The story of Berger Paints

Beginning of an odyssey

The world of paints changed when the Europeans landed in India. They opened new routes to access dyes and pigments beyond the seas and introduced fresh creative techniques.

Paints were initially imported from Europe, and with the growth of the railway network, infrastructure, institutions and industry, urbanisation grew apace, creating opportunities for paint manufacturers.

However, it was not until paint imports stopped after World War II that the domestic market came to be dominated by the indigenous players. It was a time when European manufacturers set up base in India, and that is how the earliest Indian paint companies, including Berger Paints' earlier incarnation, were born.

Among the oldest Indian paint companies

Our odyssey began in 1923 when a young English gentleman, George Hadfield, started shaping us with his vision. Arriving in the bustling city of Calcutta (now Kolkata), he set up a small paint company on the banks of the mighty Hooghly River in what we today know as Howrah. Our Company initially offered paints, varnishes, and distempers, and it was named Hadfields (India) Limited.

As part of our rich legacy, our Howrah plant is the oldest functioning paint factory in India. We, at Berger Paints, take pride in keeping it alive and functioning, implementing innovations, and retaining some of our oldest employees.

A colourful genesis

In 1947, Hadfields Limited became British Paints India Limited and successfully produced about 150 tonnes of ready-mix stiff paints, varnishes, and distempers annually, with yearly sales of about ₹ 25 Lakhs. We started our journey with 100 employees, who became a part of history when Berger Paints from the UK and Jenson & Nicholson, acquired British Paints in 1969, marking the beginning of the making of an iconic legacy in India.

We began our transformative journey when our Company was still named British Paints. During the 1970s, our Company ventured into modern segments, introducing new-generation paint products, including industrial, marine, and decorative coating paints.

Changing for the better

In 1976, our Company experienced a significant change when the ownership shifted to the UB group. Under the new leadership, Mr. Biji K. Kurien took over as the new Managing Director, transforming the work culture of our Company and shifting the focus from industrial to decorative paints. Mr. Kurien onboarded fresh talent and granted the management enough autonomy to make the right decisions.

Turning trials into triumphs

However, we soon found ourselves at a crossroads, facing operational challenges amid the competitive domestic paint market. We embarked on a reinvention journey to thrive and gain an edge over our competition. We pioneered the concept of contract manufacturing to improve our operating and supply chain efficiency. Other initiatives to enhance our productivity and operational excellence were also set in motion, helping Berger Paints to gain market share.

By 1980, we became the fourth largest player in the Indian market.

Rebranding for success

In 1983, we rechristened ourselves as Berger Paints India Limited (BPIL). This switch was more than a name change; it marked a strategic shift, dividing our operations into the Retail Business Line (RBL) and the Industrial Business Line (IBL), both aimed to improve customer service. The new trade name and logo, swiftly, became ingrained in the minds of our customers and made its place in Indian households as a trusted brand over the next two decades.

The Dhingras add their expert touch

1991 was a watershed year for India. The socialistic shackles were broken, setting the stage for the emergence of a global economic powerhouse today. It was also a year of inflection for Berger Paints. Scions of the Dhingra family of Amritsar, Mr. Kuldip Singh Dhingra and Mr. Gurbachan Singh Dhingra, acquired controlling stake of Berger Paints from UB Group, and set off momentous changes.

A fresh coat

The Dhingra brothers were veterans in the paint business. Their family-run business comprised a paint distributorship in Amritsar and some paint factories in and around Delhi. The Dhingras had a thriving business under Rajdoot Paints, which was sold within India. They also exported paints to bigger markets, such as the Soviet Union, which was lucrative. With the fall of the USSR, the Dhingras shifted their focus to the domestic market. While Mr. Kuldip Singh Dhingra brought his expertise in marketing and sales to Berger Paints, Mr. Gurbachan Singh Dhingra looked after production and technology.

Scaling new heights, our veterans played their part even though new professionals came in. By then, Mr. Subir Bose, who had completed a decade in Berger Paints had taken over as the new Managing Director. The new leadership brought down the cost under contract, began capacity expansion and brought in fresh investments.

Berger Paints became a professionally run company under the astute guidance of the Dhingra brothers, who instilled trust and confidence among the employees. They were hands-on but avoided micromanaging day-to-day operations. They stood like a rock through crests and troughs, creating the foundation for building an enterprise that could remain relevant for decades.

Under their expert management, sales more than doubled from ₹ 1.15 Billion in 1991 to ₹ 2.76 Billion by 1995-1996. Our Company started gaining market share in a sector dominated by domestic and international behemoths.

The priorities for driving accelerated growth were clear: focus on the decorative segment and create a distinctive identity, strengthen market position in industrial paints, expand presence in India and the international markets, invest in capacities and capabilities, and create an organisational culture that fosters innovation, professional freedom, and equality.

Berger Paints' five-point focus

Continued leadership in the Industrial segment

Entering the game and changing it

Having begun as a player in the industrial segment, we forayed into decorative paints in the 1990s. It was not smooth sailing, but despite the stiff competition and the initial hiccups, we found our feet through constant product enhancement and innovation. We were the first to introduce one-of-a-kind, computerised colour-tinting machines.

Taking the first step

We launched our first acrylic emulsion paint, Luxol Silk, leveraging new opportunities in the decorative paints segment. The product helped Berger Paints gain some headway in the market. But we still needed to attain market leadership.

Our new management faced two crucial questions: Why would a customer prefer our products? Also, why would painters and dealers – the two major influencers impacting the buying decisions of paint consumers – recommend our products?

The strategy from then on was clear. First, we had to leverage our strong R&D experience to introduce products that were more than just functional – they had to serve customers' latent needs. Second, we had to focus on creating a strong network of loyal dealers across the country.

The gamechanger

In 1996, Berger Paints disrupted the decorative paints market in India by introducing the Colour Bank, a colour tinting machine installed at dealer sites. The size of an ATM, the colour-tinting banks worked on colour-mixing formulas in their microchips. Each machine could store more than 5,000 such formulas, converting a wide range of colour shades with their respective shade codes.

This move solved the problem of many of our dealers, who could not store different types of colours because of inventory issues, unpredictable demand, or limited investment. With the colour-tinting machine, they needed to just punch in the shade code and select a base variant – pastel, medium, or dark – and the machine would drop the required colour pigments in a paint can.

Within two years, we successfully installed 400 machines, a third of the total number of machines eventually installed, helped by an aggressive sales pitch and an on-ground incentive scheme for dealers to promote colour tinting machines.

Disappointment to disruption

Sometimes, being ahead of time has its consequences. When we launched the industry's first Breathe Easy segment, a premium, odourless, and VOC-free paint, it did not resonate with our consumers. However, today it is considered as a trendsetter.

The global pandemic increased awareness of one's well-being, making Breathe Easy more prominent in the lives of our consumers. Backed by our robust R&D team, we provided our customers options that addressed their health and hygiene concerns with a revamp of our Breathe Easy products, launching Berger Silk Breathe Easy and Breathe Easy Safe 24.

Creating a Pan-India network

Our path-breaking products and solutions soon attracted the attention of the dealers. While we invested in capacities nationwide, we built a strong network of dealers and distributors backed by our robust logistic support. We started one of our dealers' earliest loyalty programmes – Berger Gold Card Club – and provided them with attractive rewards, including trips, one of the first in the industry. Furthermore, our innovative iTrain programme imparted focused training to create an army of skilled painters, providing employment opportunities on hand and building a loyal base of influencers on the other.

Innovation takes centre-stage

Stains on painted walls have always been a pain point for consumers. Removing them invariably leads to discolouration. We disrupted the market with our washable paints under 'Berger Easy Clean' – the first in the country to do so. Easy Clean paint provided a rich, luxurious finish, and its cross-linking polymers made it easy to clean stubborn stains. The product was a runaway success and caught the attention of paint dealers nationwide. They wanted to partner with Berger Paints.

We had a solution for exterior walls as well. Our exclusive 'Dust Guard' technology ensured that dust did not settle on surfaces. This pioneering feature not only enhanced the aesthetic appeal of exterior walls but also simplified maintenance.

We entered the allied products business and drove innovation there as well. We are the first to launch premium waterproof putty, a quality white cement-based putty that is damp proof and has some unique properties. This ready-to-use, inimitable variety of powder putty can be used externally or internally on concrete/mortar substrates to provide a smooth aesthetic finish and extend the life of top coat paints.

Marketing revolution

Our marketing strategy backed our product innovation. An intensive promotional campaign helped make our decorative products a household name. Among these campaigns was our successful, original television commercial – 'Sapno ke rang, bane sang sang'. The success of these campaigns established Berger Paints among the leading brands in India, with a cross-country presence.

Pioneering Express painting

Back then, Indians faced challenges such as time-consuming processes, labour-intensive tasks, and the need for specific skills to achieve professional results. Traditional methods often led to dust and mess, disruption to daily life, and concerns about paint wastage and longevity. We were the first in the industry to introduce the concept of 'painting as a service' at the customer's convenience through our Express Painting offering. The service remains a premier at-home service, extending hassle-free solutions to our customers.

The service provides a professional finish to homes and generates employment for our trained painters, thus making it a win-win for both painters and consumers. In Express Painting, we paint interiors and exteriors, undertake waterproofing, and create specialised wood coating and wall textures.

A few of our innovative and best products

Did you know?

Berger Paints is the first company in the country to introduce moisture meters for measuring dampness on walls. These meters provide machine readings based on which we recommend data-backed suitable solutions to our customers, ensuring peace of mind.

The story of Berger Paints

The oldest is also the strongest

We are the oldest paint company in India in the industrial coatings market, setting standards with our innovative products. From General Industrial (GI) and automotive coatings to powder coatings and protective coatings, we have been pioneers in the segment and continue to dominate the protective coatings sector.

Industrial Paints category

Ramping up our innovation strength

Products in this segment are exposed to extreme conditions and must be durable. Our R&D team works with industrial customers to understand their needs and create tailor-made products. The team has been constantly improving the raw material mix, using innovative materials such as nanomolecules, and developing in-house capability to create durable, environment-friendly products that require less application. Our innovative products and solutions include pipe coatings, road markings, clean room coatings, can and drum coatings, anti-fouling, and anti-dust powder coating for fans – these have helped Berger Paints gain the trust of its industrial customers over the decades.

One such innovative product in this segment is the monocoat system, which allows fabricators to complete the painting in a single day instead of the usual three to four days. This system protects surfaces against corrosion and gives a superior finish. We have also pioneered world-class products at competitive rates, such as the passive fire protection paint sprays manufactured at our Pudukcherry plant and certified by Underwriters Laboratories.

Commitment to quality

Our Company has products that have stood the test of time. Among them are our synthetic enamel paints, which we have continued to manufacture since inception, showcasing our commitment to quality. We also transformed the industrial segment with our high-build coating, which exemplifies our technology expertise.

Collaborations for success

During our journey, we have partnered with global giants such as Valspar Corporation (US) and Orica (Australia) to strengthen our market leadership.

Furthermore, we work closely with consultants and architects to keep abreast of the latest technological advancements and to understand and address business needs. We offer industries free corrosion audits and surveys, providing tailored solutions to combat plant corrosion. Our team handles the entire process responsibly, from coating system recommendations to installation and inspection.

We began our journey with our first manufacturing unit in Howrah, Kolkata. As we expanded our product portfolio and reached newer markets, we continued to invest in newer capacities across the country to serve the growing demand for our products. Today, Berger Paints boasts of operating 15 manufacturing units across India (29 including its subsidiaries worldwide).

We witnessed capacity expansion across all phases of innovation. ## The story of Berger Paints

People-powered progress

We owe a large part of our success to our ability to create a distinctive, people-first culture. We have a low attrition rate, an industry-beating retention rate, and an open, empathetic, and inclusive workplace, which continues to inspire our colleagues to learn, collaborate, innovate, and contribute meaningfully to the organisation's growth.

Berger Paints started small, but our Company became a market leader through strategic innovation. When the current management took charge, empowered teams and innovation were critical to driving growth. We, at Berger Paints, value our employees deeply. Our unique open-door policy and bottom-up approach boost accessibility and transparency, creating an enduring emotional bond between our employees and the organisation. We adopted the '24-48-degree' formula, emphasising interaction and information flow. Top executives worked with teams on the ground to ensure effective execution. This distinctive approach has resulted in significant growth in recent years, and our team members have experienced seamless career progression, leading to an average tenure of 15+ years for most senior leaders.

Fostering diversity and inclusivity

We have been working towards making our organisation more inclusive and gender-positive. For example, the wood coating unit of our Jejuri plant, is managed by an all-women workforce.

We have empowered women from the villages around our factories, many of whom have turned first-generation workers at our plants. They have overcome their apprehension about working in manufacturing units, which have always been a male-dominated sphere.

In a world where workplace politics often hinder progress and stifle creativity, Berger Paints is a breath of fresh air. Here, we are not just colleagues – we are a family united by a shared purpose and a shared set of values. Here, we are encouraged to think outside the box, challenge the status quo, and push the boundaries of what is possible without any fear of failure. The story of Berger Paints

next 100 years

As we move forward to the next 100 years, we envision continuing our leadership in India's paint sector, driven by innovation, trust, and excellence. Berger Paints has several plans to deliver the best quality products and services to our customers worldwide.

Expanding capacity

We are strategically expanding our manufacturing capacity to meet growing demand in key regions. Our Hindupur plant will enhance solvent base production for Southern India. Additionally, we are launching three greenfield projects, including Panagarh in West Bengal and a mega factory in Odisha's Khordha district, aligning with the 'Make in Odisha' initiative. This advanced facility will produce paints, coatings, and construction chemicals, contributing to our increased annual capacity. We will likely build another greenfield facility in Western India to strengthen our market presence further.

Deepening our market presence

We still have some distance to cover in terms of our dealer network. With India's per capita paint consumption way below the global average, we have enough headroom for growth.

Strengthening our ESG commitments

At Berger Paints, we upheld ESG principles before they became a mandate. We were among the early players to introduce lead-free and water-based paints, and renewable energy. Our community development interventions started decades ago, helping us drive prosperity in regions of our operations. Our corporate policies are also in place for decades and are updated regularly.

Chairman's message

Sustainable growth through trust and innovation

Dear Shareholders

It gives me immense pride to write this letter to you as the year marked the most important milestone in our Company's history – completing 100 successful years of existence. Not many companies are able to achieve this outstanding feat. On behalf of the Board, I would like to thank each of our stakeholders for being part of this wonderful journey and helping Berger emerge as the leading player in both the decorative and industrial paints segments.

From the time of its inception in 1923 till the time we assumed the management control of our Company, Berger Paints was mainly dealing with industrial and protective coatings and a few solvent based architectural paints and had some of the best talents in the industry. Our plan of action in the beginning was clear: provide strategic guidance and direction, pump in cash to tide over the immediate shortage as well as infusion of capital from time to time for the next few years, introduce financial discipline such as credit management through computerised billing systems and approval processes for expenses, correct supply chain management processes, reorient the objectives to suit the changing times of liberalisation, inculcate dynamism and ownership among employees, fill in the gap in decorative paints and focus on water based emulsion category, set up new factories and expand the existing facilities, strengthen the R & D structure, introduce unique products, create and effectively market brands and continuously monitor success and compliance.

Kuldeep Singh Dhingra
Chairman

The transformation thereon has been spectacular as we turned into a multifaceted and chiefly architectural/ decorative paint producing company offering not only products, but solutions to its customers located all over the country. This has been a painstaking process undertaken by all concerned under careful guidance by the Board. When we started the journey, the market was crowded with several players but decades later, we have emerged as the second largest paints company in the country.

Key milestones

Our journey is marked by pioneering innovations and strategic expansions that have set industry benchmarks. We introduced the first successful colorbank machines, a breakthrough soon emulated by other paint manufacturers. Establishing modern resin manufacturing facilities was another critical step, as resins are key raw materials for solvent-based paints. Our first joint venture with Becker Industriefarg, Sweden, for manufacturing coil coatings, gave us the confidence to undertake more ventures, given Becker's leadership in coil coatings.

We acquired the automotive and industrial paints business from ICI India Limited, along with its factory at Rishra, West Bengal. The merger of Rajdoot Paints with Berger, renamed British Paints after 15 years, allowed us to effectively serve specific market segments. This merger also brought in the pioneering Coil Coating Joint Venture with Becker. Further expanding our footprint, we acquired Berger, Jenson & Nicholson in Nepal and established a successful factory in Jammu, a bold move at the time.

Our acquisition of Bolix SA in Poland, a leader in ETICS, enabled us to conserve energy in cold climates and expand our surface coatings offerings. Bolix exports to over 20 countries and has subsidiaries in the UK, France, and Ukraine. We also acquired the decorative coatings business from Sherwin Williams Paints India, including their plant in Taloja, Navi Mumbai. Achieving self-sufficiency in emulsion manufacturing, a key raw material for water-based paints, has been a notable milestone.

We expanded our reach with a widespread distribution system, setting up warehouses nationwide, and pioneering factories in the North East. Our innovative offerings, such as Express Painting Services, and our successful entry into construction chemicals with our subsidiary STP Limited, have further strengthened our portfolio. Our subsidiary, SBL Coatings Limited, acquired in 2017, enables us to supply innovative and custom specialty coatings. Above all, we've built strong brands like Easy Clean, Anti Dustt, Weathercoat Long Life, and Silk Glamour, cementing our leadership in the industry.

Building on our strengths

Our greatest strength lies in our honesty and integrity, values deeply cherished by me and my family. Integrity encompasses not just financial integrity, though it remains paramount, but also integrity in all operations, including conduct. For instance, if we claim a paint has washability, it must be demonstrable. The second strength is the loyalty of my colleagues. Since taking over, we have retained the same management and staff, without even relocating offices, unlike many others. This consistent team has driven all changes over the years in the same work environment. We have applied this principle to all our inorganic acquisitions, consistently achieving encouraging results.

The third strength is Berger's adaptability. Berger has transitioned from a solvent-based paint manufacturer to primarily a water-based paint producer, with the capability to manufacture every kind of paint. This ongoing transformation aims to turn us into a platform offering coating and construction chemical solutions, continuously engaging with customers. Lastly, Berger's experimental culture fosters innovation in new products and services and creates a family-like atmosphere that aids in retaining key personnel.

Leveraging lasting partnerships

Every strategic partnership must be symbiotic to succeed. Our alliances have been mutually beneficial and enduring. We continuously learn from partners like Becker (Sweden), Nippon (Japan), Rock Paints (Japan), Hesse (Germany), Chugoku Marine Paints (Japan), and VIP Coatings International (Germany). These collaborations have enriched us with expertise in automotive, wood, marine, and protective coatings, ensuring our sustained growth and innovation.

Moving towards the next

We are excited to announce the establishment of two new paint factories in West Bengal and Odisha. Our focus remains on reaching out to customers—retailers, distributors, contractors, painters, architects, and industries—making it easier for them to understand and appreciate our offerings while streamlining the transaction process.

As conscientious citizens, we are acutely aware of issues like global warming and environmental degradation. To address these, we are deploying resources to ensure sustainability. Our initiatives include zero liquid discharge, energy conservation, the use of alternative energy sources, water conservation at all our plants, and creating a roadmap for water neutrality. These widely practised methods are central to our sustainability efforts. Additionally, we are promoting products like Roof Kool & Seal, a fiber-reinforced, liquid-applied, elastomeric waterproofing membrane impregnated with nano-fiber, designed for dual effects of waterproofing and heat reduction. Further research in these areas is ongoing. Our subsidiary in Poland, Bolix, specialises in insulation systems across Europe, which save at least 35% in heating costs for buildings.

Our primary CSR activity focuses on training painters to enhance their skills, ensuring a minimum quality of painting services, reducing the time and cost of painting, improving painters' earning abilities, and providing them with the knowledge to elevate their status to contractors. We are committed to continuing our CSR efforts in this direction, investing our resources to support the development and professional growth of painters.

Our plans for expansion, commitment to sustainability, and dedication to community development through painter training reflect our holistic approach to growth and responsible business practices.

Goals for the future

The strategic vision of our Company is to be the most innovative and competent paints, coatings, and construction chemicals company in the country, trusted by all stakeholders. Achieving this involves various measures, including enhancing capacities, streamlining the supply chain, maintaining strong fundamentals, experimenting to create new opportunities, and scaling successful ventures. A key strategy will be enhancing digital capabilities in business intelligence, customer relationship management, supply chain management, machine learning, and AI. However, a fundamentally strong base in production, procurement, sales, and R&D, supported by durable service functions, is essential to benefit from digital advancements. These areas will continue to be our priorities.

I believe we will continue painting a brighter future for our stakeholders as we move forward.

Best wishes,

Kuldip Singh Dhirga

Heritage of quality

Abhijit Roy
Managing Director & CEO

Berger Paints has always adhered to the principle of producing the best quality products without compromise. This commitment to excellence has been the cornerstone of our success over the past 100 years.”

Dear stakeholders,

I write this letter to you with profound excitement as we celebrate 100 years of existence in India. From our humble beginnings a century ago with a single manufacturing unit in West Bengal and the 6th largest in India, we have grown exponentially to encompass 29 manufacturing units (including subsidiaries) across the country to become the 2nd largest Paint Company in India, 4th largest in Asia and 15th largest in the world. This pervasive growth has been driven by the constant demand for our diverse product mix and the unwavering trust that consumers have in our brand.

The past century has witnessed many significant events – from India's freedom struggle against the British, to attaining independence in 1947, to the liberalisation of the economy and facing a major global health crisis. Despite these challenges, we have navigated through them all and continue to shine brightly.

We understand that superiority in quality is what makes a company a market leader. Berger Paints has always adhered to the principle of producing the best quality products without compromise. This commitment to excellence has been the cornerstone of our success over the past 100 years.

We sustain such high levels of quality through constant benchmarking against competitors and rigorous analysis to understand where we stand at any given time. To increase market penetration, it is crucial to offer superior quality at a competitive price. Berger Paints' strategy involves creating more value for consumers by continuously adding features and improving quality. This relentless pursuit of excellence has propelled Berger Paints to emerge as the second-largest paint Company in India, in a market cluttered with multinational giants.

This remarkable success is a testament to our team's dedication and ingenuity. Our achievements are entirely self-generated, highlighting our ability to innovate and thrive independently. This journey has been significantly supported by our senior members, many of whom have dedicated decades to our Company. Their commitment and experience have fostered stability and trust, vital elements in our continued growth.

Building trust among stakeholders – employees, dealers, and painters – has been central to Berger Paints' philosophy. By nurturing an emotional bond rather than a mere transactional relationship, we create a supportive and innovative environment. This atmosphere encourages everyone to think creatively, experiment and learn from failures, thereby fostering motivation and a deep sense of purpose in their work. Our collective efforts ensure Berger Paints' enduring success and strong reputation.

A culture of enduring relationship

Our ability to build long-term relationships with our stakeholders has also been a reason for our sustained growth. Our culture of accessibility, open communication, balanced work-life, and strong partnerships have been instrumental in driving and maintaining our esteemed position in the industry. Our strong cultural foundation has facilitated successful joint ventures. The enduring partnership with Becker Coatings, which led to the establishment of plants in Goa and Nagpur, is a testament to Berger Paints' collaborative spirit. Similarly, the joint venture with Nippon Paints has weathered difficult times, reflecting Berger Paints' commitment to fair dealings and mutual support. We prioritise long-term relationships with smaller partners even during challenges, demonstrating our dedication to partnership and trust.

Looking back at our performance in FY 2023-24

I am pleased to state that driven by our focus on product innovation, network expansion, marketing initiatives and manufacturing excellence we have been able to outperform the industry. Our consolidated revenue for the year witnessed an increase of around 6%, from ₹ 10,567 Crores in FY 2022-23 to ₹ 11,199 Crores in FY 2023-24. Our EBITDA for the year reported an impressive growth of 25%, from ₹ 1,538 Crores in FY 2022-23 to ₹ 1,925 Crores in FY 2023-24. Raw material prices saw a decline, which helped us pass on the benefit to our customers. However, on the profitability front, we saw 181 bps increase in PAT margin during the year under review.

In the decorative business, the past year saw remarkable volume growth and resilience despite inflationary pressure and an extended monsoon. While the economy segment's strong traction impacted value growth, the construction chemicals and waterproofing business performed exceptionally well. Our aggressive network expansion continued, adding around 14,552 retail touchpoints and installing around 7,848 Colorbank machines. We took innovative steps towards influencer outreach, strengthening the positioning of our brand further. These efforts underscore our commitment to enhancing market presence and customer engagement, driving the success of our decorative business.

While our existing brands in the decorative segment continued to post strong performance, during the year under review, we launched several new products.

Roof Cool and Seal, a product designed to cool and seal roofs, experienced fantastic growth. PU Elasto Shield, a solvent-based PU product, is another innovative offering for larger surfaces, primarily in industrial areas, and is performing well. Additionally, we launched Easy Clean Silky Touch, an enhanced variant of our popular Easy Clean product. It offers a superior finish while retaining its easy-clean properties, and it has successfully upgraded a portion of Easy Clean's market volume to this new variant.

In the industrial segment, our Protective Coating business maintained its dominance in the market, achieving consistent growth and enhancements in profitability. We undertook several noteworthy projects, such as the Bharat Mandapam in Delhi and the Mumbai Coastal Bridge. Additionally, our involvement in key ventures like Vande Bharat and projects at the Rajasthan Refinery and Lucknow Adani Airport underscores our leadership position and continued advantage in the infrastructure landscape. The Automotive and General Industrial sectors displayed improved performance, spurred by a rise in demand for two-wheelers. Our joint venture, Berger Nippon Paint Automotive Coatings Private Limited, excelled particularly in the passenger car and SUV segments. Furthermore, our Powder Coatings business witnessed an upturn from the previous year, marked by significant profitability gains.

We continued our journey towards augmenting our capacities. Our upcoming greenfield capacity at Panagarh, West Bengal is progressing well. We are in the process of receiving all necessary approvals and the construction activity has started. We expect commissioning by end 2025.

We implemented numerous digital initiatives during the year, which are expected to yield positive results in the coming year. We introduced salesforce for painters. Our Warehouse Management System helped enhance stock management. The My Colour app, featuring AI, has been well received, and we plan to advertise it digitally. Additionally, Express Painting continues to perform very well, with reach and scale improving substantially during the year. Our E-Auction for raw materials has also saved us considerable costs.

Leading with sustainability

At Berger Paints, we are deeply committed to sustainability, implementing eco-friendly practices across its operations. We prioritise non-toxic, low-VOC paints and have invested in energy-efficient manufacturing processes. Our waste management initiatives focus on reducing, reusing, and recycling materials. Additionally, we actively promote use of green building projects and sustainable products in construction. Our other notable initiatives include Streeshakti, WOW, Project JAL, Safety First, Urja Shakti among others. Reinforcing our commitment to reducing carbon footprint, we have introduced e-vehicles for last-mile delivery across our depots. These efforts not only reduce our environmental footprint but also align with our vision of creating a greener, healthier future for all.

“In the industrial segment, our Protective Coating business maintained its dominance in the market, achieving consistent growth and enhancements in profitability. We undertook several noteworthy projects, such as the Bharat Mandapam in Delhi and the Mumbai Coastal Bridge”

Prepared for the next 100

We could not be in a better place than in India today. The country has entered a multi-decade growth cycle driven by a young population, increasing per capita income, a strengthening manufacturing sector, a growing automobile segment, and focused government investment in infrastructure creation. Our products are used across various segments – from the interiors and exteriors of real estate properties to automobiles, consumer appliances, and machinery, as well as landmark infrastructure projects. With the Indian economy set for strong growth in the coming years, we anticipate a sustainable increase in demand for paints. While the industry is seeing new entrants, Berger Paints remains confident about its performance, vigilant about industrial dynamics and focuses on creating value for consumers through innovation, quality, and better value propositions.

I take this opportunity to thank our Board members for their continued guidance, our stakeholders for their trust and confidence in our strategy, and our employees for their grit and determination in driving our Company along a continuous growth path. The next 100 years are exciting, and we are confident of sustained value creation.

Regards,

Abhijit Roy

Berger Paints' response

As a leading decorative and industrial paints manufacturer, Berger Paints prioritises innovation, offering products that meet diverse customer needs beyond functional use. We continuously expand our capacities and network of partners to broaden our reach and serve customers across various segments nationwide. Furthermore, we have strengthened our portfolio with a range of eco-friendly products to suit the growing demands of our customers.

