HYDERABAD, SEPTEMBER 30, 2024

Zen Technologies Celebrates Patent Grant for "Infantry Virtual Training Simulation System (IVTSS)"

Zen Technologies Limited (Zen) is pleased to announce the Grant of its latest Indian Patent for the "Infantry Virtual Training Simulation System (IVTSS)" on 30th September 2024. This patent, filed on 29th December 2022 and valid until 29th December 2042, is the company's 19th patent in the calendar year 2024 and the 9th in the financial year 2024-25.

The IVTSS is an advanced, state-of-the-art simulation system developed to provide military personnel with a highly realistic and immersive virtual training environment. It combines multiple simulation stations, enabling comprehensive infantry training while addressing the evolving needs of modern warfare. The system supports a wide range of training scenarios, including small arms handling, tactical decision-making, mortar detachment training, and more.

One of the system's most innovative features is its tactical training module for mortar detachments, which is designed to train soldiers on critical aspects of target selection, prioritization, and engagement. This ensures that soldiers are well-prepared to manage the complexities of tactical decision-making in real-world combat situations.

This Patent is a significant addition to Zen's portfolio of defense innovations, which includes the renowned Tactical Engagement Simulator (TacSim) range of products. By continuing to push the boundaries of military training technology, Zen demonstrates its commitment to enhancing the preparedness and operational readiness of armed forces worldwide.

With the IVTSS, Zen reinforces its position as a leader in defense simulation and training solutions, helping armed forces achieve greater levels of proficiency in modern combat scenarios.
