Don's U-turn: Slams Walz over Floyd case

AP
MINNEAPOLIS
In sharp contrast to Republican presidential nominee Donald Trump and running mate JD Vance hammering Minnesota Governor Tim Walz over his response to the violence that erupted after George Floyd's murder, an audio recording has revealed the then President Trump telling the governor at the time that he fully agreed with how Walz handled it.

Democratic veep candidate Tim Walz speaking at a campaign rally in Michigan - AFP

Walz has been tapped as Vice-President Kamala Harris' running mate against Trump and Vance. Other administration officials on the call included Defence Secretary Mark Esper; Army Gen. Mark Milley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; and Attorney General

William Barr. ABC News reported on the call earlier Wednesday, a day after Harris introduced Walz as her vice-presidential pick. CNN posted a transcript of the call back in 2020. Protests erupted in Minneapolis and around the world after Floyd was murdered by Derek Chauvin, a white former officer who knelt on the Black man's neck for nearly 9 1/2 minutes, on May 25, 2020. A bystander video captured Floyd's fading cries of "I can't breathe." His death forced a reckoning with police brutality and racism. Some of the protests turned violent. Walz mobilized the Minnesota National Guard three days later to help restore order to Minneapolis after rioting that included the burning of a police station and numerous businesses. Trump offered federal help to Walz later that day, but the governor did not take him up on it. During a May 2024 fundraiser in St. Paul, Trump repeated a claim he had been making lately that he was responsible for deploying the National Guard. Trump made similar claims at a rally in St. Cloud last month.

Post-riots, UK to tweak Online Safety Act

Agencies
LONDON
The British government is considering tweaks to the Online Safety Act following a week of racist rioting driven by false information online. At the same time, the government has urged police officers to remain on high alert ahead of possible further riots over the weekend. The Act, passed in October but not set to be enforced until early next year, allows the government to fine social media companies up to 10% of global turnover if they are found in breach. At present, companies would only face a fine if they fail to police illegal content, such as incitements to violence or hate speech. Proposed changes could see Ofcom sanction companies if they allow "legal but harmful" content such as misinformation to flourish.

'Megaquake' warning; Japan PM skips overseas trip

TOKYO
Japan's Prime Minister, Fumio Kishida, has cancelled a visit to central Asia this weekend after experts issued the first-ever warning of a "megaquake" occurring off the country's Pacific coast had increased following Thursday's magnitude 7.1 earthquake in the south-west. Kishida, who is battling low approval ratings and faces challenges to his leadership in a ruling party presidential election next month, announced his decision at a press conference on Friday. He had been due to hold a summit with the leaders of Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan in the Kazakh capital, Astana, on Friday evening and to meet the Mongolian president in Ulaanbaatar on Monday, according to the Kyodo news agency. The Japan Meteorological Agency on Thursday issued its first-ever warning of the risk of a huge earthquake along the Pacific coast after a quake on the southernmost main island of Kyushu triggered a tsunami warning. No deaths or major damage have been reported. The agency's warning that the risk of a huge earthquake occurring along the Nankai Trough was higher than usual does not mean that a quake will definitely occur in the coming days. Public broadcaster NHK said Kishida's overseas trip had been cancelled so that he could prepare for any eventuality. The meteorological agency's megaquake advisory warned that "if a major earthquake were to occur in the future,

The likelihood of a new major earthquake is higher than normal, but this is not an indication that a major earthquake will definitely occur during a specific period of time. -Meteorological Agency strong shaking and large tsunamis would be generated". It added: "The likelihood of a new major earthquake is higher than normal, but this is not an indication that a major earthquake will definitely occur during a specific period of time."

Israeli attack targets Hamas head Sinwar

Israel strikes Khan Younis - AFP

AP
DEIR AL-BALAH (GAZA STRIP)
Israeli troops launched a new assault Friday into the southern Gaza city of Khan Younis, targeting Hamas fighters who the military claims still operate there despite repeated offensives, as American, Qatari and Egyptian mediators renewed their push for Israel and Hamas to reach a cease-fire deal. Earlier the Israelis issued evacuation orders, triggering yet another exodus of Palestinians from the heavily destroyed eastern districts of Khan Younis, where many had just returned less than two weeks ago. Officials from Israel and the United States have said they believe Yahya Sinwar, Hamas' newly named top leader and one of the architects of the October 7, 2023 attack on Israel, could be hiding in tunnels under Khan Younis. The military said Friday its warplanes struck 30 Hamas targets in the city, including fighters and weapons storage sites. It said troops were searching for Hamas tunnels and other infrastructure while engaging in combat "above and below ground".

