four key areas- human rights, ethical business practices, regulatory compliance and safe operating conditions. We strive to ensure that all our suppliers, including those providing raw materials and packaging materials, are fully committed to upholding this Code of Conduct.

Quick fact

We source materials and services from MSMEs, exceeding industry norms. In fact, MSMEs account for over 35% of our procurement. This approach promotes local economic development and empowers smaller businesses.

Supplier Audits and Assessments

We conduct regular supplier audits and assessments, encompassing environmental management practices, labor standards, and ethical sourcing policies. This thorough assessment process allows us to uphold our commitment to responsible business practices.

To ensure a responsible and sustainable supply chain, we have implemented a robust Supplier Sustainability Assessment Matrix. This matrix rigorously evaluates potential suppliers based on environmental, social, and governance (ESG) factors.

These factors align with Neuland's core values, emphasising supplier resilience, inclusivity within the supply chain, and commitment to high environmental and social standards. We prioritise working with qualified vendors who hold certifications like ISO 9001 (Quality Management), ISO 14001 (Environmental Management), and ISO 45001 (Occupational Health and Safety Management). This dedication to sustainability has resulted in a Silver Sustainability Rating from EcoVadis.

Furthermore, the matrix assesses key social parameters such as minimum wages for employees, child labour prohibition, and prevention of workplace harassment. Currently, suppliers self-assess their adherence to these standards.

Intellectual Capital

As a knowledge-intensive sector which deals with critical and complex chemistry, research and development (R&D) and innovation are cornerstone to our success. Through continuous investment in innovation, we not only enhance our processes and services, but also fulfill our goal to achieve industry-leading sustainability standards.

Our R&D centre is based in Hyderabad and is approved by the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research (DSIR). The R&D centre is not only equipped with modern equipment and technologies but also a capable and strong R&D team of 300 employees.

- Adopting a technology first approach
- Incorporate new technologies into projects and projects
- Ensure efficient project management

Investing in R&D

At Neuland, the development of novel API solutions remains our foremost priority. We encourage innovative ideas to provide shorter and innovative routes of synthesis. Our R&D team comprises 350+ scientists. During the reporting period, our investments in R&D stood at 3 % of our total revenue. The continued investments in R&D over the years is a testament to our focus on Customer Centricity, Reliability and Accountability. Our R&D spending has increased by over 40% compared to last year.

Deep Domain Expertise

Our R&D capabilities enable us to offer ourselves as an extended arm of pharmaceutical companies for their end to end API requirements (See how we create value for our customers on Page 46)

In addition, we have continuous interactions with our scientific advisory board (SAB) for ongoing projects and future technologies. Recognised as pioneers in process development and chemical engineering, they provide our functional heads with the required strategic direction in our projects and processes.

During F24, we added ~14 CMS projects and 6 to 8 projects progressed across the clinical life cycle. In terms of Generic Drug Substance (GDS) filing, two products have been filed in FY24 and we aim to file six products in FY25.

Key Initiatives in FY24

- We are enhancing our R&D capabilities with new equipment such as ATFDs, DSC and Nutsche filter dryers for advanced research and faster discoveries
- Advanced analytical techniques, including TLC-MS and LCMS are being implemented to identify potential nitrosamine presence in samples
- We are upgrading to semi-automated cylindrical reactors and electronic lab notebooks for efficient workflows and secure data management.

Safeguarding Intellectual Property

Acknowledging our position as a major player in regulated markets such as the United States and the European Union, we have established an intellectual property management group to handle IP issues effectively. Our priority is to safeguard third-party intellectual property rights while ensuring compliance with patent regulations.

We have an in-house Intellectual Property Rights Cell (IPR Cell) that supports the R&D and Business teams. This Cell assists in IP creation by providing a clear understanding of the rights and responsibilities of our

R&D teams, thereby protecting our intellectual property.

We focus on products with advanced technology and strong market potential while also exploring new opportunities. The focus goes beyond ownership as our IP strategy focuses on adding unique capabilities to our APIs, differentiating them from competitors and raising the value proposition of our offerings.

We have received two awards for our intellectual property under the following categories:

- ASSOCHAM-Best Patent Portfolio Large Enterprises (Life Science)
- Legal Era - Best In-house IP Team Award

Adopt a Technology-First Approach

In our digital transformation journey we now have a Sales and Operations Planning software which improves coordination between departments, ensuring accurate forecasting and efficient resource allocation. We also leverage tools such as SAP for inventory management, serialisation and warehouse management while eliminating paper-based operations. Separately, AI integrations help us enhance document collaboration, summarisation and the efficiency of team meetings, offering streamlined solutions for creating meeting notes and summaries with accuracy and speed.

Digital Platforms

Functions	Applications Introduced
Inventory Management and Costing	Launched 'Inventory Optimisation' project which aids in sales forecast by optimising the inventory level. It is integrated with SAP systems to streamline inventory management, capacity and resource planning. We have also rolled out the SAP Material ledger Actual costing function to gain a comprehensive understanding of valuation and costing.
Project Management	'Touchbase-PMO' streamlines the entire project lifecycle, from planning and scheduling to execution and completion. It ensures projects adhere to established guidelines and best practices. The platform helps in identifying, assessing and mitigating potential risks that could impact API development.
R&D	We have begun rolling out Electronic Lab Notebook (ELN) for online recording of experimental data. The ELN can capture various types of research data (experimental scheme, operation, HPLC, assay data, structures, scripts, documents and more) in a standard and searchable format that ensures transparency and data integrity. Also, we have digitised over two million Manual electronic Log notebooks in R&D with OCR and meta data search features in SharePoint R&D System.
Human Resources	To improve work experience, employee engagement has remained the priority for HR and IT teams. They have launched initiatives such as the AIM-Idea Management Portal , Employee Self-service kiosk portal, Grievance Management, Internal Job referral Portal and Visitor and Desk management tools to bolster productivity and user experience.
Supply Chain	Supply Chain Management and Finance teams automated the account payable process by implementing an end-to-end digital invoice solution on their vendor portal, enabling suppliers to directly upload invoices and reducing manual steps; thereby increasing efficiency.

Cyber Security Risk Management and Data Privacy

Our intellectual capital priorities include adopting a technology-first approach, with investments in both in-house and cloud-based digital solutions including in our core areas.

Our Strategic Priority (SP) 4 also focuses on digitalisation as a key value enabler aiming to digitise processes and create company-wide dashboards for real-time data and analytics. SP4's success needs to be secured via adequate information and cybersecurity programs.

Cybersecurity is one key risk area where we had carried out an extensive research with our Risk and Sustainability Committee earlier this year. Notably, we observed a rise in attacks on Indian pharma sector companies, specifically related to ransomware and the compromise of confidential and personal information. Accordingly, the deep dive focused on synthesising the cyber-attack events and key learnings of some peers, providing an assessment of our cybersecurity heatmap, and outlining key priorities and focus areas for the year.

At the executive level, our MD and CEO, Chairman, sponsor the IT/Cybersecurity programme, demonstrating leadership commitment from the very top. Additionally, our Risk and Sustainability committee members possess strong expertise in Digital and Information Technology. This ensures a comprehensive understanding of cybersecurity risks at the strategic level.

We prioritise maintaining data privacy and cybersecurity to protect sensitive information and effectively counter cyberthreats. We have a well-established Cybersecurity and Data Privacy Framework and Policy aligned to the most relevant and current standards. We have implemented IT security procedures, ensuring the protection of data across our organisation. We benefit by leveraging cloud-based digital infrastructure, while also investing in advanced network monitoring systems to enhance our security capabilities. Additionally, we are bolstering our cybersecurity measures by implementing tools, including Zero Trust Network Access (ZTNA) and Privileged Access Management (PAM). In 2024, our ISMS rating was re-certified to ISO 27001: 2022, underscoring our commitment to continually improving our information and cyber-security posture through Trust Network Access (ZTNA) and Privileged Access Management (PAM).

Ensure Efficient Project Management

Our project management approach assists our customers in navigating the challenges that largely concern them. Our hybrid methodologies for project planning, emphasising resource availability and flexibility over conventional scheduling of individual tasks ensure that overall project timelines are maintained effectively, with seamless project execution and successful outcomes.

Our flexible and agile approach in project management accommodates changes driven by evolving market dynamics and customer requirements. We implement best practices and standards consistently across our project stages, from initiating project plan till project closure.

Our customers can also access these developments in real-time through a dedicated portal available to them. We prioritise communication with our customers. Through regular interactions and updates, we are also able to seek real-time feedback on our performance and make necessary adjustments.

Our objective is to continuously ensure 'Smart Project Management' by leveraging PMO's digitised tool as the 'single source of truth'. Using a digitised tool has helped us achieve better decision-making and transparency across the cross-functional teams and their reporting structures. Equipped with dynamic dashboards, we are further prepared to make real-time decisions through data-generated insights and lead and lag indicators of project success. Over time, this will become a core repository of project knowledge powered by capabilities in AI to drive project management at Neuland.

Performance Management

Our online performance management system focuses on establishing SMART objectives. Individual employee goals are aligned with their functional objectives, which in turn, are connected to organisational goals.

Our performance management framework also ensures ongoing calibration reviews and continuous feedback for all relevant teams.

In FY23, the Chief Executive Officer's and the Managing Director's balanced scorecards were cascaded to senior leaders, with their variable pay linked to scorecard performance alongside company growth. In FY24, the variable pay plan has been further extended to employees up to GM2 grade.

Our balanced scorecard includes suitable weightages for KPIs associated with financial performance, customer satisfaction, risk management, ESG, diversity, talent retention and adherence to regulatory compliances.

Learning and Development

At Neuland, we value continuous learning and development to facilitate our employees' skill development and career progression. Our training programmes are designed to strengthen employees for their current as well as future roles. These initiatives align with our commitment to creating long-term value for our employees.

We ensure a smooth transition for new hires with our well-structured on-boarding programme called PARICHAY. The programme provides comprehensive information about new employees' roles and responsibilities, ensuring a clear understanding of their contributions to the Company. It establishes a strong connection between new employees and our culture and values, promoting a sense of belonging and shared purpose. Additionally, through our Buddy Programme, new employees are paired with seasoned team members for their first five months, providing the new members with the essential emotional and practical support to ensure a seamless transition into their roles.

We implement a robust Training Needs Identification (TNI) process to assess training requirements across all departments. Based on the TNI results, we develop a comprehensive annual training calendar to deliver targeted training sessions to employees. The feedback collected after each training session is used to enhance and refine our training processes for continuous improvement.

Upskilling and Reskilling

Our Supervisory Skill Development Programme enhances frontline supervisors' management abilities, ensuring operational excellence. For first-time managers, our tailored programme equips them to excel and fully realise their leadership potential from the outset.

We offer function-specific training to enhance employees' skills within their specific roles. Additionally, behavioural training equips them with the skills necessary to thrive in an ever-changing work environment. For positions, including Product Leaders and Project Managers, we have also established a dedicated assessment centre. This goes beyond traditional interviews by utilising a multi-faceted approach. Techniques such as group exercises, presentations, examinations and psychometric testing provide a more comprehensive evaluation of candidates' skills and competencies.

Digital Learning Platforms

We prioritise the seamless integration and skill development of our employees through innovative digital platforms. Through gamification elements embedded within the learning curriculum, we ensure engagement and healthy competition among learners, motivating them to enhance their skills. A leaderboard is used for tracking progress and encourage continuous improvement. These digital initiatives not only foster a culture of continuous learning and growth but also create a strong support system within our organisation.

Leadership Development

Our human resource processes are designed to attract talent and provide targeted training to address skill gaps and preparing individuals for future leadership roles. A three-tier leadership framework is helping us strengthen our leadership capabilities and promote a culture of continuous improvement.

Building Future Leaders

Succession planning is vital for sustained growth and resilience at Neuland. We implement a comprehensive talent mapping and succession process to pinpoint key roles that demand immediate focus, nurturing a robust pipeline of future leaders. This strategy empowers us to proactively identify critical positions for potential external hires, while fostering a culture of perpetual growth and development.

We offer function-specific training to enhance employees' skills within their specific roles. Additionally, behavioural training equips them with the skills necessary to thrive in an ever-changing work environment. For positions, including Product Leaders and Project Managers, we have established a dedicated assessment centre. This goes beyond traditional interviews by utilising a multi-faceted approach.

Case study

The Leadership Journey Programme has identified the top 54 positions that will ensure that the right talent is identified. The programme focuses on competency development through Individual Development Plans (IDPs) and 360-degree feedback for senior leaders. By aligning talent with key positions, we have cultivated a skilled leadership pipeline prepared for evolving challenges.

Enrich Employee Experience

At Neuland, our well-defined employee framework, reflecting our foundational values, helps curate a meaningful work culture for our employees. Built on attributes of transparency, accountability, recognition and well-being, the framework keeps the employees engaged and motivated at work.

Regular interactions between the Leadership Team and diverse employee cohorts, quarterly policy meetings with senior HR leadership and focused group discussions led by HR promote transparency and employee engagement at Neuland. These initiatives encourage open dialogue, policy clarity and feedback integration to enhance employee satisfaction and togetherness.

We empower our employees to own their decisions, actions and performance standards, fostering a culture where they can make choices and learn from their experiences. To ensure alignment with global best practices, we conducted a pilot internal gap assessment against the SA8000 standard. Based on these findings, we are proposing formal participation in the SA8000 programme this coming year.

CEO Interactions

We plan for regular CEO interaction with employees across all levels and cohorts, including women employees, new joiners, trainees, and employees at the N-2, N-3 and N-4 positions in various functions.

Employee Engagement

Our ongoing employee engagement programmes, including monthly activities, family events, sports and annual surveys, foster a vibrant and inclusive workplace culture, enhancing employee morale and satisfaction.

Our 'All Ideas Matter' (AIM) portal is a cornerstone of our Idea Management System. Through this platform, we reward employee ideas that can lead to cost savings and process improvements.

Participating in Company Success

Site or department specific townhalls are conducted to share our strategy, financial results and key achievements, while creating an opportunity to secure employee suggestions, clarifications and general views. Key performers are recognised here.

The Company's Idea Management System seeks viable ideas through AIM (online portal) and a part of the savings generated are shared with those employees who were instrumental in sharing or implementing the idea.

Long term-incentive programmes such as stock options, phantom stock or cash bonuses with deferred payouts can mobilise greater employee commitment. We are evaluating the suitability of some of these programmes to our long-term strategy and success, in line with industry and peer practices.

Ensuring the Well-being of Our People

At Neuland, we prioritise employee well-being with a dedicated Grievance Redressal Policy. Our Central and Location Grievance Committees promptly address employee concerns.

At Neuland, we have always ensured a transparent and supportive environment. Employees can easily access our policy and committee details on our intranet portal and are encouraged to report any grievances or human rights violations to our Grievance Committee (grievances@neulandlabs.com).

