INDIA ENERGY WEEK STARTS TODAY

Alternative sourcing deals with global firms on cards

SUBHAYAN CHAKRABORTY
New Delhi, 10 February

Amid the latest round of sanctions on Russian crude and uncertain global backdrop, India will be looking for options to further diversify its sources of oil supply during the India Energy Week (IEW 2025) beginning Tuesday, where a host of representatives of foreign nations and energy companies will take part, officials from petroleum ministry suggested.

The four-day event will be the second-largest energy event globally in terms of ministerial and CEO participation, exhibition space, and the number of sessions, Union Petroleum and Natural Gas Minister Hardeep Singh Puri said. Prime Minister Narendra Modi will inaugurate the event virtually.

Crude oil importers in India are currently scrambling to shore up supplies from alternative sources than Russia. Stringent sanctions on Russia put by the outgoing Joe Biden administration in its last days are broadly expected to cut off India's access to discounted Russian crude, forcing it to buy at market prices. However, the

GAIL looks to buy US LNG as Trump ends ban on export permits

GAIL (India) will seek to buy a stake in a US liquefied natural gas plant or secure long-term US LNG supply after the Trump administration lifted a ban on export permits for new projects, Chairman Sandeep Kumar Gupta said. "Their (Washington's) decision to lift the ban will improve LNG supply and we will revise our plans to either buy a stake or buy US LNG under long-term deals," Gupta told Reuters ahead of the India Energy Week. He said the company would make a decision after holding a tendering process for long-term LNG purchases. India is the world's fourth largest LNG importer and aims to raise the share of gas in the country's energy mix to 15 per cent by 2030 from 6.2 per cent currently.

situation may change, officials hinted. A large contingent of foreign energy ministers is expected at the IEW.

Saad Sherida al-Kaabi, the Qatari Minister of State for Energy and Edward Miliband, Secretary of State for Energy and Climate Change of the United Kingdom, among others are expected to be present at the event, and hold bilateral talks with Puri.

Energy ministers from Tanzania, Djibouti, Liberia, and the Democratic Republic of the Congo will also be in attendance, alongside chief executives from global energy companies. Held in Bangalore and Goa in the past two years, the third edition of VIEW is being held in Delhi. The government hopes the event will further cement India as a key policy driver on energy at the global stage, as opposed to just a large buyer of energy. Battery storage, 2nd and 3rd generation biofuels, green ammonia and green hydrogen will be in focus. The inclusion of 20 thematic categories this year, compared to 18 in 2024, highlights a broader focus on cutting-edge issues such as Artificial Intelligence, digitalisation, and maritime decarbonisation.

The conference will also host 10 country pavilions from leading nations such as the US, UK, Russia, Japan, Germany, and the Netherlands, alongside eight thematic zones focusing on hydrogen, renewables, biofuels, and petrochemicals.

The event space has increased to 28,000 square metres this year, allowing the exhibition of vehicles, technologies and equipment related to the energy space. IEW 2025 will cover over 1 lakh square meters. There has been a 65 per cent increase in exhibition space over 2024, while more than 70,000 delegates are expected to attend the event, up 55 per cent. It will host 105 conference sessions, 500 speakers and more than 700 exhibitors.

Key exhibits at the event include ONGC's deep-sea simulation game, HPCL's indigenous Solid Oxide Fuel Cell System, BPCL's LPG cylinder ATM, and the first-ever e-tractor built for sustainable agriculture by the Council of Scientific & Industrial Research.

Chidambaram finds faults with Budget in Rajya Sabha

ARCHIS MOHAN
New Delhi, 10 February

Congress leader P Chidambaram on Monday said he was sceptical that the entire ₹1 trillion of revenue foregone, as the Union Budget 2025-26 has estimated, because of the income tax exemptions, would go into the consumption of domestic goods and services, and boost the economy.

Initiating the discussion on the Union Budget in the Rajya Sabha, Chidambaram said it was difficult to believe that ₹1 trillion, which is 0.3 per cent of the ₹324 trillion GDP (gross domestic product), will boost the economy. He asked whether part of this would not go to repay old household debts, educating children abroad or buying imported goods. He also doubted the Budget Estimate that the net tax revenue to the Centre will grow by 11.1 per cent in 2025-26, as it was in 2024-25, after foregoing of this ₹1 trillion. "This is pure magic, not mathematics. I will reserve (my comment on) how this magic unfolds and I will comment on it later," he said. Chidambaram requested Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, who was present in the House, that other engines of growth, such as exports and capital investment "must be revved up" rather than relying on consumption as the sole engine of growth.

Chidambaram termed it a "politically driven Budget" with the income tax cut being the "main thrust" with an eye to the Delhi Assembly polls. He said the FM has "forgotten" the poor and bottom half of the population when food, education, and health inflation in the 12-year period from 2012 to 2024 have

Congress MP P Chidambaram termed it a "politically-driven Budget" with an eye on Delhi Assembly elections

"crippled" Indian households. Household savings have fallen from 25.2 per cent to 18.4 per cent, and according to the household consumption survey in 2023, the average monthly per capita expenditure of a rural family is only ₹4,226, and in urban areas it is only ₹6,996, he said. He said in 1991, Manmohan Singh, as the country's finance minister, had an economic philosophy and sound grasp of policy, along with wisdom and far-sightedness. He urged the FM to "recapture" the wisdom and far-sightedness that the former PM had shown then, and also asked the government why it had not yet conferred the Bharat Ratna on Manmohan Singh.

In the Lok Sabha, DMK's Dayanidhi Maran said the I-T relief was akin to an "economic sugar rush", which was untenable in the long run. Congress MP Manish Tewari claimed that in the past one decade, government debts have soared, which has created problems for future generations, terming it as "inter-generational debt". BJP's Anurag Thakur hailed the Budget as a "force multiplier".
