Places of Worship Act: SC stops surveys till decision

ANANTHAKRISHNAN G New Delhi, December 12

UNDERLINING THAT "NO effective orders" can be passed, the Supreme Court on Thursday barred civil courts across the country from registering fresh suits challenging the ownership and title of any place of worship and from ordering surveys of disputed religious places until further orders.

Hearing a batch of six petitions challenging the constitutional validity of the Places of Worship Act, 1991, a threejudge bench, headed by Chief Justice of India Sanjiv Khanna, said, "As the matter is sub-judice before this court, we deem it appropriate to direct that no fresh suits may be filed nor registered or proceedings be ordered till further orders of this court. Further, we also direct that in pending suits, the courts would not pass any effective interim orders or final orders including orders of survey till the next date of hearing."

Noting that the Centre was yet to make its stand clear on the issue, the bench, also comprising Justices PV Sanjay Kumar and KVViswanathan, asked the government to file its reply in fourweeks."We want the Union

The 1991 law, brought in by then PV Narasimha Rao-led Congress government during the height of the Ram temple movement, prohibits conversion of any place of worship of India's position to be brought on record." it said.

The bench's directions effectively stall proceedings in civil suits filed across India – over the Gyanvapi mosque in Varanasi to the Shahi Idgah in Mathura to the Jama Masjid in Sambhal – and were accepted by civil courts bypassing the Places of Worship Act.

The 1991 law, brought in by the then PV Narasimha Rao-led Congress government during the height of the Ram temple movement, prohibits conversion of any place of worship and provides for the maintenance of the religious character of any place of worship as it existed on August 15, 1947. The dispute relating to Ram Janmabhoomi-Babri Masjid in Ayodhya was kept out of its purview.

There are several cross-petitions which seek strict implementation of the 1991 law to maintain communal harmony and to preserve the present status of mosques, sought to be reclaimed by Hindu groups on the ground that these were temples before invaders razed them.

On Thursday, at the outset of the hearing, CJI Khanna made it clear that the court intended to stayregistration of further suits. "On the fresh suits, we have no difficulty, we are passing that order," he said.

Senior Advocate Raju Ramachandran, appearing for a petitioner who sought implementation of the Act, then sought a stay on further proceedings in pending suits too. "Where suits are already filed, those proceedings may be already stayed for the present. That's the one which creates the problem because surveys, surveys to find out...These are what

has to be stopped", he submitted.

The counsel appearing for the petitioners opposed the prayer, saying the court should not stay proceedings in pending suits without hearing them in detail. "Your Lordships may not pass such orders without hearingus,"SeniorAdvocate Maninder Singh, representing a petitioner, told the bench. "Your Lordships have just taken this matter and we are not prepared... My Lords won't pass such an order in a matter pending for years," he said.

But the CJI said, "At this stage, there are two things. When we say the matter requires consideration – obviously the matter requires consideration – we are not saying matter doesn't require consideration. Once we are saying those issues with regard to sections 3 and 4 (of the Act) require consideration, will it not be proper that there is a stay off hand by the other courts?"

UNDERLINING THAT "NO effective orders" can be passed, the Supreme Court on Thursday barred civil courts across the country from registering fresh suits challenging the ownership and title of any place of worship and from ordering surveys of disputed religious places until further orders. Hearing a batch of six petitions challenging the constitutional validity of the Places of Worship Act, 1991, a threejudge bench, headed by Chief Justice of India Sanjiv Khanna, said, "As the matter is sub-judice before this court, we deem it appropriate to direct that no fresh suits may be filed nor registered or proceedings be ordered till further orders of this court. Further, we also direct that in pending suits, the courts would not pass any effective interim orders or final orders including orders of survey till the next date of hearing." Noting that the Centre was yet to make its stand clear on the issue, the bench, also comprising Justices P V Sanjay Kumar and KVViswanathan, asked the government to file its reply in fourweeks."We want the Union of India's position to be brought on record," it said.