Declining repainting cycle

Financial capital

Balance sheet

Our Company excels in liquidity management, maintaining strong liquidity ratios. A notable highlight of our Company's balance sheet is our significant cash surplus, (we have turned cash positive in FY 2023-24) providing financial cushion and positioning us for strategic investments. This surplus reflects disciplined cash flow management and consistent operating cash flow generation. Our return on equity (ROE) remains high, indicating efficient use of equity capital to generate profits. Significant capital expenditures in recent years demonstrate our Company's commitment to growth. These investments are expected to enhance capacity and efficiency, driving long-term profitability. We have financed these projects without compromising liquidity, showcasing prudent financial management. Our balance sheet is robust, with strong liquidity, a healthy cash surplus, and high ROE. Effective working capital management amidst substantial Capex highlights our Company's financial prudence and growth potential, ensuring sustained stability and enhanced shareholder value

Ensuring consistent returns

Over the years, we have ensured that we maximise the value delivered to our shareholders through prudent financial management and optimised operations. This has resulted in consistent returns and significant improvements across several financial parameters. As we aim to double our revenue by FY 2028-29, we aim to continue providing exceptional value to our shareholders.

Creating long-term shareholder value

The year under review witnessed superior shareholder returns underpinned by record profitability, substantial dividend payouts, and shareholder capital appreciation. Throughout FY 2023-24, our Company incurred a capital expenditure of ₹ 275 Crores for capacity expansion and the maintenance of existing manufacturing facilities. Cash generated from operations, amounting to ₹ 1,940 Crores in FY 2023-24, remained the principal source of liquidity. In FY 2022-23, these figures stood at ₹ 748 Crores for capital expenditure and ₹ 1,283 Crores for operational cash generation.

We have implemented a comprehensive risk management framework that supports the execution of our long-term strategy by integrating potential risks and mitigation initiatives into its business planning processes. We successfully drove profitable operations and maintained a comfortable net cash surplus situation during the year. The net surplus at the end of the year was ₹ 1,170 Crores (PAT), with the net cash standing at ₹ 362 Crores.

While current borrowings are primarily for working capital requirements, we actively seek opportunities to optimise borrowing costs and maximise yields on investments, all while adhering to conservative principles of safety, liquidity, and returns. We ensure adequate access to funding and leverage our surplus to meet operating needs and strategic objectives, following a prudent cash flow management approach.

Furthermore, in the event of any future exigencies impacting liquidity, our Company would be well-positioned to borrow capital due to its AAA credit rating and strong balance sheet. As of March 31st, 2024, our Debt/EBITDA ratio was at a comfortable level of 0.39. We continue to report healthy capital efficiency ratios during the year. In FY 2023-24, the Return on Capital Employed (ROCE) was 27.8%, and the Return on Equity (ROE) was 23.7%.

Project Sanchayan

We initiated Sanchayan to minimise losses in our manufacturing processes. This project, designed for yield optimisation and resource efficiency, has optimised costs and integrated environment-friendly initiatives, reducing our carbon footprint and costs. We have implemented a concise three-step process that we can replicate across all our manufacturing facilities.

Identify losses

We identify losses across our manufacturing processes through our exceptional monitoring systems and human interventions.

Improve processes

We integrate our processes with the best-in-class technologies and dashboards accompanied by our exceptional human resources.

Minimise losses

This project has ensured we use raw materials optimally and reduce our input and output costs.

Through Sanchayan, we have embraced technology in our operations, ensuring transparency in our processes. Our monitoring systems and dashboards detect errors, keeping our teams informed. This strategy ensures that the necessary personnel can swiftly devise effective solutions.

Optimising manufacturing capabilities

We consistently focus on expanding our production capacity to meet the growing demand for our products. Simultaneously, we prioritise integrating new technologies and upgrading existing ones to enhance and strengthen our pan-India market presence.

Capacity expansion

We are expanding our capacities across all our locations to meet the rising demand for our products nationwide. We consistently invest in new plants and increase capacities in existing ones with significant investment directed towards our largest plant to date, Sandila.

Digitisation

We consistently upgrade our technological quotient to explore new avenues to enhance our production capacity and serve diverse market segments. Across our manufacturing facilities, we have integrated technology, including new methods for mixing, grinding and other processes. We have also introduced real-time monitoring systems and dashboards to refine and optimise our manufacturing processes. We understand the importance of Industry 4.0 and have adopted best-in-class technologies in our factories, providing us with real-time data across various parameters. Some modernisation tools that we use are:

Automated notifications for formula changes

Ensures product quality planning at the factory – level along with better monitoring and visibility of initial bulk batches.

Central dashboard

Ensures better control over our operations by offering easy access to all factory-related data such as production and productivity levels.

Project EGA

Project EGA aims to reduce and control excess giveaways at our filling lines by implementing an automatic SCADA-based weight monitoring system. This system enables real-time monitoring of excess giveaways for each SKU, with reports relayed to our databases and accessible remotely through our manufacturing dashboard. Additionally, this monitoring ensures compliance with legal metrology norms, eliminating underfilling. Embracing concepts like Industry 4.0 and digitalisation in manufacturing, we have initiated the online attendance management system, e-compliance tracker, and manufacturing dashboard across all factories, streamlining processes and enhancing efficiency. Moving forward, we are committed to maximising digitisation across our operations.

Overall excess giveaway

Manufactured capital

Embedding sustainability in manufacturing

As we grow, we continue to focus on sustainability. We have made substantial investments to minimise waste in our manufacturing processes. We conduct regular energy audits, which help us pinpoint areas for improvement. Furthermore, over the past decade, we have initiated numerous projects to reduce reliance on fossil fuels by integrating renewable energy.

Sustainability focus areas in manufacturing

Energy conservation

We have installed LED lights in our plants, both indoors and outdoors. Additionally, we have installed timers to eliminate unnecessary running hours, while variable frequency drives (VFDs) are in place for all power-intensive machines. These measures have resulted in significant energy savings.

Water neutrality

We initiated 'Project Jal' to reduce groundwater intake across our factories. We reorganised our operations' sequence to facilitate significant water reuse and used specific water consumption metrics at the plant level to ensure water savings at each plant. We conduct regular water audits and operate a zero-liquid discharge plant. These efforts have led to a 35% reduction in overall water consumption across our units.

Minimise emissions

Through our 'Clean to Green' initiative, we have implemented a smart heat recovery system in our chimneys. We used to release gas into the atmosphere at 70-80°C. Now, we recover the heat from this gas, which helps us reduce our carbon footprint, saving significant costs. We use the recovered energy to heat water, thus enhancing energy efficiency and sustainability.

➔ Read more about how we integrate sustainability into our processes in the 'Natural capital' section on page 106.

Outlook

We are swiftly expanding our capacities to meet increasing product demand and developing new facilities to address the nationwide demand for our products. With additional capacities, we aim to accommodate diverse end users across decorative and industrial segments. Greenfield lands have been acquired at West Bengal and Odisha to meet this purpose. Furthermore, we reduce our carbon footprint whenever possible to build a more sustainable future.

At our Jejuri plant, we have taken several measures to decrease carbon footprint.

Our largest ever manufacturing unit - Sandila

Celebrating our 100th year in India, we invested over ₹ 1,000 Crores towards our largest manufacturing unit in Sandila, Hardoi, Uttar Pradesh, to establish a modern, fully automated paint manufacturing unit. With a total installed capacity of 33,000+ KL per month, including water-based and solvent-based paints, as well as construction chemicals and putty, the plant will boost our profit margins in the future. Spread across 37 acres, the factory has generated hundreds of direct and indirect job opportunities, contributing to the economic growth of the region.

Health and safety

Health and safety are of paramount importance to us. Through extensive processes and mechanisms, we have seen incredible results regarding our safety indicators. Our leadership team involves itself to make the safety mechanisms better. We ensure proper safety mechanisms across our processes through a comprehensive approach which involved employee training and safety protocol.

Incidents

Zero

Fatalities, major accidents and incidents occurred during the reporting year

We have made a significant achievement in workplace safety for FY 2023-24 with zero fatalities, major accidents, and incidents from 11 incidents in FY 2022-23 and 3 incidents in FY 2021-22.

Making our warehouses safer

We have implemented the latest automation and error proofing measures to enhance firefighting arrangements, premises security, compliance management, and emergency preparedness. This approach includes installing surge and lightning protectors on electrical panels and aspiration type fire detectors with central sampling, smoke detection, and airflow sensor assembly. We conduct regular depot fire safety training, audits, mock drills, and quarterly meetings to review fire emergency preparedness. Additionally, we provide practical firefighting and emergency response management training to ensure readiness. We strictly supervise all material handling and storage activities, upholding cleanliness and hygiene standards.

Health and safety processes

Hazard identification and assessment

We conduct regular assessments to identify potential workplace hazards by examining processes, equipment, materials, and environments. Through job safety analysis (JSA), we implement measures to prevent accidents and injuries, ensuring a safer working environment for employees.

Reporting and investigation

We have established procedures for employees to report accidents, near misses and other safety incidents. We investigate these thoroughly to determine root causes and identify opportunities for enhancing safety procedures and controls.

Performance metrics

We track and monitor occupational health and safety (OHS) performance using metrics and KPIs such as injury rates, lost-time incidents, near misses and safety compliance levels. These metrics help assess the effectiveness of occupational health and safety programmes and initiatives, allowing us to identify areas for improvement and enhance workplace safety.

Committees and employee involvement

We established committees comprising management and employee representatives to address concerns and promote a safety culture within the organisation. Employee involvement in safety planning, decision-making, and problem-solving is encouraged, and monthly safety committee meetings play a critical role in fostering collaboration and continuously improving safety practices.

Training and education

We provide employees with ongoing safety training and education programmes, focusing on increasing awareness of workplace hazards and promoting safe work practices. These sessions cover hazard recognition, proper use of protective equipment, emergency procedures, and ergonomic principles.

Inspection and audits

We conduct regular safety inspections and audits to assess compliance with safety regulations and organisational policies performed by internal and external safety teams or auditors. These evaluations identify areas for enhancing safety protocols and practices, ensuring a safer work environment.

Safety and data monitoring

We analyse workplace data to identify trends and potential safety hazards, enabling proactive mitigation measures. Additionally, we ensure compliance with air and water regulations through thorough analysis and testing.

Surveillance programmes

We implement health surveillance programmes, including routine and special medical examinations, exposure level monitoring, workplace assessments and pre-employment and periodic medical checkups, to detect early signs of occupational illnesses or diseases among employees.

Our stereotype breaking women's workforce at the Jejuri plant

Our Jejuri plant's wood coating unit, which specialises in small packs, is managed entirely by a dedicated team of women from local villages. These women, who are first generation employees, have overcome initial apprehensions to excel in a traditionally male dominated manufacturing sector. Their efficiency and care in handling the delicate wood coating small packs have helped maintain product quality. We are bringing economic and social transformation by empowering our women workforce through regular training sessions, a collaborative work environment, and fun activities and recognition opportunities. We seek to cultivate a culture where our women employees feel confident, productive, and empowered to safeguard their rights.

'My Colour' application

We have enhanced our customer engagement efforts by leveraging next generation technology to interact with consumers more effectively. Through AI, we now simulate different colour combinations on their homes, allowing them to envision the outcome before beginning the painting process.

Customer testimonials

We stayed in our house for the past 18 years and needed to change the look. Berger Paints was our first choice because of their professional service. During COVID-19, we were a little worried because painting involved a lot of people. We researched and came to know that all the painters and contractors of Berger Paints followed safety protocols, wore masks, gloves and a complete suit given to them by the Company. Painting involves a lot of scrubbing and dust, but the best part of our experience was they were using these vacuum-based tools which would scrub all the previous paint, reducing about 70-80% of the dust. If you're thinking of painting, then go for Berger Paints."

Sujay Shinde, Pune

Painting is a very painful job. You cannot paint your house every 2-3 years, so we thought of going with the best, Berger Paints. We were not sure about the colour for our living and dining room. The Berger contractor suggested us a lazy summer colour. They told us to have faith in Berger Paints. They began their work by covering all the furniture first. They did the perfect job of division and work. They listened to our feedback and got the work done exactly how we wanted it to within time."

Overview

We recognise the long-term risks of climate change and have implemented various initiatives to mitigate them. Our exceptional environmental policy prioritises environmental protection and helps us to reduce our carbon footprint at every opportunity. We have also undertaken several initiatives across our manufacturing units, offices, depots, and warehouses with our environment monitoring plant (EMP) to improve our environmental performance. Our efforts in this regard have been recognised with several awards and accolades, affirming our dedication to improving the environment. Furthermore, our Company emphasises recycling, reuse, and material recovery, including solvents and water and repurposing washing solvents into new products. Our employees voluntarily undertake the responsibility of maintaining workplace cleanliness by removing disposables and scrap items. Our team ensures that each location is clean and environment-friendly and maintains proper hygiene and sanitation standards. Additionally, we monitor gas and dust emissions from process reactor vessels, mixed ball mills, and consolidated process reactor vessels to uphold environmental standards.

Energy

We have implemented MES (manufacturing execution system) and EMS (energy management system) to capture data during product processing and monitor specific power consumption. All our manufacturing facilities contribute to reducing specific fuel and power consumption and tracking both total and specific consumptions daily.

Energy conservation

We have invested in energy efficient machinery and technologies across our manufacturing facilities which include upgrading to high efficiency motors, installing LED lighting systems, and optimising heating, ventilation, and air conditioning (HVAC) systems. We have optimised our manufacturing processes to minimise energy usage and enhance efficiency. Some of our initiatives include implementing energy management systems and conducting regular energy audits to identify areas for improvement. Various energy saving measures have been implemented, including the installation of automatic timers. Variable frequency drives (VFDs) and lightweight blades in cooling towers also help reduce energy consumption. Moreover, the adopting photo sensors and streetlight timers has contributed to energy savings.

Renewable energy

Our Company is reducing emissions by implementing emission reduction projects, including installing rooftop solar power, which has resulted in significant reductions in greenhouse gas (GHG). To further reduce our reliance on conventional fossil fuels, our plants have transitioned to alternate biofuels, with a bio-briquette facility installed to meet process requirements. This shift contributes to the overall reduction of conventional fuel consumption and emissions per kilogram. Additionally, we are installing waste heat recovery systems (WHRS) to utilise redundant heat from thermic fluids and flue gas, providing heating and evaporating water in zero liquid discharge (ZLD) plants and heating process water, thereby eliminating the need for steam boilers.

Emissions

We have initiated emission reduction projects to diversify our energy sources further. By increasing our reliance on renewable energy and other non-conventional sources, we are also effectively reducing our greenhouse gas emissions. We manage gas and dust emissions from process reactor vessels, mixers, ball mills and consolidated process reactor vessels through several measures. During charging, we deploy dust collection and fine particle filtration systems to capture particulate matter, ensuring we only release clean air into the atmosphere. Additionally, stacks of adequate height are installed to prevent air pollution, complemented by dust and fume extraction systems, closed loop charging, bag filters, and cyclone separators to control fugitive emissions. We have also established bio-briquette plants at our facilities, utilising briquettes/pellets made from materials like cashew nut shells, groundnut shells, and sugarcane bagasse for heating purposes. Using clean and green biofuel in our heating operations has significantly contributed to keeping our carbon dioxide emissions lower than conventional high speed diesel (HSD) fuel. We submit half-yearly compliance reports to respective State Pollution Control Boards (SPCBs), accompanied by environmental quality monitoring test reports. Moreover, we install 24x7 continuous emission monitoring systems at process stacks to monitor emissions in real time, ensuring compliance with standards outlined in the Environment (Protection) Rules, 1986, and SPCB and Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB) guidelines. We get these systems periodically calibrated by labs recognised under the Environment (Protection) Act, 1986, or accredited by the National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories (NABL), as per equipment supplier specifications.

Water

We are working towards a water positive future by minimising water usage and waste. Water management is a priority for us, and we employ modern mechanisms to support this goal.

Wastewater management

We have effluent treatment plants (ETPs) and zero liquid discharge (ZLD) systems installed at our facilities. We ensure that treated water from our ETPs meets PCB recommendations before releasing it. To promote water recycling and reduce consumption, we have installed zero liquid discharge (ZLD) systems at applicable units, comprising various filtration units, RO modules and multiple effect evaporators (MEE). Effluent water treated by the ETPs undergoes ZLD treatment for reuse in domestic and industrial applications. Additionally, our ZLD plants ensure treated effluent reuse through UFRO units, with rejected water processed by MEE units to convert waste to salt, preventing water discharge outside the plants. Our team continuously works to modernise our ZLD operations, installing modern, compact ETP setups to enhance efficiency.

Water recycled

Effective water management at our plants

Our plants have installed digital water flowmeters to track daily water usage and reduce water consumption and loss. The implementation of Project JAL across all our plants is a corporate initiative aimed at curbing water wastage through measures such as reusing water, fixing leakages and raising awareness about water conservation. Through this project we have successfully decreased the water consumption intensity across all our factories located in water stressed zone. Additionally, washing water from mixers and twin shaft dispersers is collected and stored in vessels on the shop floor for reuse in subsequent batches, decreasing reliance on freshwater sources. Furthermore, our plants have transitioned to robust automatic filling machines to minimise spillage during operations. Staff and employees undergo educational sessions on water conservation, supported by posters displayed in and around the plant to promote behavioural changes.

Waste

We have initiated a project called 'War on Waste,' which focuses on the 4R principles: reduce, reuse, recycle, and recreate. This project aims to minimise waste at every possible source throughout our manufacturing operations. We utilise our monitoring systems to reuse any reusable materials. As a result of these efforts, we have successfully decreased waste generation at our plants despite improving our overall production.

Minimising different types of wastes

Washing solvent

We reuse washing solvent from equipment cleaning in subsequent production batches, repurposing spent solvent for cleaning and recovering fresh solvent in-house through distillation from waste solvent, which we then recycle into paint manufacturing. Our '19th Barrel Syndrome' project limits washing solvent generation, ensuring reuse within the first 18 barrels, while we reuse barrels used for production and storage to reduce our carbon footprint.

Plastic waste

We send plastic waste from raw material packaging and damaged packaging material to an authorised plastic recycler, adhering to Plastic Waste Management Rules. We have established an action plan in compliance with our extended producer responsibility (EPR) obligations and work with several waste management agencies (WMAs) for recycling. Additionally, we incorporate recycled plastic into our product packaging to reduce the use of virgin plastic.

Other wastes

Waste generated inside the plant is collected and disposed of through approved cement plants for co-processing. We also collect powder from the dust extraction system, which is then reused to make high quality and affordable products.

Natural capital

Waste management

In addition to the waste reduction and reuse strategies, we have implemented various initiatives, including reducing packaging, using recycled materials, and promoting waste reduction among employees. We have established recycling programmes for paper, plastic, and container segregation, ensuring optimal utilisation. These efforts reduce our environmental impact and ensure the safety and sustainability of our products and processes. All waste generated on site is disposed off through authorised recyclers, CHTSDF, or co-processors, with proper documentation such as TREM cards and manifest documents for hazardous waste disposal. We send biomedical waste to authorised common biomedical waste disposal facilities or nearby hospitals with disposal facilities. Kitchen/canteen wastes, other biodegradable wastes and STP sludge are sent for vermicomposting and reused as manure. We sell recyclable waste to scrap vendors and safe operating procedures are followed for shifting empty drums and carboys from the plant to the hazardous scrap yard and for final disposal to an authorised scrap dealer, with personnel wearing appropriate PPE throughout the decontamination process. During the consumption of raw materials on the shop floor, we maximise material usage in the process, with contaminated raw material barrels moved to the barrel decontamination facility inside the plant, where appropriate controls are in place to prevent spillage or leakage.

Controlling discharge at our factories

Our teams have diligently worked to ensure each location is clean and environment friendly, prioritising hygiene and sanitation. Our employees voluntarily take responsibility for maintaining cleanliness by removing disposables and scrap items from their workplaces. To address gas and dust emissions from process reactor vessels, mixers, ball mills, and other equipment, we have installed dust collection and fine particle filtration systems during charging, ensuring we discharge only clean air into the atmosphere. Additionally, we have implemented measures such as installing stacks of adequate height, dust and fume extraction systems, closed loop charging, bag filters, and cyclone separators to mitigate fugitive emissions into the air. We submit half yearly compliance reports to respective State Pollution Control Boards (SPCBs) and environmental quality monitoring test reports. Furthermore, we have installed 24x7 continuous emission monitoring systems at process stacks to monitor stack emissions per standards prescribed by the Environment (Protection) Rules, 1986, and calibrated these systems as per supplier specifications through labs recognised under the Environment (Protection) Act, 1986, or NABL accredited laboratories.

Hazardous waste management

Various hazardous waste types and categories are either recycled and utilised in-house, co-processed or disposed of through authorised recyclers or common hazardous waste treatment, storage and disposal facilities. We undertake measures to minimise manual handling, with solid/hazardous waste collected and temporarily stored in designated hazardous waste storage areas within the plant in compliance with Hazardous Waste Management Rules. We properly handle and store solid waste using closed containers with suitable lining and bunding to prevent spillage and contamination of surroundings and soil. All waste is handled with proper personal protective equipment (PPE) to ensure the safety of individuals working with solid waste. Waste is transported in drums and high density polyethylene bags to the solid and hazardous waste storage location, with dedusting machines used to recover residual powder in bags.

Environment

We work towards ecological protection and prevention and have drafted a robust environmental policy. Across our manufacturing units, offices, depots, and warehouses, we continually enhance environmental performance through initiatives outlined in our environment monitoring plan (EMP). We conduct impact studies for all activities, working towards minimising waste and transitioning to green energy. Implementing an environmental management system (EMS) has facilitated improved monitoring and management of electrical consumption, while our ongoing focus on resource optimisation includes recycling and reuse practices.

Creating greener landscapes across our facilities

We conduct awareness campaigns to educate the public and their stakeholders about the importance of plantation and environmental conservation. These campaigns often highlight the benefits of trees in combating climate change and preserving biodiversity. Engagement with local communities is a key aspect of Berger Paints' plantation initiatives. By involving communities in tree planting and nurturing activities, our Company fosters a sense of ownership and responsibility towards the environment. We have undertaken several initiatives to improve greenery across our factories.

Puducherry unit

At our Puducherry unit, we have enhanced the green belt by 20% through by planting over 1,000 trees. We have also removed invasive species that adversely affected native trees and maintained a pond within the plant premises to support ecosystem sustainability efforts.

Jejuri unit

At our Jejuri unit, our team has planted 2,700 plants, which has now increased to 3,850 plants using the Miyawaki Method. We have focused on planting medicinal species such as False daisy, Mexican mint, and Alpinia, along with native trees and shrubs within the plant premises.

Sandila unit

In alignment with our Company's broader sustainability goals, we have planted 7,500 indigenous saplings using the Miyawaki plantation method at our newly established Sandila plant. This initiative builds on a strong legacy of environmental consciousness that has been a hallmark across our other plants.

Naltali unit

Over the years, we have undertaken several eco-friendly practices across our plants. One such plant is our Naltali plant which has drastically improved in terms of biodiversity through the plantation of many palm trees along with other types of plants.

Jammu unit

At our Jammu unit, we have maintained a green cover within the premises, featuring over 240 trees alongside floral shrubs and flowerpots in our green belt areas, showcasing a variety of species. As part of our sustainability efforts, we have planted 230 plants in cut barrels to reuse plastic and utilised rooftop space for plantations covering an area of around 3,900 square metres. We have also developed a green belt area outside our factory premises, planting over 300 chinar trees along the banks of the Basantar river.

Hindupur unit

At our state-of-the-art Hindupur Unit, we have dedicated 40% of the land to green belt areas, with ongoing tree plantation activities resulting in planting over 1,000 trees in a year. The green belt area features various trees, including Gulmohar, Silver Oak, Coconut, Papaya, Banyan, Jackfruit, Custard Apple, Almond, and Teakwood.

Goa unit

To promote green working environment, our units have inculcated the culture of placing plants inside the control rooms and offices, Vertical Gardening. Shop floor is maintained with low VOC emission so as to sustain the growth of these plants and indicate the healthiness of working area.

Our commitment to sustainability

Sustainability has always been an integral part of our Company and we strive to integrate it across all our operations. We have implemented numerous initiatives to improve across various sustainability parameters. Furthermore, our factories have integrated management systems under ISO 9001:2015, ISO 14001:2015 and ISO 45001:2018.

Project JAL

The project was initiated almost two years ago, and it focuses on recognising the limitations of water resources and exploring all avenues within our operations to reduce water intake, improve recycling and reuse, promote rainwater harvesting, and employ water-efficient technologies in manufacturing processes. Additionally, it aims to raise awareness among our employees and the wider community about the importance of water conservation. We have monitored groundwater intake across all our plants and strategically planned to reduce it.

A particularly innovative measure in our operations involves implementing pigging technology in our paint production facility to optimise the pipeline cleaning process. This technology allows for the removal of residual paint from pipelines, reducing waste and minimising downtime between colour changes. Consequently, pigging reduces the need for excessive water flushing, leading to cost savings in both materials and waste disposal. Furthermore, it aligns with environmental regulations by minimising water usage.

Green Sewage Treatment Plant (STP)

The Green (STP) implemented by us is an innovative and eco-friendly solution designed to treat and manage wastewater. The STP utilises advanced treatment technologies to efficiently process sewage and convert it into reusable water. The system incorporates biological treatment methods, including activated sludge processes and natural filtration techniques, to ensure high-quality effluent output. The treated water is then used for non-potable purposes within the facility, such as gardening, cooling systems, and cleaning operations. Remarkably, this technology operates without the need for machinery, chemicals, manpower, or electricity. From just one unit, we achieve the purification of 15 Lakhs litres of sewage water per year.

Project Clean to Green

Our pursuit of operational excellence in production processes is driven by our commitment to optimising efficiency and quality while upholding responsible and ethical corporate conduct, particularly in the realms of Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) and sustainability. This commitment is spearheaded by our Manufacturing Excellence department, which focuses on integrating ESG principles into our production processes to minimise negative impacts and generate long-term value for our stakeholders. Recognising the substantial impact manufacturing has on global sustainability concerns, we have taken significant measures to ensure our operations are environment friendly.

We have implemented the “War on Waste – Sanchayan” project across all our plants. This project follows the 4R principles (Reduce, Reuse, Recycle, Recreate), aiming to reduce waste at the source, recover sticky losses, reuse powder raw materials in batches through de-dusting RM bags, and recreate usable raw materials from waste. We have established a system to monitor these processes, ensuring that no reusable material is discarded as waste.

We have transitioned to using automatic machines for filling operations at all our plants, significantly reducing the chance of spillage. This shift also prevents excess or insufficient filling, which could lead to product rejection due to shade mismatches. We focus on defect prevention through the implementation of Right First Time (RFT) principles to minimise process waste generation. Additionally, washing solvent generated from cleaning equipment is reused in subsequent production batches. Spent solvent is repurposed for cleaning purposes, and after multiple uses, fresh solvent is recovered from waste solvent through an in-house distillation process, which is then recycled back into paint manufacturing activities. Through the "19th barrel syndrome" project, we limit the generation of washing solvent so that it is reused within 18 barrels.

Barrels used for production and storage are reused, further contributing to our carbon footprint reduction efforts. Plastic waste from raw material packaging and damaged packaging materials is sent to authorised plastic recyclers. Various initiatives such as yield improvement, excess give-away reduction, base tinting Kaizen, green solvent usage, and rutile recovery have significantly contributed to waste reduction. These measures not only enhance operational efficiency but also reinforce our commitment to sustainable practices and environmental stewardship.

Green energy transition

Thermic Fluid Heaters, previously run on diesel, now utilise biofuel-fired alternatives such as ground nut pellets, cashew nut pellets, sugarcane bagasse, bamboo pellets, dry mango seeds, and rice husks. This transition has significantly reduced our carbon footprint and greenhouse gas emissions. Berger has implemented a large-scale shift to alternative fuels like bio briquettes, replacing conventional SOx and NOx generating fuels. Additionally, the installation of rooftop solar power plants has significantly reduced our reliance on grid electricity.