Non-Retaliation

We prohibit any form of retaliation on employees who raise concerns or grievances in good faith. Our grievance policy ensures that there is no unfair treatment meted out to the aggrieved employee.

Rewards and recognition

We value our employees and their contributions to our success. We have implemented the ACE Awards ('Acknowledging Commitment and Excellence'). These quarterly and annual recognition programmes identify and reward top performers who go the extra mile. We also acknowledge exceptional dedication with the prestigious 'Employee of the Year' award, cultivating a culture of appreciation and motivating employees to excel.

Human Rights

At Neuland, we uphold our commitment to human rights principles as a signatory to the United Nations Global Compact. We understand the importance of globally recognised human rights standards and have been embedding these principles into our operations. To ensure awareness and understanding among all employees, including off-roll staff, we conduct sessions covering various topics such as Benefits awareness, Safety protocols, Environmental consciousness, Prevention of Sexual Harassment (POSH), Human Rights and Code of Ethical Conduct.

We have several policies in place aimed at safeguarding human rights within our organisation. These include policies addressing the prohibition of Child Labour, Grievance Redressal, Workplace (non) Discrimination and Equal Employment Opportunities. These policies are readily accessible to all employees through our company's intranet portal, ensuring transparency and accountability in upholding human rights throughout our business practices. We encourage freedom of association, expression and collective bargaining and our employees are free to join/ form or refrain from joining/ forming employee collectives without fear of retaliation or harassment. All our workmen are part of industrial trade unions.

In FY 2023, we conducted an internal assessment of our manufacturing and R&D facilities to identify potential human rights gaps and risks, aligning with the SA8000:2014 standard, as well as to evaluate our readiness for accreditation. Following the identification and subsequent addressing of several of these gaps in FY 2024, we now intend to embark on preparations for SA8000 accreditation in the upcoming period.

Human Capital ROI

Investing in employee development, safety and well-being fosters a skilled workforce. Despite several variables that may impact the outcome of people initiatives, the cumulative benefit will flow-in over time. The specific benefits include increased productivity from greater engagement and improved safety and well-being metrics. For example,

- We have seen an increase in Employee Satisfaction Survey from 67 last year, to 73 this year.
- Our employee NPS Score has moved from 28 to 43 this year.
- Voluntary Employee Attrition has reduced from 22.2% to 17.3%

Neuland proposes to apply the principles of Human capital ROI to both assessing existing people initiatives, as well as making new people- based decisions.

Human Capital ROI factor	FY2024	FY2023
a) Total Revenue, as specified in the "Denominator" question Currency: ₹	1,57,112	1,20,095
b) Total Operating Expenses* Currency: ₹	1,17,036	98,573

Promote Diversity

We believe that a diverse team offers us a wealth of expertise, skills, experience, competencies and more. They bring forth new perspectives and experiences that ignite innovative solutions, contributing to business growth and sustainable value creation.

Our women-friendly policies care for the physical, emotional and financial well-being. We also provide for our women team members flexible working mode after maternity leaves, ensuring that they get adequate time to nurture the newborn.

Gender pay parity is a core aspect of our Diversity and Inclusion (D&I) strategy, and we strive to maintain equal pay for equal work. While the overall company average of fixed salaries ratio between male and female is 1:0.68, recent analysis indicates an interesting trend. In all grades where women are present, they are paid 1-5% more than the average of their male counterparts. We are committed to the continuous monitoring of equal pay data and are taking proactive measures to ensure fair and unbiased pay practices.

Diversity and Inclusion Initiative

We acknowledge the existence of unconscious bias and its potential impact on our performance and working environment. During the year, we organised our first DEI workshop focused on raising awareness of different biases, their influence in the workplace and steps to mitigate them. Rules, procedures, and policies are regularly evaluated for improving diversity.

We extend additional incentives to our recruitment partners for identifying diverse candidates, including women, LGBTQIA+ individuals and those who are specially-abled. This ensures we have a diverse talent pool, reflecting the richness of the communities in which we operate.

We further seek to broaden our talent pool in order to foster a more regionally diverse workforce.

We have always believed that leadership plays a vital role in building an inclusive environment. Senior leaders have diversity goals incorporated into their performance scorecards. This ensures continued focus and accountability in achieving a well-rounded and inclusive team.

Ensure Employee Health and Safety

We prioritise the health and well-being of our employees, contractors, and service providers across all our facilities. This commitment is reflected in our comprehensive EHS Policy, which is approved by executive management and readily available on our website. The policy outlines our approach to environmental responsibility and occupational health and safety.

Certifications

We hold ISO 45001 certification for all our production units, demonstrating our adherence to the latest occupational health and safety standards. Furthermore, these units are ISO 14001 certified for environmental management systems, signifying our dedication to sustainable practices.

Safety Measures

Our commitment to safety extends beyond the production floor. We prioritise a proactive approach by initially screening client molecules for potential EHS concerns before commencing production. This stringent evaluation process ensures we only select molecules that meet our rigorous safety criteria, contributing to our zero-fatality record during the year.

Risk Assessment

Once a molecule is approved for production, a thorough hazard identification and risk assessment (HAZOP or HIRA) study is conducted. This in-depth analysis involves a cross-functional team to identify potential hazards and environmental aspects associated with the manufacturing process. During this study, we engage in comprehensive discussions to evaluate these risks and develop recommendations to effectively mitigate them.

Occupational Health and Safety

Our relentless focus on occupational health and safety (OH&S) has contributed to the achievement of Nil fatalities and Nil Lost Time Injuries in FY24. Right from prioritising the initial screening of molecules to embracing the principles of green chemistry, we continue to comply with environment friendly processes.

We are among the few pharmaceuticals companies in India, we conduct studies on Hazard and Operability (HAZOP) or Hazard Identification and Risk Assessment (HIRA) as part of a comprehensive analysis to adhere to critical EHS-related elements. Our team of process safety engineers conduct HAZOP and HIRA practices, on-boarding an external consultant to safely perform gap assessments and implementation. As of FY24, we have addressed 96% recommendations for our executed products in our HAZOPs/HIRAs. By implementing Occupational Health and Safety Management Systems (OHSMS), we demonstrate a proactive approach to risk management. These systems ensure a structured framework for identifying, evaluating, and controlling potential hazards in the workplace. This comprehensive strategy allows us to prioritise the well-being of our employees and create a culture of safety that permeates every aspect of our operations.

As part of our OHS framework, we have developed five pillars to achieve our goal of zero harm:

Workplace Risk Assessment

We prioritise safety through regular, in-depth assessments that pinpoint potential hazards and risks in our operations. This ongoing process ensures continuous improvement and a safer work environment for everyone.

HAZOP (Hazard and Operability Study)

We perform HAZOP studies to comprehensively analyse potential hazards and operational issues related to our processes, ensuring a proactive approach to mitigating risks.

EHS Management System

We have implemented a rigorous assessment plan and methodology to monitor and evaluate our environment, health, and safety (EHS) management system across all our facilities, aligning with ISO standards ISO 45001:2018 and ISO 14001:2015. Our EHS assessments include internal audits, inter-facility audits, and external third-party audits, scheduled at regular intervals throughout the year. The primary objective of these assessments is to ensure compliance and continuously improve our established EHS management system. Through our assessment efforts, we have maintained a record of no significant workplace incidents or accidents during the reporting period.

Hazard Identification and Risk Assessment (HIRA)

Our Hazard Identification and Risk Assessment (HIRA) process systematically identifies hazards and assesses associated risks to implement appropriate control measures.

Permit-to-Work System

We enforce a rigorous permit-to-work system to regulate potentially hazardous work activities, ensuring proper authorisation and risk assessment before initiating any critical task.

Incident Management

We have procedures for any incident that occurs and is promptly reported to both the relevant statutory authorities and internal teams. A cross-functional team then conducts an investigation to determine the root cause. Upon identification, corrective and preventive actions (CAPA) are recommended. These recommendations are monitored during monthly review meetings to ensure their implementation. These root causes moreover are assessed across other sites. To prevent recurring issues, a global CAPA is initiated for uniform implementation across all sites when similar problems are identified elsewhere.

Safety Highlights for the Year FY24

Engineering Controls

Implemented various engineering controls including zero access guards, nitrogen blanketing, zero speed interlock systems, continuous earth monitoring, flame arrestors, oxygen monitoring systems, foam sprinklers, fire suppression systems, and early warning systems.

Process Safety

Enhanced process safety through analysing thermal stability profiles, reaction calorimetry, and powder safety data for critical activities like milling, sieving, Micronization.

Specialised Assessments and Training

Conducted Hazardous Area Classification and ESD assessments by competent agencies, and provided PHA (Process Hazard Analysis) HAZOP certified training to meet global standards.

Key Focus Areas

Our CSR initiatives are primarily aimed at serving disadvantaged, vulnerable, and marginalised stakeholders from weaker socio-economic backgrounds, in the communities where we operate. Our community initiatives are aimed at promoting health and well-being, education, gender equality, providing access to clean water and sanitation, supporting rural infrastructure development, and fostering environmental conservation.

Our Approach

Our approach to community development involves providing consistent support to our focus areas year after year. We align our CSR objectives with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and believe that by empowering underprivileged communities and rural areas, we can contribute to building a more inclusive and developed nation. As such, our community development initiatives are primarily focused on the rural areas in and around the villages where our manufacturing and R&D facilities are located.

Our company collaborates with local communities to understand their necessities and developmental aspirations, and then determines the appropriate projects to undertake in accordance with our company's CSR policy. After the completion of our projects, we actively seek feedback from the beneficiaries and community leaders to evaluate the impact of our initiatives.

In the past year, we have focused on promoting health and well-being, education, skill development, empowering women, providing clean water and sanitation, and developing village infrastructure.

Governance

At Neuland, our CSR initiatives are steered by our CSR policy that encompasses statutory requirements and good governance practices. An effective governance system is in place to monitor the progress of our initiatives, guided by engagement between the management and the CSR Committee with oversight by the Board of Directors.

Healthcare

We focus on facilitating access to quality medical and healthcare facilities for the communities in which we operate. To ensure the effectiveness of our healthcare programs, we conduct an initial assessment of the needs, and evaluate the impact of our interventions on the beneficiaries. We collaborate with local village leaders, government agencies and NGOs and have taken initiatives such as organising health camps and providing basic healthcare kits, critical medical care for infants, and upgrading the Primary Health Centres (PHC).

Initiatives

Skill Enhancement

Our skill enhancement program for the apprentice equips participants with essential skills to increase their employability. By integrating practical experience at our manufacturing and R&D facilities, we prepare them for full-time employment. Additionally, we provide training to more youth than mandated by law to equip them with necessary skills, as part of our skill enhancement program. Participants gain hands-on experience, and we strive to offer full-time employment to those suitable in our manufacturing and R&D facilities.

Invested on equipment for energy conservation

We aim to leverage the Natural Capital protocol to better identify and value our environmental impact while determining their monetised value. There are three primary vectors:

- Reducing waste, water and emissions
- Carbon neutrality initiatives
- Sustainable R&D and innovation

Moreover, we have instituted an Environmental Policy, that provides us with the right strategic direction and have formally carved our Environmental goals

Our Environmental Priorities	Our KPIs and Goals
Direct emissions	↓ in absolute and intensity based direct carbon emissions (including Scope 1 and 2)
Water	Identify projects and achieve water neutrality
Waste	Maintain Zero waste to landfill Maintain ZLD operations in all our units
Indirect emissions	↓ in absolute and intensity based indirect carbon emissions (including logistics)
Sustainable R&D and Innovation	Adopt and expand Green Chemistry principles in our research projects

Embarking on Our Net Zero Journey

We are committed to becoming a net-zero emission company by 2050. To achieve this ambitious goal, we have partnered with the Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi) and are currently in the process of establishing science-based targets (SBTs) aligned with SBTi's requirements. In FY 25, we plan to baseline our Scope 1-3 emissions completely and refine our targets using FY24 as our baseline year. These targets will be validated by SBTi to ensure they are in line with global warming benchmarks. Our objective is to reduce emissions to net zero, whereas any remaining emissions are expected to be balanced by offsetting measures. These measures involve projects such as planting trees that absorb CO2 or leveraging technology that help achieve carbon neutrality.

We have set interim targets at 2035, and once validated by SBTi in FY25, we will be able to carefully calibrate our annual efforts and capex investments to achieve these goals.

Aspect	By FY 25/26	Medium term (FY35)	Long term (FY50)

	Define and implement an ESG process for new capex investment
Indirect emissions Scope 3 (Including logistics)	Secure SBTi Validation on our emission targets	10%* reduction in indirect carbon emissions (including logistics)
	Baseline our Scope 3 emissions
	Plan our Scope 3 carbon management plan

*Interim goals may be moderated post SBTi validations in FY25

Procurement of renewable energy is subject to enabling government policies and associated administrative approvals

Energy Management

Enhancing operational efficiencies and advancing electrification remain our foremost priority for optimising energy utilisation at Neuland. We have achieved considerable energy savings by implementing well-calibrated emission-reduction and fuel-efficiency initiatives at our manufacturing sites. Major programmes implemented during the year are mentioned below.

Initiatives

Monitoring and Tracking

Installation of energy meters across all our facilities to closely monitor daily energy use.

Optimising Power Usage

We have installed Automatic Power Factor Correction Systems, KVAR EC Units and Pressure Transmitters to reduce power consumption across our premises. Additionally, we have incorporated Variable Frequency Drives (VFDs) into various equipment, making provisions for adjustments based on actual needs.

Advanced Technologies

Adoption of advanced technologies such as Condensate Recovery Systems (an Automatic Tube Cleaning system) and a Temperature Closed Loop Operation System have also helped minimise energy wastage and ensure responsible resource utilisation.

Efficient Cooling

Recognising the impact of cooling systems on operations and energy consumption, we have installed new-age energy-efficient, five-star rated inverter models.

Leak Detection and Repair

We have addressed leakages in air, steam, HVAC (Heating, Ventilation, and Air Conditioning) and refrigeration systems to prevent energy losses.

Energy Efficiency

A meticulously drafted Climate change and energy policy guides our approach towards achieving energy efficiency across sites. The policy enables us to continuously optimise our energy consumption across operations, equipment and systems. To identify areas for improvement, we conduct regular energy audits. These audits involve a detailed analysis of our energy consumption patterns. It enables us to identify energy-intensive areas, set energy reduction targets and implement energy-saving measures.

We are upgrading insulation at our sites to minimise heat transfer and improve temperature control processes. Executing proper route planning strategies for our vehicles to minimise travel distances and fuel consumption have also helped reduce fuel consumption.

