Teen test for Serena

American eyes record-equaling 24th Slam as she faces 19-year-old Andreescu, who's also chasing history

DID YOU KNOW?

- Serena Williams has beaten players from 30 different countries at the US Open, including 21 against Americans, 11 against Russians and 7 against Italians
- Bianca Andreescu, 19, was not even born when Serena Williams lifted her first US Open title in 1999
- The Canadian teen has a chance to become the first 2000s-born player to win a Grand Slam trophy

New York: A clash of generations will decide the US Open on Saturday with Serena Williams taking a fourth crack at Grand Slam history against teenager Bianca Andreescu, who was not even born when the American lifted her first Flushing Meadows trophy. One short of equalling Margaret Court's record of 24 singles Grand Slam titles, Williams will be hoping that the fourth time is the charm after three agonizing near misses since returning to action following the birth of her first child.

Williams stormed past Elina Svitolina 6-6(1) in the semifinal to book her spot in the title clash.

It is a dream come true for Serena in the finals of the US Open," said Andreescu following her 7-6(3) 7-5 semifinal win over Swiss-Belinda Bencic. "It's crazy."

Already the oldest Grand Slam finalist in the Open era, Williams will celebrate her 38th birthday in three weeks while the 19-year-old Canadian opponent will not be able to celebrate a victory with a drink at New York City bar for two more years.

Her breakout season has seen her already win two of the WTA Tour's elite events in Indian Wells and Toronto while her run to the US Open final has only confirmed her status as the next big thing.

Williams quitting with back spasms while down 3-1 in the opening set. The atmosphere inside Arthur Ashe Stadium is sure to be charged with memories of last year's controversial final, that saw Naomi Osaka's victory overshadowed by confrontation between chair umpire Carlos Ramos and an enraged Williams.

| Age gap (years) | Slam | Results |

'We have lot of positive things to talk about'

DNA Correspondent correspondent@dnaindia.net

Mumbai: India suffered a heart-breaking defeat to Oman in their first match of the 2022 FIFA World Cup, and 2023 AFC Asian Cup joint qualifiers but head coach Igor Stimac believed team has progressed a lot. "The players are quick learners and that's what makes me believe that we can do great things," Stimac said.

"We need to understand that we need to progress step-by-step. This is the new face of India and we have a lot of positive things to talk about, so let's keep talking about them."

"Everyone could see a new India team on the pitch - a team that was different from before, and one that has a bright future. We have many more options in terms of players to choose from and we need to keep working on ourselves and move forward," he added.

Skinner Sunil Chhetri gave his team the lead in the 24th minute and after a fine first-half showing, the Blue Tigers were minutes away from putting points on the board but Al-Manerah Al-Ahmed scored a late brace to hand Oman the win.

Stimac stressed on how patience is the key, and that with time, the team will learn to "kill" games in the early stages of the match - having created numerous scoring chances in the first 45 minutes in Guwahati. "We could have scored many goals in the first half and killed the game there. Players are fitter than the Oman players, but they are more experienced. A time will come when we are not going to lose games like this, and put the game to bed early. But for that, we need to continue working hard, and be patient," he said.

"The boys made me proud and I'm sure all Indian fans as well. The way they played and fought for the country, and ran and chased down the opposition players was something we need to be proud of."

The Blue Tigers will next face the 2022 World Cup hosts Qatar in their next qualifying match on Tuesday in Doha.