Our project building infrastructures are designed to maximise daylight on the shop floor by installing skylights, thereby reducing electricity usage during the day. We are committed to educating our workforce on environmental protection initiatives, with management leading by example. We organise inter-unit Kaizen competitions and promote horizontal deployment by engaging our employees' skills in various fields such as quality, safety, engineering, production, cost savings, morale, and housekeeping improvement across our manufacturing plants and offices. Environmental-friendly initiatives are rewarded and recognised, further encouraging sustainable practices.

Energy-efficient LED lights for indoor and outdoor lighting have been installed in all our plants. Timers have been placed on key machines to eliminate unnecessary running hours. Variable Frequency Drives (VFDs) have been installed on all high-power-consuming machines, resulting in significant energy savings. Automatic operation (switching on/off) of the cooling tower fans has been implemented, and lightweight blades are now used in cooling towers to reduce energy consumption. We have developed uniform pressure distribution in the compressed air lines. Additionally, photo sensors and timers are being used in streetlights to minimise unnecessary running hours, further contributing to energy savings.

Reducing batch cycle time

We have undertaken various initiatives to reduce batch cycle time in paint and intermediate manufacturing such as

- Change in grinding media to improve the efficiency of ball mill.
- Replaced conventional ball mills with basket mills for manufacturing specific shades, reducing grinding time by 18-20 hours and achieving savings in manpower, washing solvent, and electricity consumption. This drastically decreases steel ball consumption, saving 70 kWh per batch.
- Installation of timer-based automatic control for running/stoppage.
- Automatic Timers control switch for TSD with PLC Programming setup for controlling operational time for each batch, saving approximately 42 kWh per batch.

Stree Shakti

We champion women's empowerment and firmly believe in their ability to excel in traditionally male-dominated roles. Several years ago, we launched the "Stree Shakti" initiative to create a supportive environment for female employees across our manufacturing facilities. This initiative has enabled women to take on roles in production lines, quality control, administration, and various other sectors based on their skills and capabilities, breaking free from traditional gender stereotypes.

Today, our workforce is strong and diverse, with women leading entire sections such as the Wood Coating Filling and Planning in Jejuri, the Filling section in Pondicherry, and the Colorant & Stainers production and filling section in Sandila. In our other plants, women contribute significantly across quality control, filling, HR and administration, finance, security, and housekeeping, consistently exceeding their key performance indicators (KPIs) and demonstrating exceptional capabilities. To further enhance gender diversity and challenge stereotypes in manufacturing, we offer a dynamic, supportive, and inclusive work environment tailored to the needs of our female employees and prospective candidates.

My Area My Pride (MAMP)

Our MAMP (My Area My Pride) initiatives align closely with the 'Swachh Bharat' campaign initiated by the honourable Prime Minister of India. We are committed to fostering a cleaner and greener environment. Our organisation not only promotes recycling and reuse but also emphasises the recovery of materials, including solvents and water, to create new products. Additionally, we have implemented various waste reduction strategies such as minimising packaging, using recycled materials, and encouraging our employees to reduce waste generation.

Other technological improvements

Various technologies including MES, EMS, and HMI automation are utilised to capture data during product processing and monitor specific power consumption across manufacturing facilities. These efforts aim to reduce fuel and power consumption by tracking both total and specific usage daily.

In our latest plants, operations are fully equipped with modern equipment and technology. Most processes are highly automated and controlled via DCS (Distributed Control System). We employ a pneumatic powder handling system with silos for powder raw materials, while liquid raw materials are stored in tanks and pumped automatically under DCS control. A Pigging System ensures pipelines remain clear of liquids, and finished products are handled by fully automatic filling lines and robotic palletisers. Pallets are then automatically transferred to ASRS (Automatic Storage and Retrieval System) for storage and dispatch.

To enhance environmental safety and efficiency, our plants have implemented closed-loop systems such as Sand mills, SILO-based charging, bag slitting machines, and automated liquid chemical charging. These initiatives significantly reduce spillage, leakage risks, and VOC emissions. In pursuit of a dust-free workplace, our Powder Charging operations have transitioned to closed-loop automatic charging using a Pneumatic Powder handling system, complemented by the adoption of bag slitting machines.

Automatic Fire Suppressors using polyamide tubes have replaced conventional cylinders in Electrical Panels, LT Rooms, and MCC panel Rooms, offering clean and zero ODS gas for fire suppression.

Natural capital

Earth Rite Relay System automation has been implemented across all manufacturing locations to automate solvent unloading, ensuring foolproof safety throughout the tanker unloading process.

Introduced Automatic Foam Sprinkler & QBD Sprinkler across our units.

We have commissioned a modern fire protection system at our units, incorporating foam sprinkler assemblies connected to SCADA for alert notifications and remote operation during emergencies.

High-end automation and robotics have been implemented in our factories to eliminate human errors and enhance workplace safety. Interlocks integrated into the Distributed Control System (DCS) and field instruments further mitigate risks related to safety and quality, ensuring robust operational control.

Our filling machines now feature an Auto Data logger facility activated through IoT, with all accumulated data displayed on local dashboards and monitored in real-time centrally. This setup aids in generating weight records, calculating process performance metrics, and visualising data through graphs. It prevents overflowing beyond tolerance limits by triggering alarms and halting operations until corrected, ensures compliance with legal metrology standards, maintains uniformity in base material weights for accurate shade tinting, and enhances overall product safety through automatic control mechanisms.

We have installed fully automatic integrated paint processing facilities and filling lines to enhance productivity and minimise manual interventions.

Natural capital

We are transitioning towards Zero-Liquid Discharge (ZLD) facilities across all our units to treat and recycle maximum wastewater, eliminating effluent discharge from our plant premises. The permeate water from the ZLD plant is utilised for utility services, industrial cooling, and recycling purposes.

OEMS (Online Effluent Management System), compliant with CPCB guidelines, will be implemented in our upcoming project to monitor real-time effluent quality indicators like BOD, COD, TSS, pH, etc., with continuous recording. Any deviations beyond acceptable limits will trigger mobile alerts to the concerned personnel, ensuring prompt action and compliance.

Safe 24

Berger Paints has launched SAFE 24, a new safety initiative aimed at enhancing safety culture across all business segments. This initiative involves playing short safety videos from an online library at the start of every internal meeting, both offline and online.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Industry Structure and Development

The global economy is facing multiple challenges emanating from elevated inflation, tight monetary and financial conditions, escalating geopolitical tensions, rising geoeconomic fragmentation, disruptions in key global shipping routes, high public debt burdens and financial stability risks. Global financial markets are on edge with recurrent bouts of volatility as every incoming data increases uncertainty around monetary policy trajectories of major central banks.

According to International Monetary Fund (IMF), global growth decelerated to 3.2% during 2023 from 3.5% in 2022. The pace of economic activity was dragged down, inter-alia, by restrictive monetary policy stances to tame inflation, protracted geopolitical tensions and sluggish recovery in China. The potential impact of climate change became increasingly evident, with economic losses due to extreme weather events. Global inflation fell to 6.8% in 2023 from 8.7% in 2022 on the back of easing commodity prices, favorable supply conditions and monetary tightening across major economies, but still remained at its highest level in over two decades. Inflation in respect of core items and services remained elevated, exhibiting persistence in major economies amidst tight labour market conditions.

Against the backdrop of subdued global economic activity and multiple headwinds, the Indian economy expanded at a robust pace in 2023-24 with real GDP growth accelerating to 7.6% from 7% in the previous year. Growth in private consumption demand, on the other hand, stood at 3% as against 6.8% a year ago. Government consumption demand was also subdued tracking fiscal consolidation. The foreign reserves stood at robust $642.6 billion.

The G20 Indian Presidency under the Finance Track accorded primacy to the broad themes of climate change, digitalization, and concerns of the Global South with priorities cutting across various working groups. Realizing the vision of 'Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam' – One Earth: One Family: One Future – the G20 Indian Presidency reaffirmed that the G20 remains the premier forum for global economic cooperation to steer the world through emerging challenges.

Indian Paint Industry

The global economic outlook remains beset by multiple headwinds: inflation persisting above target with the pace of disinflation losing momentum; elevated public debt in major systemic economies and their repercussions on the global economy in the case of disorderly adjustments; financial stability risks from the higher for longer interest rates scenario; protracted geopolitical tensions; inefficiencies from geoeconomic fragmentation; and accentuated climate shocks.

The Indian Paints and Coatings market size is estimated at USD 9.56 billion in 2024 and is expected to reach USD 15.00 billion in 2029, growing at a CAGR of 9.38% during the forecast period (2025-2029). COVID-19 hampered the paint industry market in India. With economic uncertainties and a slowdown in various sectors such as real estate, construction, and automotive, the demand for paints decreased significantly. After Covid, there was pent up demand which pushed up volume sales. Inflation in raw material prices was passed on resulting in 10% higher value growth compared to volume growth in 2022-23. In 2023-24, volume growth slowed down a bit, though still in double digits. However, with raw material prices dropping, we dropped our product prices. The mix also shifted towards lower priced products. As a result, our value growth was in mid-single digit.

The traction in construction activity is likely to be sustained, supported by both residential and non-residential real estate demand. Sectors like waterproofing and construction chemicals are growing rapidly with present market size of around ₹ 15000 Crore in India. The Company along with its subsidiary is one of the leading players in this sector.

Architectural coatings are used for both residential buildings and commercial purposes, such as office buildings, warehouses, retail convenience stores and shopping malls. These coatings can be applied on outer and inner surfaces and include sealers or specialty products. India has been experiencing rapid urbanization and infrastructure development, which has led to a surge in construction projects. Thus, this has directly increased the demand for architectural paints used in buildings and structures.

The residential sector in the country is on an increasing trend, with government support and initiatives that are permanently boosting the demand. The Ministry of Housing and Urban Development (MoHUA) allocated the funds for the construction of houses. The Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana, a flagship mission of the Government of India, aims at ensuring a pucca house to all eligible households thus boosting the demand for paints and coatings.

Also, the country is expanding its commercial sector, which has a positive impact on the architectural emulsion coatings market. Therefore, due to the factors mentioned, the demand for paints for the architectural segment is expected to witness robust growth in India in the upcoming period.

India's journey towards becoming a developed nation hinges significantly on improving its infrastructure, a cornerstone for fostering liveable, climate resilient and inclusive cities that drive economic growth. With more and more spending on roads and highways, railways, ports and airports the demand for protective coatings and construction chemicals would increase. Private sector partnerships have emerged as crucial enablers in this endeavour, bringing in much needed investment, innovation and efficiency. The Company is positioned number 1 in the Protective Coatings category.

The automotive sector has bounced back last year and has been growing at a faster rate than the previous year. There has been a strong growth in the car category while two-wheelers and commercial vehicles grew at a slower pace. Tractors had muted growth rate. The General Industrial category grew at a moderate pace. Meanwhile, powder coatings suffered due to change in norms in the fan industry but is back on growth path.

The tag line 'Sadiyo se viswas, hamesha hamara saath' is an apt expression when we are delighted to see that our shareholders, employees, dealers, consumers, contractors, JV partners, painters are mostly stuck to us for many, many years now.

At Berger, our mission is to deliver and innovate high-quality painting solutions that enhance the aesthetics and protection of every space we touch. These programs are aimed at equipping painters with innovative products and methods of painting thus resulting in learning and improving the quality of life of those trained in these academies. In order to ensure that existing painters as well as aspiring painters in far-flung areas of the country receive training, the model of mobile iTrain vans have been hugely successful. These iTrain vans travel to remote locations and carry out training. These mobile iTrain vans are presently managed by Smile Foundation, a reputed NGO who has entered into a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the Company for carrying out mobile iTrain activity on behalf of the Company thus bringing in more efficiency into the program. While traditionally painting has been a male-dominated profession, Berger has been committed to empowering women in the industry by providing them training and vocational skills and encouraging them to take up painting as a profession. To summarise, the implementation of CrowdStrike's MDR and EDR solutions allow us to enhance cyber security, reduce risks, and protect our vital assets. We have also implemented integrated Oracle Warehouse Management System (WMS) with the efficiency of ABB machines for palletization and Automated Storage and Retrieval Systems (ASRS).

Last financial year had once again been an exhilarating one in supply chain and logistics domain at Berger. So true to Berger ethos and as we had institutionalized for some years now, we had continuously worked on systems and processes, bringing in new, better ways of doing challenging tasks. We have innovated, rediscovered and further improved operational efficiencies. The results were extremely encouraging when we look back and realize that we have consistent lowest number of days of finished goods inventory in retail business line, ever. Some path breaking processes and system level tweaks to tackle the problem of slow-moving goods were implemented which resulted in our slow moving percentage to sales going down to ever lowest numbers.

With the successes of O9 – our integrated supply chain platform, we have initiated to implement the same in our industrial business line as well. This is supposed to give remarkable operational efficiencies in our industrial business, same as we have already experienced in decorative business. Efforts are on towards digitization of primary logistics and procure to pay cycle, through another new-gen logistics platform 'Pando'. Once this is fully operational, it will transform our primary transportation landscape. The 'WMS' (Warehouse Management System) implementations in our factories and warehouses had continued relentlessly, as it happened in the earlier years. This makes our warehouse handling one of the best in the world and goes a long way in improving channel partner and customer experience.

The bold experiments done in supply chain and logistics space mostly paid off and helped us in navigating the challenges and improve our supply chain operations, aided to create customer delight and helped create an even stronger and knowledge driven team.

The procurement landscapes had remained challenging for strategic and important raw materials like titanium dioxide, monomers, Penta etc. Due to domestic policy environment, initiation of anti-dumping investigations, geo-political tensions induced sea-freight issues, the challenges were many. The challenges were effectively neutralized by proactively opening new sourcing geographies and planned Free-On-Board (FOB) movements.

In this digital space, AI driven MyColor app, Oracle HRMS, Salesforce-CRM, supply chain O9 helped us move forward significantly in term of sales, marketing and logistics.

The HR function at Berger during FY 2023-24 concentrated on succession planning, leadership capability training, employee survey and other engagement initiatives. It is now expanding to include subsidiaries, broadening its positive impact. Berger has set a new sustainability benchmark in the Indian Paint Industry with the introduction of a revolutionary Green STP at our plant, requiring zero electrical power, chemicals, or human intervention, at no additional cost. Our legacy of trust and ongoing innovation propels us towards a future of continued success and leadership.

Focus and Outlook for 2024-25

The Indian economy is navigating the drag from an adverse global macroeconomic and financial environment. Real GDP growth is robust on the back of solid investment demand which is supported by healthy balance sheets of banks and corporates, the government's focus on capital expenditure and prudent monetary, regulatory and fiscal policies. As headline inflation eases towards the target, it will spur consumption demand especially in rural areas.

Digital payments would be shaped through the pillars of integrity, inclusion, innovation, institutionalisation and internationalisation. India is poised to actively contribute to the sharing of knowledge regarding Digital Public Infrastructures, facilitating the creation of similar frameworks in other emerging nations. Furthermore, forward looking initiatives such as the establishment of a cloud facility for the Indian financial sector and the creation of a FinTech repository are expected to enhance operational efficiency, reduce complexity and promote financial innovations.

The domestic economy exhibited growth in 2023-24, underpinned by strong investment activities, amidst subdued external demand. The GDP growth stood at 7.6%. The GDP growth constituted of investment growth of 10% and a muted consumption growth of 4%. Generally, the paint and coatings industry's volume growth is 1.5 to 2% of the consumption growth in India. Going by this logic, the paint and coatings industry's volume growth should have been 8% whereas we have grown by 12%. However, the value growth was lower by 6% due to price drop and product mix change. The Company gained market share in the listed space in India by 0.5% during FY 2023-24 and the same stood at 19.7%.

The growth outlook remains buoyant, given the government's sustained focus on capital expenditure while maintaining fiscal consolidation. Strong corporate balance sheets, rising capacity utilisation, double digit credit growth, healthy financial sector, and the ongoing disinflation are likely to be other growth levers. Lingering geopolitical tensions, geo-economic fragmentation and adverse climate shocks impart downside risks to the outlook.

India's construction sector, currently ranking as the world's third largest, posted strong growth in 2023-24. Steel consumption and cement production expanded by 11.9% and 9.1% respectively, in 2023-24. Pent-up demand and robust consumer sentiment for home ownership seen since the pandemic, maintained momentum in 2023-24.

Projects

Odisha Industrial Infrastructure Development Corporation (Government of Odisha Undertaking) has allotted a piece of land measuring about 80 acres in mouza Kalibeti under Khurdha Tahasil in the District of Khurdha, Odisha for setting up a manufacturing unit by the Company for paints, intermediates and allied products with annual capacity of approximately 4,10,000 KL/MT. The Company plans to put up a modern technology – based environmentally sustainable unit for manufacture of paints, coatings, construction chemicals, intermediates including emulsions, resins and related products in the land allotted.

The Company has acquired 29.907 acres of land at Panagarh Industrial Park, Paschim Bardhaman District, West Bengal for the purpose of setting up a construction chemical plant, putty plant and also a resin manufacturing unit. This plant is expected to be commissioned by the end of 2025 subject to receipt of requisite approvals from the government, regulatory bodies.

Opportunities and Threats

The Paint and coatings industry in India has experienced fast growing consumer demand. With a hike in per capita income, a few big players have decided to explore the paint and coatings business. A post pandemic boom of investments and infrastructure development has resulted in a demand spike from the real estate sector which roughly accounts for about 70% of the total coating demand in India.

The demand from real estate is expected to be robust in 2024-25 on expectations of significant project completions and increased government spending on affordable housing and infrastructure. With the promises made by the government under the PM Awas Yojana in addition to 40 million houses already under construction, the demand for paint and coatings would only gain momentum, encouraging new players to bait on the sector.

Demand for repainting, which accounts for 80% of the total decorative paint demand, is also expected to pick up due to factors such as growing population, increased rental homes, and growth in the income levels of consumers.

Given India's strong economic fundamentals, future growth potential, and zeal for 'Make in India' the Indian paint industry is poised for a colourful future. Digital transformation initiatives, AI driven applications, focus on 'Reimagining' or adopting a fresh and innovative approach for sustainable growth are key trust areas for India's paint and coatings industry.

The threat caused due to COVID-19 pandemic are still in our memories and the continuing conflict in eastern Europe and a part of middle east adds to the anxiety and uncertainty. With the paint and coatings industry doing well, the competition is expected to be stiffer with a number of business conglomerates planning to enter this sector. Moreover, the growth of this industry largely depends on the growth of real estate in the constructive industry as also the repainting cycle. Berger is well positioned to handle competition with its innovative mindset, digital interventions including AI, skilled workforce, scientific, training modules, planning ahead of time, ably supported by government policies and continued stress on sustainability initiatives.

With massive capex investments planned, coupled with green field and brown field projects, capacity expansion with continued stress on sustainability initiatives, the paint industry as a whole is expected to grow inspite of challenges.

in 2022 but still remained at its highest level in over two decades with inflation in respect of core items and services being on the higher side which meant that intricate planning had to be made and executed at each stage of business so that the growth remains unaffected.

Beyond the uncertainties, fortunately with innovative products, enthusiastic workforce, strong market presence and constant focus on profitability with young aspirational population at large, increase in consumption of paint is likely to happen. With the focus of the Company to cater to the needs of various strata of population striving to give them a better customer experience, the Company is confident to grow and achieve higher numbers inspite of new entrants knocking at the door.

The short-term and long-term goals and strategies need to be reviewed regularly in order to be ready and adaptable to the change.

Executive Summary

Skill development plays a crucial role in the economic and social advancement of every nation. The proficiency of the workforce not only impacts productivity and income levels but also influences their adaptability in a changing environment. India faces a pressing need for skilled workers. However, a mismatch in skills may impede full employment and hinder economic recovery.

The paint and coating industry is witnessing remarkable growth, leading to a surge in demand for skilled painters. However, the industry is concurrently grappling with a shortage of skilled painters, particularly in the domain of paint application. The scarcity of formal training opportunities and insufficient provisions for painter training are key factors contributing to the shortage of skilled workers in the paint industry.

Against the background of the growing demand for skilled painters in the paint and coating industry, Berger Paints India Limited developed the iTrain program to enhance the skills and professionalism of painters. The program provides technical training, soft skills, and entrepreneurial skills to equip painters with the knowledge needed to excel in the industry. Conducted through fixed and mobile centres in collaboration with Smile Foundation, the program ensures accessibility for painters in remote areas. Berger Paints India Limited partnered with Smile Foundation to manage the operational and logistical aspects of the iTrain mobile vans, furthering the program's reach and impact.

This report presents the findings of the impact assessment study which was conducted by interviewing a sample of painters who have received training from both the fixed centres as well as the mobile centres. The locations covered for the assessment were selected from the West, East, North and South of India to ensure geographical coverage. In addition to speaking with the direct beneficiaries, the assessment included other stakeholders including the trainers, the implementing agency's team and the program team.

The report outlines the findings of an impact assessment study conducted through interviews with painters who received training from both fixed and mobile centres of the iTrain program. The impact assessment findings demonstrate the significant positive effects of the iTrain program on the participating painters. A notable outcome is the increased confidence reported by 77.17% of the painters, leading to career advancements for 70.65% of them and an increase in clients for 77.39% due to enhanced soft skills. The program has had a key economic impact, with 100% of participants noting improved incomes, enabling better access to utilities, high-quality food, children's education, and asset acquisition. The program successfully enhances professionalism within the industry and makes it more appealing as a career option for newcomers.

Moreover, the iTrain program has played a crucial role in empowering painters to become entrepreneurs and grow their painting businesses. Participants who consistently attended iTrain sessions have expanded their service offerings, customer reach, and team size, with an average team growth of 12 members per contractor. Another notable achievement of the program is the enhanced accessibility to training provided by the mobile iTrain vans. Insights gathered from discussions with the Smile Foundation team, trainers, and trainees underscore the critical role of mobile training in delivering comprehensive, market-aligned training to individuals in remote areas, who would otherwise not have access to such opportunities.

Additionally, there have been initiatives to promote the involvement of women in the program, resulting in increased participation in various locations such as Bhuj, Shillong, Jawai, Guwahati and Ghadchiroli. In these locations, efforts to encourage women's participation in the iTrain program have focused on providing tailored support and creating a conducive environment for their involvement. Specialised outreach programs and community engagement initiatives have been implemented to raise awareness and address specific challenges faced by women in accessing training opportunities.

In conclusion, the iTrain program has emerged as a transformative initiative in the paint and coating industry, addressing the critical need for skilled painters while enhancing their professional development and economic prospects. The program's impact is evident in the increased confidence, career advancements, and improved

b. What are the processes used to identify work-related hazards and assess risks on a routine and non-routine basis by the entity?

We follow a systematic approach to identify work-related hazards. This includes but is not limited to –

- Regular inspections of the workplace to identify hazards such as chemical exposure, machinery malfunctions, or ergonomic issues.

Annexure VII to the Directors' Report (contd.)

- Reviewing incident reports and near-misses to identify areas of concern.
- Consulting with employees and safety representatives who work directly with the equipment or processes to gather insights into potential hazards.
- Using risk assessment tools like HAZOP, HIRA, QRA, etc. for each activity or process, routine and for any significant project changes, including green/brown field projects to quantify and prioritise risks & involving relevant stakeholders, including employees, supervisors, and safety experts, in the risk assessment process. For critical changes, a Process Hazard Analysis (PHA) using HAZOP methodology is conducted by qualified professionals. This process systematically identifies potential hazards in the workplace and assesses the risks associated with them. Appropriate control measures are then determined to mitigate these risks. HAZOP studies are carried out across all units, and safety improvements are regularly implemented to reduce or eliminate risks in processes and operations.
- Regular safety audits and inspections by both external and internal parties in planned/surprise fashion to ensure compliance with safety procedures and regulations.
- Comprehensive safety measures through routine and specialised assessments conducted by reputable agencies and consultants. These include Hazardous Area Classification, ATEX Studies, Chemical Process Safety Assessments, Fire & Life Safety Assessments, and Electrical Safety Assessments.
- Ongoing training and education programs to keep employees informed about potential hazards and safe work practices.
- Implementing feedback mechanisms like near miss reporting, Abnormality Identification, Safety committee review, etc. to allow employees to report hazards or suggest improvements to safety procedures.
- On a non-routine basis we are also conducting risk assessments before introducing new processes, equipment, or materials into the workplace.
- Developing specific risk assessment protocols for non-routine tasks or activities, such as maintenance work or emergency response procedures.
- All major injuries & high potential incidents undergo detailed investigation using the methodology like 5-why analysis, 5W1H, Fishbone Analysis, etc. Corrective action & preventive action plan (CAPA) is then developed based on the findings of the investigation. The learnings are implemented & horizontally deployed across other units to avoid repetitive incidents and corrective actions are driven by site leadership of each location.

By following these steps, we can proactively identify and mitigate work-related hazards, helping to ensure the safety and well-being of their employees.

- c. Whether you have processes for workers to report the work related hazards and to remove themselves from such risks. (Y/N)

Yes, we have Abnormality reporting, Near miss reporting and Safety committee meetings to collect feedback from our employees on any impending risk in their work areas and also try to understand the potential chances of risk from our existing process in a such a way so that solutions can be devised to mitigate such risks.

These processes typically involve clear communication channels for reporting hazards, training on hazard recognition, and empowering workers to stop work if they see in any imminent danger at workplace.

We are increasingly leveraging technology such as sensors, IoT devices, modern age equipments, etc. to monitor workplace conditions in real-time. This includes monitoring air quality, temperature for fire related devices activation and logic for smart automation, noise levels, critical areas for any toxic gas release, etc. to identify potential hazards and ensure compliance with safety standards. Ensuring compliance with relevant occupational health and safety regulations and standards set forth by local authorities and industry organizations with regularly reviewing and updating safety protocols to align with any changes in regulations or best practices has been our prime goal.

All our sites have emergency response plans for various scenarios, such as fires, chemical spills, or medical emergencies and we also ensure that employees are trained in emergency procedures and that adequate resources are available to respond effectively to emergencies. Conducting mock drills with supervision and associating with local fire authorities at our plants helps us to improve the standards of the exercise and identify any potential gap which is taken care with utmost priority.

We also encourage employee involvement in safety initiatives by soliciting feedback, conducting safety committees or meetings, and recognizing and rewarding safe behaviors. Creating an environment where employees feel empowered to report hazards and suggest improvements to safety practices.

The company also offers medical check-up, health and wellness programs to promote employee well-being, including access to healthcare services, counseling, fitness programs, and ergonomic assessments to prevent work-related injuries and illnesses.

For shop floor personnel, we ensure use of appropriate personal protective equipment, such as helmets, safety shoes, safety goggles, gloves, respirators, and protective clothing, to employees based on the nature of their work and potential hazards present in the workplace.

We are also conducting regular inspections of the workplace to identify and address potential hazards, such as faulty equipment, spills, or unsafe working conditions and working continuously towards building up robust maintenance program each year to ensure that machinery and facilities are properly maintained and in good working condition.

Also, comprehensive safety training is provided to all employees, including proper handling of chemicals, equipment operation, emergency procedures, and ergonomics. This ensures that employees are aware of potential hazards and know how to work safely.

We keep our new facilities abreast with Latest firefighting technologies which can be operated at a safe distance through SCADA as well as can be automatically actuated based on logic controlled programs. Fail safe scenarios are being developed to identify any gap in the existing control measures and best in class technologies/equipment are being installed at the shop floor to ensure that manual mistakes do not lead to any incident by making the system tamper-proof. We practice isolation measures through LOTO implementation in our shutdown/maintenance activities and all non- routine activities which are not involved in production is being carried out through Work Permit System.

Through proper identification and isolation of zones, we ensure that suitable flame proof equipment, firefighting devices and other preventive measures like Guard cover, multiple layer of protection in solvent & monomer unloading/handling, working practices as per standard procedure, necessary Single Point lessons, compatibility chart, etc. are being installed at the shop floor and proper training is provided to workers/operators and staff who are involved in the respective activities.

15. Provide details of any corrective action taken or underway to address safety-related incidents (if any) and on significant risks/ concerns arising from assessments of health & safety practices and working conditions.

Any significant risk/concern highlighted during the external or internal reviews/ routine and non-routine inspection/by workers or operators, etc. is being taken up with utmost priority and operations are also dismissed until proper corrective action is being taken while a robust preventive action plan is being drawn up by the local/Corporate Safety team. Near miss reporting and CAPA against any incident/accident is being done through online portal where tracking of such open issues is being done and proper resolution is being implemented through involvement of all concerned team members.