Transition to Renewable Energy

We currently rely on non-renewable energy sources to meet our operational demands. We are actively exploring avenues to expedite our shift towards renewable energy solutions. However, in the interim, our transition efforts are impeded by existing local government policies and regulatory frameworks. Direct procurement of renewable energy remains a challenge, both in terms of feasibility and cost-effectiveness. To address this, we are in discussions with various consultants, advisors, peers and other stakeholders to devise a strategy that not only aligns with our immediate emission reduction targets but also sets a foundation for our long-term environmental objectives. We will provide an update on our transition plan in the coming months.

Emission Management

In our pursuit of carbon neutrality, at Neuland we are focused on reducing our carbon footprint through producing quality pharmaceutical products. With several initiatives, we remain committed to our underlying principle of sustainability and environmental stewardship.

Carbon Footprint

To map our GHG (greenhouse gases) impact, we conduct thorough evaluation periodically, to identify emission hotspots, prioritise reduction strategies and allocate investments accordingly.

Scope 1 emission

Impact Direct

We have reduced the consumption of coal at our manufacturing facilities. This considerably lowers CO2 emissions and directly reduces Scope 1 emissions, generated from on-site combustion processes.

We have transitioned away from R-22 to the eco-friendlier R-404a refrigerant that eliminates the threat to the ozone layer. We have minimised our overall refrigerant use, likely achieved through leak prevention measures. This reduction benefits the ozone layer and also mitigates the potential impact on global warming by reducing the amount of refrigerant released into the atmosphere.

Scope 2 emission

Impact Indirect

We are focusing on reducing our indirect emissions generated from purchased energy consumption by lowering our overall consumption. This includes upgrading our facilities with energy-efficient equipment and lighting systems, while also optimising equipment usage to ensure it only runs when in operation at optimal settings. We also are finding ways to procure or transition to cleaner, renewable energy at the earliest opportunity.

Scope 3 emission

Impact Indirect

Scope 3 emission largely attribute from employee commutes, raw material production, product transportation and waste disposal. To address these, we are reviewing our logistics to optimise routes and reduce fuel consumption. Some of our initiatives include the introduction of fuel-efficient vehicles, exploring alternative transportation modes and implementing best practices for waste management (including waste reduction, recycling and composting initiatives) to minimise the overall environmental impact. In FY25, we are expanding our Scope 3 inventorisation to all categories applicable to us

Our SBTi validations are proposed to be completed in FY25, that will help us develop our overall carbon management plan.

Air Quality Monitoring

Recognising the significance of controlling emissions, across all our facilities, we are identifying leaks from equipment and fixing them. This involves either a formal Leak Detection and Repair (LDAR) programme or simply replacing leaky parts with ones that emit less. We have partnered with a third-party to conduct annual studies that measure Volatile Organic Compounds (VOCs) released into the atmosphere. This helps us track the effectiveness of our leak management efforts. We have a third-party laboratory, recognised by the Ministry of Environment and Forests (MOEF), to monitor emissions from our boilers, generators and process stacks.

Emission Type (tonnes)

● SOx ● NOx ● Particulate matter (PM)

We have implemented a continuous emission-monitoring system while also employing a reputable third-party vendor to measure air quality around our facilities. The comparative analysis of results, detailed reports and our own monthly checks for Volatile Organic Compounds (VOCs) have helped us quickly identify and address any potential issues arising from our processes.

Water Management

We are dedicated to responsible water usage, monitoring our usage and installing water-efficient meters to reduce consumption. Our initiatives aim to minimise water waste, promote optimised usage and protect water resources for future use. Regular audits and installation of water-saving devices have helped identify and address waste and leaks, leading to improved water efficiency.

Total Water Withdrawal in Our Manufacturing Sites (m3)

Total Water Withdrawal in Our Manufacturing Sites (m3 / crores (₹) of turnover)

There is no withdrawal of ground or surface water for our consumption requirements. All our units source fresh water from commercial vendors for our water consumption.

Water Conservation

Our water management focuses on good water accounting practices for support systematic water footprint.

We have constructed RCC tanks for collection of first rain run-off water. The collected water can then be either reused after treatment or disposed of responsibly, minimise it's environmental impact.

Before releasing storm water, we ensure that it undergoes extensive screening and meets environment regulations.

We maintain detailed logs of spill control management.

We apply principles of reuse , recycle and recovery for manufacturing activities where ever applicable.

Reduction of water consumption is taken as objective under environment sustainability.

This approach helps us identify areas for improvement and present future incidents.

Wastewater Treatment

We have made significant investments in wastewater management, assuring proper collection, treatment, and disposal. We have invested in specialised collection and storage tanks made of wastewater treatment-appropriate materials, and we use a closed transfer system to pump wastewater to treatment facilities.

Our practices, include dry cleaning methods and avoiding wet cleaning whenever feasible. This eliminates direct sewer discharges of rejected or spilled liquids. We also segregate wastewater right at the source based on Total Dissolved Solids (TDS) and Chemical Oxygen Demand (COD) values, which helps us maintain effective management practices to prevent direct sewer discharges. Our approach to treating high TDS effluents involves pre-treatment and organic recovery, where separated organics are disposed of responsibly. These effluents are collected in dedicated tanks, pre-treated and then subjected to organic recovery through a stripper column. The separated organics are then sent to cement plants for co-processing.

Subsequently, stripped effluents undergo treatment in a Multiple Effect Evaporator (MEE) followed by an Agitated Thin Film Dryer (ATFD), with ATFD salts being disposed of in a Treatment, Storage and Disposal Facility (TSDf) or pre-processing. For low TDS effluents, we employ a sequential treatment process, including primary, secondary and tertiary treatments, followed by the reuse of treated water wherever feasible. These measures ensure compliance with regulatory standards and help prevent antibiotic microbial residues (AMR), with rigorous risk assessment protocols in place.

Wastewater Management

The wastewater treatment ZLD (Zero Liquid Discharge) system consists of Stripper to remove the Low VOC's (Volatile Organic Compounds) of solvent. After stripper the wastewater passed through Multiple Effect Evaporator (MEE) to make concentration 30-35 % solids followed by Agitated Thin Film Dryer (ATFD). The solid generated after ATFD disposed to alternate fuel resource facilities for pre-processing and co-processing final in Cement industries using as co-fuel for energy conservation.

Quick fact

We have implemented checklists to ensure safe containment during API storage and loading/unloading operations. Our ongoing improvements include minimising outdoor process activities and maintaining registers for tank overflow, spillages and leakages. Additionally, all stormwater undergoes rigorous analysis before being released to meet stringent environmental standards.

Waste Management

We believe in the 'wealth from waste' principle; in keeping with it we uphold circular economy principles, striving to minimise and effectively manage waste. We have achieved the milestone of completely eliminating landfill waste by redirecting 100% of waste to co-processing and recycling initiatives. The waste generated in co-processing efficiently serves as fuel in the cement industry's kilns.

During co-processing, the intense heat (reaching 1,450°C) released and extended burning time completely destroys waste. The inorganic components of the waste are incorporated into the final cement clinker, eliminating any leftover residue. This process not only eliminates waste but also utilises its energy content, reducing our reliance on fossil fuels.

Hazardous Waste

Hazardous wastes, including evaporation salts, spent carbon and used oil, require careful handling and disposal. To ensure their safe disposal, we leverage designated MS drums or double-layer polyethylene bags for collection and containment, with clear labels for proper identification. We partner with authorised vendors who specialise in responsible hazardous waste disposal, ensuring it meets waste management regulations. Moreover, only trained personnel are permitted to handle this waste, minimising safety risks and maintaining waste control procedures. Co-processing in Cement kiln also helps us reduce waste that would otherwise go to landfill.

Non-hazardous Waste

All non-hazardous waste generated as part of our operations, such as plastic, paper, glass and empty drums, are recycled. We have partnered with authorised recyclers to ensure the proper disposal of various waste items, including used oil and electronic waste (e-waste). Further, biomedical waste is sent for incineration in specialised facilities.

Quick fact

At Neuland, we foster supply chain transparency by mandating our suppliers to disclose their waste management practices while we also monitor our progress towards waste reduction goals. This approach enables us to evaluate supplier performance effectively and identify improvement areas.

Exposure to Hazardous Substances

Our safety risk assessment focuses on identifying and avoiding or minimising exposure to hazardous substances in our R&D and Operations. Occupational exposure banding (OEB) Category done for all 30 Nos. of products and ensured required controls in all operations, and Hazard Identification and Risk assessment (HIRA) has been conducted for over 223 products stage-wise. Clear Go/No Go criteria apply to acceptance of products at the R&D portfolio stage itself.

Biodiversity

All our manufacturing and R&D operations are located in the notified industrial development estates and not near any named biodiversity sites. Accordingly, we do not foresee any immediate impact to biodiversity. Recognising the need to protect and conserve natural resources and being committed to limit our environmental impacts to our neighbouring locations, we propose to initiate bio-diversity risk assessments in a phased manner in FY25 and FY26 and take actions accordingly. Our Zero Liquid Discharge plants in all our facilities ensure we protect the surrounding water bodies and environment from any negative impact. We are learning more about the process of making a formal Biodiversity Commitment and following-through on them, and will be back with an update on this in our future report(s).

Neuland is committed to afforestation through tree plantation annually. Additionally the planted saplings are maintained by us regularly. More about our efforts in FY24 can be seen in our Social and Relationship Capital section on Page 96.

Climate Strategy

Climate change is a real risk recognised and documented by several organisations today. At Neuland we have been assessing various natural and climate risk events as part of our Enterprise risk management efforts. We started adopting the TCFD framework since FY23 and started identifying and reporting our specific physical and transition risks and mitigations in our Governance, Risk and Compliance Section in greater detail (See page 38 for current years update).

Having formally submitted our SBTi commitment in Sep 2023, we joined the 8300+ companies globally who have made net-zero commitments. During FY24 we formalised our ESG goals, including Environment, and hope to validate our emission targets with SBTi by March 2025. By quantifying specific risks and their impact on our business in the medium and short term, will help us help us evolve our formal climate strategy both for risks to and from our business.

Green Chemistry

As part of its commitment to sustainability, Neuland Laboratories Limited has embraced ten out of the twelve principles of Green Chemistry, which serve as a guiding framework to mitigate the environmental footprint of its processes and products. By accessing and leveraging the best practices shared through individual and industry memberships in premium institutions such as the American Chemical Society (ACS) we will actively incorporate several of the green chemistry principles over the coming periods to our current and future product portfolio. In agreement with our customers, for all new projects we will incorporate sustainability criteria into our product design and project management processes. For existing projects IP-neutral process improvements are being initiated to reduce carbon footprint and improve efficiencies.

In FY25, we will initiate our first Life Cycle Assessment (LCA) and expand the same to all our key molecules in the coming periods. Completing LCAs and taking systematic actions will contribute to overall net zero interim and final goals .

Management Discussion and Analysis

Global Economic Overview¹

In 2023, the global economy experienced a significant upsurge despite persistent geopolitical tensions. Inflation rates decreased to 5.3% and the growth in Gross Domestic Product (GDP) reached 3.4%, surpassing the International Monetary Fund's (IMF) initial predictions. Moving forward, global economic growth is projected to continue at a stable rate, supported by monetary policies from major economies' Central Banks, including Europe, China and the US, with inflation showing signs of stabilisation.

Other factors helping the recovery were lower energy costs and an increase in both government and private expenditures, which, in turn, increased consumer demand. Despite ongoing labour market challenges, an increase in real disposable income spurred growth in both public and private sectors.

Consumers also played a significant role in this economic upturn by spending savings accumulated during the pandemic. On the supply side, there was an improvement due to increased labour force participation, the resolution of supply chain issues from the pandemic, and improved delivery efficiency.

Looking ahead, advanced economies are expected to ease fiscal policies, with the United States taking a more lenient approach than the Europe area.

Conversely, other economies are still in the process of financial recovery. In emerging markets and developing economies (EMDEs), productivity levels remain below pre-pandemic standards, with fiscal policies generally staying neutral.

Growth Projections

INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND

Outlook²

The global economy is expected to show significant resilience, with growth projected to remain stable at around 3.2% for both 2024 and 2025. Advanced economies are expected to see a slight increase in growth, rising from 1.7% in 2024 to 1.8% in 2025, while emerging markets and developing economies will experience a modest slowdown, maintaining growth at 4.2% for both years. Global inflation is anticipated to decrease steadily, from 6.8% in 2023 to 5.9% in 2024 and 4.5% in 2025. Advanced economies are likely to achieve their inflation targets sooner than emerging markets and developing economies, with core inflation expected to decline at a more gradual pace.

Indian Economic Overview

In the fiscal year 2023-24, India's economy sustained its position as one of the world's fastest-growing economies, maintaining its rank as the fifth-largest globally and advancing to the third-largest in terms of purchasing power parity (PPP). With the inflation rate decreasing to 5.4% in 2023-24 compared to 6.7% in 2022-23 and a GDP expanding by 8.2% as compared to 7% in the previous year driven by increased government spending on infrastructure, a booming service sector and stable governance with policies geared towards health, education, land and agriculture.*

As the host for the G-20 presidency, India facilitated significant multilateral initiatives, while its financial sector exhibited remarkable resilience. Despite the implementation of tightened fiscal policies, consumer price inflation remained within the targeted range of 2-6%³. Looking forward, businesses are anticipated to perform even more strongly with stable interest rates and deleveraged balance sheets, as evident from growing credit demand, highlighting the inherent potential of the Indian economy.

Outlook⁴

The Indian economy's outlook remains positive, supported by strengthening macroeconomic fundamentals, strong financial and corporate sectors, and a resilient external sector. The government's continued emphasis on capital expenditure while maintaining fiscal consolidation, along with consumer and business confidence, bodes well for investment and consumption demand. These elements are anticipated to generate new employment opportunities, enhance labour incomes, and boost domestic demand. Considering these factors, real GDP growth for 2024-25 is projected at 7.0%, with balanced risks.

Global Pharmaceutical Industry

The global pharmaceutical industry has shifted its focus from the COVID-19 public health emergency, declared to be over on May 5, 2023, by the World Health Organisation, to the prevention and treatment of other communicable and non-communicable diseases. This shift highlights the pivotal role of pharmaceuticals globally. Breakthrough therapies introduced over the past decade have significantly transformed patient care across various medical domains. Projections for medicine usage and expenditure up to 2028 have been revised upward to USD 1.2 trillion, primarily due to the introduction of novel drugs, despite a notable downward revision in forecasts for COVID-19 vaccines and therapeutics.

Over the next five years, the primary catalyst for expenditure growth in the pharmaceutical industry is set to be the introduction and adoption of innovative treatments in developed markets, balanced against the impact of patent expirations and the subsequent affordability of generic and biosimilar drugs.

The global medicine market is forecasted to grow at a CAGR of 5-8% to around USD 2.3 trillion by 2028.

Global Specialty Pharmaceutical Market

Specialty pharmaceuticals include expensive biotechnological goods along with orphan and ultra-orphan treatments. In most of the cases it either meant for rare cancers or orphan indications, apart from that some are emerging for the treatment of chronic diseases as well.