Congress government during the height of the Ram temple movement, prohibits conversion of any place of worship

The bench's directions effectively stall proceedings in civil suits filed across India – over the Gyanvapi mosque in Varanasi to the Shahi Idgah in Mathura to the Jama Masjid in Sambhal – and were accepted by civil courts bypassing the Places of Worship Act.

The 1991 law, brought in by the then PV Narasimha Rao-led Congress government during the height of the Ram temple movement, prohibits conversion of any place of worship and provides for the maintenance of the religious character of any place of worship as it existed on August 15, 1947. The dispute relating to Ram Janmabhoomi-Babri Masjid in Ayodhya was kept out of its purview.

There are several cross-petitions which seek strict implementation of the 1991 law to maintain communal harmony and to preserve the present status of mosques, sought to be reclaimed by Hindu groups on the ground that these were temples before invaders razed them. On Thursday, at the outset of the hearing, CJI Khanna made it clear that the court intended to stay registration of further suits. "On the fresh suits, we have no difficulty, we are passing that order," he said. Senior Advocate Raju

petitioner who sought implementation of the Act, then sought a stay on further proceedings in pending suits too.

"Where suits are already filed, those proceedings may be already stayed for the present. That's the one which creates the problem because surveys, sur-

The counsel appearing for the petitioners opposed the prayer, saying the court should not stay proceedings in pending suits without hearing them in detail. "Your Lordships may not pass such orders without hearingus,"SeniorAdvocate Maninder Singh, representing a petitioner, told the bench. "Your Lordships have just taken this matter and we are not prepared... My Lords won't pass such an order in a matter pending for years," he said.

But the CJI said, "At this stage, there are two things. When we say the matter requires consideration - obviously the matter requires consideration – we are not saying matter doesn't require consideration. Once we are saying those issues with regard to sections 3 and 4 (of the Act) require consideration, will it not be proper that there is a stay off hand by the other courts?"

Places of Worship Act: SC stops surveys till decision

The 1991 law, brought in by then PV Narasimha Rao-led

Congress government during the height of the Ram temple

UNDERLINING THAT "NO effective orders" can be passed, the Supreme Court on Thursday barred civil courts across the country from registering fresh suits challenging the ownership and title of any place of worship and from ordering surveys of disputed religious places until further orders.

Hearing a batch of six petitions challenging the constitutional validity of the Places of Worship Act, 1991, a threejudge bench, headed by Chief Justice of India Sanjiv Khanna, said, "As the matter is sub-judice before this court, we deem it appropriate to direct that no fresh suits may be filed nor registered or proceedings be ordered till further orders of this court. Further, we also direct that in pending suits, the courts would not pass any effective interim orders or final orders including orders of survey till the next date of hearing."

Noting that the Centre was yet to make its stand clear on the issue, the bench, also comprising Justices P V Sanjay Kumar and KVViswanathan, asked the government to file its reply in fourweeks."We want the Union

On Thursday, at the outset of the hearing, CJI Khanna made it Congress government during clear that the court intended to stav registration of further suits. "On the fresh suits, we have no difficulty, we are passing that order," he said.

petitioner who sought implementation of the Act, then sought a stay on further proceedings in pending suits too.

"Where suits are already filed, those proceedings may be already stayed for the present. That's the one which creates the problem because surveys, surveys to find out...These are what has to be stopped", he submitted.

The counsel appearing for the petitioners opposed the prayer, saying the court should not stay proceedings in pending suits without hearing them in detail."Your Lordships may not pass such orders without hearingus,"Senior Advocate Maninder Singh, representing a petitioner, told the bench. "Your Lordships have just taken this matter and we are not prepared... My Lords won't pass such an order in a matter pending for years," he said.

But the CJI said, "At this stage, there are two things. When we say the matter requires consideration – obviously the matter requires consideration – we are not saying matter doesn't require consideration. Once we are saying those issues with regard to sections 3 and 4 (of the Act) require consideration, will it not be proper that there is a stay off hand by the other courts?"