To address significant risks and concerns arising from assessments of health & safety practices and working conditions following measures are in place

- Developing a comprehensive Health & Safety Management System (HSMS) to ensure that all employees are aware of their responsibilities and the risks associated with their work.
- Establishing a Health & Safety Committee to review and monitor safety performance and ensure that any risks and concerns are addressed.
- Introducing a range of safety training programmes to ensure that all employees are aware of their responsibilities and the risks associated with their work.
- Implementing a range of safety initiatives to reduce the risk of accidents and injuries, such as ensuring proper personal protective equipment (PPE) compliance and the use of safety signage and warning systems.
- Carrying out regular risk assessments to identify any potential hazards and take appropriate action to reduce or eliminate them.

- Working with external health and safety consultants to review and update safety policies and procedures
- Establishing a safety culture within the organization to ensure that safety is given the highest priority.

With this approach, there had been no accident/major incidents in the past year. For minor spill and leakage related incidents which occurred previously both Corrective and preventive actions have been taken up. No environmental damage has occurred as the spills at the respective locations were contained and most of the material was also recovered however to ensure such material loss does not happen the installations were reviewed and necessary changes in the pipes and joints were being done by respective vendors.

Change management has also been introduced to ensure that any transitions in the process/ product is transitioned smoothly by providing a structured approach to planning, implementing, and monitoring changes. Also we ensure effective communication at all stages of the change process. Clear and transparent communication helps employees understand the reasons for the changes, the expected outcomes, and their roles in the process. This reduces uncertainty and confusion, leading to better acceptance of the changes and safer working environment.

10. Briefly describe the waste management practices adopted in your establishments. Describe the strategy adopted by your company to reduce usage of hazardous and toxic chemicals in your products and processes and the practices adopted to manage such wastes.

Company has launched a project WOW (War on Waste) under Manufacturing excellence umbrella which aims at 4R (Reduce, Reuse, Recycle, Recreate) under which reduction of waste at source, Sticky loss recovery, powder RM reuse in batches and recreate a usable RM from waste is being done and system is set in place to monitor the process and ensure that no such material sent out as waste.

For filling operation all our plants have shifted towards use of automatics machines, where the chance of spillage is very less. Excess/less filling is stopped which could result in product rejection due to tinting.

Defect prevention is targeted in products through RFT (Right First Time) implementation to minimize process waste generation.

Washing solvent generated from washing of equipment is being reused in subsequent production batches. Spent solvent is reused for cleaning purpose and after multiple such uses, fresh solvent is recovered in-house from waste solvent through distillation process. The recovered fresh solvent is recycled into paint manufacturing process related activities. '19th barrel syndrome' – project taken to limit generation of washing solvent at plant so within 18 barrels washing solvent generated gets reused in washing.

Barrels used for production and storage purposes are re-used - another step towards Carbon Footprint reduction.

Plastic waste from raw material packaging and damaged packaging material is sent to an authorized plastic recycler. Under Plastic Waste management rules, Berger Paints has established action plan as per our EPR obligations and carried out the compliance for recycling with company appointed WMA (Waste Management Agencies). Also, recycled plastic content is used in our product packaging which ensured that use of virgin plastic can be reduced.

Waste generated inside the plant is being collected and disposed through approved Cement plants for co-processing.

Powder collected from Dust extraction system is reused in making economy grade products.

Project JAL has been taken ahead by the plants to curb wastage of water and which has helped to save on an average of 3.2 lac Liters of water daily.

Through Project PARAGON our in-transit damages have reduced significantly causing lesser harm to environment and better storage condition at the depots.

Annexure VII to the Directors' Report (contd.)

We have also implemented a number of waste reduction initiatives, such as reducing packaging, using recycled materials, and encouraging employees to reduce their own waste. We have implemented a number of waste recycling programs, such as paper, plastic, Container segregation and its best utilization. These initiatives help us to reduce our environmental impact and ensure that our products and processes are safe and sustainable.

3. With respect to the ecologically sensitive areas reported at Question 11 of Essential Indicators above, provide details of significant direct & indirect impact of the entity on biodiversity in such areas along-with prevention and remediation activities.
 Not Applicable
4. If the entity has undertaken any specific initiatives or used innovative technology or solutions to improve resource efficiency, or reduce impact due to emissions/effluent discharge/waste generated, please provide details of the same as well as outcome of such initiatives, as per the following format:

S. No.	Initiative undertaken	Details of the initiative (Web-link, if any, may be provided along-with summary)	Outcome of the initiative
1	Zero Liquid Discharge System	From the Effluent Treatment Plants installed at all of our Units, the treated water was earlier released after the characteristics of the effluent water were met as per the PCB recommendation but, to recycle & reuse that water & thereby, to reduce the water consumption of the Units, we have also installed ZLD (Zero Liquid Discharge) systems at applicable units which consists of various Filtration units along with RO module & MEE (Multiple Effect Evaporator). Further we have upgraded the system with MVRE which is low energy consumption. After treating the effluent water coming from ETP, through ZLD system, this water is used for domestic & industrial utility application.	1) Zero discharge of liquid effluent & reuse of the same after treatment. 2) Reduction of water consumption.
2	Effluent Treatment Plants in all Berger Units, with Activated Sludge Process & Tertiary Treatment.	Essentially, the paints manufacturing process, as such, does not directly generate any wastewater streams to cause any water pollution. However, at a typical paints manufacturing facility, the wastewater streams generated from the operations include those from equipment cleaning/ reactor washing and from the support utilities. These waste water are collected from their respective point of generation & transferred to the ETP's with Activated Sludge Process & Tertiary Treatment, where these are treated to maintain level for certain parameters like BOD, COD, TDS, TSS etc. within the limits prescribed by the PCB.	1) Reduction of BOD, COD, TSS etc. to the maximum extent in the treated water, to maintain the same within the prescribed limit of PCB.
3	Usage of Bio-Fuel instead of Diesel for the Thermic Fluid Heaters of Resin Plants.	In the Resin Plants, Thermic Fluid Heaters are used to supply process heat to the Reactors. Earlier we used Diesel as the fuel for this Thermic Fluid Heaters but now we have replaced the Diesel fired heaters by Bio-fuel fired Heaters like use of Ground nut pellets, cashew nuts pellets, Sugarcane baggase, etc. with fully automatic closed loop charging system. Bio-fuel being much greener fuel compared to Diesel, the Carbon foot print & Green House gas emission has reduced dramatically, apart from the huge monetary savings obtained.	1) Reduction of huge amount carbon foot print. 2) Reduction of Green House Gas emission.

S. No.	Initiative undertaken	Details of the initiative (Web-link, if any, may be provided along-with summary)	Outcome of the initiative
4	Usage of PNG (CLEANER –Fuel) instead of LSHS for the Thermic Fluid Heaters of Resin Plants and DUAL Fuel KIT PNG Based for operation of DG Set	1. PNG Cleaner Fuel has been used by replacing LSHS/ HSD/ FO Pollutant Fuel earlier being used for operation of Resin Thermopac, which is much cleaner fuel means that it produces fewer emissions and pollutants when burned. This helps to reduce air pollution and improve air quality. 2. PNG is also more efficient than LSHS, meaning that it requires less fuel to generate the same amount of heat. This can result in lower operating costs for the thermic fluid heater. 3. PNG is also a safer fuel than LSHS, as it is non-toxic and lighter than air. This reduces the risk of fire and other accidents in the workplace. 4. Finally, PNG is a more sustainable fuel than LSHS, as it is derived from Fossils fuels and very cleaner fuel not left any residue .This helps to reduce the environmental impact of the thermic fluid heater.	1) Reduction of huge amount carbon foot print. 2) Reduction of Green House Gas emission.
5	(B)All Out	Project (B)ALL Out, our flagship initiative to enhance grinding efficiency with safer & economically viable means, has made significant progress since you have last heard about it. We have successfully replaced Ball Mills with safer and more efficient technologies, such as Basket Mills, IEC, Stator Rotor, mixed combinations, or new technologies. This strategic move has not only mitigated safety risks and eliminated noise pollution but also delivered substantial power savings.	We have been able to save more than two lacs unit of electricity through this initiative.
6	DPV Water reuse	We have installed Pigging system in our plant to collect maximum retention during emulsion and water based paints transfer. This is being recollected and used up in batches thereby helping to decrease material loss and decrease our ETP load.	Around 100 KL of water and 20 MT of emulsion per month is being saved through this initiative.
7	Project JAL	Taken across all our units with target to reduce our ETP intake water by 50% through re-using measures, arresting leakages and spread awareness on less wastage of water and proper accounting.	1) 3.2 Lac Litres of water saved daily. 2) No need to enhance ETP capacity with increase in production load
8	Green STP	Rediscovering Nature's Genius in treating Sewage - the cow's stomach. The unique patented technology treats sewage in a decentralized, self- sustainable way in underground chambers without power, chemicals or human intervention. Using Biomimicry, regenerative innovation inspired by nature, the Green-STP utilizes functional principles and strategies of microorganisms and ecosystem found in a cow's stomach	15,00,000 Liter sewage water purification per year capacity.
9	Rain-water harvesting by adaptation of pond	An artificial pond is being adopted in nearby village at Gaziveerapuram which will recharge 50 % rain water and 50% will evaporate by sun dried of own storage capacity.	43155 m3 of annual rainfall is being harvested
10	Installation of Roof Top Solar Power Plant	We have recognized the importance of sustainability and renewable energy. One of the initiatives they might have undertaken is the installation of rooftop solar plants on their facilities. Solar energy has significantly reduce electricity consumption over the long term. By generating our own electricity from solar panels, we have been able to offset the consumption from the grid, thus switching over to cleaner and greener alternatives.	1,00,74,876 kWh generated in FY 23-24
11	Many products have been developed with zero heavy metal content	All our Two-wheeler formulations are RoHS compliant. In decorative segment, we offer Green label certified products.	Lead, Chrome, Mercury Free products

Reasonable Assurance Report of Business Responsibility and Sustainability Report – Core Indicators vide SEBI Circular No. SEBI/HO/CFD- SEC-2/P/C CIR/2023/122 dated July 12, 2023

Assurance Statement

To The Management and Board of Directors Berger Paints India Limited

Futurestation Advisors LLP (also referred as "Futurestation" or "we" or "us") was engaged by Berger Paints India Limited (also referred as "BPIL") to conduct a reasonable assurance procedure on the BRSR Core attributes FY 2023-24 as reported by BPIL for the period stated below. This Assurance Statement applies to the procedure conducted by us as per the engagement agreement dated 22nd September 2023 signed between BPIL and Futurestation. The determination of the BRSR Core attributes is the sole responsibility of BPIL. Futurestation's responsibility was to conduct reasonable assurance procedure based on applicable standards as per the engagement agreement referred above.

Reporting Period

Level of Assurance

Reasonable Assurance. A reasonable assurance procedure involves assessing the risk of material mis-statement of the agreed attributes whether due to fraud or error, responding to the assessed risk as necessary under the circumstances. We conducted our reasonable assurance procedure in accordance with International Standard on Assurance Engagements 3000 (Revised), Assurance Engagements other than Audits or Reviews of Historical Financial Information, issued by the International Auditing and Assurance Standards Board. These standards require that we plan and perform this engagement to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the reported BRSR Core attributes are prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with the reporting criteria.

The procedures we performed were based on our professional judgement and included inquiries, observation of processes performed, inspection of data recording procedures on sample basis particularly for operational attributes (like energy, water and waste), inspection of data collating and recording procedures, evaluating the appropriateness of quantification methods and reporting policies, and agreeing or reconciling with underlying records.

Given the circumstances of the engagement, in performing the procedures listed above, we:

- Made BPIL's management and process owners aware of the procedures to be performed by us.
- Understood and evaluated the design of the key structures, systems, processes and controls for managing, recording and reporting on the identified attributes.
- Checked consolidation for various plants and corporate offices for ensuring the completeness of data being reported
- Based on that understanding and the risks that the reported data may be materially misstated, determined the nature, timing and extent of further procedures
- Performed substantive testing on a selective basis of the identified attributes at the corporate head office in Kolkata, office in New Delhi, and visited sample representative plants to check that data had been appropriately measured, recorded, collated and reported;
- Reviewed records and performed testing including recalculation of sample data to establish an assurance trail
- Reviewed the level of adherence to the reporting criteria and the reporting framework followed by BPIL in preparing the BRSR Core data
- Reviewed the level of risk involved in material incorrectness in recording, collating and reporting of the data

BRSR Core Attributes

The BRSR Core attributes are mentioned in page 3 of this statement.

Observations

Our observations after conducting the reasonable assurance procedure are:

1. The data on GHG, Energy, Water, Waste and Safety include only those pertaining to the plants at Howrah, Pondicherry, Goa, Rishra, Jammu, Jejuri, Hindupur (2 plants), Naitali, Taloja, Sandila, Sikandrabad, Samba and Nalbari.

2. The Organisational Boundary considered in computation of Scope 1 and Scope 2 GHG emissions is limited to the plants mentioned above. Equity share, Financial or Operational control criteria of GHG Protocol have not been used to set the boundary.
3. The data recording, collation and reporting process for energy, water and waste is fair. However, there is scope to improve its robustness to reduce risk of misstatement.
4. The waste segregation, measurement and storage facilities have scope of improvement

Inherent Limitations

The absence of a significant body of established practice on which to draw to evaluate and measure non financial information allows for different, but acceptable, measures and measurement techniques and can affect comparability between entities. In addition, GHG quantification is subject to inherent uncertainty because of incomplete scientific knowledge used to determine emission factors and availability of updated credible values.

Assurance Opinion:

Based on the procedures we have performed and the evidence we have obtained, the BRSR Core attributes for the financial year ended 31 March 2024 are prepared in all material respects.

Statement of independence, impartiality and competence

Futurestation Advisors LLP is an independent professional services company that specializes in sustainability advisory and assurance services. No member of the reasonable assurance procedure performing team has a business relationship with BPIL, its directors or managers beyond that required of this assignment. We conducted this procedure independently and to our knowledge there has been no conflict of interest. The team has extensive experience in conducting assurance over environmental, social, ethical, governance, health and safety information, systems and processes, has over 30 years combined experience in this field and an excellent understanding of the subject matter.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Members of Berger Paints India Limited

Report on the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying standalone financial statements of Berger Paints India Limited ("the Company"), which comprise the Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2024, the Statement of Profit and Loss, including the Statement of Other Comprehensive Income, the Cash Flow Statement and the Statement of Changes in Equity for the year then ended, and notes to the standalone financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policies and other explanatory information.

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid standalone financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013, as amended ("the Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2024, its profit including other comprehensive income, its cash flows and the changes in equity for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the standalone financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs), as specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the 'Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements' section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the 'Code of Ethics' issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the standalone financial statements.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the standalone financial statements for the financial year ended March 31, 2024. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the standalone financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. For each matter below, our description of how our audit addressed the matter is provided in that context.

We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report. We have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the standalone financial statements section of our report, including in relation to these matters. Accordingly, our audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to our assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements. The results of our audit procedures, including the procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for our audit opinion on the accompanying standalone financial statements.

Key audit matters	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Revenue Recognition (as described in Note 3.4 and Note 34 of the standalone financial statements) The Company recognises revenues when the control of goods and/or services are transferred to the customer at an amount that reflects the net consideration, which the Company expects to receive for those goods and/or services from customers in accordance with the terms of the contracts. In determining the sales price, the Company considers the effects of applicable rebates, and discounts (variable consideration). The terms of sales arrangements, including the timing of transfer of control, based on the terms of relevant contract and nature of discount and rebates arrangements, create complexities that require judgment in determining sales revenues. Considering the above factors and the risk associated with revenue recognition, we have determined the same to be a key audit matter.	Our audit procedures included the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>We read and evaluated the Company's revenue recognition policy and assessed its compliance in terms of Ind AS 115 'Revenue from contracts with customers'.</li> <li>We assessed the design and tested the operating effectiveness of internal controls related to sales and applicable rebates/discounts.</li> <li>We performed test for a sample of individual revenue transactions by comparing the underlying sales invoices, sales orders and other related documents to assess that revenue is recognized on transfer of control to the customer in accordance with the terms of the contract.</li> <li>We tested, on a sample basis, rebates and discount schemes against the underlying documents to assess that the actual rebates and discounts recognized are as per the approved schemes and are appropriately recorded.</li> <li>We tested, on a sample basis, that revenue has been recognized in the proper period with reference to the supporting documents.</li> <li>We tested underlying documentation for journal entries which were considered to be material related to revenue recognition.</li> <li>We read and assessed the relevant disclosures made in the standalone financial statements.</li> </ul>
Impairment Assessment of Investments in Subsidiaries and Joint Ventures (as described in Note 44 of the standalone financial statements) The carrying values of the Company's investments in subsidiaries and joint ventures are assessed annually by management for potential indicators of impairment by reference to the requirements under Ind AS 36 "Impairment of Assets". Accordingly, management has identified impairment indicators in respect of one joint venture and certain subsidiaries. As a result, an impairment assessment was required to be performed by the Company by comparing the carrying value of these investments to their recoverable amount to determine whether an impairment was required to be recognised. For the purpose of the above impairment testing, management has determined the value in use and the fair value less costs to sell as applicable. Value in use has been determined by forecasting and discounting future cash flows. Furthermore, the value in use is sensitive to changes in some of the inputs used for forecasting the future cash flows. Accordingly, we identified the assessment of potential impairment of investments in subsidiaries and joint ventures as a key audit matter because impairment assessment involves significant degree of management judgement in determining the key assumptions.	Our audit procedures included the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>We have obtained and discussed with management and evaluated the key judgements/assumptions underlying management's assessment of potential indicators of impairment.</li> <li>We obtained an understanding of the impairment assessment process and evaluated the design and tested the operating effectiveness of the controls in respect of the same.</li> <li>Where potential indicators of impairment were identified, we have assessed financial performance of subsidiaries and joint ventures and evaluated management's impairment assessments and assumptions of cash flow forecasts, discount rates, expected growth rates, terminal growth rates and fair value less cost to sell, as applicable.</li> <li>We performed sensitivity analysis to determine the impact of changes in the key assumptions.</li> <li>We involved valuation specialists where considered necessary, to independently assess the assumptions and methodologies used by the Company in computing the recoverable amount. In making this assessment, we also assessed the objectivity, independence and competency of the valuation specialists.</li> <li>We read and assessed the relevant disclosures made in the standalone financial statements.</li> </ul>

Auditor's Report of the Standalone Financial Statements (contd.)

Information Other than the Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Annual Report but does not include the standalone financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether such other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management for the Standalone Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance including other comprehensive income, cash flows and changes in equity of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) specified under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements for the financial year ended March 31, 2024 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements of Berger Paints India Limited ("the Company") as of March 31, 2024 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's Management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI"). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to these standalone financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, as specified under section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both issued by ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to these standalone financial statements was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to these standalone financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls with reference to these standalone financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to these standalone financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls With Reference to these Standalone Financial Statements

A company's internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Independent Auditor's Report S F S (contd.)

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with reference to Standalone Financial Statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements and such internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements were operating effectively as at March 31, 2024, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI.

Notes to Standalone Financial Statements

1. Corporate Information

Berger Paints India Limited ('BPIL' or 'the Company') is a public company domiciled in India and is incorporated under the provisions of the Companies Act applicable in India. Its shares are listed on three recognised stock exchanges in India. The Company is engaged in the manufacturing and selling of paints. The Company caters primarily to domestic market. The registered office of the Company is located at Berger House, 129, Park Street, Kolkata-700 017.

These Standalone Financial Statements were approved for issue in accordance with a resolution of the Board of Directors on May 15, 2024.

2. Basis of Preparation

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 (as amended from time to time) and presentation requirements of Division II of Schedule III to the Companies Act, 2013 (Ind AS compliant Schedule III), as applicable to the financial statements.

These Standalone Financial Statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for certain assets and liabilities which have been measured at fair values (refer accounting policy regarding financial instruments). The Standalone Financial Statements are presented in INR and all values are rounded-off to the nearest crores with 2 decimal places (INR 00,00,000), except when otherwise indicated.

The Company has prepared the financial statements on the basis that it will continue to operate as a going concern.

The standalone financial statements provide comparative information in respect of the previous period. Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

3. Summary of Material Accounting Policies

3.1. Current and Non - Current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current/ non-current classification. An asset is treated as current when it is:

- Expected to be realised or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle
- Held primarily for the purpose of trading
- Expected to be realised within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period. All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is current when:

- It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle
- It is held primarily for the purpose of trading
- It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

The terms of the liability that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by the issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification.

The Company classifies all other liabilities as non-current.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents.

3.2. Foreign Currencies

Items included in the Standalone Financial Statements of the Company are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates ('the functional currency'). The Standalone Financial Statements are presented in Indian Rupee (INR), which is the Company's functional and presentation currency.

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded by the Company at the functional currency spot rates (i.e., INR) at the date the transaction first qualifies for recognition. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the functional currency spot rates of exchange at the reporting date.

Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of transactions in foreign currencies and from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at year end exchange rates are generally recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items that are measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value is determined. The gain or loss arising on translation of non-monetary items measured at fair value is treated in line with the recognition of the gain or loss on the change in fair value of the item (i.e., translation differences on items whose fair value gain or loss is recognised in OCI or Statement of Profit and Loss are also recognised in OCI or Statement of Profit and Loss, respectively).

In determining the spot exchange rate to use on initial recognition of the related asset, expense or income (or part of it) on the derecognition of a non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability relating to advance consideration, the date of the transaction is the date on which the Company initially recognises the non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability arising from the advance consideration. If there are multiple payments or receipts in advance, the Company determines the transaction date for each payment or receipt of advance consideration.

3.3. Fair Value Measurement

The Company measures financial instruments at fair value at each balance sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- ▶ In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- ▶ In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Company.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their best economic interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the Standalone Financial Statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 – Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2 – Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable
- Level 3 – Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the Standalone Financial Statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

The Company determines the policies and procedures for both recurring fair value measurement, such as unquoted financial assets measured at fair value, and for non-recurring measurement, such as assets held for sale in discontinued operations, if any.

External valuers are involved for valuation of significant assets, such as properties and unquoted financial assets, and significant liabilities, such as contingent consideration. Involvement of external valuers is decided upon annually by the management after discussion with and approval by the Company's Audit Committee. Selection criteria include market knowledge, reputation, independence and whether professional standards are maintained.

At each reporting date, the management analyses the movements in the values of assets and liabilities which are required to be remeasured or re-assessed as per the Company's accounting policies. For this analysis, the management verifies the major inputs applied in the latest valuation by agreeing the information in the valuation computation to contracts and other relevant documents.

3.4. Revenue from contract with customer

Revenue from contracts with customers is recognised when control of the goods or services are transferred to the customer at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The Company has generally concluded that it is the principal in its revenue arrangements because it typically controls the goods or services before transferring them to the customer.

Revenue towards satisfaction of a performance obligation is measured at the amount of transaction price (net of variable consideration) allocated to that performance obligation. The transaction price of goods sold and services rendered is net of variable consideration on account of various discounts and schemes offered by the Company as part of the contract, excluding amounts collected on behalf of third parties.

Sale of Goods

Revenue from sale of goods is recognised on transfer of control in the goods to customers at a point of time by performance of obligation towards delivery or as per customers' instruction. The normal credit term is 30 to 90 days upon delivery. The revenue is based on the consideration defined in the contract with a customer, including variable consideration, such as discounts, volume rebates, rights to return or other contractual reductions. As the period between the date on which the Company transfers the promised goods to the customer and the date on which the customer pays for these goods is generally one year or less, no financing components are considered. The Company considers whether there are other promises in the contract that are separate performance obligations to which a portion of the transaction price needs to be allocated.

The Company provides volume rebates to certain customers once the quantity of products purchased by the customers during the period exceeds a threshold specified in the contract. Generally, rebates are offset against the amounts payable by the customer. To estimate the variable consideration for the expected future rebates, the Company applies the expected value method.

Certain contracts provide a customer with a right to return the goods within a specified period. The Company uses the expected value method to estimate the goods that will not be returned because this method best predicts the amount of variable consideration to which the Company will be entitled. The requirements in Ind AS on constraining estimates of variable consideration to are also applied in order to determine the amount of variable consideration that can be included in the transaction price.

Revenue from Combined Contracts

Revenue from combined contracts is recognised in accordance with terms and condition of underlying contracts:

- at a point of time when such combined output is delivered to customers' satisfaction and the customers acknowledge their obligation to pay for such output
- over time by measuring progress towards satisfaction of performance obligation for the services rendered using output method based on milestones reached.

Interest income

Interest income is accrued on a time proportion basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and effective interest rate applicable.

Dividend income

Dividend income from investments is recognised when the right to receive payment has been established.

Trade receivables

A receivable represents the Company's right to an amount of consideration that is unconditional (i.e., only the passage of time is required before payment of the consideration is due). Refer to accounting policies of financial assets in sections "Financial instruments – initial recognition and measurement" and "Financial instruments-subsequent measurement". Refer note no 3.20 below.

3.5. Government Grants

Government grants and subsidies are recognised where there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and all attached conditions will be complied with.

When the grant or subsidy relates to revenue and is related to the corresponding costs, it is recognised as income on a systematic basis in the Statement of Profit and Loss, under Other Operating Revenue, over the periods necessary to match them with the related costs, which they are intended to compensate. When the grant or subsidy relates to an asset, it is deducted from the carrying amount of the asset. The grant is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss over the useful life of the depreciable asset by way of a reduced depreciation charge.

When the Company receives grants of non-monetary assets, the asset and the grant are recorded at fair value amounts and released to Statement of Profit and Loss over the expected useful life in a pattern of consumption of the benefit of the underlying asset i.e., by equal annual instalments.

3.6. Taxes

Tax expense comprises current income tax expense and deferred tax.

Current Income Tax

Current income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered or paid to the taxation authorities in accordance with the Income-tax Act, 1961 enacted in India and tax laws prevailing in the respective tax jurisdictions where the Company operates. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date.

Current income tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Current tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate. The Company shall reflect the effect of uncertainty for each uncertain tax treatment by using either most likely method or expected value method, depending on which method predicts better resolution of the treatment. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

Deferred Tax

Deferred tax is provided using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the Standalone Financial Statements at the reporting date. Deferred income tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting profit nor taxable profit (tax loss).

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

- When the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences.
- In respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and interests in joint ventures, when the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilise those temporary differences and losses.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

In assessing the recoverability of deferred tax assets, the Company relies on the same forecast assumptions used elsewhere in the financial statements and in other management reports, which, among other things, reflect the potential impact of climate-related development on the business, such as increased cost of production as a result of measures to reduce carbon emission.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the entity has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously, in each future period in which significant amounts of deferred tax liabilities or assets are expected to be settled or recovered.

Current and deferred tax is recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in Other Comprehensive Income (OCI) or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognised in OCI or directly in equity, respectively.

In the situations where the Company is entitled to a tax holiday under the Income-tax Act, 1961 enacted in India or tax laws prevailing in the respective tax jurisdictions where it operates, no deferred tax (asset or liability) is recognized in respect of temporary differences which reverse during the tax holiday period, to the extent the Company's gross total income is subject to the deduction during the tax holiday period. Deferred tax in respect of temporary differences which reverse after the tax holiday period is recognized in the year in which the temporary differences originate. However, the Company restricts recognition of deferred tax assets to the extent that it has become reasonably certain or virtually certain, as the case may be, that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realized. For recognition of deferred taxes, the temporary differences which originate first are considered to reverse first.

Goods and Service tax paid on acquisition of assets or on incurring expenses

Expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of Goods and Service tax paid, except:

- ▶ When the tax incurred on a purchase of assets or services is not recoverable from the taxation authority, in which case, the tax paid is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense item, as applicable.
- ▶ When receivables and payables are stated with the amount of tax included, the net amount of tax recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is included as part of receivables or payables in the balance sheet.