A rapid expansion of the specialty pharmaceutical industry has been observed, leading to the predictions of a significant increase from USD 68.3 billion in 2023 to USD 1,532.8 billion by 2033. This represents a strong CAGR of 36.5%.

North America is emerging as the largest market. This sector is experiencing growth and expansion due to the rise in chronic and rare diseases along with various advances in biotechnology and personalised treatment.

Indian Pharmaceutical Industry

The Indian pharmaceutical industry is experiencing a rapid change, shifting its focus from generic medications to innovation-driven solutions. With a substantial market size of USD 54.6 billion in 2023⁵, this evolution is fuelled by various factors such as the escalating prevalence of diseases, growing healthcare demands and proactive government initiatives aimed at strengthening healthcare infrastructure. Contract Development and Manufacturing Organisations (CDMOs) are leading this shift by implementing advanced methods and driving innovation in the industry.

According to the projections the pharmaceutical industry is expected to reach USD 163.1 billion by 2032, growing at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 12.3% from 2024 to 2032⁷. India, recognised as the world's third-largest pharmaceutical producer, is renowned for its reliable production and supply of critical vaccines, accounting for about 60% of global vaccine output. This production capacity is vital for meeting the vaccine requirements set by the World Health Organisation (WHO), especially for vaccines such as Diphtheria, Tetanus, Pertussis (DPT), Bacillus Calmette-Guerin (BCG) and Measles. Moreover, India serves as a major exporter of pharmaceuticals, catering to over 200 countries worldwide and fulfilling a substantial portion of the global demand for generic medications.

Catalysts for Growth

- Government schemes⁷ - The Indian government has been actively supporting the growth of the pharmaceutical industry through various schemes and initiatives. Some of these schemes include the scheme for Strengthening of Pharmaceuticals Industry (SPI), the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) for pharmaceuticals, the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) scheme for promotion of domestic manufacturing of critical Key Starting Materials (KSMs)/Drug Intermediates and Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients (APIs) in the Country and scheme for promotion of Bulk Drug Parks. These schemes aim to improve the productivity, quality and competitiveness of the pharmaceutical sector in India, and to promote domestic manufacturing of critical inputs and intermediates.
- Research and development- The Indian pharmaceutical sector benefits from substantial government-supported research and development endeavours. The National Policy on Research and Development and Innovation in the Pharma-MedTech Sector in India has allocated H 4250 crores in financial aid to industries, MSMEs, SMEs, and start-ups collaborating with government institutes for research⁹. This policy emphasises fostering industry-academia partnerships, prioritising key areas for industry enhancement, launching marketable products and devising affordable healthcare solutions. The establishment of the Indian Council of Pharmaceuticals and Med-Tech Research and Development serves to facilitate domestic and international collaborations between academia and research institutions¹⁰. These initiatives are pivotal in fostering innovation, strengthening research capabilities and positioning India as a global front runner in pharmaceutical research and development.

Industry Overview

Global API Market

Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients (API) manufacturing involves the production of the active substance responsible for the therapeutic effects of pharmaceutical medications.

The global pharmaceutical API market has experienced robust growth in recent years, with projections indicating further expansion. From a valuation of USD 206.95 billion in 2023, the market is expected to reach USD 219.76 billion in 2024, reflecting a Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 6.2%. This growth is driven by several factors, including increased expenditure on pharmaceutical research and development (R&D), patent expirations leading to generic API production and the implementation of supportive government policies favouring API manufacturing.

Looking ahead, the market for APIs is anticipated to continue its upward trajectory, with projections indicating a strong growth trajectory in the coming years. By 2028, the global API market is estimated to reach the valuation of USD 279 billion continuing at a steady CAGR of 6.2%. This consistent growth underscores the critical role of API manufacturing in addressing the evolving healthcare needs across the globe, highlighting the sector's pivotal role in advancing pharmaceutical therapies.

Indian API Market¹¹

India's pharmaceutical industry is set for significant growth, expected to reach USD 65 billion by the end of FY24 with Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients (APIs) manufacturing making up about 35% of this sector. India stands as the world's third-largest API producer, holding an 8% share of the global API market and producing over 500+ types of APIs. Notably, 57% of these APIs supplied by India are included in the WHO prequalified list, highlighting the nation's contribution to the global pharmaceutical market.

Projections indicate that India's API manufacturing sector will experience a Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 13.7% in the coming years. This forecast is supported by several factors, including a robust domestic market, a leading chemical industry known for its innovation, a highly skilled workforce and operational costs that are approximately 40% lower compared to Western countries. Moreover, India's commitment to maintaining rigorous quality standards promotes its reputation and strengthens its position in the global API market.

In recognition of the strategic significance of API manufacturing, Indian government has implemented various initiatives to strengthen this segment. In 2020, the government approved a production-linked incentive (PLI) scheme amounting to INR 6,940 crores. This scheme aims to encourage the domestic production of Key Starting Materials (KSMs)/Drug Intermediaries (DIs) and APIs, aiming to reduce the country's dependence on imports. Following the implementation of this scheme, production for 35 different APIs has started in India, minimising the need for imported materials. These initiatives demonstrate India's dedication to creating a supportive environment that maximises its API manufacturing potential.

Global Contract Development and Manufacturing Organisation (CDMO) Industry

The global market for pharmaceutical Contract Development and Manufacturing Organisations (CDMOs) is experiencing rapid growth, propelled by evolving customer needs for specialised technical services. The Pharmaceutical Contract Development And Manufacturing Organisation Market size is estimated at USD 243.29 billion in 2024, and is expected to reach USD 331.98 billion by 2029, growing at a CAGR of 6.41% during the forecast period (2024-2029)¹². This growth is attributed to an uptick in mergers, acquisitions and investment activities, alongside a surge in demand for generic injectables, as well as an expanding portfolio of COVID-19 vaccines and biologics. Key factors contributing to the market's expansion include the burgeoning generic drugs market, the widespread adoption of small molecule drugs across various therapeutic areas, and the expiration of numerous drug patents. Furthermore, innovations in Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients (API) manufacturing techniques are necessitating more complex processes and production technologies to comply with regulatory standards. Additionally, the rising elderly population is playing a significant role in driving market growth.

Key highlights

- In the CDMO sector, there has been a significant trend of mergers and acquisitions in recent years. Large pharmaceutical companies are increasingly engaging with smaller suppliers as a strategic approach to minimise operational costs and risks. This trend is partly driven by the need to improve time efficiency. Additionally, CDMO service providers are participating in mergers with various companies to broaden their business portfolios and increase their presence in the market.
- The market for Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients (API) within the CDMO sector is anticipated to be valued at USD 118.09 billion in 2024 and is expected to grow to USD 178.47 billion by 2029. This growth represents a Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 8.61% from 2024 to 2029.
- There has been a noticeable trend towards increased outsourcing to CDMOs in the pharmaceutical industry. This shift allows companies to leverage the expertise, flexibility, and specialised skills offered by CDMOs. Organisations of all sizes, from small drug developers to large pharmaceutical and bio pharmaceutical companies and spanning both early and late-stage development projects, are adopting this outsourcing strategy.

Company product-wise performance

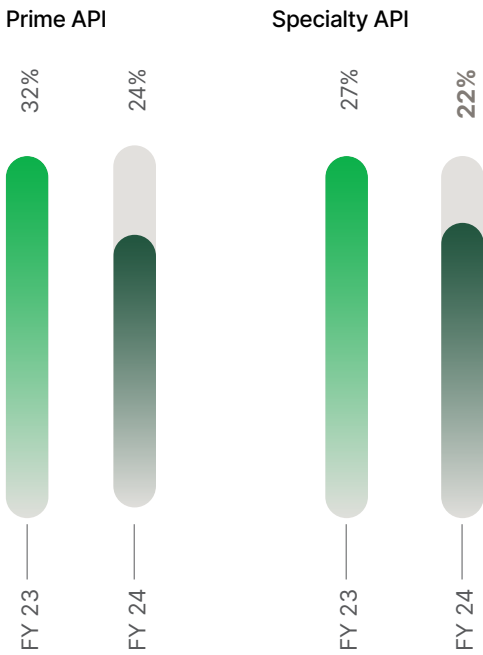

Generic Drug Substances (GDS)

Neuland Laboratories Limited has distinguished itself as a premier provider in the Generic Drug Substances (GDS)/ Generic APIs manufacturing space. The company is renowned for its commitment to product quality, expertise in complex chemical processes and reliability.

Neuland has built a reputation as a trusted and preferred API supplier within the pharmaceutical field. It has an extensive portfolio of APIs across 10 varied therapeutic categories and has made an impressive mark with 973+ Drug Master File (DMF) submissions globally. This showcases Neuland's exceptional operational capabilities and profound expertise in synthetic chemistry and process innovation. The Company's success is further supported by an efficient supply chain and stringent project management practices, making Neuland an ideal API partner for generics, adept at navigating the evolving pharmaceutical landscape.

Neuland categorises its GDS offerings into two segments, Specialty APIs and Prime APIs. The Specialty API segment includes critical compounds such as Paliperidone, Apixaban and Dorzolamide, while the Prime API segment covers essential compounds such as Escitalopram and Mirtazapine.

Saliency of the Segment Revenue

The saliency of the Prime and Specialty segments has come down as the CMS business grew much faster than the GDS business. Within the GDS business, we have seen the Prime segment decline slightly while we saw Specialty grow steadily.

Prime APIs

The Company's Prime segment has a strong portfolio of 10 active pharmaceutical ingredients (APIs), which are key drivers of business volume. Among these essential chemicals are Mirtazapine, which is an anti-depressant, and Levetiracetam, which is effective in treating epilepsy. Furthermore, the category contains important compounds like as Escitalopram, Levofloxacin, Ciprofloxacin, Enalapril, Sotalol, and Labetalol.

Specialty APIs

The specialty APIs business is the profit-driving segment, which comprises complex and niche products. With a strong portfolio of over 50 value-added APIs, the company provides compounds that are frequently covered by patents and are used in validation batches and regulatory filings. This segment's key compounds are Paliperidone, Brinzolamide, Dorzolamide, Deferasirox, Donepezil, Entacapone, and Salmeterol.

Key highlights of FY 2024

- ▶ Increased demand of specialty APIs such as Paliperidone, Dorzolamide and Ezetimibe
- ▶ Maintaining a robust pipeline with the Company poised to file Difelikefalin DMF this year

Opportunities

- Neuland Laboratories Limited has numerous strategic opportunities to increase its market presence and drive growth.
- Focusing on increasing the wallet share with existing clients to strengthen relationships and adapt product offerings to their evolving needs.
- Prioritising regulated markets and quality-conscious customers, ensuring compliance with strict regulations to enhance credibility and market competitiveness. Identifying primary sourcing opportunities early to secure business ahead of competitors and exploring line extensions to expand the product portfolio and enter new market segments.

Custom Manufacturing Solutions (CMS)

Under Custom Manufacturing Solutions (CMS), the Company provides customised small molecule API development and manufacturing support to help customers bring their innovations to the market. The customer profile comprises innovator pharmaceutical and biotech companies. While being a high-margin vertical, CMS is also characterised by variances in performance in the short term due to the inherent nature of the business.

The Company's fast-growing CMS vertical is supported by its robust infrastructure that meets leading regulatory, environmental and safety requirements and its strong domain expertise in complex chemical processes and manufacturing. It offers a range of chemistry services from pre-IND (Investigational New Drug) through to the manufacturing of small-scale clinical trial batches and commercial supplies with minimal technology transfer timelines.

The Company is emerging as an important player in the small molecule CDMO industry on the back of its reliable solutions for API development and manufacturing. The services encompass designing and developing manufacturing processes; process optimisation for competitiveness; cGMP manufacturing of APIs and intermediates; filing of CMC (Chemistry, Manufacturing and Controls) documentation/DMF for the API; and solid-state and pre-formulation technologies, thereby enabling the Company to serve as a complete partner to its customers.

The Company leverages its rich experience of handling complex reactions to transfer the processes from small-scale through validation to commercial manufacturing. Additionally, the Company follows a consultative approach for maintaining longstanding and enduring customer relationships.

Saliency of the Segment Revenue

CMS

The presence of dedicated local teams across the globe along with the support rendered by technical and commercial employees, helps the Company to expedite the development-to-market timelines for its customers.

R&D and Manufacturing of Products in the Pipeline

Under this segment, the Company generates revenues by undertaking process chemistry, analytical R&D and lab-scale work and manufacturing operations for molecules that are in the clinical pipeline. These projects are usually high on margins but have a lower probability of repeat business. The highly collaborative manner of working with customers and the strong trust build during the development stage strengthens the Company's proposition as a commercial partner when the drug receives regulatory approval. This segment contributes to the uneven nature of the business as there is high attrition of molecules in clinical trials as well as variability in timelines based on the indications and data from the trials. The development revenues are a healthy indicator of the CMS business health as increase in revenues imply either increasing number of projects or molecules close to commercialisation.

Commercial Manufacturing

Under this segment, the Company manufactures intermediates and APIs for commercial novel molecules, covered under patent protection. Commercial manufacturing is a recurring revenue driver for the Company as it is among the few approved suppliers for products that have attained commercialisation status. Scale in such projects is, however, dependent upon the success of the commercialised drugs. The Company has a healthy portfolio of late-stage development projects that are likely to transition to commercial manufacturing contracts in the near future. This will further enhance long-term revenue visibility and predictability.

Key highlights of FY 2024

- ▶ Strong portfolio of commercial and close to commercialisation products with patent life beyond 2030
- ▶ Several molecules have progress through the clinical pipeline
- ▶ Multiple new projects added across the clinical lifecycle
- ▶ Increasing number of projects from customers with multiple drugs in the pipeline
- ▶ Efficient technology transfers at all stages of drug lifecycle and scaleup

Prospects

The Company's aim to strengthen its CMS business by leveraging advanced technologies, robust research and development capabilities and sustained customer relationships, is reflected by the rising revenues in the CMS vertical. The Company strives to maintain a healthy mix of Phase III and early development projects to ensure consistent and de-risked revenue generation.

Our goal is for all suppliers to commit to this code of conduct. Additionally, we encourage our suppliers to obtain valid ISO 9001, ISO 14001, and ISO 45001 certifications.

3. Describe the processes in place to safely reclaim your products for reusing, recycling, and disposing at the end of life, for (a) Plastics (including packaging) (b) E-waste (c) Hazardous waste and (d) other waste.

We have established the standard operating procedure for Hazardous, Non-Hazardous waste and general waste Management is in place.

Hazardous Waste Management:

Our company generates various types of hazardous waste, including evaporation salt, process salt, spent carbon, ETP sludge, insulation waste, spent mixed solvents, used oil, and PPE. Non-hazardous waste includes plastic, paper, glass, and empty drums, which are responsibly managed through recycling or co-processing with approved recyclers.

