GLOBAL BROKERAGES SCALE BACK GROWTH FORECASTS

Low China factory output calls for stronger stimulus

Property slump makes consumers cut back on spending

REUTERS Beijing, September 14

CHINA'S INDUSTRIAL output growth slowed to a five-month low in August, while retail sales and new home prices weakened further, bolstering the case for aggressive stimulus to shore up the economy and help it hit its annual growth target. The sluggish data released on Saturday echoed soft bank lending figures on Friday, underscoring weak growth momentum of the $18.6 trillion economy, the world's secondlargest, in the third quarter.

Industrial output in August expanded 4.5% year-on-year, slowing from the 5.1% pace in July and marking the slowest growth since March, data from the National Bureau of Statistics (NBS) showed on Saturday.

That missed expectations for 4.8% growth in a Reuters poll of 37 analysts. Retail sales, a key gauge of consumption, rose only 2.1% in August despite the summer travel peak, decelerating from a 2.7% increase in July. Analysts had expected retail sales, which have been anaemic this year, to grow 2.5%.

"The momentum is slowing down...The bottleneck remains domestic demand," said Xing Zhaopeng, ANZ's senior China strategist. China's oil refinery output fell for a fifth month while crude steel output in August fell 6.1% from July, sug-

China against US tariff hikes

BEIJING OPPOSES US tariff hikes on Chinese imports, China's commerce ministry said, urging the US to immediately correct its "wrongdoings" and lift all tariffs imposed on Chinese goods."China will take necessary measures to resolutely defend the interests of Chinese companies," it said in the statement. — REUTERS

gesting disappointing demand. Faltering Chinese economic activity has already prompted global brokerages to scale back their 2024 China growth forecasts to below the government's official target of around 5%. The economy grew by 4.7% in the second quarter."The Q3 GDP is likely to be lower than Q2 based on current data flows. We expect large-scale stimulus to come soon,"said Xing.

President Xi Jinping urged authorities on Thursday to strive to achieve the country's annual economic and social development goals, state media reported, amid expectations that more steps are needed to bolster a flagging economic recovery. "As we are already toward the tail-end of the third quarter, time is running low for policymakers to introduce measures to buoy the economy amid numerous headwinds," said Lynn Song, chief China economist at ING.

The protracted property slump has led to Chinese consumers cutting back on spending. Premier Li Qiang said last month the country will focus on stimulating consumption and look at ways to boost household income.

No property sector rebound

Fixed asset investment rose 3.4% in first eight months of 2024 from the same period a year earlier, compared with an expected 3.5% expansion. It grew 3.6% in January to July period. The troubled property sector remains a major drag on growth. Its new home prices fell at the fastest pace in more than nine years in August. Only two of 70 surveyed cities reported home prices gains in monthly and annual terms in August.

Property sales and investment slumped in the first eight months of the year.

I offer new generation leadership, says Harris

ASSOCIATED PRESS Washington, September 14

VICE PRESIDENT KAMALA Harris, who presents herself as the candidate of change as she runs president against Republican Donald Trump, said Friday that she's different from President Joe Biden because she offers "a new generation of leadership".

In her first solo television interview since she became the Democratic presidential nominee, Harris also criticised the "hate and division that we see coming out of Donald Trump" and said she thinks people are "exhausted" by his style of leadership. She also said she's a gun owner and doesn't want to take away anyone's guns, but she believes a ban on assault-style weapons is necessary and consistent with the Second Amendment. Anchor Brian Taff of WPVI-TV in Philadelphia asked Harris to describe one or two areas where she's different from the president.

"Well, I'm obviously not Joe Biden" and "I offer a new generation of leadership," Harris said, adding that things once taken for granted cannot be overlooked anymore.

"For example, another plan that I have that is a new approach is to expand the child tax credit to $6,000 for young families for the first year of their child's life because that is obviously a very critical stage of development of child, and so my approach is about new ideas, new policies that are directed at the current moment," she said.

"And also, to be very honest with you, my focus is very much on what we need to do over the next 10, 20 years to catch up to the 21st century around, again, capacity but also challenges." The interview was conducted in Johnstown, Pennsylvania, as Harris campaigned there Friday.Trump, his running mate Sen. JD Vance and other Republicans have criticised Harris for largely avoiding media interviews or interacting on the record with reporters who cover her campaign events. She and her running mate, Minnesota Gov. Tim Walz, gave a joint interview to CNN last month. Her campaign recently said she will begin to do more local interviews, and the National Association of Black Journalists announced Friday that some of its members will interview Harris on Tuesday in Philadelphia.

Harris used a question about the former president's appeal and how she would speak to his supporters to criticise Trump and his leadership style.

"I also believe that I am accurate in knowing that most Americans want a leader who brings us together as Americans and not someone who professes to be a leader who is trying to have us point our fingers at each other," she said.

The vice president suggested that her support from Republican officials, including former Vice President Dick Chenevand his daughter, former Rep. Liz Cheney, is a result of people being "exhausted" with Trump.

Disney, DirecTV reach new licensing agreement REUTERS

September 14

WALT DISNEY AND DirecTV announced that they have reached an agreement in principle, restoring college football and other programming to the satellite TV provider's over 11 million subscribers.

DirecTV customers had lost access to ABC, ESPN and other Disney-owned networks on September 1, after the two sides reached an impasse in renewal talks, but will now be able to offer multiple genre-specific programming packages, including those focussed on sports, entertainment, kids and family programming. Disney's streaming services, Disney+, Hulu and ESPN+, will also be included in certain DirecTV's packages. DirecTV also has the rights to distribute the streaming version of its flagship ESPN network, when it launches.

The entertainment giant gained improved economic terms under the new agreement, according to sources. "This agreement furthers our commitment by recognising both the tremendous value of Disney's content and the evolving preferences of DIRECTV's customers,"the companies said.

COP29 for sixfold increase in energy storage

BLOOMBERG

September 14

THE HOSTS OF this year's global climate talks will ask over 190 countries to back a Group of Seven target to increase global energy-storage capacity more than sixfold by 2030.

The draft proposal seen by Bloomberg, called the Global Green Energy Storage Pledge, will be presented at the COP29 summit in Baku, Azerbaijan, in November. It echoes the G-7 agreement signed in April, which aims to reach 1,500 gigawatts of energy-storage capacity by the end of the decade from 230 gigawatts

That's in line with what the International Energy Agency recommends is needed to achieve the emissions-reduction goals laid out at COP28 last year. To reach the proposed target, the world would need to add more than 158 gigawatts of energy-storage capacity on average each year through 2030.

Amassive amount of batteries will be required to allow grids around the world to store excess solar and wind energy so it can be deployed at times when the sun doesn't shine or the wind doesn't blow. Another increasingly popular source of energy storage is pumped-hydro, where water is pushed upwards and stored at a higher elevation, then released back down to generate electricity when needed.

gigawatts of pumped hydro and about 85 gigawatts of battery

The world had about 179

storage last year, according to data from the International Hydropower Association and IEA, respectively.

Batteries are now 90% cheaper than 15 years ago, according to the IEA. When paired with solar panels, batteries can make them a cheaper alternative to building coal plants in India; the combination is expected to soon challenge the cost of gas in the US and new coal in China. The average cost of lithium-ion battery packs plummeted to $139 per kilowatthour in 2023, from nearly $800 ten years earlier, according to BloombergNEF. But analysts warn that prices need to fall further for the industry to take off. China-dominated supply chains also need to become more diverse. The Azerbaijani proposal encourages COP29 members to explore new types of batteries that could be cheaper to make and standardise recycling models to make it easier to reuse expired batteries. financialexp.epapr.in