3.7. Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment (PPE) are carried at cost of acquisition, on current cost basis less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Cost comprises purchase price and directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use. Any trade discounts and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price. Such cost includes the cost of replacing part of the plant and equipment and borrowing costs for long-term construction projects if the recognition criteria are met. Machinery spares which can be used only in connection with an item of property, plant and equipment and whose use is expected to be irregular are capitalised and depreciated over the useful life of the principal item of the relevant assets. When significant parts of plant and equipment are required to be replaced at intervals, the Company depreciates them separately based on their specific useful lives. Likewise, when a major inspection is performed, its cost is recognised in the carrying amount of the plant and equipment as a replacement if the recognition criteria are satisfied. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred. The present value of the expected cost for the decommissioning of an asset after its use is included in the cost of the respective asset if the recognition criteria for a provision are met. Refer to note 44 regarding significant accounting judgements, estimates and assumptions and provisions for further information about the recorded decommissioning provision.

Subsequent expenditure would be recognized in the carrying amount of PPE when that cost/ expense would meet the recognition criteria given in paragraph 7 of Ind AS 16 i.e., it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the entity and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

Depreciation is provided on Straight line method over the useful lives of property, plant and equipment as estimated by management. Pursuant to Notification of Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013 depreciation is provided prorata basis on straight line method at the rates determined based on estimated useful lives of property, plant and equipment where applicable, prescribed under Schedule II to the Companies Act 2013 with the exception of the following items for which useful lives as estimated by management based on technical evaluation are different from those specified in aforesaid Schedule II.

- Plant and Machinery: 3 years to 21.05 years
- Motor Vehicles: 6.67 years
- Tinting Machines: Based on useful lives of 60 months
- No depreciation is provided on freehold land

An item of property, plant and equipment and any significant part initially recognised is de-recognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on de-recognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the Statement of Profit and Loss when the asset is de-recognised.

The residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate. The Company also considers the impact of health, safety and environmental legislation in its assessment of expected useful lives and estimated residual values. Furthermore, the Company considers climate-related matters, including physical and transition risks. Specifically, the Company determines whether climate-related legislation and regulations might impact either the useful life or residual values.

3.7.1 Capital work in progress

Cost of assets not ready for intended use, as the balance sheet date, is shown as capital work in progress. Capital work in progress is stated at cost, net of accumulated impairment loss, if any.

3.8. Intangible Assets

Intangible Assets are recognized only when future economic benefits arising out of the assets flow to the enterprise and are amortised over their useful life ranging from 3 to 5 years. Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Internally generated intangibles, excluding capitalised development costs, are not capitalised and the related expenditure is reflected in Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which the expenditure is incurred.

The useful lives of intangible assets are assessed as either finite or indefinite.

Intangible assets with finite lives are amortised over the useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least at the end of each reporting period. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits embodied in the asset are considered to modify the amortisation period or method, as appropriate, and are treated as changes in accounting estimates. The amortisation expense on intangible assets with finite lives is recognised in the statement of profit and loss unless such expenditure forms part of carrying value of another asset.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortised, but are tested for impairment annually, either individually or at the cash-generating unit level. The assessment of indefinite life is reviewed annually to determine whether the indefinite life continues to be supportable. If not, the change in useful life from indefinite to finite is made on a prospective basis.

An intangible asset is de-recognised upon disposal (i.e., at the date the recipient obtains control) or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from de-recognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss when the asset is de-recognised.

3.9. Research and Development

Research is original and planned investigation undertaken with the prospect of gaining new scientific or technical knowledge and understanding. Expenditure incurred on research of an internal project is recognised as an expense in Statement of Profit and Loss, when it is incurred.

Development is the application of research findings or other knowledge to a plan or design for the production of new or substantially improved materials, devices, products, processes, systems or services before the start of commercial production or use. An intangible asset arising from development is recognised if, and only if, the following criteria are met:

- it is technically feasible to complete the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale.
- the Company intends to complete the intangible asset and use or sell it.
- the Company has ability to use or sell the intangible asset.
- the Company can demonstrate how the intangible asset will generate probable future economic benefits.
- the Company has adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the intangible asset.
- the Company has ability to measure reliably the expenditure attributable to the intangible asset during its development.

Following initial recognition of the development expenditure as an asset, the asset is carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation of the asset begins when development is complete and the asset is available for use. It is amortised over the period of expected future benefit. Amortisation expense is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss unless such expenditure forms part of carrying value of another asset.

During the period of development, the asset is tested for impairment annually.

3.10. Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use (known as Qualifying assets) or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of the asset. Borrowing Costs include interest, amortisation of ancillary costs incurred and exchange differences arising from foreign currency borrowings to the extent they are regarded as an adjustment to the borrowing costs. Discount on Commercial papers is amortised over the tenor of the underlying instrument. Borrowing Costs, allocated to and utilised for qualifying assets, pertaining to the period from commencement of activities relating to construction / development of the qualifying asset upto the date the asset is ready for its intended use is added to the cost of the assets. Capitalisation of Borrowing Costs is suspended and charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss during extended periods when active development activity on the qualifying assets is interrupted. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period they occur.

3.11. Leases

The Company assesses at contract inception whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. That is, if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

As a lessee

The Company applies a single recognition and measurement approach for all leases, except for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets. The Company recognises lease liabilities to make lease payments and right-of-use assets representing the right to use the underlying assets.

i) Right-of-use assets

The Company recognises right-of-use assets at the commencement date of the lease (i.e., the date the underlying asset is available for use). Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities. The cost of right-of-use assets includes the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term, initial direct costs incurred, and lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received. Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and the estimated useful lives of the assets, as follows:

- Leasehold Land and Building: 2 years to 99 years

If ownership of the leased asset transfers to the company at the end of the lease term or the cost reflects the exercise of a purchase option, depreciation is calculated using the estimated useful life of the asset.

The right-of-use assets are also subject to impairment. Refer to the accounting policies in section 3.13 Impairment of non-financial assets.

ii) Lease Liabilities

At the commencement date of the lease, the Company recognises lease liabilities measured at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments (including in substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees. The lease payments also include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the company and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the company exercising the option to terminate. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised as expenses (unless they are incurred to produce inventories) in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Company uses its incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date because the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is remeasured if there is a modification, a change in the lease term, a change in the lease payments (e.g., changes to future payments resulting from a change in an index or rate used to determine such lease payments) or a change in the assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset.

The Company's lease liabilities are included in Note 47.

iii) Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The Company applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to its short-term leases of properties taken on rent (i.e., those leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option). It also applies the lease of low-value assets recognition exemption to properties that are of low value. Lease payments on short-term leases and leases of low-value assets are recognised as expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

As a lessor

Leases in which the Company does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of an asset are classified as operating leases. Rental income from operating lease is recognised on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognised over the lease term on the same basis as rental income. Contingent rents are recognised as revenue in the period in which they are earned.

3.12. Inventories

Raw materials, stores and spares and packing materials are valued at lower of cost and estimated net realisable value. Cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on weighted average basis. However, materials and other items held for use in the production of inventories are not written down below cost if the finished products in which they will be incorporated are expected to be sold at or above cost.

Finished goods and Work-in-process are stated at the lower of cost and estimated net realisable value. Cost of inventories constitutes direct materials and labour and a proportion of manufacturing overheads based on normal operating capacity.

Traded goods are valued at lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on a weighted average basis.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

Provision is recognised for damaged, defective or obsolete stocks where necessary. Cost of all inventories is determined using weighted average method of valuation.

3.13. Impairment of non-financial assets

The Company assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset (including goodwill) may be impaired. If any indication exists, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's (CGU) net selling price and its value in use. The recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. Where the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining net selling price, recent market transactions are taken into account, if available. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used.

For assets excluding goodwill, an assessment is made at each reporting date to determine whether there is an indication that previously recognised impairment losses no longer exist or have decreased. If such indication exists, the Company estimates the asset's or CGU's recoverable amount. A previously recognised impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognised in the statement of profit and loss unless the asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case, the reversal is treated as a revaluation increase.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are tested for impairment annually at the CGU level, as appropriate, and when circumstances indicate that the carrying value may be impaired.

The Company assesses where climate risks could have a significant impact, such as the introduction of emission-reduction legislation that may increase manufacturing costs. These risks in relation to climate-related matters are included as key assumptions where they materially impact the measure of recoverable amount. These assumptions have been included in the cash-flow forecasts in assessing value-in-use amounts, as applicable.

3.14. Provisions and Contingencies

A provision is recognized when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of past event; it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. The expense relating to a provision is presented in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost.

The Company records a provision for decommissioning costs for its certain manufacturing facilities. Decommissioning costs are provided at the present value of expected costs to settle the obligation using estimated cash flows and are recognised as part of the cost of the particular asset. The cash flows are discounted at a current pre-tax rate that reflects the risks specific to the decommissioning liability. The unwinding of the discount is expensed as incurred and recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as a finance cost. The estimated future costs of decommissioning are reviewed annually and adjusted as appropriate. Changes in the estimated future costs or in the discount rate applied are added to or deducted from the cost of the asset.

The impact of climate-related matters on remediation of environmental damage is considered with determining the decommissioning liability on the manufacturing facility.

If the Company has a contract that is onerous, the present obligation under the contract is recognised and measured as a provision. However, before a separate provision for an onerous contract is established, the Company recognises any impairment loss that has occurred on assets dedicated to that contract.

An onerous contract is a contract under which the unavoidable costs (i.e., the costs that the Company cannot avoid because it has the contract) of meeting the obligations under the contract exceed the economic benefits expected to be received under it. The unavoidable costs under a contract reflect the least net cost of exiting from the contract, which is the lower of the cost of fulfilling it and any compensation or penalties arising from failure to fulfil it.

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the Company or a present obligation that is not recognized because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. The Company does not recognize a contingent liability but discloses its existence in the Standalone Financial Statements.

3.15. Employee Benefits

Short-term Employee Benefits:

Liabilities for short-term employee benefits that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service are recognised in respect of employees' services up to the end of the reporting period and are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled. The liabilities are presented as 'Employee Benefits Payable' within 'Other Financial Liabilities' in the Balance Sheet.

Post-employment Benefits:

I. Defined Contribution Plan

a. Superannuation

Contribution made to Superannuation Fund for certain of employees are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as and when services are rendered by employees. The Company has no liability for future Superannuation Fund benefits other than its contribution.

b. Provident Fund

Contributions in respect of Employees who are not covered by Company's Employees Provident Fund Trust are made to the Fund administered by the Regional Provident Fund Commissioner as per the provisions of Employees' Provident Fund and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952 and are charged to Statement of Profit and Loss as and when services are rendered by employees. The Company has no obligation other than the contribution payable to the Regional Provident Fund.

II. Defined Benefit Plan

a. Gratuity

Every employee who has completed five years or more of service is entitled to Gratuity as per the provisions of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972. Retirement Gratuity for employees, is funded through a scheme of Life Insurance Corporation of India. The costs of providing benefits under this plan are determined on the basis of actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method at each year-end. Actuarial gains/losses are immediately recognised in retained earnings through Other Comprehensive Income in the period in which they occur. Re-measurements are not re-classified to Statement of Profit and Loss in subsequent periods. The excess / shortfall in the fair value of the plan assets over the present value of the obligation calculated as per actuarial methods as at balance sheet dates is recognised as a gain / loss in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Any asset arising out of this calculation is limited to the past service cost plus the present value of available refunds and reduction in future contributions.

b. Provident Fund

In respect of the employees covered by the Company's Employee Provident Fund Trust in Point I b above, contributions to the Company's Employees Provident Fund Trust (administered by the Company as per the provisions of Employees' Provident Fund and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952) are made in accordance with the fund rules. The interest rate payable to the beneficiaries every year is being notified by the Government.

In the case of contribution to the Trust, the Company has an obligation to make good the shortfall, if any, between the return from the investments of the Trust and the notified interest rate and recognizes such obligation, if any, determined based on an actuarial valuation as at the balance sheet date, as an expense.

III. Long Term Compensated Absences

The Company treats accumulated leave to the extent such leave are carried forward as long-term employee benefit for measurement purposes. Such long-term compensated absences are provided for based on the actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method at the year-end. Actuarial gains/losses are immediately taken to the Statement of Profit and Loss and are not deferred. The Company presents the leave as a current liability in the balance sheet, to the extent it does not have an unconditional right to defer its settlement for 12 months after the reporting date. Where Company has the unconditional legal and contractual right to defer the settlement for a period beyond 12 months, the same is presented as non-current liability.

3.16. Employees Stock Option

Stock options are granted to the employees under the stock option scheme. The cost of stock options granted to the employees (equity-settled awards) of the Company is the difference between fair value of equity instruments granted and the price at which options may be exercised by concerned employees. For each stock option, the measurement of fair value is performed on the grant date. The grant date is the date on which the Company and the employees agree to the stock option scheme. The fair value so determined is revised only if the stock option scheme is modified in a manner that is beneficial to the employees.

Aforesaid cost of stock options is recognised, together with a corresponding increase in Employee Stock Options outstanding account in equity, over the period in which the performance and/or service conditions are fulfilled in employee benefits expense. The cumulative expense recognised for equity-settled transactions at each reporting date until the vesting date reflects the extent to which the vesting period has expired and the Company's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest. The Statement of Profit and Loss expense or credit for a period represents the movement in cumulative expense recognised as at the beginning and end of that period and is recognised in employee benefits expense.

The dilutive effect of outstanding options is reflected as additional share dilution in the computation of diluted earnings per share.

If the options vests in instalments (i.e., the options vest prorata over the service period), then each instalment is treated as a separate share option grant because each instalment has a different vesting period.

3.17. Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent for the purpose of presentation in cash flow statement and in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash, which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

3.18. Forward Currency Contracts

The Company uses forward currency contracts to hedge its foreign currency risks. Such forward currency contracts are initially measured at fair value on the date on which a forward currency contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value. Forward currency contracts are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative. Changes in the fair value of forward contracts are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss as they arise.

3.19. Earnings Per Share

Basic Earnings Per Share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period and for all periods presented is adjusted for events, such as bonus shares, other than the conversion of potential equity shares that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources.

3.20. Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

A. Financial assets

i. Initial recognition and measurement

All financial assets are recognised initially at fair value plus, in the case of financial assets not recorded at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. However, trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component are measured at transaction price. The Company has elected the practical expedient in Ind AS 115 about the existence of significant financing component and the disclosures pertaining to contracts with original expected duration of one year or less and contracts where revenue recognised corresponds to the value transferred to customer typically involving sales of products.

In order for a financial asset to be classified and measured at amortised cost or fair value through OCI, it needs to give rise to cash flows that are 'solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI)' on the principal amount outstanding. This assessment is referred to as the SPPI test and is performed at an instrument level. Financial assets with cash flows that are not SPPI are classified and measured at fair value through profit or loss, irrespective of the business model.

The Company's business model for managing financial assets refers to how it manages its financial assets in order to generate cash flows. The business model determines whether cash flows will result from collecting contractual cash flows, selling the financial assets, or both. Financial assets classified and measured at amortised cost are held within a business model with the objective to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows while financial assets classified and measured at fair value through OCI are held within a business model with the objective of both holding to collect contractual cash flows and selling.

Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the marketplace (regular way trades) are recognised on the trade date, i.e., the date that the Company commits to purchase or sell the asset.

ii. Subsequent measurement

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in below categories:

- Debt instruments at amortised cost
- Equity instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI)
- Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss.

Debt instruments at amortised cost other than derivative contracts

A 'debt instrument' is measured at the amortised cost if both the following conditions are met:

- The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows, and
- Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

This assessment is referred to as the Solely Payments of Principal and Interest (SPPI) test and is performed at an instrument level. Financial assets with cash flows that are not SPPI are classified and measured at fair value through profit or loss, irrespective of the business model.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in Other Income in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. This category generally applies to trade and other receivables.

Equity investments

All equity investments in scope of Ind AS 109 are measured at fair value other than equity investments measured at deemed cost on first time adoption of Ind AS. Equity instruments which are held for trading are classified as at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss (FVTPL). For all other equity instruments, the Company decides to classify the same either as at FVTOCI or Fair Value Through Profit or Loss (FVTPL). The Company makes such election on an instrument-by-instrument basis. The classification is made on initial recognition and is irrevocable.

If the Company decides to classify an equity instrument at FVTOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, excluding dividends, are recognized in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to Statement of Profit and Loss, even on sale of investment. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity.

Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

iii. De-recognition

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a Company's similar financial assets) is primarily de-recognised when:

- The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or
- The Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset

iv. Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company applies expected credit loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on the following financial assets and credit risk exposure:

Financial assets that are debt instruments, and are measured at amortised cost e.g., loans, debt securities, deposits, trade receivables and bank balance.

The Company follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on Trade receivables.

The application of simplified approach does not require the Company to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Company in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive, discounted at the original EIR. When estimating the cash flows, an entity is required to consider:

- a. All contractual terms of the financial instrument (including prepayment, extension, call and similar options) over the expected life of the financial instrument. However, in rare cases when the expected life of the financial instrument cannot be estimated reliably, then the entity is required to use the remaining contractual term of the financial instrument.
- b. Cash flows from the sale of collateral held or other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms.

As a practical expedient, the Company uses a provision matrix to determine impairment loss allowance on portfolio of its trade receivables. The provision matrix is based on its historically observed default rates over the expected life of the trade receivables and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. At every reporting date, the historical observed default rates are updated and changes in the forward-looking estimates are analysed.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognized during the period is recognized as income/ expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss (P&L). This amount is reflected under the head 'other expenses' in the P&L. The balance sheet presentation for various financial instruments is described below:

Financial assets measured at amortised cost: ECL is presented as an allowance, i.e., as an integral part of the measurement of those assets in the balance sheet. The allowance reduces the net carrying amount. Until the asset meets write-off criteria, the Company does not reduce impairment allowance from the gross carrying amount.

For assessing increase in credit risk and impairment loss, the Company combines financial instruments on the basis of shared credit risk characteristics with the objective of facilitating an analysis that is designed to enable significant increases in credit risk to be identified on a timely basis.

B. Financial liabilities

i. Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, loans and borrowing or payables, as appropriate.

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Company's financial liabilities include trade and other payables, loans and borrowings including bank overdrafts and financial guarantee contracts.

ii. Subsequent measurement

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss include derivatives, financial liabilities held for trading and financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at fair value through profit or loss. Financial liabilities are classified as held for trading if they are incurred for the purpose of repurchasing in the near term. This category also includes derivative financial instruments entered into by the Company that are not designated as hedging instruments in hedge relationships as defined by Ind AS 109. Separated embedded derivatives are also classified as held for trading unless they are designated as effective hedging instruments.

Gains or losses on liabilities held for trading are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition at fair value through profit or loss are designated as such at the initial date of recognition, and only if the criteria in Ind AS 109 are satisfied. For liabilities designated as FVTPL, fair value gains/ losses attributable to changes in own credit risks are recognized in OCI. These gains/ losses are not subsequently transferred to P&L. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity. All other changes in fair value of such liability are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Trade Payables

Trade payables represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Company prior to the end of financial year which are unpaid. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months after the reporting period. They are recognised initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Loans and borrowings

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the EIR method. Gains and losses are recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss when the liabilities are de-recognised as well as through the EIR amortisation process.

Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included as finance costs in the statement of profit and loss.

Financial guarantee contracts

Financial guarantee contracts issued by the Company are those contracts that require a payment to be made to reimburse the lender for a loss it incurs because the specified borrower fails to make a payment when due in accordance with the terms of a loan agreement. Financial guarantee contracts are recognised initially as a liability at fair value, adjusted for transaction costs that are directly attributable to the issuance of the guarantee. Subsequently, the liability is measured at the higher of the amount of loss allowance determined as per impairment requirements of Ind AS 109 and the amount recognised less cumulative amortisation.

De-recognition

A financial liability is de-recognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the de-recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Reclassification of Financial Assets and Liabilities:

The Company determines classification of financial assets and liabilities on initial recognition. After initial recognition, no reclassification is made for financial assets which are equity instruments and financial liabilities. For financial assets which are debt instruments, a reclassification is made only if there is a change in the business model for managing those assets. Changes to the business model are expected to be infrequent. The Company's senior management determines change in the business model as a result of external or internal changes which are significant to the Company's operations. Such changes are evident to external parties. A change in the business model occurs when the Company either begins or ceases to perform an activity that is significant to its operations. If the Company reclassifies financial assets, it applies the reclassification prospectively from the reclassification date which is the first day of the immediately next reporting period following the change in business model. The Company does not restate any previously recognised gains, losses (including impairment gains or losses) or interest.

Original classification	Revised classification	Accounting treatment
Amortised cost	FVTPL	Fair value is measured at reclassification date. Difference between previous amortized cost and fair value is recognised in profit or loss.
FVTPL	Amortised Cost	Fair value at reclassification date becomes its new gross carrying amount. EIR is calculated based on the new gross carrying amount.
Amortised cost	FVTOCI	Fair value is measured at reclassification date. Difference between previous amortised cost and fair value is recognised in OCI. No change in EIR due to reclassification.
FVTOCI	Amortised cost	Fair value at reclassification date becomes its new amortised cost carrying amount. However, cumulative gain or loss in OCI is adjusted against fair value. Consequently, the asset is measured as if it had always been measured at amortised cost.
FVTPL	FVTOCI	Fair value at reclassification date becomes its new carrying amount. No other adjustment is required.
FVTOCI	FVTPL	Assets continue to be measured at fair value. Cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in OCI is reclassified from equity to profit or loss the reclassification date.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are off-set and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously. The legally enforceable right must not be contingent on future events and must be enforceable in the normal course of business and in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy of the Company or the counterparty.

3.21.Cash dividend to equity holders of the Company

The Company recognises a liability to make cash distributions to equity holders of the Company when the distribution is authorised and the distribution is no longer at the discretion of the Company. As per the corporate laws in India distribution is authorised when it is approved by the shareholders. A corresponding amount is recognised directly in equity.

3.22.Operating Segments

The Business Process and Risk Management Committee of the Company approved by the Board of Directors and Audit Committee performs the function of allotment of resources and assessment of performance of the Company. Considering the level of activities performed, frequency of their meetings and level of finality of their decisions, the Company has identified that Chief Operating Decision Maker function is being performed by the Business Process and Risk Management Committee. The financial information presented to the Business Process and Risk Management Committee in the context of results and for the purposes of approving the annual operating plan is on a consolidated basis for various products of the Company. As the Company's business activity falls within a single business segment viz. 'Paints' and the sales substantially being in the domestic market, the Standalone financial statement are reflective of the information required by Ind AS 108 "Operating Segments".

3.23.Events after reporting date:

Where events occurring after the Balance Sheet date provide evidence of conditions that existed at the end of the reporting period, the impact of such events is adjusted within the Financial Statements. Otherwise, events after the Balance Sheet date of material size or nature are only disclosed.

3.24.New and amended standards

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs has notified Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2023 dated 31 March 2023 to amend the following Ind AS which are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 April 2023. The Company applied for the first-time these amendments.

(i) Accounting Estimates - Amendments to Ind AS 8

The amendments clarify the distinction between changes in accounting estimates, changes in accounting policies and the correction of errors. It has also been clarified how entities use measurement techniques and inputs to develop accounting estimates.

The amendments had no material impact on the Company's standalone financial statements.

(ii) Disclosure of Accounting Policies - Amendments to Ind AS 1

The amendments aim to help entities provide accounting policy disclosures that are more useful by replacing the requirement for entities to disclose their 'significant' accounting policies with a requirement to disclose their 'material' accounting policies and adding guidance on how entities apply the concept of materiality in making decisions about accounting policy disclosures.

The amendments have had an impact on the Company's disclosures of accounting policies, but not on the measurement, recognition or presentation of any items in the Company's financial statements.

(iii) Deferred Tax related to Assets and Liabilities arising from a Single Transaction - Amendments to Ind AS 12

The amendments narrow the scope of the initial recognition exception under Ind AS 12, so that it no longer applies to transactions that give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences such as leases.

The Company previously recognised for deferred tax on leases on a net basis. As a result of these amendments, the Company has recognised a separate deferred tax asset in relation to its lease liabilities and a deferred tax liability in relation to its right-of-use assets. Since, these balances qualify for offset as per the requirements of paragraph 74 of Ind AS 12, there is no impact in the balance sheet. There was also no impact on the opening retained earnings as at April 01, 2022.

Note 44. Significant accounting judgements, estimates and assumptions

The preparation of the Company's financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the accompanying disclosures, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets and liabilities affected in future periods.

(i) Judgements, Estimates and Assumptions

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are described below. The Company based its assumptions and estimates on parameters available when the Financial Statements were prepared. Existing circumstances and assumptions about future developments, however, may change due to market changes or circumstances arising that are beyond the control of the Company. Such changes are reflected in the assumptions when they occur. In the process of applying the Company's accounting policies, management has made the following judgements, estimates and assumptions, which have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the Financial Statements.

(ii) Defined Employer Benefit plans (Refer Note 3.15)

The cost and the present value of the defined benefit gratuity plan and other post-employment leave encashment benefit are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in future. These include the determination of appropriate discount rate, estimating future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date. For further details refer Note 45.

(iii) Fair value measurement of financial instruments (Refer Note 3.20)

When the fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the Balance Sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using valuation techniques including the DCF model. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgement is required in establishing fair values. Judgements include considerations of inputs such as liquidity risk, credit risk and volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect the reported fair value of financial instruments. Refer Note 51 for further disclosures.

(iv) Depreciation on Property, Plant and Equipment (Refer Note 3.7)

Property, plant and equipment represent a significant proportion of the asset base of the Company. The charge in respect of periodic depreciation is derived after determining an estimate of an asset's expected useful life and the expected residual value at the end of its life. The useful lives and residual values of company's assets are determined by management at the time the asset is acquired and reviewed periodically, including at each financial year end. The lives are based on historical experience with similar assets as well as anticipation of future events, which may impact their life, such as changes in technology. The Company also considers the impact of health, safety and environmental legislation in its assessment of expected useful lives and estimated residual values.

(v) Impairment allowance on trade receivables (Refer Note 3.4)

The Company makes loss allowances for credit impaired debts based on an assessment of the recoverability of trade and other receivables. The identification of credit impaired debts enquires use of judgments and estimates. Where the expectation is different from the original estimate, such difference will impact the carrying value of the trade and other receivables and credit impaired debts expenses in the period in which such estimate has been changed.

(vi) Decommissioning Liability (Refer Note 3.7)

Decommissioning Liability has been recognised for items of property, plant and equipment built or installed on specified leasehold land the terms of which said leases include decommissioning of such assets on expiry of the lease prior to handing over to the lessor. The decommissioning costs as at the end of the lease period have been estimated based on current costs by the Company's own technical experts and have been escalated to the end of the leasehold period using suitable inflation factors. The said escalated cost as at the end of the lease period is now discounted to the present value of such liability by applying Company's weighted average cost of capital.

(vii) Impairment of Investment (Refer Note 3.13)

The carrying amount of the Company's investments are assessed at the end of each reporting period to determine whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, then the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the asset. The recoverable amount of the asset is computed as the higher of an asset's or cash generating unit's fair value less costs to sell and its value in use. Such value is derived using valuation techniques (i.e. the Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) model), where future financial performance can be reliably estimated or management's best estimate of the estimated fair value of the carrying value of assets and liabilities, as appropriate. The inputs to the Discounted Cash Flow models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgment is required in establishing fair values. Key assumptions on which management has based its determination of recoverable amount includes estimated long term growth rates, weighted average cost of capital etc. Cash flow projections take into account past experience and represent management's best estimate about future developments. The risks in respect of climate-related matters are included as key assumptions where they materially impact the measure of recoverable amount. These assumptions have been included in the cash-flow forecasts in assessing value-in-use amount.

Note 44. Significant accounting judgements, estimates and assumptions (contd.)

The Company had undertaken an impairment assessment in respect of its investment in Lusako Trading Limited, STP Limited, Berger Paints (Cyprus) Limited and Berger Nippon Paint Automotive Coatings Private Limited.

The Management has determined following assumptions for impairment testing of investments:

Related Assumptions	As at March 31, 2024	As at March 31, 2023	Approach used in determining Value
Weighted average Cost of capital % (WACC) before tax (discount rate)	8.7% to 15.00%	6.50% to 14.00%	It has been determined basis risk free rate of return adjusted for equity risk premium.
Long Term Growth Rate	0% to 5%	0% to 2%	Long term growth rate has been taken basis financial budgets and projections approved by the management which is in line with industry growth rate.

