BJP, RSS discuss B'desh, party polls

Gaurav Vivek Bhatnagar
NEW DELHI

party president as tenure of incumbent J.P. Nadda officially ended on June 30. The mechanism on the new president's election was worked out by the BJP in consultation with its ideological mentor, the RSS, at a meeting held at Defence Minister Rajnath Singh's residence this past Sunday.

The BJP and RSS had a falling out ahead of the Lok Sabha elections after Nadda in an interview said the party was no longer dependent on its "ideological front" as it was now "Saksham" (capable) as against earlier when it used to be "aksham" (incapable). This had angered the RSS cadre and they are learnt to have stayed away from the Lok Sabha poll campaign leading.

In another move to appease the hurt feelings of RSS, the BJP has now taken to actively consulting it on all matters.

At a five-hour-long meeting at Rajnath Singh's residence on Sunday, the party leaders held detailed discussions on a variety of issues ranging from the election of the new president to the Bangladesh situation, especially in light of the attack on Hindu minorities there, and the upcoming Assembly elections in key states.