Hazardous waste management strictly follows the Hazardous Waste Management Rules of 2016. We ensure proper collection and containment using MS drums or double-layer polythene bags, clearly labelled for identification. Only trained personnel handle hazardous waste to maintain safety and control.

We employ co-processing in cement kilns as an environmentally sustainable option for disposing of various wastes, including hazardous ones. This method not only destroys the waste at high temperatures (up to 1450°C) but also incorporates the inorganic content into the clinker, leaving no residues. Co-processing also neutralizes acidic gases within the kiln’s alkaline environment and reduces the need for non-renewable resources like coal and limestone.

Our waste management system aims to achieve zero waste in landfills by maximizing reuse and recycling. In FY23, we successfully eliminated landfill waste, redirecting 100% of it towards co-processing and recycling initiatives. The co-processed waste is effectively utilized as fuel in cement kilns.

E-Waste Management:

Managing e-waste responsibly is crucial due to its hazardous nature and potential environmental and health risks. Our measures include:

E-Waste Collection Programs: Implementing collection programs within our facilities to ensure proper disposal of obsolete or broken electronic equipment.

E-Waste Recycling: Partnering with certified e-waste recycling facilities to dismantle devices, separate components, and safely dispose of hazardous substances.

Reuse and Refurbishment: Refurbishing and reusing functional electronic equipment within the organization.

Proper Disposal of Hazardous Materials: Safely disposing of hazardous materials like lead, mercury, cadmium, and brominated flame retardants in compliance with regulations.

Compliance with E-Waste Regulations: Adhering to local and international e-waste regulations, including collection, recycling, disposal, and reporting requirements.

Vendor Selection and Due Diligence: Carefully selecting and vetting e-waste recycling vendors to ensure they meet environmental and safety standards.

Employee Training and Awareness: Educating employees on proper e-waste disposal and its environmental and health impacts.

E-Waste Reporting and Tracking: Maintaining records of e-waste generated, collected, and disposed of for compliance and reporting purposes.

Plastic and Other Waste Management:

We have established recycling programs to capture and recycle materials such as plastic, paper, glass, and metals. Additionally, we invest in resource recovery technologies to extract value from waste streams through processes such as composting, anaerobic digestion, and material recovery.

By implementing these measures, we ensure responsible e-waste management, minimize environmental and health risks, and contribute to the circular economy by promoting the reuse and recycling of electronic materials.

4. Whether Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) is applicable to the entity’s activities (Yes / No). If yes, whether the waste collection plan is in line with the Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) plan submitted to Pollution Control Boards? If not, provide steps taken to address the same.

10. Briefly describe the waste management practices adopted in your establishments. Describe the strategy adopted by your company to reduce usage of hazardous and toxic chemicals in your products and processes and the practices adopted to manage such wastes.

Our company has implemented a comprehensive standard operating procedure for the management of hazardous, non-hazardous, and general waste. Hazardous waste, including various materials such as evaporation salt, process salt, spent carbon, and others, is managed in strict compliance with the Hazardous Waste Management Rules of 2016. We employ proper collection and containment methods, utilizing MS drums or double-layer polythene bags labeled for identification, and only trained personnel handle hazardous waste to ensure safety and control. Co-processing in cement kilns is utilized as an environmentally sustainable option for disposing of hazardous waste, effectively reducing landfill usage and maximizing reuse and recycling efforts. In FY23, we successfully diverted all landfill waste towards co-processing and recycling initiatives, contributing to our goal of achieving zero waste in landfills.

Additionally, our company prioritizes responsible e-waste management through various measures, including e-waste collection programs, recycling partnerships, employee training, and compliance with regulations. We also have established recycling programs for plastic, paper, glass, and metals, alongside investing in resource recovery technologies to extract value from waste streams. These initiatives collectively ensure environmentally responsible waste management practices while contributing to the circular economy and minimizing environmental and health risks associated with waste disposal.

All waste management practices are firmly established within our organization, guided by the principle of "wealth from waste," with the overarching aim of achieving zero waste in landfills while maximizing reuse and recycling. Our strategy ensures that all co-processing waste is directed to the cement industry for utilization as fuel in kilns. Hazardous waste generated in our processes, such as Evaporation Salt, Process Salt, Spent Carbon, and others, is meticulously managed, while non-hazardous waste, including plastic, paper, glass, and empty drums, undergoes recycling or co-processing. We collaborate with approved recyclers for the disposal of various waste types, including plastic, paper, glass, waste oil, and E-waste. Biomedical waste is appropriately handled through incineration.

4. If the entity has undertaken any specific initiatives or used innovative technology or solutions to improve resource efficiency, or reduce impact due to emissions / effluent discharge / waste generated, please provide details of the same as well as outcome of such initiatives, as per the following format:

Our environmental initiatives are at the core of our operations, driven by a commitment to sustainability and responsible resource management. We prioritize waste management practices guided by the principle of "wealth from waste," aiming for zero waste in landfills while maximizing reuse and recycling efforts. Hazardous waste, including various materials like Evaporation Salt, Process Salt, and Spent Carbon, is carefully managed, while non-hazardous waste undergoes recycling or co-processing. We collaborate with approved recyclers for responsible disposal, ensuring compliance with regulations and environmental standards.

Furthermore, we implement a Zero Liquid Discharge (ZLD) mechanism across all our facilities, ensuring that wastewater generated undergoes treatment and is reused in utility harvesting processes. This approach not only minimizes our environmental footprint but also promotes efficient resource utilization.

In addition to waste management, our environmental initiatives encompass energy efficiency improvements, decarbonization of industry, afforestation and reforestation efforts, and public awareness and education campaigns. Through these measures, we strive to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, conserve natural resources, and mitigate environmental impacts.

As part of this strategy, we developed an alternate Indian supplier for a key starting material for one of our beta-blocker drugs, in addition to our original Chinese vendor. This initiative resulted in a significant cost reduction due to the price decrease and process improvements by the Indian supplier. Additionally, this effort significantly reduced carbon emissions.

7. Percentage of value chain partners (by value of business done with such partners) that were assessed for environmental impacts.

TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON EVEN DATE ON THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF NEULAND LABORATORIES LIMITED

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3) (i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management and Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management and Board of Director's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2024, and are therefore, the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The Company is engaged in manufacturing and selling of bulk drugs and caters to both domestic and international markets.

1. Basis of preparation of standalone financial statements

Statement of Compliance with Ind AS

These standalone financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") as notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act 2013 ("the Act") read with Rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules 2015, as amended, issued by the Ministry of Corporate Affairs ('MCA').

Accounting policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use. These standalone financial statements have been prepared for the Company as a going concern on the basis of relevant Ind AS that are effective at the Company's annual reporting date March 31, 2024.

These standalone financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost convention and on an accrual basis except for the following material items in the balance sheet:

- Certain financial assets and liabilities which are measured at fair value;
- Net defined benefit assets / (liability) are measured at fair value of plan assets, less present value of defined benefit obligations.

(i) Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of standalone financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the standalone financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Accounting estimates could change from period to period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Appropriate changes in estimates are made as management becomes aware of changes in circumstances surrounding the estimates. Changes in estimates are reflected in the standalone financial statements in the period in which changes are made and in any future periods affected.

Information about significant areas of estimation uncertainty and critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the standalone financial statements is included in the following notes:

- Note (c), (e), (f) and (g) - Useful lives of property, plant and equipment, investment properties, goodwill and other intangible assets;
- Note (h) - Impairment;
- Note (i) - Financial instruments;
- Note (o) - Employee benefits;
- Note (s) - Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets; and
- Note (q) - Income taxes

(ii) Summary of material accounting policies

The standalone financial statements have been prepared using the accounting policies and measurement basis summarized below.

a. Functional currency

The standalone financial statements are presented in Indian Rupee ('INR' or '₹') which is also the functional and presentation currency of the Company. All financial information presented in Indian rupees has been rounded to the nearest lakhs, unless otherwise stated.

b. Current and non-current classification

All the assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Company's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in the Division II – Ind AS Schedule III to the Act.

Based on nature of product and activities of the Company and their realisation in cash and cash equivalent, the Company has determined its operating cycle as twelve months for the purpose of current and non-current classification of assets and liabilities.

Notes forming part of the Standalone Financial Statements

c. Property, plant and equipment (PPE)

Items of PPE are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. The cost comprises purchase price, taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from tax authorities), borrowing cost if capitalisation criteria are met and directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use, and estimated costs of dismantling and removing the item and restoring the site on which it is located.

Subsequent costs are included in asset's carrying amount or recognised as separate assets, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefit associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of item can be measured reliably. If significant parts of an item of PPE have different useful lives, then they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of PPE.

An item of PPE and any significant part initially recognised is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the income statement when the asset is derecognised.

Advances paid towards the acquisition of PPE outstanding at each balance sheet date is classified as capital advances. Capital work-in-progress includes cost of property, plant and equipment under installation / under development as at the balance sheet date.

Depreciation on PPE is calculated on pro-rata basis on straight-line method using the useful lives of the assets estimated by management. The useful life is as follows:

Asset	Useful Life (in years)
Buildings	25 & 30
Plant and equipment	7 to 20
Office equipment	2 to 5
Furniture and fixtures	2 to 10
Vehicles	4 & 8
Computers	3 & 6

Depreciation on additions / disposals is provided on a pro-rata basis i.e. from / upto the date on which asset is ready for use / disposed-off.

The useful lives are based on historical experience with similar assets as well as anticipation of future events. The residual values are not more than 5% of the original cost of the assets. The residual values, useful lives and method of depreciation of are reviewed at each financial year-end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

d. Leases :

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

Company as a lessee

The Company accounts for each lease component within the contract as a lease separately from non-lease components of the contract and allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative standalone price of the lease component and the aggregate standalone price of the non-lease components.

The Company recognises right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset for the lease term at the lease commencement date. The cost of the right-of-use asset measured at inception shall comprise of the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to be incurred by the lessee in dismantling and removing the underlying asset or restoring the underlying asset or site on which it is located. The right-of-use assets is subsequently measured at cost less any accumulated depreciation, accumulated impairment losses, if any and adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liability. The right-of-use assets is depreciated using the straightline method from the commencement date over the shorter of lease term or useful life of right-of-use asset. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property, plant and equipment. Right-of-use assets are tested for impairment whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. Impairment loss, if any, is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

The Company measures the lease liability at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date of the lease. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease, if that rate can be readily determined. If that rate cannot be readily determined, the Company uses incremental borrowing rate. For leases with reasonably similar characteristics, the Company, on a lease by lease basis, may adopt either the incremental borrowing rate specific to the lease or the incremental borrowing rate for the portfolio as a whole. The lease payments shall include fixed payments, variable lease payments, residual value guarantees, exercise price of a purchase option where the Company is reasonably certain to exercise that option and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the lessee exercising an option to terminate the lease. The lease liability is subsequently remeasured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability, reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made and remeasuring the carrying amount to reflect any reassessment or lease modifications or to reflect revised in-substance fixed lease payments. The Company recognises the amount of the re-measurement of lease liability due to modification as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset and statement of profit and loss depending upon the nature of modification. Where the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset is reduced to zero and there is a further reduction in the measurement of the lease liability, the Company recognises any remaining amount of the re-measurement in statement of profit and loss.

The Company has elected not to apply the requirements of Ind AS 116 Leases to short-term leases of all assets that have a lease term of 12 months or less and leases for which the underlying asset is of low value. The lease payments associated with these leases are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

e. Investment properties

Property that is held for long term rental yields or for capital appreciation or for both, and that is not occupied by the Company, is classified as investment property. Investment properties are initially measured at cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss, if any. When the use of a property changes from owner occupied to investment property, the property is reclassified as investment property at its carrying amount on the date of reclassification.

The useful life of investment property is estimated at 60 yrs based on technical evaluation performed by management's expert.

f. Goodwill

Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred over the fair value of net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. If the fair value of the net assets acquired is in excess of the aggregate consideration transferred, the Company reassesses whether it has correctly identified all of the assets acquired and all of the liabilities assumed and reviews the procedures used to measure the amounts to be recognised at the acquisition date. If the reassessment still results in an excess of the fair value of net assets acquired over the aggregate consideration transferred, then the gain is recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity as capital reserve. However, if there is no clear evidence of bargain purchase, the entity recognizes the gain directly in equity as capital reserve, without routing the same through other comprehensive income.

After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Company's cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the acquiree are assigned to those units.

A cash generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually, or more frequently when there is an indication that the unit may be impaired. If the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit and then to the other assets of the unit pro rata based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognised in profit or loss. An impairment loss recognised for goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods.

Where goodwill has been allocated to a cash generating unit and part of the operation within that unit is disposed of, the goodwill associated with the disposed operation is included in the carrying amount of the operation when determining the gain or loss on disposal. Goodwill disposed in these circumstances is measured based on the relative values of the disposed operation and the portion of the cash-generating unit retained.

g. Other intangible assets

Other intangible assets are stated at cost of acquisition less accumulated amortization and impairment loss, if any. These are derecognised upon disposal (i.e., at the date the recipient obtains control) or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from disposal of the intangible assets are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in the statement of profit and loss when the assets are disposed off.

Intangible assets are amortized over their useful economic lives and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The other intangible assets comprise of computer software expenditure and are amortized over a period of three years. The amortization period and the amortization method for an intangible asset is reviewed at least at the end of each reporting period. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits embodied in the asset is accounted for by changing the amortization period or method, as appropriate, and are treated as changes in accounting estimates.

h. Impairment

Impairment of non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of the Company's PPE and intangible assets are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any.

The recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset or the cash-generating unit for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted. For the purpose of impairment testing, assets are grouped together into the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or groups of assets.

An impairment loss is recognised in the statement of profit or loss if the estimated recoverable amount of an asset or its cash generating unit is lower than its carrying amount. If, at the reporting date there is an indication that a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been previously recognised.

Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company applies expected credit loss ("ECL") model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on financial assets measured at amortised cost.

Loss allowance for trade receivables with no significant financing component is measured at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses. For all other financial assets, ECL are measured at an amount equal to the 12-month ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition in which case those are measured at lifetime ECL.

Loss allowance for financial assets measured at amortised cost are deducted from gross carrying amount of the assets.

i. Financial instruments

Initial Recognition and measurement

Trade receivables are initially recognised when they are originated. All other financial assets and financial liabilities are initially recognised when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

A financial asset or financial liability is initially measured at fair value and, for an item not at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL), transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition or issue.

Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial assets

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at

- amortised cost;
- fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVTOCI") – debt investment;
- FVTOCI – equity investment; or
- FVTPL

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the Company changes its business model for managing financial assets.