Russia's Lipetsk hit by drone strikes

Agencies
MOSCOW/KIV
Russia's Lipetsk Municipal District declared a state of emergency on Friday following the detonation of explosive objects in the aftermath of a "massive" Ukrainian drone attack, according to its governor. So far Ukraine's cross-border assault into Russia shows no sign of easing. At least nine people were wounded in the attack, which damaged energy infrastructure and prompted the temporary evacuation of residents in several areas, Lipetsk governor Igor Artaamonov wrote Friday on Telegram. The reported strike comes after Russia accused Ukrainian troops of crossing the border into its Kursk region on Wednesday, which marked the first incursion of its kind from Ukraine and put pressure on Moscow in an area largely untroubled by more than two years of war. On Thursday, Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy acknowledged the offensive for the first time, saying Moscow must "feel" the consequences of its brutal invasion of Ukraine. "Russia brought the war to our land, and it should feel what it has done," Zelenskyy said in his evening address, without directly referring to the assault.

Police stations reopen with military support in B'desh

PTI DHAKA

Police stations in Bangladesh, which were deserted during the peak of the anti-government protests, are slowly resuming their normal activities with the assistance of the military, according to media reports on Friday. Following the fall of the Sheikh Hasina government on Monday due to student-led protests, all police station activities came to a halt. Several police stations were attacked, looted and set on fire, leading to many officers evacuating their stations and going into hiding due to the threat of more attacks. More than 400 people, including police personnel, were killed in the violence centered around the students' movement. After about four days, activities resumed at some 29 police stations with the assistance of the military, the Dhaka Tribune newspaper reported, quoting military and police officials.

Leave Lebanon, kin of peacekeepers told

IANIS
BEIRUT
United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon (UNIFIL) spokesman Andrea Tenenti has said that families of the peacekeepers working with the agency must leave the country. "Many families have left, even though some remained in Beirut where the situation was calmer," the spokesperson said, Elnashra news website reported. "The new measure concerns them as well, and it is temporary," he said. Tenenti's remarks coincided with the recent conflict escalation between Hezbollah and the Israeli army on the border in southern Lebanon, Xinhua news agency reported quoting Elnashra.

Serial killer who killed 11 women held in Bareilly

Biswajeet Banerjee LUCKNOW

Uttar Pradesh Police have arrested a serial killer who allegedly murdered 11 women in 13 months.

According to Bareilly SSP Anurag Arya, probes revealed Kuldeep Gangwar, 40, a Nawabganj resident, would attempt to rape women. When resisted, he would kill them.

"He developed a hatred towards women when his wife left him for his behaviour and remarried. He had married Laungshree from Bhanpur village 10 years back. After she alienated Kuldeep, he lived with his stepmother who used to harass him, and he developed hatred towards women," the SSP said.

Though he has admitted to killing six women, five more similar murders were reported in Shahi and Sheeshgarh. "We are confident he committed all the 11 killings," he said.

LANDSLIDE | Prime Minister Modi to visit Wayanad today Kerala seeks ₹2k cr for rehabilitation of victims

PTI WAYANAD

A day ahead of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's scheduled visit to landslide-hit Wayanad, the cabinet sub-committee of the Kerala government met with a central team visiting the area and sought Rs 2,000 crore in assistance for rehabilitation and relief work in the disaster-stricken region.

The central team, led by Rajeiv Kumar, who is a joint secretary with the Ministry of Home Affairs, visited the disaster-hit region and interacted with the survivors.

The inter-ministerial central team said the impact of the Wayanad landslide is huge and a detailed study is required. The team met with the Kerala cabinet sub-committee and discussed the various rescue operations, relief camps, autopsies, handing over of bodies to relatives of the deceased, funerals, the collection of DNA samples and the details of the missing people.

Member Secretary of the Kerala State Disaster Management Authority

Indian Navy men conduct search and rescue operation in Wayanad on Thursday (KSDMA) Dr Sekhar L Kuriakose detailed the possible reasons behind the landslide.

The state government, in a release, said it has informed the central team that the Chooramal, Mundakkai and Panchiri Mattam regions of Wayanad have suffered major losses both in residential areas and in the agricultural sector.

Rs 2,000 crore is required for rehabilitation purposes alone, the state government said. Huge losses have been incurred with regard to the agriculture sector, livestock, houses, buildings, commercial establishments, roads and electricity, as well as private properties, it added, and showed the central team the drone videos of the disaster-hit region.

Meanwhile, the state government said those who are in relief camps will be rehabilitated to various houses, including government quarters identified for the purpose.

Minister P A Muhammad Riyas said there are 125 houses, including government residential quarters, and most of them are ready for people to move into. Riyas said the cabinet sub-committee has directed the district collector to make arrangements for the furniture and other home appliances required to rehabilitate the survivors.

He said the cleaning work in the disaster-hit regions will take at least 90 days, and the relief camps will continue to house people as long as needed.

The state government also said that the survivors will be provided cash assistance.

The cabinet sub-committee said the state government has taken a stern stand against financial institutions demanding loan repayments from disaster-struck families, and sought the intervention of the central team on this matter.

According to the latest reports, a total of 226 people lost their lives so far in the devastating landslide that happened on July 30. As many as 197 body parts have been recovered, while there are 133 people missing. Currently 78 people are in various hospitals undergoing treatment.

The government has informed that there will be no search operations on Saturday due to the prime minister's visit but they will resume on Sunday.