The Company had in earlier years provided for impairment amounting to ₹71.40 crores in the carrying value of its investment in its wholly owned subsidiary, Berger Paints Cyprus Limited (BPCL) due to downturn in the Russian Economy and its corresponding impact on Company's ultimate wholly owned subsidiary Berger Paints Overseas Limited (BPOL), which were reflected in the consolidated financial position of the Company. The Company has made an assessment of the fair value less costs to sell of the investments in Berger Paints Overseas Limited taking into account management's best estimate of the estimated fair value less costs to sale of the carrying value of assets and liabilities of the above wholly owned subsidiary and basis such assessment no further impairment is required to be recognised in the current year.

Sensitivity analysis of assumptions

The Company had performed sensitivity analysis considering +/- 2% for each of the assumptions used and ensured that the valuation is appropriate and no impairment is required to be recognised.

(viii) Revenue from combined contracts (Refer Note 3.4)

The Company exercises judgement in estimating cost for recognizing revenue from combined contract with customers. Losses on onerous contracts (if any) are recognized in the financial statements.

Note 45. Gratuity and other post-employment benefit plans (contd.)

Impact on defined benefit obligation

Sensitivity for significant actuarial assumptions is computed by varying one actuarial assumption used for the valuation of the defined benefit obligation by one percentage, keeping all other actuarial assumptions constant. The methods and types of assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis did not change compared to the prior period.

- (v) Risk Exposure

Impact on defined benefit obligation

Sensitivity for significant actuarial assumptions is computed by varying one actuarial assumption used for the valuation of the defined benefit obligation by one percentage, keeping all other actuarial assumptions constant. In practice, this is unlikely to occur and changes in some of the assumptions may be correlated. When calculating the sensitivity of the defined benefit obligation to significant actuarial assumptions the same method (present value of the defined benefit obligation calculated with the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period) has been applied as when calculating the defined benefit liability recognised in the balance sheet.

The method and types of assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis did not change compared to the prior period.

These plans typically expose the Company to actuarial risks such as: Investment Risk, Interest Risk, Longevity Risk and Salary Risk.

Investment Risk: The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated using a discount rate which is determined by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds.

Interest Risk: A decrease in the government bond interest rate will increase the plan liability.

Longevity Risk: The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated by reference to the best estimate of the mortality of plan participants both during and after their employment. An increase in the life expectancy of the plan participants will increase the plan's liability.

Salary Risk: The present value of the defined plan liability is calculated by reference to the future salaries of plan participants. As such, an increase in the salary of the plan participants will increase the plan's liability.

- (vi) Defined Benefit Liability and Employer Contributions

Since the employees gratuity fund is a defined benefit plan maintained by Life Insurance Corporation of India the return is generated from a pool of assets invested by them and any deficit in the liability and return on plan assets is funded by the Company on a yearly basis

- (vii) The Company expects to contribute an amount to gratuity as specified in report by Fund custodian during the subsequent accounting year.

- (viii) Maturity profile of the defined benefit obligation

(b) Provident Fund

Provident Fund for certain eligible employees is administered by the Company through "Berger Paints Provident Fund (Covered)" as per the provisions of the Employees' Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952. The Rules for such a trust provide that in a provident fund set up by the employer, any shortfall in the rate of interest on member contributions as compared to the relevant rate of interest declared by the Government of India for this purpose will have to be met by the employer. Such provident fund would in effect be a defined benefit plan in accordance with the requirement of Ind AS 19 - Employee Benefits. The Actuary has carried out actuarial valuation of interest rate guarantee obligations as at the Balance Sheet date using Projected Unit Credit Method as outlined in the Professional Guidance Note 29 issued by the Institute of Actuaries of India. Based on such valuation, there is no future anticipated shortfall with regards to interest rate guarantee obligation of the Company as at the balance sheet date. Further during the year, the Company's contribution of ₹15.30 crores (March 31, 2023: ₹8.02 crores) to the Provident Fund Trust, has been expensed under "Contribution to Provident and Other Funds". Disclosures given hereunder are restricted to the information available as per the Actuary's report.

Note 51. Fair Value Hierarchy

Level 1: Quoted Prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e., as prices) or indirectly (i.e., derived from prices)

Level 3: Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs)

(a) Financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value through profit or loss at March 31, 2024

₹ in Crores
Particulars	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Financial Assets
Investment in Mutual Funds	51.35	-	-	51.35

₹ in Crores
Particulars	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Financial Assets

(b) Financial instruments at amortized cost

The carrying amount of financial assets and financial liabilities measured at amortised cost in the financial statements are a reasonable approximation of their fair values since the Company does not anticipate that the carrying amounts would be significantly different from the values that would eventually be received or settled.

(c) During the year there has been no transfer from one level to another.

(d) In determining fair value measurement, the impact of potential climate-related matters, including legislation, which may affect the fair value measurement of assets and liabilities in the financial statements, as applicable, has been considered. These risks in respect of climate-related matters are included as key assumptions where they materially impact the measure of recoverable amount. These assumptions have been included in the cash-flow forecasts in assessing value-in-use amounts. At present, the impact of climate-related matters is not material to the Company's financial statements.

Note 52. Financial risk management objectives and policies

The Company's principal financial liabilities, other than derivatives, comprise borrowings and trade payables. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Company's working capital requirements. The Company has various financial assets such as trade receivables, loans, investments, short-term deposits and cash & cash equivalents, which arise directly from its operations. The Company may enter into derivative transactions by way of forward exchange contracts to hedge its payables.

Risk Management Framework

The Company is exposed to market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's Board of Directors oversees the management of these risks. The Company's Board of Directors is supported by the Business Process and Risk Management Committee (BPRMC) that advises on financial risks and the appropriate financial risk governance framework for the Company. The BPRMC provides assurance to the Company's Board of Directors that the Company's financial risk activities are governed by appropriate policies and procedures and that financial risks are identified, measured and managed in accordance with the Company's policies and risk objectives. All derivative activities for risk management purposes are carried out by personnels that have the appropriate skills, experience and supervision. It is the Company's policy that no trading in derivatives for speculative purposes may be undertaken. The Board has taken all necessary actions to mitigate the risks identified on the basis of the information and situation present. The Board of Directors reviews and agrees policies for managing each of these risks, which are summarised below:

(i) Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market factors. Market risk comprises three types of risk: interest rate risk, currency risk and other price risk, such as equity price risk, liquidity risk and commodity risk. Financial instruments affected by market risk include loans and borrowings, deposits, investments and financial derivative.

The sensitivity analysis in the following sections relate to the position as at March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023.

The sensitivity analyses have been prepared on the basis that the amount of net debt, the ratio of fixed to floating interest rates of the debt and derivatives and the proportion of financial instruments in foreign currencies are all constant at March 31, 2024.

The analyses exclude the impact of movements in market variables on: the carrying values of gratuity and other post-retirement obligations.

The following assumptions have been made in calculating the sensitivity analyses:

➤ The sensitivity of the relevant profit or loss item is the effect of the assumed changes in respective market risks. This is based on the financial assets and financial liabilities held at March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023

➤ The sensitivity of equity is calculated as at March 31, 2024 for the effects of the assumed changes of the underlying risk

(ii) Interest rate risk

The Company has incurred short term debt to finance its working capital, which exposes it to interest rate risk. Borrowings issued at variable rates expose the Company to interest rate risk. Borrowing issued at fixed rates expose the Company to fair value interest rate risk. The Company's interest rate risk management policy includes achieving the lowest possible cost of debt financing, while managing volatility of interest rates, applying a prudent mix of fixed and floating debt through evaluation of various bank loans and money market instruments.

The Company does not have any significant variable rate interest bearing liabilities as at March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023, hence there would not be any material impact on pretax profit and pre tax equity of the Company on account of any anticipated fluctuations in interest.

(iii) Foreign currency risk

The Company has a policy wherein it can enter into foreign exchange forward contracts to manage risk of foreign exchange fluctuations. These contracts are not designated in hedge relationships and are measured at fair value through profit or loss. Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of an exposure will fluctuate because of changes in exchange rates of any currency. The Company's exposure to the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to the Company's operating activities by way of direct imports or financing of imports through foreign currency instruments.

There are no outstanding derivative contract as at March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023.

Foreign currency sensitivity

The following tables demonstrate the sensitivity to a reasonably possible change in USD/Euro exchange rates, with all other variables held constant. The impact on the Company's profit before tax is due to changes in the fair value of monetary assets and liabilities. The Company's exposure to foreign currency changes for all other currencies is not material.

Year ended	Currency	Change in USD/EURO rate(%)	Effect on profit before tax (₹ in Crores)	Effect on pre-tax equity (₹ in Crores)
March 31, 2024	USD	5%	(7.27)	(7.27)
	USD	-5%	7.27	7.27

March 31, 2023	USD	5%	(7.81)	(7.81)
	USD	-5%	7.81	7.81
	EURO	5%	(0.11)	(0.11)
	EURO	-5%	0.11	0.11

(iv) Commodity price risk

The Company doesn't enter into any long term contract with its suppliers for hedging its commodity price risk

(v) Equity price risk

The Company does not have any investments in listed securities or in Equity Mutual Funds and thereby is not exposed to any Equity price risk.

(vi) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. The Company is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily trade receivables) and from its financing activities, including deposits with banks and financial institutions, and other financial instruments, as applicable.

The concentration of Credit Risk is limited as the customer base is large. There is no customer representing more than 10% of the total balance of trade receivable. As a practical expedient, the Company computes credit loss allowances based on a provision matrix. The provision matrix is prepared based on historically observed default rates over expected life of trade receivable and is adjusted for forward looking estimates. The Company believes that the current value of trade receivables reflects the fair value/ recoverable values.

	₹ in Crores
	As at March 31, 2024	As at March 31, 2023
Movement in expected credit loss allowance on trade receivable
Balance at the beginning of the year	31.83	19.01
Loss allowance/(reversal) measured at lifetime expected credit losses (net of bad debts)	2.67	12.82
Balance at the end of the year	34.50	31.83

Trade receivables and contract assets if any

Customer credit risk is managed by the management subject to the Company's established policy, procedures and control relating to customer credit risk management. Individual credit limits are defined in accordance with credit quality of customers as assessed by the management. Outstanding customer receivables are regularly monitored and corrective actions are taken, as required.

Financial instruments and cash deposits

Credit risk from balances with banks and financial institutions is managed by the Company's treasury department in accordance with the Company's policy. Investments of surplus funds are made only with approved counterparties and within credit limits assigned to each counterparty. Counterparty credit limits are reviewed by the Company's Board of Directors on an annual basis, and may be updated throughout the year subject to approval of the Company's Business Process and Risk Management Committee. The limits are set to minimise the concentration of risks and therefore mitigate financial loss through counterparty's potential failure to make payments.

(vii) Liquidity risk

The Company monitors its risk of a shortage of funds using a liquidity planning analysis.

The Company's objective is to maintain a balance between continuity of funding and flexibility through the use of bank overdrafts, cash credit facilities and buyers' credit facilities. The Company assessed the concentration of risk with respect to refinancing its debt and concluded it to be low. The Company has access to a sufficient variety of sources of funding and debt.

The table below summarises the maturity profile of the Company's financial liabilities based on contractual undiscounted payments:

Note 53. Capital management

For the purpose of the Company's capital management, capital includes issued equity capital, share premium and all other equity reserves attributable to the equity holders of the parent. The primary objective of the Company's capital management is to maximise the shareholder value.

The Company avails short term borrowings to bridge its working capital gap and finances its capital expenditure through internal generation of funds. The Company has a generally low debt equity ratio.

In order to achieve this overall objective, the Company's capital management, amongst other things, aims to ensure that it meets financial covenants attached to the interest-bearing loans and borrowings that define capital structure requirements, if any. Breaches in meeting the financial covenants would permit the bank to immediately call loans and borrowings. There have been no breaches in the financial covenants of any interest-bearing loans and borrowing in the current period.

No changes were made in the objectives, policies or processes for managing capital during the year ended March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023.

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us and based on the consideration of reports of other auditors on separate financial statements and on the other financial information of the subsidiaries and joint ventures, the aforesaid consolidated financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013, as amended ("the Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the consolidated state of affairs of the Group and its joint ventures as at March 31, 2024, their consolidated profit including other comprehensive income, their consolidated cash flows and the consolidated statement of changes in equity for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs), as specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the 'Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements' section of our report. We are independent of the Group and joint ventures in accordance with the 'Code of Ethics' issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the consolidated financial statements.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements for the financial year ended March 31, 2024. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. For each matter below, our description of how our audit addressed the matter is provided in that context.

We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report. We have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report, including in relation to these matters. Accordingly, our audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to our assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements. The results of audit procedures performed by us and by other auditors of components not audited by us, as reported by them in their audit reports furnished to us by the management, including those procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for our audit opinion on the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Revenue recognition (as described in Note 3.6 and Note 35 of the consolidated financial statements)
--	--

The Group recognizes revenues when the control of goods and/or services are transferred to the customer at an amount that reflects the net consideration, which the Group expects to receive for those goods and/or services from customers in accordance with the terms of the contracts. In determining the sales price, the Group considers the effects of applicable rebates and discounts (variable consideration). The terms of sales arrangements, including the timing of transfer of control, based on the terms of relevant contract and nature of discount and rebates arrangements, create complexities that require judgment in determining sales revenues. Considering the above factors and the risk associated with revenue recognition, we have determined the same to be a key audit matter.	Our audit procedures included the following: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1) We read and evaluated the Group's revenue recognition policy and assessed its compliance in terms of Ind AS 115 'Revenue from contracts with customers'.</li> <li>2) We assessed the design and tested the operating effectiveness of internal controls related to sales and applicable rebates/discounts.</li> </ol>

The terms of sales arrangements, including the timing of transfer of control, based on the terms of relevant contract and nature of discount and rebates arrangements, create complexities that require judgment in determining sales revenues. Considering the above factors and the risk associated with revenue recognition, we have determined the same to be a key audit matter.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>3) We performed test for a sample of individual revenue transactions by comparing the underlying sales invoices, sales orders and other related documents to assess that revenue is recognized on transfer of control to the customer in accordance with the terms of the contract.</li> <li>4) We tested, on a sample basis, rebates and discount schemes against the underlying documents to assess that the actual rebates and discounts recognized are as per the approved schemes and are appropriately recorded.</li> </ol>

The terms of sales arrangements, including the timing of transfer of control, based on the terms of relevant contract and nature of discount and rebates arrangements, create complexities that require judgment in determining sales revenues. Considering the above factors and the risk associated with revenue recognition, we have determined the same to be a key audit matter.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>5) We tested, on a sample basis, that revenue has been recognized in the proper period with reference to the supporting documents.</li> <li>6) We tested underlying documentation for journal entries which were considered to be material related to revenue recognition.</li> </ol>

The terms of sales arrangements, including the timing of transfer of control, based on the terms of relevant contract and nature of discount and rebates arrangements, create complexities that require judgment in determining sales revenues. Considering the above factors and the risk associated with revenue recognition, we have determined the same to be a key audit matter.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>7) We read and assessed the relevant disclosures made in the consolidated financial statements.</li> </ol>

Assessment of Impairment of Goodwill (as described in Note 45 of the consolidated financial statements)

The Group has goodwill in consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2024 including significant amount of such goodwill recognized in the consolidated financial statements of one of the subsidiaries. These are allocated to Cash Generating Units (CGUs) and are tested annually for impairment. This testing is done by computing the value in use based on discounted cash flow method. The value in use so determined is compared with the carrying values and if there is a deficit, impairment loss is recognised. The inputs to the impairment testing model which have the most significant impact on the CGU's recoverable value include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Projected revenue growth, operating margins and operating cash-flows;</li> <li>- Stable long-term growth rates till perpetuity; and</li> <li>- Discount rates</li> </ul> Considering that the impairment assessment requires consideration of above inputs that involves significant management judgement, this has been identified as a key audit matter.	Our audit procedures included the following: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1) We obtained an understanding of the impairment assessment process and evaluated the design and tested the operating effectiveness of the controls in respect of the same.</li> <li>2) In respect of the goodwill recognized in the consolidated financial statements of subsidiary, we made enquiries on audit procedures performed by the component auditor.</li> </ol>

The inputs to the impairment testing model which have the most significant impact on the CGU's recoverable value include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Projected revenue growth, operating margins and operating cash-flows;</li> <li>- Stable long-term growth rates till perpetuity; and</li> <li>- Discount rates</li> </ul>	The audit procedures carried out by component auditor of the subsidiary includes the following: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a) Evaluated the methodology applied by the subsidiary in determining the CGUs to which goodwill is allocated.</li> <li>b) Verified the recoverable amount ascertained by the management of the subsidiary under Discounted Cash Flow method based on business projection and valuation assumptions.</li> <li>c) Discussed of potential changes in key drivers as compared to previous year/actual performance with management of the company to verify the inputs and assumptions used in the cash flow forecasts.</li> </ol>

Considering that the impairment assessment requires consideration of above inputs that involves significant management judgement, this has been identified as a key audit matter.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>3) In respect of the goodwill related to companies other than the above step-down subsidiary, we have performed following procedures:             <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a) Evaluated management's key assumptions in respect of future sales growth rate, operating cash flows, perpetuity growth rate and discount rate used in impairment assessment.</li> <li>b) Involved specialists to assist us in the evaluation of impairment exercise carried out by the management.</li> </ol> </li> <li>4) We performed sensitivity analysis to determine the impact of changes in the key assumptions.</li> </ol>

Considering that the impairment assessment requires consideration of above inputs that involves significant management judgement, this has been identified as a key audit matter.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>5) We read and assessed the disclosures made in the consolidated financial statements.</li> </ol>

Auditor's Report of the Consolidated Financial Statements (contd.)

Information Other than the Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Holding Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Annual report but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether such other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The Holding Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation and presentation of these consolidated financial statements in terms of the requirements of the Act that give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position, consolidated financial performance including other comprehensive income, consolidated cash flows and consolidated statement of changes in equity of the Group including its joint ventures in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) specified under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended. The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its joint ventures are responsible for maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of their respective companies and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, which have been used for the purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statements by the Directors of the Holding Company, as aforesaid.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its joint ventures are responsible for assessing the ability of their respective companies to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its joint ventures are also responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of their respective companies.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Holding Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Group and its joint ventures to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group and its joint ventures to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group and its joint ventures of which we are the independent auditors, to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the financial statements of such entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities included in the consolidated financial statements, which have been audited by other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company and such other entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements for the financial year ended March 31, 2024 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Other Matter

We did not audit the financial statements and other financial information, in respect of nine (9) subsidiaries (including one (1) step down subsidiary), and consolidated financial statements and other financial information in respect of one (1) step-down subsidiary (including its four (4) step-down subsidiaries), whose financial statements include total assets of ₹1,710.63 crore as at March 31, 2024, and total revenues of ₹1,293.05 crore and net cash inflows of ₹29.76 crore for the year ended on that date. ## Annexure “2” to the Independent Auditor’s Report of even date on the Consolidated Financial Statements of Berger Paints India Limited

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (“the Act”)

In conjunction with our audit of the consolidated financial statements of Berger Paints India Limited (hereinafter referred to as the “Holding Company”) as of and for the year ended March 31, 2024, we have audited the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements of the Holding Company and its subsidiaries (the Holding Company and its subsidiaries together referred to as “the Group”) and its joint ventures, which are companies incorporated in India, as of that date.

Management’s Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and its joint ventures, which are companies incorporated in India, are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Holding Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (“ICAI”). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the respective company’s policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor’s Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Holding Company’s internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) and the Standards on Auditing, as specified under section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both, issued by ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls with reference to Consolidated financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained and the audit evidence obtained by the other auditors in terms of their reports referred to in the Other Matters paragraph below, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls With Reference to Consolidated Financial Statements

A company’s internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company’s internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company’s assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls With Reference to Consolidated Financial Statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Group and its joint ventures, which are companies incorporated in India, have, maintained in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements and such internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements were operating effectively as at March 31, 2024, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Holding Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI.

Other Matters

Our report under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act on the adequacy and operating effectiveness of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements of the Holding Company, in so far as it relates to three (3) subsidiaries and two(2) joint ventures, which are companies incorporated in India, is based on the corresponding reports of the auditors of such subsidiaries and joint ventures incorporated in India.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

1. Corporate Information

The Consolidated Financial Statements comprise financial statements of Berger Paints India Limited ('BPIL' or 'the Parent Company' or 'the Company') and its subsidiaries (collectively, the Group) and includes share of profit/loss of the joint ventures for the year ended 31 March 2024. The Parent Company is a public company domiciled in India and is incorporated under the provisions of the Companies Act applicable in India. Its shares are listed on three recognised stock exchanges in India. The registered office of the Parent Company is located at Berger House, 129, Park Street, Kolkata-700 017.

The Group is principally engaged in the manufacturing and selling of paints. The Group caters primarily to domestic market. Information on the Group's structure is provided in Note 46. Information on other related party relationships of the Group is provided in Note 51.

The Consolidated Financial Statements were approved for issue in accordance with a resolution of the Board of directors on May 15, 2024.

2. Material Accounting Policies

2.1 Basis of preparation

These Consolidated Financial Statements of the Group have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 (as amended from time to time) and presentation requirements of Division II of Schedule III to the Companies Act, 2013, (Ind AS compliant Schedule III), as applicable to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

These Consolidated Financial Statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for certain assets and liabilities which have been measured at fair values. (refer accounting policy regarding financial instruments). The Consolidated Financial Statements are presented in INR and all values are rounded-off to the nearest crores with 2 decimal places (INR 00,00,000), except when otherwise indicated. These Consolidated Financial Statements provide comparative information in respect of the previous period. The Group has prepared the financial statements on the basis that it will continue to operate as a going concern.

Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

2.2 Basis of consolidation

The Consolidated Financial Statements comprise the financial statements of the Parent Company, its subsidiaries and joint ventures as at March 31, 2024. Control is achieved when the Group is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee. Specifically, the Group controls an investee if and only if the Group has:

- Power over the investee (i.e., existing rights that give it the current ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee)
- Exposure, or rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee, and
- The ability to use its power over the investee to affect its returns

Generally, there is a presumption that a majority of voting rights result in control. To support this presumption and when the Group has less than a majority of the voting or similar rights of an investee, the Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether it has power over an investee, including:

- The contractual arrangement with the other vote holders of the investee
- Rights arising from other contractual arrangements
- The Group's voting rights and potential voting rights
- The size of the group's holding of voting rights relative to the size and dispersion of the holdings of the other voting rights holders

The Group re-assesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control. Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary. Assets, liabilities, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the Consolidated Financial Statements from the date the Group gains control until the date the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

The Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared using uniform accounting policies for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances. If a member of the group uses accounting policies other than those adopted in the Consolidated Financial Statements for like transactions and events in similar circumstances, appropriate adjustments are made to that group member's financial statements in preparing the Consolidated Financial Statements to ensure conformity with the group's accounting policies.

Consolidation procedure:

- (a) Combine like items of assets, liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows of the Parent Company with those of its subsidiaries. For this purpose, income and expenses of the subsidiary are based on the amounts of the assets and liabilities recognised in the Consolidated Financial Statements at the acquisition date.
- (b) Offset (eliminate) the carrying amount of the Parent Company's investment in each subsidiary and the Parent Company's portion of equity of each subsidiary. Business combinations policy explains how to account for any related goodwill.
- (c) Eliminate in full intragroup assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between entities of the Group (profits or losses resulting from intragroup transactions that are recognised in assets, such as inventory and property, plant and equipment, are eliminated in full). Intragroup losses may indicate an impairment that requires recognition in the Consolidated Financial Statements. Ind AS 12 Income Taxes applies to temporary differences that arise from the elimination of profits and losses resulting from intragroup transactions.
- (d) The translation of the functional currencies into Indian Rupees (functional and presentation currency) of foreign subsidiaries is performed for assets and liabilities using closing exchange rates at the Balance Sheet date, for revenues, costs, and expenses using average rates prevailing during the period. The resultant exchange difference arising out of such transactions is recognized as part of Other Comprehensive Income as Foreign Currency Translation Reserve by the Parent Company until the disposal of Investment.

- (e) Joint Ventures are entities over which the Group has joint control along with third parties. Investments in Joint Ventures are accounted for using the equity method of accounting. The investment is initially recognised at cost, and the carrying amount is increased or decreased to recognise the investor's share of profit or loss of the investee after the acquisition date.
- (f) Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income (OCI) are attributed to the equity holders of the parent of the Group and to the non-controlling interests, even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance. When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with the Group's accounting policies. All intra-group assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.
- (g) Accounting period of the subsidiaries and joint ventures are disclosed in note 46 of the Consolidated Financial Statements.

A change in the ownership interest of a subsidiary, without a loss of control, is accounted for as an equity transaction. If the Group loses control over a subsidiary, it:

- Derecognises the assets (including goodwill) and liabilities of the subsidiary at their carrying amounts at the date when control is lost
- Derecognises the carrying amount of any non-controlling interests
- Derecognises the cumulative translation differences recorded in equity
- Recognises the fair value of the consideration received
- Recognises the fair value of any investment retained
- Recognises any surplus or deficit in profit or loss
- Recognise that distribution of shares of subsidiary to Group in Group's capacity as owners
- Reclassifies the parent's share of components previously recognised in OCI to profit or loss or transferred directly to retained earnings, if required by other Ind ASs as would be required if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities

3. Summary of Material Accounting Policies

3.1. Business combination and goodwill

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the aggregate of the consideration transferred measured at acquisition date fair value and the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree. For each business combination, the Group elects whether to measure the non-controlling interests in the acquiree at fair value or at the proportionate share of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. Acquisition-related costs are expensed in the periods in which the costs are incurred and the services are received, with the exception of the costs of issuing debt or equity securities that are recognised in accordance with Ind AS 32 and Ind AS 109.

The Group determines that it has acquired a business when the acquired set of activities and assets include an input and a substantive process that together significantly contribute to the ability to create outputs. The acquired process is considered substantive if it is critical to the ability to continue producing outputs, and the inputs acquired include an organised workforce with the necessary skills, knowledge, or experience to perform that process or it significantly contributes to the ability to continue producing outputs and is considered unique or scarce or cannot be replaced without significant cost, effort, or delay in the ability to continue producing outputs.

At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired, and the liabilities assumed are recognised at their acquisition date fair values. For this purpose, the liabilities assumed include contingent liabilities representing present obligation and they are measured at their acquisition fair values irrespective of the fact that outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is not probable.

However, the following assets and liabilities acquired in a business combination are measured at the basis indicated below:

- Deferred tax assets or liabilities, and the liabilities or assets related to employee benefit arrangements are recognised and measured in accordance with Ind AS 12 Income Tax and Ind AS 19 Employee Benefits respectively.
- Potential tax effects of temporary differences and carry forwards of an acquiree that exist at the acquisition date or arise as a result of the acquisition are accounted in accordance with Ind AS 12.
- Liabilities or equity instruments related to share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree or share – based payments arrangements of the Group entered into to replace share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree are measured in accordance with Ind AS 102 Share-based Payments at the acquisition date.
- Assets (or disposal groups) that are classified as held for sale in accordance with Ind AS 105 Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations are measured in accordance with that Standard.
- Reacquired rights are measured at a value determined on the basis of the remaining contractual term of the related contract. Such valuation does not consider potential renewal of the reacquired right.

When the Group acquires a business, it assesses the financial assets and liabilities assumed for appropriate classification and designation in accordance with the contractual terms, economic circumstances and pertinent conditions as at the acquisition date. This includes the separation of embedded derivatives in host contracts by the acquiree.

Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred and the amount recognised for non-controlling interests, and any previous interest held, over the net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. If the fair value of the net assets acquired is in excess of the aggregate consideration transferred, the Group re-assesses whether it has correctly identified all of the assets acquired and all of the liabilities assumed and reviews the procedures used to measure the amounts to be recognised at the acquisition date. If the reassessment still results in an excess of the fair value of net assets acquired over the aggregate consideration transferred, then the gain is recognised in OCI and accumulated in equity as capital reserve. However, if there is no clear evidence of bargain purchase, the entity recognises the gain directly in equity as capital reserve, without routing the same through OCI.

After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the acquiree are assigned to those units.

