MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

GLOBAL AND ECONOMIC OVERVIEW:

The outlook of the global economy for 2024 is exhibiting resilience and fortitude. There are, however, multiple challenges which include:

- Elevated inflation
- Tight monetary and financial condition
- Escalating geo political tension
- Disruptions in key shipping global route

According to the IMF World Economic Outlook, April 2024, global growth decelerated to 3.2% during 2023 form 3.5% during 2022.

The IT industry flourished during the early pandemic years as companies accelerated their digital transformation efforts. But the industry has hit several speed bumps over the past two years. High inflation, elevated interest rates, and considerable macroeconomic and global uncertainties contributed to a softening of consumer spending, lower product demand, falling market capitalizations, and workforce reductions in 2022. Headwinds continued into 2023, with slight weakening of global tech spending and rising layoffs. But there are now glimmers of hope that a tech comeback may be imminent: Economists have lowered their assessments of recession risk, and analysts are optimistic that the tech sector could return to modest growth in 2024.

The IT Industry to Grow Further During 2024

Revenue in the IT Services market is projected to reach US$1,420.00bn in 2024. IT Outsourcing dominates the market with a projected market volume of US$541.10bn in 2024. Revenue is expected to show an annual growth rate (CAGR 2024-2029) of 5.76%, resulting in a market volume of US$1,879.00bn by 2029

"We are seeing a cycle of story, plan, and execution when it comes to GenAI. In 2023, enterprises were telling the story of GenAI, and in 2024 we are seeing most of them planning for eventual execution in 2025," said John David Lovelock, vice president and analyst at Gartner.

In 2024, AI servers will account for close to 60 per cent of hyperscalers' total server spending, according to the study. "There is also gold rush-level spending by service providers in markets supporting large-scale GenAI projects, such as servers and semiconductors," said Lovelock. Gartner also projects growth in the devices segment spend, with the sector expected to achieve $688 billion in spending during 2024, up from 2023 spending lows of $664 billion, at a growth rate of 3.6 per cent.

"The integration of GenAI capabilities in premium and basic phones sustains, more than drives, this change," said the report.

Key Priorities for IT Industry Players During 2024

- 1. Customer experience is top strategic priority: Improving the customer experience stands out as the primary focus, with over half of respondents selecting it as one of the top priorities for their IT Sector.
- 2. Skills, retention, and recruitment among top talent-related obstacles: Most cite skill gaps and training needs talent retention and turnover or talent attraction and recruitment as the most significant talent-related hurdles to achieving 2024 IT priorities.
- 3. Globalization and Outsourcing: The trend of outsourcing IT services to global markets continues, providing cost advantage and access to specialized skills. This trend supports growth in IT services and consulting, especially in emerging markets.
- 4. Angling for a comeback, with help from cloud, AI, and cybersecurity: Enterprise spending on software and IT services particularly artificial intelligence, cloud computing, and cybersecurity technology is expected to enable the most growth in the tech market over the coming year.
- 5. Striking a balance between globalization and self-reliance: The worldwide, interconnected nature of the tech industry heightens the risk of disruptions from geopolitical unrest, supply chain volatility, raw material shortages, and new regulations and policies.
- 6. Setting the stage for growth with generative AI: The next year is expected to be transitional for generative AI, with tech companies experimenting and finding applications that can drive efficiency and productivity.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW:

OUTLOOK FOR THE INDIAN INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY (IT) SECTOR

Spending in the Indian information technology (IT) sector is projected to reach $138.9 billion in 2024, compared to $122.6 billion last year, with a double-digit growth rate of 13.2 per cent, according to recent projections from Gartner. The growth is expected in all major segments, including software, devices, IT services, and data Centre systems.

Across segments, software spending in India is projected to record the highest growth rate of 18.6 per cent in 2024, followed by devices, which is expected to grow at 13.8 per cent. "Indian chief information officers (CIOs) are continuing to priorities growth, customer experience, and operational efficiency while leveraging software assets in this challenging environment. Recurring revenue models are playing a significant role in optimizing IT costs and driving software spending," said the report.

On generative artificial intelligence (GenAI) spending in India, the report said that in the short term, the revenue generated from it will be minimal, as Indian CIOs are currently in the planning and evaluation stage regarding the technology.

According to the projections, worldwide IT spending is expected to total $5.06 trillion in 2024, an increase of 8 per cent from 2023.

Fuelled by the demand for GenAI processing, spending on data centre systems is also expected to see a notable jump in growth from 4 per cent in 2023 to 10 per cent in the current year globally, according to the projections.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

The year 2023 has been a hard year for many technology companies witnessing significant decline in business amid global economic uncertainty, inflation, geopolitical environment, wars, and disruption of supply chain. It was a hard year for the global IT industry players. When the macro environments are tough, such things are expected to happen. Many people were anticipating recessions during the year 2023. Luckily our financial systems are robust, thanks to the monetary policies of different countries that saved the global economy from financial disasters. The year 2024 is expected to be a bit better than the previous year in many parameters. Let's examine why! The world GDP projected growth for 2024 is expected to be in the range of 2.5% to 3%.

The overall global economic situation is expected to be largely modest during the year 2024.

IT spending is expected to witness double digit growth during 2024 in major markets. The mixed sentiments and economic impulses are bound to give a boost to the IT industry during 2024. The lull period of 2023 is expected to bounce back for tech industry during 2024. This may sound counter-intuitive or irrational to a few, but when every industry sector is striving for growth and putting its best efforts forward to grow (after sluggishness of about 15 months), the IT industry is bound to reap its benefits. One cannot think of successful business without the applicability of the right technologies.

The macro environment of 2023 forced companies to cut down the tech spends and put breaks on discretionary spending. However, there are no choices left now for companies but to open discretionary spending, either to grow or to automate or to consolidate business, and in the worst case outsource the business. This will push the IT spending trends globally.

Technology companies worldwide are embarking on 2024 following a year in which their sector managed to elevate its future trajectory. During 2023, the industry successfully navigated global economic headwinds and rising geopolitical tensions while also generating widespread optimism, excitement and expectation around the potential of emerging technology, especially artificial intelligence (AI). Although by no means offering a panacea for all ills, advances like GenAI, large language models (LLMs) and industry-specific co-pilots are rapidly rewriting the narrative. Tech vendors are looking to accelerate their go-to-market strategy by investing heavily in the entire stack, from chips and components to large language models (LLMs) and software toolkits.

Opportunities that tech companies could harness in 2024 to stay ahead of their competitors

- 1. Inject GenAI into digital transformation strategies and establish a control tower
- 2. Experiment with GenAI in targeted front-office and back-office use cases
- 3. Invest in new forms of digital infrastructure in the burgeoning "edge economy"

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation of the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report, Business Responsibility Report, Corporate Governance and Shareholder's Information, but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an Auditor's Report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements. As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our Auditor's Report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our Auditor's Report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial Reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.