Amortised cost

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in Other Income in the statement of profit or loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

FVTOCI – debt investment

A debt investment is measured at FVTOCI if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Debt instruments included within the FVTOCI category are measured initially as well as at each reporting date at fair value. Fair value movements are recognised in the other comprehensive income (OCI). However, the Company recognises interest income, impairment losses & reversals and foreign exchange gain or loss in the statement of profit or loss. On derecognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from the equity to statement of profit or loss. Interest earned whilst holding FVTOCI debt instrument is reported as interest income using the EIR method

Equity investment

On initial recognition of an equity investment that is not held for trading, the Company may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in the investment's fair value in OCI (designated as FVTOCI – equity investment). This election is made on an investment by- investment basis.

If the Company decides to classify an equity instrument as at FVTOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, including foreign exchange gain or loss and excluding dividends, are recognised in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to profit or loss, even on sale of investment. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity. Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

FVTPL

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortised cost as described above are measured at FVTPL. This includes all derivative financial assets. On initial recognition, the Company may irrevocably designate a financial asset that otherwise meets the requirements to be measured at amortised cost or at FVTOCI as at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at amortised cost or FVTPL. A financial liability is classified as at FVTPL if it is classified as held- for- trading, or it is a derivative or it is designated as such on initial recognition. Financial liabilities at FVTPL are measured at fair value and net gains and losses, including any interest expense, are recognised in statement of profit or loss. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognised in statement of profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is also recognised in statement of profit or loss.

De-recognition

Financial assets

A financial asset is primarily de-recognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired or the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset.

Financial liabilities

A financial liability is de-recognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the de-recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Derivative financial instruments and hedge accounting

The Company uses derivative financial instruments such as forward exchange contracts and interest rate risk exposures to hedge its risk associated with foreign currency fluctuations and changes in interest rates. Derivatives are initially measured at fair value and subsequent to initial recognition, derivatives are measured at fair value, and changes therein are generally recognised in statement of profit or loss, since the Company's hedging instruments did not qualify for hedge accounting in accordance with the Ind-AS 39. Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. For the purpose of presentation in the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, cash at banks, deposit held at call with financial institutions, other short - term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Dividend distribution to equity holders of the Company

The Company recognises a liability to make dividend distributions to equity holders of the Company when the distribution is authorised and the distribution is no longer at the discretion of the Company. As per the corporate laws in India, a distribution is authorised when it is approved by the shareholders. A corresponding amount is recognised directly in equity.

j. Inventories

Basis of valuation:

Inventories consist of raw materials, stores and spares, work-in-progress and finished goods are measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value. The cost of all categories of inventories is based on the weighted average method. Cost includes expenditures incurred in acquiring the inventories, production or conversion costs and other costs incurred in bringing them to their existing location and condition. In the case of finished goods and work-in-progress, cost includes an appropriate share of overheads based on normal operating capacity. Stores and spares, that do not qualify to be recognised as property, plant and equipment, consists of engineering spares (such as machinery spare parts) and consumables or consumed as indirect materials in the manufacturing process.

Method of Valuation:

The Cost of raw materials, stores and consumables has been determined by using weighted average cost method and comprises all costs of purchase, duties, taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from tax authorities) and all other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

The Cost of finished goods and work-in-progress includes direct labour and an appropriate share of fixed and variable production overheads and excise duty as applicable. Fixed production overheads are allocated on the basis of normal capacity of production facilities. Cost is determined on weighted average basis.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and selling expenses.

k. Foreign currency transactions

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated to the functional currency of the Company at exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the reporting period are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate at that date. Non-monetary items denominated in foreign currencies which are carried at historical cost are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction; and non-monetary items which are carried at fair value or any other similar valuation denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was measured.

Exchange differences arising on monetary items on settlement, or restatement as at reporting date, at rates different from those at which they were initially recorded, are recognized in the statement of profit and loss in the year in which they arise

l. Investments in the nature of equity in subsidiaries

The Company has elected to recognise its investments in equity instruments in subsidiaries at cost in the separate financial statements in accordance with the option available in Ind AS 27, 'Separate Financial Statements'. The Company regardless of the nature of its involvement with an entity (the investee), determines whether it is a parent by assessing whether it controls the investee. The Company controls an investee when it is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee. Thus, the Company controls an investee if and only if it has all the following:

- (a) power over the investee;
- (b) exposure, or rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and
- (c) the ability to use its power over the investee to affect the amount of the returns.

Investments are accounted in accordance with Ind AS 105 when they are classified as held for sale. On disposal of investment, the difference between its carrying amount and net disposal proceeds is charged or credited to the statement of profit and loss

m. Revenue recognition

Revenue from contract with customers

The Company derives revenues primarily from sale of active pharmaceutical ingredients and contract research services. Revenue is recognized on satisfaction of performance obligation upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration the Company expects to receive in exchange for those products or services.

The Company satisfies a performance obligation and recognises revenue over time, if one of the following criteria is met:

- i. the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Company's performance as the Company performs; or
- ii. the Company's performance creates or enhances an asset that the customer controls as the asset is created or enhanced; or
- iii. the Company's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Company and an entity has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

In respect of contracts involving bill-and-hold arrangements, the Company determines whether the control of the underlying products have been transferred to the customer. For the purpose of determining whether such control is transferred, the entity considers the following requirements as required by Ind AS 115:

- i. The reason for the bill-and-hold arrangement is substantive (i.e. the physical possession with the entity is pursuant to the customer's explicit request);
- ii. The product is separately identified as belonging to the customer;

- iii. The product is ready for physical transfer to the customer; and
- iv. The entity does not have the ability to use the product or to direct it to another customer.

The Company recognizes revenue in respect of bill-and-hold arrangements only when all of the aforementioned requirements are met. Further, at the time of such recognition, the entity also determines whether there are any material unsatisfied performance obligations and determines the portion of the aggregate consideration, if any, that needs to be allocated and deferred.

The Company does not expect to have any contracts where the period between the transfer of the promised goods or services to the customer and payment by the customer exceeds one year. As a consequence, it does not adjust any of the transaction prices for the time value of money.

Other operating revenue - Export incentives

Other income - Interest income

Interest income is recognized on time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and rate applicable. For all debt instruments measured either at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income, interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR). EIR is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, where appropriate, to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset or to the amortised cost of a financial liability. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Company estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument (for example, prepayment, extension, call and similar options) but does not consider the expected credit losses.

Other income - Dividend income

Dividend income is recognised when the Company's right to receive the payment is established, which is generally, when shareholders approve the dividend.

n. Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs are interest and other costs (including exchange differences relating to foreign currency borrowings to the extent that they are regarded as an adjustment to interest costs) incurred in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing costs directly attributable to acquisition or construction of an asset which necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use are capitalised as part of the cost of that asset. Other borrowing costs are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

o. Retirement and other employee benefits

Defined contribution plan

The Company's contributions to defined contribution plans are recognised as an expense as and when the services are received from the employees entitling them to the contributions.

Defined benefit plan

The liability in respect of defined benefit plans is calculated using the projected unit credit method with actuarial valuations being carried out at the end of each annual reporting period. The Company recognises the net obligation of a defined benefit plan as a liability in its balance sheet. Gains or losses through remeasurement of the net defined benefit liability are recognised in other comprehensive income and are not reclassified to profit and loss in the subsequent periods. The effect of any plan amendments are recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

p. Taxes

Tax expense recognized in statement of profit or loss consists of current and deferred tax except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in OCI or directly in equity, in which case it is recognised in OCI or directly in equity respectively.

Current income tax, assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be paid to or recovered from the taxation authorities in accordance with the Income Tax Act, 1961 and the Income Computation and Disclosure Standards (ICDS) enacted in India by using tax rates and the tax laws that are enacted at the reporting date. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the Company has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements. Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to be applied to the temporary differences when they reverse, based on the laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if there is a legally enforceable right to set off corresponding current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on the Company.

A deferred tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary difference can be utilised. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised. Withholding tax arising out of payment of dividends to shareholders under the Indian Income tax regulations is not considered as tax expense for the Company and all such taxes are recognised in the statement of changes in equity as part of the associated dividend payment.

q. Research and development expense

understanding is recognized as expense when incurred. Development activities involve a plan or design for the production of new or substantially improved products and processes. Development expenditure is capitalized only if:

- The product or the process is technically and commercially feasible;
- Future economic benefits are probable and ascertainable;
- The Company intends to and has sufficient resources, technical and financial, to complete development of the product and has the ability to use or sell the asset; and
- Development costs can be measured reliably.

Where the aforementioned criteria are not met, the expenditure is transferred to statement of profit and loss.

r. Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets

Provisions are recognized only when there is a present obligation, as a result of past events, and when a reliable estimate of the amount of obligation can be made at the reporting date. These estimates are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Provisions are discounted to their present values, where the time value of money is material.

Contingent liability is disclosed for:

- Possible obligations which will be confirmed only by future events not wholly within the control of the Company; or
- Present obligations arising from past events where it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation cannot be made.

Contingent assets are neither recognized nor disclosed. However, when realization of income is virtually certain, related asset is recognized.

(iii) Standards (including amendments) issued but not yet effective

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standards or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. For the year ended March 31, 2024, MCA has not notified any new standards or amendments to the existing standards applicable to the Company.

Salary escalation rate	7.00%	7.00%
Demographic assumptions
Mortality rate as per Indian Assured Lives Mortality 2012-14 table

(vii) Sensitivity Analysis

Projected defined benefit obligation	1,999.25	1,763.63
Discount rate + 100 basis points	1,925.75	1,698.53
Discount rate - 100 basis points	2,078.96	1,834.20
Salary increase rate + 100 basis points	2,074.90	1,832.63
Salary increase rate - 100 basis points	1,925.20	1,696.80

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligation as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the defined benefit obligation has been calculated using the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same as that applied in calculating the defined benefit obligation liability recognised in the balance sheet.

There was no change in the methods and assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis from prior years. There has been no change in the process used by the Company to manage its risks from prior periods.

31. Fair value measurements

(i) Fair value hierarchy

Financial assets and financial liabilities measured at fair value in the Balance Sheet are grouped into three levels of a fair value hierarchy. The three levels are defined based on the observability of significant inputs to the measurement, as follows:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for financial instruments.

Level 2: The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined using valuation techniques which maximise the use of observable market data either directly or indirectly.

Level 3: If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3.

The Company's principal financial assets comprise of loans, trade and other receivables, cash and cash equivalents and other bank balances derived directly from its operations.

- (iv) The carrying amounts of trade receivables, trade payables and cash and cash equivalents are considered to be the same as their fair values, due to their short-term nature. Difference between carrying amounts and fair values of bank deposits, other financial assets, other financial liabilities and borrowings subsequently measured at amortised cost is not significant in each of the years presented. For all other amortised cost instruments, carrying value represents the best estimate of fair value.

32. Financial instruments risk management

The Company is exposed to various financial risks arising from its operations and the use of financial instruments. The key financial risks include market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's risk management policies are established to identify and analyse the risks faced by the Company and seek to, where appropriate, minimize potential impact of the risk and to control and monitor such risks. The Company's risk management is coordinated by the Board of Directors and focuses on securing long term and short term cash flows. The Company does not engage in trading of financial assets for speculative purposes.

The following sections provide details regarding the Company's exposure to the financial risks associated with financial instruments held in the ordinary course of business and the objectives, policies and processes for management of these risks.

A. Market risk:

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises two types of risk: interest rate risk and currency risk. Financial instruments affected by market risk include borrowings, deposits, trade receivables and other financial instruments.

The sensitivity analyses in the following sections relate to the position as at March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023. The analysis exclude the impact of movements in market variables on the carrying values of gratuity and other post retirement obligations; provisions; and non-financial assets and liabilities.

i. Interest rate risk:

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company has loan facilities on floating interest rate, which exposes the Company to risk of changes in interest rates. The management monitors the interest rate movement and manages the interest rate risk based on its policies, which include entering into interest rate swaps as considered necessary. The Company's investment in deposits with banks are for short durations and therefore do not expose the Company to significant interest rate risk. Below are the details of exposure to fixed rate and variable rate instruments:

Particulars	As at March 31, 2024	As at March 31, 2023
Fixed rate instruments
Financial assets	10,614.22	3,858.21
Financial liabilities	3,942.75	4,242.00
Variable rate instruments
Financial liabilities	4,307.95	7,908.99

Every 0.5% increase/decrease in the interest rate component applicable to the respective borrowings would effect the Company's net profit before tax resulting in an expense/income of ₹21.54 and ₹39.54 for the year ended March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023 respectively.

ii. Foreign currency risk:

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in foreign exchange rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of change in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to the Company's operating activities (when revenue or expense is denominated in foreign currency) and financing activities (when borrowings are denominated in foreign currency), The foreign currencies in which these transactions are denominated are US Dollars, Euros, Japanese Yen, Great British Pound and Swiss Franc. The Company uses foreign exchange forward contracts to hedge its exposure in foreign currency risk.

EUR sensitivity
₹/EUR - Increase by 5%	14.92	(1.77)
₹/EUR - Decrease by 5%	(14.92)	1.77

iii. Equity price risk:

The Company's exposure to equity securities price risk arises from investments held by the Company and classified in the balance sheet as FVTOCI/FVTPL. An increase/(decrease) in fair value of investments by 10% shall impact the Company's equity and total comprehensive income by ₹12.79 (March 31, 2023: ₹5.25).

B. Credit risk

The Company is mainly exposed to the risk of its balances with the bankers and trade and other receivables. None of the Company's cash equivalents, other bank balances, loans and security deposits were past due or impaired as at March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023.

Greater than 180 days	288.28	17.64
	37,415.77	36,176.80

C. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they become due. The Company manages its liquidity risk by ensuring, as far as possible, that it will always have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when due, under both normal and stressed conditions, without incurring unacceptable losses or risk to the Company's reputation.

Management monitors rolling forecasts of the Company's liquidity position (comprising the undrawn borrowing facilities) and cash and cash equivalents on the basis of expected cash flows.

The recoverable amount of the above cash generating unit ("CGU") has been assessed using a value-in-use model. The recoverable value is computed based on the net present value of the projected post-tax cash flows plus a terminal value of the cash generating unit to which the goodwill is allocated. Initially a post-tax discount rate is applied to calculate the net present value of the post-tax cash flows. The cash flow projections include specific estimates for five years developed using internal forecasts and a terminal growth rate thereafter of 5%. The planning horizon reflects the assumptions for short-to-mid term market developments which are based on key assumptions such as margins, expected growth rates based on past experience, new product launches and management's expectations / extrapolation of normal increase / steady terminal growth rate. Discount rate reflects the current market assessment of the risks. The discount rate is estimated based on the weighted average cost of capital for the Company. Post-tax discount rates used were 14.35% for the year ended March 31, 2024. The management believes that any reasonable possible change in the key assumptions would not cause the aggregate carrying amount to exceed the aggregate recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit.