A cash generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually or more frequently when there is an indication that the unit may be impaired. If the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit and then to the other assets of the unit pro rata based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss. An impairment loss recognised for goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods.

Where goodwill has been allocated to a cash-generating unit and part of the operation within that unit is disposed of, the goodwill associated with the disposed operation is included in the carrying amount of the operation when determining the gain or loss on disposal. Goodwill disposed in these circumstances is measured based on the relative values of the disposed operation and the portion of the cash-generating unit retained.

On disposal of a CGU to which goodwill is allocated, the goodwill associated with the disposed CGU is included in the carrying amount of the CGU when determining the gain or loss on disposal.

3.2. Investment in joint ventures

A joint venture is a type of joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the joint venture. Joint control is the contractually agreed sharing of control of an arrangement, which exists only when decisions about the relevant activities require unanimous consent of the parties sharing control.

The considerations made in determining whether significant influence or joint control are similar to those necessary to determine control over the subsidiaries.

The Group's investments in its joint venture are accounted for using the equity method. Under the equity method, the investment in a joint venture is initially recognised at cost. The carrying amount of the investment is adjusted to recognise changes in the Group's share of net assets of the joint venture since the acquisition date. Goodwill relating to the joint venture is included in the carrying amount of the investment and is not tested for impairment individually.

The Statement of Profit and Loss reflects the Group's share of the results of operations of the joint venture. Any change in OCI of those investees is presented as part of the Group's OCI. In addition, when there has been a change recognised directly in the equity of the joint venture, the Group recognises its share of any changes, when applicable, in the statement of changes in equity. Unrealised gains and losses resulting from transactions between the Group and the joint venture are eliminated to the extent of the interest in the joint venture.

If an entity's share of losses of a joint venture equals or exceeds its interest in the joint venture (which includes any long-term interest that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the joint venture), the entity discontinues recognising its share of further losses. Additional losses are recognised only to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the joint venture. If the joint venture subsequently reports profits, the entity resumes recognising its share of those profits only after its share of the profits equals the share of losses not recognised.

The aggregate of the Group's share of profit or loss of a joint venture is shown on the face of the Statement of Profit and Loss.

When necessary, adjustments are made to bring the accounting policies in line with those of the Group. After application of the equity method, the Group determines whether it is necessary to recognise an impairment loss on its investment in its joint venture. At each reporting date, the Group determines whether there is objective evidence that the investment in the joint venture is impaired. If there is such evidence, the Group calculates the amount of impairment as the difference between the recoverable amount of the joint venture and its carrying value, and then recognises the loss as 'Share of profit of a joint venture' in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

3.3. Current and Non-Current classification

The Group presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current/ non-current classification. An asset is treated as current when it is:

- Expected to be realised or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle
- Held primarily for the purpose of trading
- Expected to be realised within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is current when:

- It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle
- It is held primarily for the purpose of trading
- It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

The terms of the liability that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by the issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification.

The Group classifies all other liabilities as non-current.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents. The group has identified twelve months as its operating cycle.

3.4. Foreign Currencies

The Group's Consolidated Financial Statements are presented in INR, which is also the Parent Company's functional currency. For each entity the Group determines the functional currency and items included in the financial statements of each entity are measured using that functional currency. The Group uses the direct method of consolidation and on disposal of a foreign operation the gain or loss that is reclassified to profit or loss reflects the amount that arises from using this method.

The functional currency of Berger Paints India Limited (Holding Company), Beepee Coatings Private Limited, STP Limited, SBL Specialty Coatings Private Ltd, Berger Rock Paints Private Limited, Berger Becker Coatings Private Limited (Joint Venture) and Berger Nippon Paint Automotive Coatings Private Limited (Joint Venture) is Indian Rupee. The functional currency of other subsidiaries including step down subsidiaries and step-down joint venture included within the Group are the respective local currencies.

Transactions and balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded by the Group's entities at their respective functional currency spot rates at the date the transaction first qualifies for recognition. However, for practical reasons, the group uses an average rate if the average approximates the actual rate at the date of the transaction.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the functional currency spot rates of exchange at the reporting date.

Exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognised in profit or loss with the exception of the following:

- Exchange differences arising on monetary items that forms part of a reporting entity's net investment in a foreign operation are recognised in Statement of profit or loss in the separate financial statements of the reporting entity or the individual financial statements of the foreign operation, as appropriate. In the financial statements that include the foreign operation and the reporting entity (e.g., Consolidated Financial Statements when the foreign operation is a subsidiary), such exchange differences are recognised initially in OCI. These exchange differences are reclassified from equity to profit or loss on disposal of the net investment.
- Exchange differences arising on monetary items that are designated as part of the hedge of the Group's net investment of a foreign operation. These are recognised in OCI until the net investment is disposed of, at which time, the cumulative amount is reclassified to profit or loss.
- Tax charges and credits attributable to exchange differences on those monetary items are also recorded in OCI.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value is determined. The gain or loss arising on translation of non-monetary items measured at fair value is treated in line with the recognition of the gain or loss on the change in fair value of the item (i.e., translation differences on items whose fair value gain or loss is recognised in OCI or Statement of Profit and Loss are also recognised in OCI or Statement of Profit and Loss, respectively).

In determining the spot exchange rate to use on initial recognition of the related asset, expense or income (or part of it) on the de-recognition of a non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability relating to advance consideration, the date of the transaction is the date on which the Group initially recognises the non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability arising from the advance consideration. If there are multiple payments or receipts in advance, the Group determines the transaction date for each payment or receipt of advance consideration.

Group companies

On consolidation, the assets and liabilities of foreign operations are translated into INR at the rate of exchange prevailing at the reporting date and their Statements of Profit and Loss are translated at exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. For practical reasons, the group uses an average rate to translate income and expense items, if the average rate approximates the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. The exchange differences arising on translation for consolidation are recognised in OCI. On disposal of a foreign operation, the component of OCI relating to that particular foreign operation is recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss.

Any goodwill arising in the acquisition/ business combination of a foreign operation and any fair value adjustments to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities arising on the acquisition are treated as assets and liabilities of the foreign operation and translated at the spot rate of exchange at the reporting date.

Any goodwill or fair value adjustments arising in business combinations/ acquisitions, which occurred before the date of transition to Ind AS, are treated as assets and liabilities of the entity rather than as assets and liabilities of the foreign operation. Therefore, those assets and liabilities are non-monetary items already expressed in the functional currency of the Holding Company and no further translation differences occur.

Gain or loss on a subsequent disposal of any foreign operation excludes translation differences that arose before the date of transition but includes only translation differences arising after the transition date.

3.5. Fair Value Measurement

The Group measures financial instruments at fair value at each balance sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- ▶ In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- ▶ In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability. The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Group.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their best economic interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Group uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the Consolidated Financial Statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- ▶ Level 1 – Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- ▶ Level 2 – Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable
- ▶ Level 3 – Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the Consolidated Financial Statements on a recurring basis, the Group determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Group has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

The Group determines the policies and procedures for both recurring fair value measurement, such as unquoted financial assets measured at fair value, and for non-recurring measurement, such as assets held for sale in discontinued operations, if any.

External valuers are involved for valuation of significant assets, such as properties and unquoted financial assets, and significant liabilities, such as contingent consideration. Involvement of external valuers is decided upon annually by the management after discussion with and approval by the Company's Audit Committee. Selection criteria include market knowledge, reputation, independence and whether professional standards are maintained.

At each reporting date, the management analyses the movements in the values of assets and liabilities which are required to be remeasured or re-assessed as per the Group's accounting policies. For this analysis, the management verifies the major inputs applied in the latest valuation by agreeing the information in the valuation computation to contracts and other relevant documents

3.6. Revenue from contract with customer

Revenue from contracts with customers is recognised when control of the goods or services are transferred to the customer at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The Group has generally concluded that it is the principal in its revenue arrangements because it typically controls the goods or services before transferring them to the customer.

Revenue towards satisfaction of a performance obligation is measured at the amount of transaction price (net of variable consideration) allocated to that performance obligation. The transaction price of goods sold and services rendered is net of variable consideration on account of various discounts and schemes offered by the Group as part of the contract, excluding amounts collected on behalf of third parties.

Sale of Goods

Revenue from sale of goods is recognised on transfer of control in the goods to customers at a point of time by performance of obligation towards delivery or as per customers' instruction. The normal credit term is 30 to 90 days upon delivery. The revenue is based on the consideration defined in the contract with a customer, including variable consideration, such as discounts, volume rebates, rights to return or other contractual reductions. As the period between the date on which the Group transfers the promised goods to the customer and the date on which the customer pays for these goods is generally one year or less, no financing components are considered. The Group considers whether there are other promises in the contract that are separate performance obligations to which a portion of the transaction price needs to be allocated.

The Group provides volume rebates to certain customers once the quantity of products purchased by the customers during the period exceeds a threshold specified in the contract. Generally, rebates are offset against the amounts payable by the customer. To estimate the variable consideration for the expected future rebates, the Group applies the expected value method.

Certain contracts provide a customer with a right to return the goods within a specified period. The Group uses the expected value method to estimate the goods that will not be returned because this method best predicts the amount of variable consideration to which the Group will be entitled. The requirements in Ind AS on constraining estimates of variable consideration to are also applied in order to determine the amount of variable consideration that can be included in the transaction price.

Revenue from Combined Contracts

Revenue from combined contracts is recognised in accordance with terms and condition of underlying contracts:

- at a point of time when such combined output is delivered to customers' satisfaction and the customers acknowledge their obligation to pay for such output
- over time by measuring progress towards satisfaction of performance obligation for the services rendered using output method based on milestones reached.

Interest income

Interest income is accrued on a time proportion basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and effective interest rate applicable.

Dividend income

Dividend income from investments is recognised when the right to receive payment has been established.

Trade receivables

A receivable represents the Group's right to an amount of consideration that is unconditional (i.e., only the passage of time is required before payment of the consideration is due). Refer to accounting policies of financial assets in sections "Financial instruments – initial recognition and measurement" and "Financial instruments - subsequent measurement". Refer note no. 3.22

3.7. Government Grants

Government grants and subsidies are recognised where there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and all attached conditions will be complied with.

When the grant or subsidy relates to revenue and is related to the corresponding costs, it is recognised as income on a systematic basis in the Statement of Profit and Loss, under Other Operating Revenue, over the periods necessary to match them with the related costs, which they are intended to compensate. When the grant or subsidy relates to an asset, it is deducted from the carrying amount of the asset. The grant is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss over the useful life of the depreciable asset by way of a reduced depreciation charge.

When the Group receives grants of non-monetary assets, the asset and the grant are recorded at fair value amounts and released to Statement of Profit or Loss over the expected useful life in a pattern of consumption of the benefit of the underlying asset i.e., by equal annual instalments.

3.8. Taxes

Current Income Tax

Current income-tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered or paid to the taxation authorities in accordance with the Income-tax Act, 1961 enacted in India and tax laws prevailing in the respective tax jurisdictions where the Group operates. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date in the countries where the Group operates and generates taxable income.

Current income tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Current tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate. The group shall reflect the effect of uncertainty for each uncertain tax treatment by using either most likely method or expected value method, depending on which method predicts better resolution of the treatment. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

Deferred Tax

Deferred tax is provided using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the Consolidated Financial Statements at the reporting date. Deferred income tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting profit nor taxable profit (tax loss).

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

- When the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences.
- In respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and interests in joint ventures, when the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilise those temporary differences and losses.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

In assessing the recoverability of deferred tax assets, the Group relies on the same forecast assumptions used elsewhere in the financial statements and in other management reports, which, among other things, reflect the potential impact of climate-related development on the business, such as increased cost of production as a result of measures to reduce carbon emission.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the entity has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously, in each future period in which significant amounts of deferred tax liabilities or assets are expected to be settled or recovered.

Current and deferred tax is recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in Other Comprehensive Income (OCI) or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognised in OCI or directly in equity, respectively.

In the situations where the Group is entitled to a tax holiday under the Income-tax Act, 1961 enacted in India or tax laws prevailing in the respective tax jurisdictions where it operates, no deferred tax (asset or liability) is recognized in respect of temporary differences which reverse during the tax holiday period, to the extent the Group's gross total income is subject to the deduction during the tax holiday period. Deferred tax in respect of temporary differences which reverse after the tax holiday period is recognised in the year in which the temporary differences originate. However, the Group restricts recognition of deferred tax assets to the extent that it has become reasonably certain or virtually certain, as the case may be, that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realized. For recognition of deferred taxes, the temporary differences which originate first are considered to reverse first.

Goods and Service tax paid on acquisition of assets or on incurring expenses

Expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of Goods and Service tax paid, except:

- ▶ When the tax incurred on a purchase of assets or services is not recoverable from the taxation authority, in which case, the tax paid is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense item, as applicable.
- ▶ When receivables and payables are stated with the amount of tax included, the net amount of tax recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is included as part of receivables or payables in the balance sheet.

3.9. Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment (PPE) are carried at cost of acquisition, on current cost basis less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Cost comprises purchase price and directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use. Any trade discounts and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price. Such cost includes the cost of replacing part of the plant and equipment and borrowing costs for long-term construction projects if the recognition criteria are met. Machinery spares which can be used only in connection with an item of property, plant and equipment and whose use is expected to be irregular are capitalised and depreciated over the useful life of the principal item of the relevant assets. When significant parts of plant and equipment are required to be replaced at intervals, the Group depreciates them separately based on their specific useful lives. Likewise, when a major inspection is performed, its cost is recognised in the carrying amount of the plant and equipment as a replacement if the recognition criteria are satisfied. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred. The present value of the expected cost for the decommissioning of an asset after its use is included in the cost of the respective asset if the recognition criteria for a provision are met. Refer to note 45 regarding significant accounting judgements, estimates and assumptions and provisions for further information about the recorded decommissioning provision.

Subsequent expenditure would be recognized in the carrying amount of PPE when that cost/ expense would meet the recognition criteria given in paragraph 7 of Ind AS 16 i.e., it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the entity and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

Depreciation is provided on Straight line method over the useful lives of property, plant and equipment as estimated by management. Pursuant to Notification of Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013 depreciation is provided prorata basis on straight line method at the rates determined based on estimated useful lives of property, plant and equipment where applicable, prescribed under Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013 with the exception of the following items for which useful lives as estimated by management based on technical evaluation are different from those specified in aforesaid Schedule II.

- Plant and Machinery: 3 years to 21.05 years
- Motor Vehicles: 6.67 years
- Tinting Machines: Based on useful lives of 60 months
- No depreciation is provided on freehold land

An item of property, plant and equipment and any significant part initially recognised is de-recognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on de-recognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the Statement of Profit and Loss when the asset is de-recognised.

The residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate. The Group also considers the impact of health, safety and environmental legislation in its assessment of expected useful lives and estimated residual values. Furthermore, the Group considers climate-related matters, including physical and transition risks. Specifically, the Group determines whether climate-related legislation and regulations might impact either the useful life or residual values.

3.9.1 Capital work in progress

Cost of assets not ready for intended use, as the balance sheet date, is shown as capital work in progress. Capital work in progress is stated at cost, net of accumulated impairment loss, if any.

3.10. Intangible Assets

Intangible Assets are recognized only when future economic benefits arising out of the assets flow to the enterprise and are amortised over their useful life ranging from 3 to 5 years. Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Internally generated intangibles, excluding capitalised development costs, are not capitalised and the related expenditure is reflected in Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which the expenditure is incurred. The useful lives of intangible assets are assessed as either finite or indefinite.

Intangible assets with finite lives are amortised over the useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least at the end of each reporting period. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits embodied in the asset are considered to modify the amortisation period or method, as appropriate, and are treated as changes in accounting estimates. The amortisation expense on intangible assets with finite lives is recognised in the statement of profit and loss unless such expenditure forms part of carrying value of another asset.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortised, but are tested for impairment annually, either individually or at the cash-generating unit level. The assessment of indefinite life is reviewed annually to determine whether the indefinite life continues to be supportable. If not, the change in useful life from indefinite to finite is made on a prospective basis.

An intangible asset is de-recognised upon disposal (i.e., at the date the recipient obtains control) or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from de-recognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss when the asset is de-recognised.

3.11. Research and Development

Research is original and planned investigation undertaken with the prospect of gaining new scientific or technical knowledge and understanding. Expenditure incurred on research of an internal project is recognised as an expense in Statement of Profit and Loss, when it is incurred.

Development is the application of research findings or other knowledge to a plan or design for the production of new or substantially improved materials, devices, products, processes, systems or services before the start of commercial production or use. An intangible asset arising from development is recognised if, and only if, the following criteria are met:

- it is technically feasible to complete the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale.
- the Group intends to complete the intangible asset and use or sell it.
- the Group has ability to use or sell the intangible asset.
- the Group can demonstrate how the intangible asset will generate probable future economic benefits.
- the Group has adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the intangible asset.
- the Group has ability to measure reliably the expenditure attributable to the intangible asset during its development.

Following initial recognition of the development expenditure as an asset, the asset is carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation of the asset begins when development is complete and the asset is available for use. It is amortised over the period of expected future benefit. Amortisation expense is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss unless such expenditure forms part of carrying value of another asset.

During the period of development, the asset is tested for impairment annually.

3.12. Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use (known as Qualifying assets) or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of the asset. Borrowing Costs include interest, amortisation of ancillary costs incurred and exchange differences arising from foreign currency borrowings to the extent they are regarded as an adjustment to the borrowing costs. Discount on Commercial papers is amortised over the tenor of the underlying instrument. Borrowing Costs, allocated to and utilised for qualifying assets, pertaining to the period from commencement of activities relating to construction / development of the qualifying asset upto the date the asset is ready for its intended use is added to the cost of the assets. Capitalisation of Borrowing Costs is suspended and charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss during extended periods when active development activity on the qualifying assets is interrupted. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period they occur.

3.13. Leases

The Group assesses at contract inception whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. That is, if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

As a lessee

The Group applies a single recognition and measurement approach for all leases, except for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets. The Group recognises lease liabilities to make lease payments and right-of-use assets representing the right to use the underlying assets.

i) Right-of-use assets

The Group recognises right-of-use assets at the commencement date of the lease (i.e., the date the underlying asset is available for use). Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities. The cost of right-of-use assets includes the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term, initial direct costs incurred, and lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received. Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and the estimated useful lives of the assets, as follows:

- Leasehold Land and Building      2 years to 99 years

If ownership of the leased asset transfers to the group at the end of the lease term or the cost reflects the exercise of a purchase option, depreciation is calculated using the estimated useful life of the asset.

The right-of-use assets are also subject to impairment. Refer to the accounting policies in section 3.15 Impairment of non-financial assets.

ii) Lease Liabilities

At the commencement date of the lease, the Group recognises lease liabilities measured at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments (including in substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees. The lease payments also include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the group and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the group exercising the option to terminate. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised as expenses (unless they are incurred to produce inventories) in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses its incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date because the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is remeasured if there is a modification, a change in the lease term, a change in the lease payments. (e.g., changes to future payments resulting from a change in an index or rate used to determine such lease payments) or a change in the assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset.

The Group's lease liabilities are included in Note 49.

iii) Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The Group applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to its short-term leases of properties taken on rent (i.e., those leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option). It also applies the lease of low-value assets recognition exemption to properties that are of low value. Lease payments on short-term leases and leases of low-value assets are recognised as expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

As a lessor

Leases in which the Group does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of an asset are classified as operating leases. Rental income from operating lease is recognised on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognised over the lease term on the same basis as rental income. Contingent rents are recognised as revenue in the period in which they are earned.

3.14. Inventories

Raw materials, stores and spares and packing materials are valued at lower of cost and estimated net realisable value. Cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on weighted average basis. However, materials and other items held for use in the production of inventories are not written down below cost if the finished products in which they will be incorporated are expected to be sold at or above cost.

Finished goods and Work-in-process are stated at the lower of cost and estimated net realisable value. Cost of inventories constitutes direct materials and labour and a proportion of manufacturing overheads based on normal operating capacity.

Traded goods are valued at lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on a weighted average basis.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

Provision is recognised for damaged, defective or obsolete stocks where necessary. Cost of all inventories is determined using weighted average method of valuation.

3.15. Impairment of non-financial assets

The Group assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset including goodwill may be impaired. If any indication exists, the Group estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's (CGU) net selling price and its value in use. The recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. Where the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining net selling price, recent market transactions are taken into account, if available. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used.

For assets excluding goodwill, an assessment is made at each reporting date to determine whether there is an indication that previously recognised impairment losses no longer exist or have decreased. If such indication exists, the Group estimates the asset's or CGU's recoverable amount. A previously recognised impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognised in the statement of profit and loss unless the asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case, the reversal is treated as a revaluation increase.

Goodwill is tested for impairment annually and when circumstances indicate that the carrying value may be impaired.

Impairment is determined for goodwill by assessing the recoverable amount of each CGU (or group of CGUs) to which the goodwill relates. When the recoverable amount of the CGU is less than its carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognised. Impairment losses relating to goodwill cannot be reversed in future periods.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are tested for impairment annually at the CGU level, as appropriate, and when circumstances indicate that the carrying value may be impaired.

The Group assesses where climate risks could have a significant impact, such as the introduction of emission-reduction legislation that may increase manufacturing costs. These risks in relation to climate-related matters are included as key assumptions where they materially impact the measure of recoverable amount, these assumptions have been included in the cash-flow forecasts in assessing value-in-use amounts, as applicable.

3.16. Provisions and Contingencies

A provision is recognized when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of past event; it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. The expense relating to a provision is presented in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost.

The Group records a provision for decommissioning costs for its certain manufacturing facilities. Decommissioning costs are provided at the present value of expected costs to settle the obligation using estimated cash flows and are recognised as part of the cost of the particular asset. The cash flows are discounted at a current pre-tax rate that reflects the risks specific to the decommissioning liability. The unwinding of the discount is expensed as incurred and recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as a finance cost. The estimated future costs of decommissioning are reviewed annually and adjusted as appropriate. Changes in the estimated future costs or in the discount rate applied are added to or deducted from the cost of the asset.

The impact of climate-related matters on remediation of environmental damage is considered with determining the decommissioning liability on the manufacturing facility.

If the Group has a contract that is onerous, the present obligation under the contract is recognised and measured as a provision. However, before a separate provision for an onerous contract is established, the Group recognises any impairment loss that has occurred on assets dedicated to that contract.

An onerous contract is a contract under which the unavoidable costs (i.e., the costs that the Group cannot avoid because it has the contract) of meeting the obligations under the contract exceed the economic benefits expected to be received under it. The unavoidable costs under a contract reflect the least net cost of exiting from the contract, which is the lower of the cost of fulfilling it and any compensation or penalties arising from failure to fulfil it.

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the Group or a present obligation that is not recognized because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. The Group does not recognize a contingent liability but discloses its existence in the Consolidated Financial Statements.

3.17. Employee Benefits

Short-term Employee Benefits:

Liabilities for short-term employee benefits that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service are recognised in respect of employees' services up to the end of the reporting period and are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled. The liabilities are presented as 'Employee Benefits Payable' within 'Other Financial Liabilities' in the Balance Sheet.

Post-employment Benefits:

I. Defined Contribution Plan

a. Superannuation

Contribution made to Superannuation Fund for certain of employees of the Holding Company are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as and when services are rendered by employees. The Holding Company has no liability for future Superannuation Fund benefits other than its contribution.

b. Provident Fund

Contributions in respect of Employees of Holding Company who are not covered by Holding Company's Employees Provident Fund Trust and in respect of other employees of the Group are made to the Fund administered by the Regional Provident Fund Commissioner as per the provisions of Employees' Provident Fund and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952 and are charged to Statement of Profit and Loss as and when services are rendered by employees. The Group has no obligation other than the contribution payable to the Regional Provident fund.

II. Defined Benefit Plan

a. Gratuity

Every employee who has completed five years or more of service is entitled to Gratuity as per the provisions of The Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972. Retirement Gratuity for employees of the Holding Company, is funded through a scheme of Life Insurance Corporation of India. The costs of providing benefits under this plan are determined on the basis of actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method at each year-end. Actuarial gains/losses are immediately recognised in retained earnings through Other Comprehensive Income in the period in which they occur. Re-measurements are not re-classified to Statement of Profit and Loss in subsequent periods. The excess / shortfall in the fair value of the plan assets over the present value of the obligation calculated as per actuarial methods as at balance sheet dates is recognised as a gain/loss in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Any asset arising out of this calculation is limited to the past service cost plus the present value of available refunds and reduction in future contributions.

b. Provident Fund

In respect of the employees covered by the Parent Company's Employee Provident Fund Trust in Point I b above, contributions to the Parent Company's Employees Provident Fund Trust (administered by the Parent Company as per the provisions of Employees' Provident Fund and Misc. Provisions Act, 1952) are made in accordance with the fund rules. The interest rate payable to the beneficiaries every year is being notified by the Government.

In the case of contribution to the Trust, the Parent Company has an obligation to make good the shortfall, if any, between the return from the investments of the Trust and the notified interest rate and recognizes such obligation, if any, determined based on an actuarial valuation as at the balance sheet date, as an expense.

III. Long Term Compensated Absences

The Group treats accumulated leave to the extent such leave are carried forward as long-term employee benefit for measurement purposes. Such long-term compensated absences are provided for based on the actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method at the year-end. Actuarial gains/losses are immediately taken to the Statement of Profit and Loss and are not deferred. The Group presents the leave as a current liability in the balance sheet, to the extent it does not have an unconditional right to defer its settlement for 12 months after the reporting date. Where Group has the unconditional legal and contractual right to defer the settlement for a period beyond 12 months, the same is presented as non-current liability.

3.18. Employees Stock Option

Stock options are granted to the employees under the stock option scheme. The cost of stock options granted to the employees (equity-settled awards) of the Parent Company is the difference between fair value of equity instruments granted and the price at which options may be exercised by concerned employees. For each stock option, the measurement of fair value is performed on the grant date. The grant date is the date on which the Parent Company and the employees agree to the stock option scheme. The fair value so determined is revised only if the stock option scheme is modified in a manner that is beneficial to the employees.

Aforesaid cost of stock options is recognised, together with a corresponding increase in Employee Stock Options outstanding account in equity, over the period in which the performance and/or service conditions are fulfilled in employee benefits expense. The cumulative expense recognised for equity-settled transactions at each reporting date until the vesting date reflects the extent to which the vesting period has expired and the Holding Company's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest. The Statement of Profit and Loss expense or credit for a period represents the movement in cumulative expense recognised as at the beginning and end of that period and is recognised in employee benefits expense.

The dilutive effect of outstanding options is reflected as additional share dilution in the computation of diluted earnings per share.

If the options vests in instalments (i.e., the options vest pro rata over the service period), then each instalment is treated as a separate share option grant because each instalment has a different vesting period.

3.19. Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent for the purpose of presentation in Cash Flow Statement and in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash, which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

3.20. Forward Currency Contracts

The Group uses forward currency contracts to hedge its foreign currency risks. Such forward currency contracts are initially measured at fair value on the date on which a forward currency contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value. Forward currency contracts are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative. Changes in the fair value of forward contracts are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss as they arise.

3.21. Earnings Per Share

Basic Earnings Per Share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period and for all periods presented is adjusted for events, such as bonus shares, other than the conversion of potential equity shares that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources.

3.22. Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

A. Financial assets

i. Initial recognition and measurement

All financial assets are recognised initially at fair value plus, in the case of financial assets not recorded at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. However, trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component are measured at transaction price. The Group has elected the practical expedient in Ind AS 115 about the existence of significant financing component and the disclosures pertaining to contracts with original expected duration of one year or less and contracts where revenue recognised corresponds to the value transferred to customer typically involving sales of products.

In order for a financial asset to be classified and measured at amortised cost or fair value through OCI, it needs to give rise to cash flows that are 'solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI)' on the principal amount outstanding. This assessment is referred to as the SPPI test and is performed at an instrument level. Financial assets with cash flows that are not SPPI are classified and measured at fair value through profit or loss, irrespective of the business model.

The Group's business model for managing financial assets refers to how it manages its financial assets in order to generate cash flows. The business model determines whether cash flows will result from collecting contractual cash flows, selling the financial assets, or both. Financial assets classified and measured at amortised cost are held within a business model with the objective to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows while financial assets classified and measured at fair value through OCI are held within a business model with the objective of both holding to collect contractual cash flows and selling.

Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the marketplace (regular way trades) are recognised on the trade date, i.e., the date that the Group commits to purchase or sell the asset.

ii. Subsequent measurement

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in below categories:

- Debt instruments at amortised cost
- Equity instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI)
- Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss.

Debt instruments at amortised cost other than derivative contracts

A 'debt instrument' is measured at the amortised cost if both the following conditions are met:

- The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows, and
- Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

This assessment is referred to as the Solely Payments of Principal and Interest (SPPI) test and is performed at an instrument level. Financial assets with cash flows that are not SPPI are classified and measured at fair value through profit or loss, irrespective of the business model.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in Other Income in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. This category generally applies to trade and other receivables.

Equity investments

All equity investments in scope of Ind AS 109 are measured at fair value other than equity investments measured at deemed cost on first time adoption of Ind AS. Equity instruments which are held for trading are classified as at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss (FVTPL). For all other equity instruments, the Group decides to classify the same either as at FVTOCI or FVTPL. The Group makes such election on an instrument-by-instrument basis. The classification is made on initial recognition and is irrevocable.

If the Group decides to classify an equity instrument at FVTOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, excluding dividends, are recognized in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to Statement of Profit and Loss, even on sale of investment. However, the Group may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity.

Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

iii. De-recognition

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a Group's similar financial assets) is primarily de-recognised when:

- ▶ The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or
- ▶ the Group has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset

iv. Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Group applies expected credit loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on the following financial assets and credit risk exposure:

- Financial assets that are debt instruments, and are measured at amortised cost e.g., loans, debt securities, deposits, trade receivables and bank balance

The Group follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on Trade receivables.

The application of simplified approach does not require the Group to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive, discounted at the original EIR. When estimating the cash flows, an entity is required to consider:

- All contractual terms of the financial instrument (including prepayment, extension, call and similar options) over the expected life of the financial instrument. However, in rare cases when the expected life of the financial instrument cannot be estimated reliably, then the entity is required to use the remaining contractual term of the financial instrument
- Cash flows from the sale of collateral held or other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms

As a practical expedient, the Group uses a provision matrix to determine impairment loss allowance on portfolio of its trade receivables. The provision matrix is based on its historically observed default rates over the expected life of the trade receivables and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. At every reporting date, the historical observed default rates are updated and changes in the forward-looking estimates are analysed.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognized during the period is recognized as income/ expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss (P&L). This amount is reflected under the head 'other expenses' in the P&L. The balance sheet presentation for various financial instruments is described below:

- Financial assets measured at amortised cost: ECL is presented as an allowance, i.e., as an integral part of the measurement of those assets in the balance sheet. The allowance reduces the net carrying amount. Until the asset meets write-off criteria, the Group does not reduce impairment allowance from the gross carrying amount.

For assessing increase in credit risk and impairment loss, the Group combines financial instruments on the basis of shared credit risk characteristics with the objective of facilitating an analysis that is designed to enable significant increases in credit risk to be identified on a timely basis.

B. Financial liabilities

i. Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, loans and borrowing or payables, as appropriate.

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Group's financial liabilities include trade and other payables, loans and borrowings including bank overdrafts and financial guarantee contracts.

ii. Subsequent measurement

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss include derivatives, financial liabilities held for trading and financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at fair value through profit or loss. Financial liabilities are classified as held for trading if they are incurred for the purpose of repurchasing in the near term. This category also includes derivative financial instruments entered into by the Group that are not designated as hedging instruments in hedge relationships as defined by Ind AS 109. Separated embedded derivatives are also classified as held for trading unless they are designated as effective hedging instruments.

Gains or losses on liabilities held for trading are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition at fair value through profit or loss are designated as such at the initial date of recognition, and only if the criteria in Ind AS 109 are satisfied. For liabilities designated as FVTPL, fair value gains/ losses attributable to changes in own credit risks are recognized in OCI. These gains/losses are not subsequently transferred to Statement of Profit & Loss. However, the Group may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity. All other changes in fair value of such liability are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Trade Payables

Trade payables represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Group prior to the end of financial year which are unpaid. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months after the reporting period. They are recognised initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Loans and borrowings

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the EIR method. Gains and losses are recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss when the liabilities are de-recognised as well as through the EIR amortisation process.

Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included as finance costs in the statement of profit and loss.

Financial guarantee contracts

Financial guarantee contracts issued by the Group are those contracts that require a payment to be made to reimburse the lender for a loss it incurs because the specified borrower fails to make a payment when due in accordance with the terms of a loan agreement. Financial guarantee contracts are recognised initially as a liability at fair value, adjusted for transaction costs that are directly attributable to the issuance of the guarantee. Subsequently, the liability is measured at the higher of the amount of loss allowance determined as per impairment requirements of Ind AS 109 and the amount recognised less cumulative amortisation.

De-recognition

A financial liability is de-recognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the de-recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Reclassification of Financial Assets and Liabilities:

The Group determines classification of financial assets and liabilities on initial recognition. After initial recognition, no reclassification is made for financial assets which are equity instruments and financial liabilities. For financial assets which are debt instruments, a reclassification is made only if there is a change in the business model for managing those assets. Changes to the business model are expected to be infrequent. The Group's senior management determines change in the business model as a result of external or internal changes which are significant to the Group's operations. Such changes are evident to external parties. A change in the business model occurs when the Group either begins or ceases to perform an activity that is significant to its operations. If the Group reclassifies financial assets, it applies the reclassification prospectively from the reclassification date which is the first day of the immediately next reporting period following the change in business model. The Group does not restate any previously recognised gains, losses (including impairment gains or losses) or interest.

The following table shows various reclassification and how they are accounted for:

Original classification	Revised classification	Accounting treatment
Amortised cost	FVTPL	Fair value is measured at reclassification date. Difference between previous amortised cost and fair value is derecognised in profit or loss.
FVTPL	Amortised Cost	Fair value at reclassification date becomes its new gross carrying amount. EIR is calculated based on the new gross carrying amount.
Amortised cost	FVTOCI	Fair value is measured at reclassification date. Difference between previous amortised cost and fair value is recognised in OCI. No change in EIR due to reclassification.
FVTOCI	Amortised cost	Fair value at reclassification date becomes its new amortised cost carrying amount. However, cumulative gain or loss in OCI is adjusted against fair value. Consequently, the asset is measured as if it had always been measured at amortised cost.
FVTPL	FVTOCI	Fair value at reclassification date becomes its new carrying amount. No other adjustment is required.
FVTOCI	FVTPL	Assets continue to be measured at fair value. Cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in OCI is reclassified from equity to profit or loss the reclassification date.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously. The legally enforceable right must not be contingent on future events and must be enforceable in the normal course of business and in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy of the Group or the counterparty.

3.23. Cash dividend to equity holders of the Parent Company

The Holding Company recognises a liability to make cash distributions to equity holders of the Parent Company when the distribution is authorised and the distribution is no longer at the discretion of the Parent Company. As per the corporate laws in India, distribution is authorised when it is approved by the shareholders. A corresponding amount is recognised directly in equity.

3.24. Operating Segments

The Business process and Risk Management Committee of the Parent Company, approved by the Board of Directors and Audit Committee performs the function of allotment of resources and assessment of performance of the Group. Considering the level of activities performed, frequency of their meetings and level of finality of their decisions, the Parent Company has identified that Chief Operating Decision Maker function is being performed by the Business process and Risk Management Committee. The financial information presented to the Business process and Risk Management Committee in the context of results and for the purposes of approving the annual operating plan is on a consolidated basis for various products of the Group. As the Group's business activity falls within a single business segment viz. 'Paints' and the sales substantially being in the domestic market, the Consolidated Financial Statement are reflective of the information required by Ind AS 108 "Operating Segments".

3.25. Events after reporting date:

Where events occurring after the Balance Sheet date provide evidence of conditions that existed at the end of the reporting period, the impact of such events is adjusted within the Financial Statements. Otherwise, events after the Balance Sheet date of material size or nature are only disclosed.

3.26. New and amended standards

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs has notified Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2023 dated 31 March 2023 to amend the following Ind AS which are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 April 2023. The Group applied for the first-time these amendments.

(i) Accounting Estimates - Amendments to Ind AS 8

The amendments clarify the distinction between changes in accounting estimates, changes in accounting policies and the correction of errors. It has also been clarified how entities use measurement techniques and inputs to develop accounting estimates.

The amendments had no material impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements.

(ii) Disclosure of Accounting Policies - Amendments to Ind AS 1

The amendments aim to help entities provide accounting policy disclosures that are more useful by replacing the requirement for entities to disclose their 'significant' accounting policies with a requirement to disclose their 'material' accounting policies and adding guidance on how entities apply the concept of materiality in making decisions about accounting policy disclosures.

The amendments have had an impact on the Group's disclosures of accounting policies, but not on the measurement, recognition or presentation of any items in the Group's consolidated financial statements.

(iii) Deferred Tax related to Assets and Liabilities arising from a Single Transaction - Amendments to Ind AS 12

The amendments narrow the scope of the initial recognition exception under Ind AS 12, so that it no longer applies to transactions that give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences such as leases.

The Group previously recognised for deferred tax on leases on a net basis. As a result of these amendments, the Group has recognised a separate deferred tax asset in relation to its lease liabilities and a deferred tax liability in relation to its right-of-use assets. Since, these balances qualify for offset as per the requirements of paragraph 74 of Ind AS 12, there is no impact in the balance sheet. There was also no impact on the opening retained earnings as at April 01, 2022.

Apart from these, consequential amendments and editorials have been made to other Ind AS like Ind AS 101, Ind AS 102, Ind AS 103, Ind AS 107, Ind AS 109, Ind AS 115 and Ind AS 34 as applicable.

Notes:

Securities Premium - Premium received on equity shares issued including those under Employee stock option plan are recognised in the securities premium account net of utilization for bonus shares issued etc. The reserve can be utilised only for limited purposes such as issuance of bonus shares in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

Retained Earnings - Retained earnings includes surplus in the Statement of Profit and Loss, Ind AS related adjustments as on the date of transition, remeasurement gains/(losses) on defined benefit plans less any transfer to general reserve, dividends or other distributions paid to shareholders.

General Reserve - Under the erstwhile Indian Companies Act 1956, a general reserve was created through an annual transfer of net income at a specified percentage in accordance with applicable regulations, to ensure that if a dividend distribution in a given year is more than 10% of the paid capital of the Company for that year, the total dividend distribution is less than the total distributable profits/(losses) for that year. Consequent to introduction of the Companies Act 2013, the requirement to mandatorily transfer a specified percentage of the net profit to general reserve has been withdrawn. However, the amount previously transferred to the general reserve can be utilised only in accordance with the specific requirements of Companies Act, 2013.

Share based payment reserve - The Holding Company has an employee stock option plan (ESOP) under which options to subscribe for the Holding Company's shares have been granted to specific employees. The Share based payment reserve is used to recognise the value of equity-settled share-based payments to employees as part of their remuneration. The year end balance is net off options exercised by the concerned employees. Refer to Note 48 for further details of these plans.

Also, during the previous year, Berger Paints (Cyprus) Limited (BPCL) (overseas subsidiary of the Holding Company) had revised the repayment timelines for the loan extended by BPCL to Berger Paints Overseas Limited (Step down overseas subsidiary of BPCL) in earlier years, which was originally repayable on its maturity. As per the revised terms, the loan will be renewed upon its maturity and the Holding Company/BPCL does not intend to demand its repayment in a foreseeable future. Accordingly, as per Ind AS 21 'The Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates', the Group has designated the said loan as net investment in the foreign operations and the resulting gain/(loss) on exchange differences arising on the retranslation of the said loan amounting to (₹22.33) crores for the year ended March 31, 2024 (March 31, 2023 - ₹0.64 crore) has been included in foreign currency translation reserve.

Capital redemption reserve - Represents amount equal to the face value of equity shares transferred at the time of buy-back of shares in earlier years.

Note 45. Significant accounting judgements, estimates and assumptions

The preparation of the Group's consolidated financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the accompanying disclosures, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities affected in future periods.

(i) Judgements, Estimates and Assumptions

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are described below. The Group based its assumptions and estimates on parameters available when the consolidated financial statements were prepared. Existing circumstances and assumptions about future developments, however, may change due to market changes or circumstances arising that are beyond the control of the Group. Such changes are reflected in the assumptions when they occur. In the process of applying the Group's accounting policies, management has made the following judgements, estimates and assumptions, which have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements.

(ii) Defined Employer Benefit plans (Refer Note 3.17)

The cost and the present value of the defined benefit gratuity plan and other post-employment leave encashment benefit are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in future. These include the determination of appropriate discount rate, estimating future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date. For further details refer Note 47.

(iii) Fair value measurement of financial instruments (Refer Note 3.22)

When the fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the Balance Sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using valuation techniques including the DCF model. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgement is required in establishing fair values. Judgements include considerations of inputs such as liquidity risk, credit risk and volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect the reported fair value of financial instruments. Refer Note 54 for further disclosures.

(iv) Depreciation on Property, Plant and Equipment (Refer Note 3.9)

Property, plant and equipment represent a significant proportion of the asset base of the Group. The charge in respect of periodic depreciation is derived after determining an estimate of an asset's expected useful life and the expected residual value at the end of its life. The useful lives and residual values of group's assets are determined by management at the time the asset is acquired and reviewed periodically, including at each financial year end. The lives are based on historical experience with similar assets as well as anticipation of future events, which may impact their life, such as changes in technology. Property, plant and equipment represent a significant proportion of the asset base of the Holding Company. The charge in respect of periodic depreciation is derived after determining an estimate of an asset's expected useful life and the expected residual value at the end of its life. The useful lives and residual values of Holding Company's assets are determined by management at the time the asset is acquired and reviewed periodically, including at each financial year end. The lives are based on historical experience with similar assets as well as anticipation of future events, which may impact their life, such as changes in technology. The Holding Company also considers the impact of health, safety and environmental legislation in its assessment of expected useful lives and estimated residual values.

(v) Impairment allowance on trade receivables (Refer Note 3.6)

The Group makes loss allowances for credit impaired debts based on an assessment of the recoverability of trade and other receivables. The identification of credit impaired debts enquires use of judgments and estimates. Where the expectation is different from the original estimate, such difference will impact the carrying value of the trade and other receivables and credit impaired debts expenses in the period in which such estimate has been changed.

(vi) Decommissioning Liability (Refer Note 3.9)

Decommissioning Liability has been recognised for items of property, plant and equipment built or installed on specified leasehold land the terms of which includes decommissioning of such assets on expiry of the lease prior to handing over to the lessor. The decommissioning costs as at the end of the lease period have been estimated based on current costs by the Holding Company's own technical experts and have been escalated to the end of the leasehold period using suitable inflation factors. The said escalated cost as at the end of the lease period is now discounted to the present value of such liability by applying Holding Company's weighted average cost of capital.

(vii) Impairment test for Goodwill (Refer Note 3.15)

(a) Bolix S. A.

Goodwill of ₹230.36 crores had arisen on acquisition of Bolix S. A., a wholly owned step down subsidiary of the Holding Company in an earlier year. The Group assesses the goodwill for any indication of impairment at annual basis. Based on such assessment there is no impairment in goodwill that needs to be recognised. The Group treats Bolix S.A. as one cash generating unit and goodwill relating to that business is tested annually for impairment. This testing is done by computing the value in use by using cash flow projections based on approved budget for 2024 (Previous Year: 2023) and financial forecast for the years 2025 – 2028 (Previous Year: 2024-2027). Based on such assessment there is no impairment in goodwill that needs to be recognised.

Key Assumptions used for value in use calculations are as follows:

Particulars	As at March 31, 2024	As at March 31, 2023
Average annual increase in cash flows during the forecast period (i.e., five years)	42.10%	20.90%
Growth rate used for extrapolation of cash flow projections beyond the five-year period (Previous year: five year)	0.00%	0.00%
Discount rate-Pre tax	8.70%	6.50%

(b) Others

The Group has Goodwill on consolidation arising from acquisition of STP Limited, Berger Hesse Wood Coatings Private Limited, Berger Paints Cyprus Limited and SBL Specialty Coatings Private Limited. Based on impairment assessment carried out by the management, no impairment in goodwill is required to be recognised. Refer Note 6.

(viii) Revenue from combined contracts (Refer Note 3.6)

The Group exercises judgement in estimating cost for recognizing revenue from combined contract with customers. Losses on onerous contracts (if any) are recognized in the consolidated financial statements.

The estimates of future salary increases considered in actuarial valuation, take account of inflation, seniority, promotion and other relevant factors, such as supply and demand in the employment market.

Assumptions regarding future mortality experience are set in accordance with the published statistics by the Actuary.

The discount rate is based on the government securities yield.

The Group assesses these assumptions with its projected long-term plans of growth and prevalent industry standards.

(iii) Plan Asset information:

	As at March 31, 2024	As at March 31, 2023
Assets under scheme of insurance	100%	100%

(iv) A quantitative sensitivity analysis for significant assumptions are as shown below

Assumptions	As at March 31, 2024		As at March 31, 2023
	Discount rate	Discount rate	Discount rate	Discount rate
Sensitivity Level	1% increase	1% decrease	1% increase	1% decrease

	Future salary	Future salary	Future salary	Future salary
Sensitivity Level	1% increase	1% decrease	1% increase	1% decrease
Impact on defined benefit obligation (₹ crores)	4.00	(3.62)	4.19	(3.83)

Impact on defined benefit obligation

Sensitivity for significant actuarial assumptions is computed by varying one actuarial assumption used for the valuation of the defined benefit obligation by one percentage, keeping all other actuarial assumptions constant. The methods and types of assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis did not change compared to the prior period.

(v) Risk Exposure

Impact on defined benefit obligation

Sensitivity for significant actuarial assumptions is computed by varying one actuarial assumption used for the valuation of the defined benefit obligation by one percentage, keeping all other actuarial assumptions constant. In practice, this is unlikely to occur and changes in some of the assumptions may be correlated. When calculating the sensitivity of the defined benefit obligation to significant actuarial assumptions the same method (present value of the defined benefit obligation calculated with the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period) has been applied as when calculating the defined benefit liability recognised in the balance sheet.

Note 47. Gratuity and other post-employment benefit plans (contd.)

The method and types of assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis did not change compared to the prior period.

These plans typically expose the Group to actuarial risks such as: Investment Risk, Interest Risk, Longevity Risk and Salary Risk.

Investment Risk: The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated using a discount rate which is determined by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds.

Interest Risk: A decrease in the government bond interest rate will increase the plan liability.

Longevity Risk: The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated by reference to the best estimate of the mortality of plan participants both during and after their employment. An increase in the life expectancy of the plan participants will increase the plan's liability.

Salary Risk: The present value of the defined plan liability is calculated by reference to the future salaries of plan participants. As such, an increase in the salary of the plan participants will increase the plan's liability.

(vi) Defined Benefit Liability and Employer Contributions

Since the employees gratuity fund is a defined benefit plan maintained by Life Insurance Corporation of India the return is generated from a pool of assets invested by them and any deficit in the liability and return on plan assets is funded by the Company on a yearly basis.

(vii) The Group expects to contribute an amount to gratuity as specified in report by Fund custodian during the subsequent accounting year.

(viii) Maturity profile of the defined benefit obligation

Particulars	As at March 31, 2024	As at March 31, 2023

(b) Provident Fund

Provident Fund for certain eligible employees is administered by the Holding Company through "Berger Paints Provident Fund (Covered)" as per the provisions of the Employees' Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952. The Rules for such a trust provide that in a provident fund set up by the employer, any shortfall in the rate of interest on member contributions as compared to the relevant rate of interest declared by the Government of India for this purpose will have to be met by the employer. Such provident fund would in effect be a defined benefit plan in accordance with the requirement of Ind AS 19 - Employee Benefits.

Note 49.

a. Group as a lessee

The Group has lease contracts for various depots, head office and leasehold lands used in its operations. Leasehold land and building generally have lease terms between 2 and 99 years. The Group has also taken some plant and machinery on lease having a lease term between 5 to 15 years.

The Group also has certain leases with lease terms of 12 months or less. The Group applies the 'short-term lease' recognition exemptions for these leases.

Note 54. Fair Value Hierarchy

The table shown below analyses financial instruments carried at fair value. The different levels have been defined below:-

Level 1: Quoted Prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e., as prices) or indirectly (i.e., derived from prices)

Level 3: Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs)

(b) Financial instruments at amortized cost

The carrying amount of financial assets and financial liabilities measured at amortised cost in the consolidated financial statements are a reasonable approximation of their fair values since the Group does not anticipate that the carrying amounts would be significantly different from the values that would eventually be received or settled.

(c) During the year there has been no transfer from one level to another.

(d) In determining fair value measurement, the impact of potential climate-related matters, including legislation, which may affect the fair value measurement of assets and liabilities in the consolidated financial statements, as applicable, has been considered. These risks in respect of climate-related matters are included as key assumptions where they materially impact the measure of recoverable amount. These assumptions have been included in the cash-flow forecasts in assessing value-in-use amounts. At present, the impact of climate-related matters is not material to the Group's financial statements.

Note 55. Financial risk management objectives and policies

The Group's principal financial liabilities, other than derivatives, comprise borrowings and trade payables. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Group's working capital requirements. The Group has various financial assets such as trade receivables, loans, investments, short-term deposits and cash & cash equivalents, which arise directly from its operations. The Group may enter into derivative transactions by way of forward exchange contracts to hedge its payables.

Risk Management Framework

The Group is exposed to market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Holding Company's Board of Directors oversees the management of these risks. The Holding Company's Board of Directors is supported by the Business Process and Risk Management Committee (BPRMC) that advises on financial risks and the appropriate financial risk governance framework for the Group. The BPRMC provides assurance to Holding Company's Board of Directors that the Group's financial risk activities are governed by appropriate policies and procedures and that financial risks are identified, measured and managed in accordance with the Group's policies and risk objectives. All derivative activities for risk management purposes are carried out by personnel that have the appropriate skills, experience and supervision. It is the Group's policy that no trading in derivatives for speculative purposes may be undertaken. The Holding Company's Board of Directors has taken all necessary actions to mitigate the risks identified on the basis of the information and situation present. The Holding Company's Board of Directors reviews & agrees policies for managing each of these risks, which are summarised below:

i) Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market factors. Market risk comprises three types of risk: interest rate risk, currency risk and other price risk, such as equity price risk, liquidity risk and commodity risk. Financial instruments affected by market risk include loans and borrowings, deposits, investments and financial derivative.

The sensitivity analysis have been prepared on the basis that the amount of net debt, the ratio of fixed to floating interest rates of the debt and derivatives and the proportion of financial instruments in foreign currencies are all constant at March 31, 2024.

The following assumptions have been made in calculating the sensitivity analysis:

- ▶ The sensitivity of the relevant profit or loss item is the effect of the assumed changes in respective market risks. This is based on the financial assets and financial liabilities held at March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023.
- ▶ The sensitivity of equity is calculated as at March 31, 2024 for the effects of the assumed changes of the underlying risk.

ii) Interest rate risk

The Group has incurred short term debt to finance its working capital and long term debt which expose it to interest rate risk. Borrowings issued at variable rates expose the Group to interest rate risk. Borrowing issued at fixed rates expose the Group to fair value interest rate risk. The Group's interest rate risk management policy includes achieving the lowest possible cost of debt financing, while managing volatility of interest rates, applying a prudent mix of fixed and floating debt through evaluation of various bank loans and money market instruments.

Some of the Group's borrowings are index linked, that is their cost is linked to changes in the Warsaw inter-bank offered rate (WIBOR), London Inter bank offered rate (LIBOR) and Sterling Overnight Index Average (SONIA).

Although the Group has variable rate interest bearing liabilities at March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023, there would not be any material impact on pretax profit and pre tax equity of the Group on account of any anticipated fluctuations in interest.

iii) Foreign currency risk

The Group has a policy wherein it can enter into foreign exchange forward contracts to manage risk of foreign exchange fluctuations. These contracts are not designated in hedge relationships and are measured at fair value through profit or loss. Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of an exposure will fluctuate because of changes in exchange rates of any currency. The Group's exposure to the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to the Group's operating activities by way of direct imports or financing of imports through foreign currency instruments.

There are no outstanding derivative contract as at March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023.

iv) Foreign currency sensitivity

The following tables demonstrate the sensitivity to a reasonably possible change in USD/Euro/GBP/JPY exchange rates, with all other variables held constant. The impact on the Group's profit before tax is due to changes in the fair value of monetary assets and liabilities. The Group's exposure to foreign currency changes for all other currencies is not material.

Year ended	Currency	Change in USD/ EURO/GBP/JPY rate(%)	Effect on profit before tax (₹ in Crores)	Effect on pre-tax equity (₹ in Crores)
March 31, 2024	USD	5%	(7.71)	(7.71)
	USD	-5%	7.71	7.71

	EURO	5%	(2.93)	(2.93)
	EURO	-5%	2.93	2.93
	GBP	5%	1.98	1.98
	GBP	-5%	(1.98)	(1.98)

v) Commodity price risk

The Group doesn't enter into any long term contract with its suppliers for hedging its commodity price risk.

vi) Equity price risk

The Group does not have any investments in listed securities or in Equity Mutual Funds and thereby is not exposed to any Equity price risk.

vii) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. The Group is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily trade receivables) and from its financing activities, including deposits with banks and financial institutions, and other financial instruments, as applicable.

The concentration of Credit Risk is limited as the customer base is large. There is no customer representing more than 10% of the total balance of trade receivable. As a practical expedient, the Group computes credit loss allowances based on a provision matrix. The provision matrix is prepared based on historically observed default rates over expected life of trade receivable and is adjusted for forward looking estimates. The Group has also assessed the performance and recoverability of trade receivables. The Group believes that the current value of trade receivables reflects the fair value/ recoverable values.

	₹ in Crores
	As at March 31, 2024	As at March 31, 2023
Movement in expected credit loss allowance on trade receivable
Balance at the beginning of the year	44.58	30.17
Loss allowance measured at lifetime expected credit losses (net of bad debts)	12.83	14.41
Balance at the end of the year	57.41	44.58

Trade receivables and contract assets if any

Customer credit risk is managed by the management subject to the Group's established policy, procedures and control relating to customer credit risk management. Individual credit limits are defined in accordance with credit quality of customers, as assessed by the management. Outstanding customer receivables are regularly monitored and corrective actions are taken, as required.

Financial instruments and cash deposits

Credit risk from balances with banks and financial institutions is managed by the Group's treasury department in accordance with the Group's policy. Investments of surplus funds are made only with approved counterparties and within credit limits assigned to each counterparty. Counterparty credit limits are reviewed by the Group's Board of Directors on an annual basis, and may be updated throughout the year subject to approval of the Group's Business Process and Risk Management Committee. The limits are set to minimise the concentration of risks and therefore mitigate financial loss through counterparty's potential failure to make payments.

viii) Liquidity risk

The Group monitors its risk of a shortage of funds using a liquidity planning analysis.

The Group's objective is to maintain a balance between continuity of funding and flexibility through the use of bank overdrafts, cash credit facilities and buyers' credit facilities. The Group assessed the concentration of risk with respect to refinancing its debt and concluded it to be low. The Group has access to a sufficient variety of sources of funding and debt.

The table below summarises the maturity profile of the Group's financial liabilities based on contractual undiscounted payments.

Note 56. Capital management

For the purpose of the Group's capital management, capital includes issued equity capital, share premium and all other equity reserves attributable to the equity holders of the Holding Company. The primary objective of the Holding Company's capital management is to maximise the shareholder value.

The Group avails short term borrowings to bridge its working capital gap and finances its capital expenditure through long term borrowings and internal generation of funds. The group has a generally low debt equity ratio.

	₹ in Crores

In order to achieve this overall objective, the Group's capital management, amongst other things, aims to ensure that it meets financial covenants attached to the interest-bearing loans and borrowings that define capital structure requirements, if any. Breaches in meeting the financial covenants would permit the bank to immediately call loans and borrowings. There have been no breaches in the financial covenants of any interest-bearing loans and borrowing in the current period.

No changes were made in the objectives, policies or processes for managing capital during the years ended March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023.