In accordance with the applicable provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961, the Company is required to use certain specified methods in assessing that the transactions with the subsidiaries, are carried at an arm's length price and is also required to maintain prescribed information and documents to support such assessment. The appropriate method to be adopted will depend on the nature of transactions / class of transactions, class of associated persons, functions performed and other factors as prescribed. Aggrieved by the order of the Income Tax department, the management had filed an appeal with the higher authorities which had been successfully decided in favour of the Company. The Income Tax department has however filed an appeal with the Hon'ble High Court of Telangana in this regard, which is pending final outcome. The Company has been named as one of the parties to the said public interest litigation and the case is currently pending for hearing at Hon'ble High Court of Telangana. Our Company has filed an application before the Collector, Medak District for regularization of the said land as per the applicable laws. Our Company also filed a writ petition before the High Court praying for an order not to take any coercive steps. The High Court vide its order dated March 18, 2011 directed the revenue department to not take any coercive steps till the disposal of the representation filed by our Company.

To the Members of Neuland Laboratories Limited

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Neuland Laboratories Limited (hereinafter referred to as the "Holding Company") and its subsidiaries (Holding Company and its subsidiaries together referred to as the "Group"), which comprise the Consolidated Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2024, the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss including Other Comprehensive Income, the Consolidated Statement of Changes in Equity and the Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows for the year then ended, and notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements, including material accounting policy information and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as the "consolidated financial statements").

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, and based on consideration of reports of other auditors on separate financial statements of subsidiaries, the aforesaid consolidated financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 (the "Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act read with Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended ("Ind AS") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of their consolidated state of affairs of the Group as at March 31, 2024, of consolidated profit including comprehensive income, consolidated changes in equity and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those SAs are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group, in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements in terms of the Code of Ethics issued by Institute of Chartered Accountant of India ("ICAI"), and the relevant provisions of the Act and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence, we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2024. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matter to be communicated in our report:

Impairment of Goodwill (Refer Note 37 of consolidated financial statements):

The goodwill balance as of March 31, 2024, of ₹ 27,946.10 lakh is pertaining to merger of Neuland Health Sciences Private Limited ("NHSPL") and Neuland Pharma Research Private Limited ("NPRPL") with the Company with appointed date of April 01, 2016.

As at March 31, 2024, Goodwill represents 15.25% of the Company's total assets and 21.79% of the Company's total shareholder's equity. The Company has tested goodwill for impairment on an annual basis as required by "IND AS 36 - Impairment of Asset". In determining the fair value/ value in use of business reporting units, the Company has applied judgment in estimating future revenues, operating profit margins, long-term growth rate and discount rates.

Due to significance of the above matter and involvement of the significant management judgement in estimation of fair value/ value in use, the assessment of recoverability of carrying value of goodwill is considered as key audit matter.

How the Key Audit Matter was addressed in our audit:

Our audit procedures in respect of this area included, but are not limited to, following:

1. Obtained an understanding from the management of the Group with respect to process followed and assessed the design, implementation and tested the operating effectiveness of internal controls over impairment testing related to goodwill;
2. Assessed the Group's internal controls over preparation of annual budgets and future forecasts for the business as a whole and the approach followed for annual impairment test and key assumptions applied; rates used in the forecast including comparison to economic data, industry report, data from competitors and historic performances wherever appropriate to compare and corroborate;

5. Compared the reasonableness of future operating cash flow forecasts with the business plan and budgets approved by the Board; and tested the mathematical accuracy of management's calculations;
6. Assessed the adequacy and appropriateness of the disclosures made in the Consolidated Financial Statements in compliance with the requirements of applicable Indian Accounting Standards and applicable financial reporting framework.

TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON EVEN DATE ON THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF NEULAND LABORATORIES LIMITED

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3) (i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Holding Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management and Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the management and Board of Directors use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Group to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the financial statements of such entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities included in the consolidated financial statements, which have been audited by other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company and such other entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2024, and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The Company is engaged in manufacturing and selling of bulk drugs and caters to both domestic and international markets.

2. Basis of preparation of consolidated financial statements

Statement of Compliance with Ind AS

The consolidated financial statements of the Company along with its subsidiaries (together referred to as "Group") have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") as notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act 2013 ("the Act") read with Rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules 2015, as amended, issued by the Ministry of Corporate Affairs ('MCA').

Accounting policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use. These consolidated financial statements have been prepared for the Group as a going concern on the basis of relevant Ind AS that are effective at the Group's annual reporting date March 31, 2024.

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost convention and on an accrual basis except for the following material items in the balance sheet:

- Certain financial assets and liabilities which are measured at fair value;
- Net defined benefit assets / (liability) are measured at fair value of plan assets, less present value of defined benefit obligations.

Principles of consolidation

Subsidiary

Subsidiary is entity (including structured entity) over which the Group has control. The Group controls an entity when the Group is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power to direct the relevant activities of the entity. Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the Group. They are deconsolidated from the date that control ceases.

Transactions eliminated on consolidation

Intra-group balances and transactions, and any unrealized income and expenses arising from intra-group transactions, are eliminated in full while preparing these consolidated financial statements.

The following subsidiaries have been considered for the purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statements:

Name of the subsidiary	Country of Incorporation	Percentage holding/ interest (%)
		2024	2023
Neuland Laboratories Inc.	United States of America	100	100
Neuland Laboratories K.K	Japan	100	100

Principal activity of the subsidiary is providing marketing support services to Neuland Laboratories Limited (Parent Company).

(i) Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Accounting estimates could change from period to period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Appropriate changes in estimates are made as management becomes aware of changes in circumstances surrounding the estimates. Changes in estimates are reflected in the consolidated financial statements in the period in which changes are made and in any future periods affected.

Information about significant areas of estimation uncertainty and critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements is included in the following notes:

- Note (c), (e), (f) and (g) - Useful lives of property, plant and equipment, investment properties, goodwill and other intangible assets;

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

- Note (h) - Impairment;
- Note (i) - Financial instruments;
- Note (n) - Employee benefits;
- Note (r) - Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets; and
- Note (p) - Income taxes

(ii) Summary of material accounting policies

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared using the accounting policies and measurement basis summarized below.

a. Functional currency

The consolidated financial statements are presented in Indian Rupee ('INR' or '₹') which is also the functional and presentation currency of the Group. All financial information presented in Indian rupees has been rounded to the nearest lakhs, unless otherwise stated.

b. Current and non-current classification

All the assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Group's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in the Division II – Ind AS Schedule III to the Act.

Based on nature of product and activities of the Group and their realisation in cash and cash equivalent, the Group has determined its operating cycle as twelve months for the purpose of current and non-current classification of assets and liabilities.

c. Property, plant and equipment (PPE)

Items of PPE are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. The cost comprises purchase price, taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from tax authorities), borrowing cost if capitalization criteria are met and directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use, and estimated costs of dismantling and removing the item and restoring the site on which it is located.

Subsequent costs are included in asset's carrying amount or recognised as separate assets, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefit associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of item can be measured reliably. If significant parts of an item of PPE have different useful lives, then they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of PPE.

An item of PPE and any significant part initially recognised is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the income statement when the asset is derecognised.

Advances paid towards the acquisition of PPE outstanding at each balance sheet date is classified as capital advances. Capital work- in- progress includes cost of PPE under installation / under development as at the balance sheet date.

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is calculated on pro-rata basis on straight-line method using the useful lives of the assets estimated by management. The useful life is as follows:

Asset	Useful Life (in years)
Buildings	25 & 30
Plant and equipment	7 to 20
Office equipment	2 to 5
Furniture and fixtures	2 to 10
Vehicles	4 & 8
Computers	3 & 6

Depreciation on additions / disposals is provided on a pro-rata basis i.e. from / upto the date on which asset is ready for use / disposed-off.

The useful lives are based on historical experience with similar assets as well as anticipation of future events. The residual values are not more than 5% of the original cost of the assets. The residual values, useful lives and method of depreciation of are reviewed at each financial year-end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

d. Leases :

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Group as a lessee

The Group accounts for each lease component within the contract as a lease separately from non-lease components of the contract and allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative standalone price of the lease component and the aggregate standalone price of the non-lease components.

The Group recognises right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset for the lease term at the lease commencement date. The cost of the right-of-use asset measured at inception shall comprise of the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to be incurred by the lessee in dismantling and removing the underlying asset or restoring the underlying asset or site on which it is located. The right-of-use assets is subsequently measured at cost less any accumulated depreciation, accumulated impairment losses, if any and adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liability. The right-of-use assets is depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date over the shorter of lease term or useful life of right-of-use asset. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property, plant and equipment. Right-of-use assets are tested for impairment whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. Impairment loss, if any, is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

The Group measures the lease liability at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date of the lease. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease, if that rate can be readily determined. If that rate cannot be readily determined, the Group uses incremental borrowing rate. For leases with reasonably similar characteristics, the Group, on a lease by lease basis, may adopt either the incremental borrowing rate specific to the lease or the incremental borrowing rate for the portfolio as a whole. The lease payments shall include fixed payments, variable lease payments, residual value guarantees, exercise price of a purchase option where the Group is reasonably certain to exercise that option and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the lessee exercising an option to terminate the lease. The lease liability is subsequently remeasured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability, reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made and remeasuring the carrying amount to reflect any reassessment or lease modifications or to reflect revised in-substance fixed lease payments. The Group recognises the amount of the re-measurement of lease liability due to modification as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset and statement of profit and loss depending upon the nature of modification. Where the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset is reduced to zero and there is a further reduction in the measurement of the lease liability, the Group recognises any remaining amount of the re-measurement in statement of profit and loss.

The Group has elected not to apply the requirements of Ind AS 116 Leases to short-term leases of all assets that have a lease term of 12 months or less and leases for which the underlying asset is of low value. The lease payments associated with these leases are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

e. Investment properties

Property that is held for long term rental yields or for capital appreciation or for both, and that is not occupied by the Group, is classified as investment property. Investment properties are initially measured at cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss, if any. When the use of a property changes from owner occupied to investment property, the property is reclassified as investment property at its carrying amount on the date of reclassification.

The useful life of investment property is estimated at 60yrs based on technical evaluation performed by management's expert.

f. Goodwill

Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred over the fair value of net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. If the fair value of the net assets acquired is in excess of the aggregate consideration transferred, the Group re-assesses whether it has correctly identified all of the assets acquired and all of the liabilities assumed and reviews the procedures used to measure the amounts to be recognised at the acquisition date. If the reassessment still results in an excess of the fair value of net assets acquired over the aggregate consideration transferred, then the gain is recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity as capital reserve. However, if there is no clear evidence of bargain purchase, the entity recognizes the gain directly in equity as capital reserve, without routing the same through other comprehensive income.

After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the acquiree are assigned to those units.

A cash generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually, or more frequently when there is an indication that the unit may be impaired. If the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit and then to the other assets of the unit pro rata based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognised in profit or loss. An impairment loss recognised for goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods.

Where goodwill has been allocated to a cash generating unit and part of the operation within that unit is disposed of, the goodwill associated with the disposed operation is included in the carrying amount of the operation when determining the gain or loss on disposal. Goodwill disposed in these circumstances is measured based on the relative values of the disposed operation and the portion of the cash-generating unit retained.

g. Other intangible assets

Other intangible assets are stated at cost of acquisition less accumulated amortization and impairment loss, if any. These are derecognised upon disposal (i.e., at the date the recipient obtains control) or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from disposal of the intangible assets are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in the statement of profit and loss when the assets are disposed off.

Intangible assets are amortized over their useful economic lives and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The other intangible assets comprise of computer software expenditure and are amortized over a period of three years. The amortization period and the amortization method for an intangible asset is reviewed at least at the end of each reporting period. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits embodied in the asset is accounted for by changing the amortization period or method, as appropriate, and are treated as changes in accounting estimates.

h. Impairment

Impairment of non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of the Group's PPE and intangible assets are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any.

The recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset or the cash-generating unit for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted. For the purpose of impairment testing, assets are grouped together into the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or groups of assets.

An impairment loss is recognised in the statement of profit or loss if the estimated recoverable amount of an asset or its cash generating unit is lower than its carrying amount. If, at the reporting date there is an indication that a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been previously recognised.

Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Group applies expected credit loss ("ECL") model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on financial assets measured at amortised cost.

Loss allowance for trade receivables with no significant financing component is measured at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses. For all other financial assets, ECL are measured at an amount equal to the 12-month ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition in which case those are measured at lifetime ECL.

Loss allowance for financial assets measured at amortised cost are deducted from gross carrying amount of the assets.

i. Financial instruments

Initial Recognition and measurement

Trade receivables are initially recognised when they are originated. All other financial assets and financial liabilities are initially recognised when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

A financial asset or financial liability is initially measured at fair value and, for an item not at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL), transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition or issue.

Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial assets

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at

- amortised cost;
- fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVTOCI") – debt investment;
- FVTOCI – equity investment; or
- FVTPL

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the Group changes its business model for managing financial assets.

Amortised cost

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in Other Income in the statement of profit or loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

FVTOCI – debt investment

A debt investment is measured at FVTOCI if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Debt instruments included within the FVTOCI category are measured initially as well as at each reporting date at fair value. Fair value movements are recognised in the other comprehensive income (OCI). However, the Group recognises interest income, impairment losses & reversals and foreign exchange gain or loss in the statement of profit or loss. On derecognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from the equity to statement of profit or loss. Interest earned whilst holding FVTOCI debt instrument is reported as interest income using the EIR method

Equity investment

On initial recognition of an equity investment that is not held for trading, the Group may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in the investment's fair value in OCI (designated as FVTOCI – equity investment). This election is made on an investment by-investment basis.

If the Group decides to classify an equity instrument as at FVTOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, including foreign exchange gain or loss and excluding dividends, are recognised in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to profit or loss, even on sale of investment. However, the Group may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity. Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

FVTPL

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortised cost as described above are measured at FVTPL. This includes all derivative financial assets. On initial recognition, the Group may irrevocably designate a financial asset that otherwise meets the requirements to be measured at amortised cost or at FVTOCI as at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at amortised cost or FVTPL. A financial liability is classified as at FVTPL if it is classified as held- for- trading, or it is a derivative or it is designated as such on initial recognition. Financial liabilities at FVTPL are measured at fair value and net gains and losses, including any interest expense, are recognised in statement of profit or loss. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognised in statement of profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is also recognised in statement of profit or loss.

De-recognition

Financial assets

A financial asset is primarily de-recognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired or the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset.

Financial liabilities

A financial liability is de-recognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the de-recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Derivative financial instruments and hedge accounting

The Group uses derivative financial instruments such as forward exchange contracts and interest rate risk exposures to hedge its risk associated with foreign currency fluctuations and changes in interest rates. Derivatives are initially measured at fair value and subsequent to initial recognition, derivatives are measured at fair value, and changes therein are generally recognised in statement of profit or loss, since the Group's hedging instruments did not qualify for hedge accounting in accordance with the Ind-AS 39. Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. For the purpose of presentation in the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, cash at banks, deposit held at call with financial institutions, other short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Other income - Dividend income

Dividend income is recognised when the Group's right to receive the payment is established, which is generally, when shareholders approve the dividend.

j. Inventories

Basis of valuation:

Inventories consist of raw materials, stores and spares, work-in-progress and finished goods are measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value. The cost of all categories of inventories is based on the weighted average method. Cost includes expenditures incurred in acquiring the inventories, production or conversion costs and other costs incurred in bringing them to their existing location and condition. In the case of finished goods and work-in-progress, cost includes an appropriate share of overheads based on normal operating capacity. Stores and spares, that do not qualify to be recognised as property, plant and equipment, consists of engineering spares (such as machinery spare parts) and consumables or consumed as indirect materials in the manufacturing process.

Method of Valuation:

The Cost of raw materials, stores and consumables has been determined by using weighted average cost method and comprises all costs of purchase, duties, taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from tax authorities) and all other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

The Cost of finished goods and work-in-progress includes direct labour and an appropriate share of fixed and variable production overheads and excise duty as applicable. Fixed production overheads are allocated on the basis of normal capacity of production facilities. Cost is determined on weighted average basis.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and selling expenses.

k. Foreign currency transactions

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated to the functional currency of the Group at exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the reporting period are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate at that date. Non-monetary items denominated in foreign currencies which are carried at historical cost are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction; and non-monetary items which are carried at fair value or any other similar valuation denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was measured.

Exchange differences arising on monetary items on settlement, or restatement as at reporting date, at rates different from those at which they were initially recorded, are recognized in the statement of profit and loss in the year in which they arise

I. Revenue recognition

Revenue from contract with customers

The Group derives revenues primarily from sale of active pharmaceutical ingredients and contract research services. Revenue is recognized on satisfaction of performance obligation upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration the Group expects to receive in exchange for those products or services.

The Group satisfies a performance obligation and recognises revenue over time, if one of the following criteria is met:

- i. the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Group's performance as the Group performs; or
- ii. the Group's performance creates or enhances an asset that the customer controls as the asset is created or enhanced; or
- iii. the Group's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and an Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

For performance obligations where one of the above conditions are not met, revenue is recognised at the point in time at which the performance obligation is satisfied.

Revenue in excess of invoicing are classified as contract asset while collections in excess of revenues are classified as contract liabilities.

In respect of contracts involving bill-and-hold arrangements, the Group determines whether the control of the underlying products have been transferred to the customer. For the purpose of determining whether such control is transferred, the entity considers the following requirements as required by Ind AS 115:

- i. The reason for the bill-and-hold arrangement is substantive (i.e. the physical possession with the entity is pursuant to the customer's explicit request);
- ii. The product is separately identified as belonging to the customer;

iii. The product is ready for physical transfer to the customer; and

iv. The entity does not have the ability to use the product or to direct it to another customer.

The Group recognizes revenue in respect of bill-and-hold arrangements only when all of the aforementioned requirements are met. Further, at the time of such recognition, the entity also determines whether there are any material unsatisfied performance obligations and determines the portion of the aggregate consideration, if any, that needs to be allocated and deferred.

The Group does not expect to have any contracts where the period between the transfer of the promised goods or services to the customer and payment by the customer exceeds one year. As a consequence, it does not adjust any of the transaction prices for the time value of money.

Other operating revenue - Export incentives

Export Incentives under various schemes are recognised in the year of export in accordance with their respective underlying scheme at fair value of consideration received or receivable.

Other income - Interest income

Interest income is recognized on time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and rate applicable. For all debt instruments measured either at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income, interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR). EIR is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, where appropriate, to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset or to the amortised cost of a financial liability. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Group estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument (for example, prepayment, extension, call and similar options) but does not consider the expected credit losses.

Other income - Dividend income

Dividend income is recognised when the Group's right to receive the payment is established, which is generally, when shareholders approve the dividend.

m. Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs are interest and other costs (including exchange differences relating to foreign currency borrowings to the extent that they are regarded as an adjustment to interest costs) incurred in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing costs directly attributable to acquisition or construction of an asset which necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use are capitalised as part of the cost of that asset. Other borrowing costs are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

n. Retirement and other employee benefits

Defined contribution plan

The Group's contributions to defined contribution plans are recognised as an expense as and when the services are received from the employees entitling them to the contributions.

Defined benefit plan

The liability in respect of defined benefit plans is calculated using the projected unit credit method with actuarial valuations being carried out at the end of each annual reporting period. The Group recognises the net obligation of a defined benefit plan as a liability in its balance sheet. Gains or losses through remeasurement of the net defined benefit liability are recognised in other comprehensive income and are not reclassified to profit and loss in the subsequent periods. The effect of any plan amendments are recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

o. Taxes

Tax expense recognized in statement of profit or loss consists of current and deferred tax except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in OCI or directly in equity, in which case it is recognised in OCI or directly in equity respectively.

Current income tax, assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be paid to or recovered from the taxation authorities in accordance with the Income Tax Act, 1961 and the Income Computation and Disclosure Standards (ICDS) enacted in India by using tax rates and the tax laws that are enacted at the reporting date. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the Group has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements. Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to be applied to the temporary differences when they reverse, based on the laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if there is a legally enforceable right to set off corresponding current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on the Group.

A deferred tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary difference can be utilised. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised. Withholding tax arising out of payment of dividends to shareholders under the Indian Income tax regulations is not considered as tax expense for the Group and all such taxes are recognised in the statement of changes in equity as part of the associated dividend payment.

p. Research and development expense

Expenditure on research activities undertaken with the prospect of gaining new scientific or technical knowledge and understanding is recognized as expense when incurred. Development activities involve a plan or design for the production of new or substantially improved products and processes. Development expenditure is capitalized only if:

- The product or the process is technically and commercially feasible;
- Future economic benefits are probable and ascertainable;
- The Group intends to and has sufficient resources, technical and financial, to complete development of the product and has the ability to use or sell the asset; and
- Development costs can be measured reliably.

Where the aforementioned criteria are not met, the expenditure is transferred to statement of profit and loss.

q. Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets

Provisions are recognized only when there is a present obligation, as a result of past events, and when a reliable estimate of the amount of obligation can be made at the reporting date. These estimates are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Provisions are discounted to their present values, where the time value of money is material.

Contingent liability is disclosed for:

- Possible obligations which will be confirmed only by future events not wholly within the control of the Group; or
- Present obligations arising from past events where it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation cannot be made.

Contingent assets are neither recognized nor disclosed. However, when realization of income is virtually certain, related asset is recognized.

(iii) Standards (including amendments) issued but not yet effective

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standards or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. For the year ended March 31, 2024, MCA has not notified any new standards or amendments to the existing standards applicable to the Company.

(vii) Sensitivity Analysis

The significant actuarial assumptions for the determination of the defined benefit obligation are the discount rate and salary escalation rate. The calculation of the net defined benefit liability is sensitive to respective assumptions, while holding all other assumptions constant. Sensitivity to these factors is disclosed below.

Projected defined benefit obligation	2,047.47	1,809.40
Discount rate + 100 basis points	1,925.75	1,698.53
Discount rate - 100 basis points	2,078.96	1,834.20
Salary increase rate + 100 basis points	2,074.90	1,832.63
Salary increase rate - 100 basis points	1,925.20	1,696.80

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligation as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the defined benefit obligation has been calculated using the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same as that applied in calculating the defined benefit obligation liability recognised in the balance sheet.

There was no change in the methods and assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis from prior years.

There has been no change in the process used by the Company to manage its risks from prior periods.

31. Fair value measurements

(i) Fair value hierarchy

Financial assets and Financial liabilities measured at Fair value in the statement of Financial position are grouped into three levels of a Fair value hierarchy. The three levels are defined based on the observability of significant inputs to the measurement, as follows:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for Financial instruments.

Level 2: The fair value of Financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined using valuation techniques which maximise the use of observable market data either directly or indirectly.

Level 3: If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3.

Other financial liabilities	-	10,660.45	-	6,554.38
Total financial liabilities	-	39,395.32	-	36,499.86

The Company's principal financial liabilities comprise borrowings, trade and other payables. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Company's operations. The Company's principal financial assets comprise of loans, trade and other receivables, cash and cash equivalents and other bank balances derived directly from its operations.

- (iv) The carrying amounts of trade receivables, trade payables and cash and cash equivalents are considered to be the same as their fair values, due to their short-term nature. Difference between carrying amounts and fair values of bank deposits, other financial assets, other financial liabilities and borrowings subsequently measured at amortised cost is not significant in each of the years presented. For all other amortised cost instruments, carrying value represents the best estimate of fair value.

For financial assets measured at fair values, the carrying amounts are equal to the fair values.

32. Financial instruments risk management

The Company is exposed to various financial risks arising from its operations and the use of financial instruments. The key financial risks include market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's risk management policies are established to identify and analyse the risks faced by the Company and seek to, where appropriate, minimize potential impact of the risk and to control and monitor such risks. The Company's risk management is coordinated by the Board of Directors and focuses on securing long term and short term cash flows. The Company does not engage in trading of financial assets for speculative purposes.

The following sections provide details regarding the Company's exposure to the financial risks associated with financial instruments held in the ordinary course of business and the objectives, policies and processes for management of these risks

A. Market risk:

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises two types of risk: interest rate risk and currency risk. Financial instruments affected by market risk include borrowings, deposits, trade receivables and other financial instruments.

(All amounts are ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated)

The sensitivity analyses in the following sections relate to the position as at March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023. The analysis exclude the impact of movements in market variables on the carrying values of gratuity and other post retirement obligations; provisions; and non-financial assets and liabilities.

i. Interest rate risk:

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company has loan facilities on floating interest rate, which exposes the Company to risk of changes in interest rates. The management monitors the interest rate movement and manages the interest rate risk based on its policies, which include entering into interest rate swaps as considered necessary. The Company's investment in deposits with banks are for short durations and therefore do not expose the Company to significant interest rate risk. Below are the details of exposure to fixed rate and variable rate instruments:

Particulars	March 31, 2024	March 31, 2023
Fixed rate instruments
Financial assets	10,614.22	3,858.21
Financial liabilities	3,942.75	4,242.00
Variable rate instruments
Financial liabilities	4,307.95	7,908.99

Every 0.5% increase/decrease in the interest rate component applicable to the respective borrowings would effect the Company's net profit before tax resulting in an expense/income of ₹ 21.54 and ₹ 39.54 for the year ended March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023 respectively.

ii. Foreign currency risk:

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in foreign exchange rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of change in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to the Company's operating activities (when revenue or expense is denominated in foreign currency) and financing activities (when borrowings are denominated in foreign currency), The foreign currencies in which these transactions are denominated are US Dollars, Euros, Japanese Yen, Great British Pound and Swiss Franc. The Company uses foreign exchange forward contracts to hedge its exposure in foreign currency risk.

a) Significant foreign currency risk exposure relating to financial assets and financial liabilities expressed in ₹ terms are as follows:

The recoverable amount of the above cash generating unit ("CGU") has been assessed using a value-in-use model. The recoverable value is computed based on the net present value of the projected post-tax cash flows plus a terminal value of the cash generating unit to which the goodwill is allocated. Initially a post-tax discount rate is applied to calculate the net present value of the post-tax cash flows. The cash flow projections include specific estimates for five years developed using internal forecasts and a terminal growth rate thereafter of 5%. The planning horizon reflects the assumptions for short-to-mid term market developments which are based on key assumptions such as margins, expected growth rates based on past experience, new product launches and management's expectations / extrapolation of normal increase / steady terminal growth rate. Discount rate reflects the current market assessment of the risks. The discount rate is estimated based on the weighted average cost of capital for the Company. Post-tax discount rates used were 14.35% for the year ended March 31, 2024. The management believes that any reasonable possible change in the key assumptions would not cause the aggregate carrying amount to exceed the aggregate recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit.

Notes:

- (a) The Income tax authorities had re-opened the income tax assessment of the Company for the assessment year 2004-05 later than the periods permitted by the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and thereby demanded an additional tax amount of ₹693.33 on account of disallowance of certain prior period expenditure recognized by the Company in the computation of gross total income for the assessment year then ended. Aggrieved by the order of the Income Tax department, the management had filed an appeal with the higher authorities which had been successfully decided in favour of the Company. The Income Tax department has however filed an appeal with the Hon'ble High Court of Telangana in this regard, which is pending final outcome. However, on the basis of its internal assessment and considering the order of the first level appellate authority, the Company is confident of securing an favourable order from the High Court and accordingly, no adjustments have been made to the consolidated financial statements in this regard.

Other pending litigations / contingent liabilities:

- (b) During 2004, the Company was allotted land parcel by the then Andhra Pradesh Industrial Infrastructure Corporation Limited ("APIIC") for setting up a basic research and development center. Subsequently public interest litigation was filed challenging allotments made by APIIC as unconstitutional and to cancel the allotments and resume the lands in all cases where the development has not commenced or the substantial progress has not been made as per the terms of allotments and regulations. The Company has been named as one of the parties to the said public interest litigation and the case is currently pending for hearing at Hon'ble High Court of Telangana. If there is an adverse ruling against the Company, the estimated financial impact on the Company could be ₹1,902.76 lakhs.
- (c) Our Company purchased land in Survey No. 490/2 situated at Bonthapally Village, Jinnaram Mandal, Medak District. The Revenue department issued notices to our Company for resumption of the said land on the ground that the same was ""assigned land"". Our Company has filed an application before the Collector, Medak District for regularization of the said land as per the applicable laws. Our Company also filed a writ petition before the High Court praying for an order not to take any coercive steps. The High Court vide its order dated March 18, 2011 directed the revenue department to not take any coercive steps till the disposal of the representation filed by our Company.

The matter is pending before the Collector, Medak District. The management believes that the outcome will be in favour of the Company and hence no adjustment is made in the consolidated financial statements.

- (d) During the financial year ended March 31, 2008, the Commissioner and Inspector General of Stamps and Registration (CIGSR), Andhra Pradesh has vide its order dated February 22, 2008 has cancelled the registration of the land parcel owned by the company situated at Bonthapally pursuant to complaint made by one of the seller. Aggrieved by the aforesaid order the Company has filed a writ petition challenging order of CIGSR with Hon'ble High Court of Telangana (the 'Court') as the Company was not involved during the proceedings. The Court has vide its order dated December 31, 2010 has directed to maintain the status quo with regards to the possession of the property till further orders passed. Proceedings of the case are still pending with the court. The management is confident that orders will be in the favour of the Company, hence no adjustment is deemed necessary to these consolidated financial statements.
