AS A CHILD, Jugraj Singh, the son of a porter, sold Tricolour flags and water bottles to tourists at the Attari-Wagah border to help his family make ends meet.

On Tuesday evening, the national anthem resounded at Moqi after India beat hosts China 1-0, thanks to a Jugraj goal in the 51st minute, to defend the Asian Champions Trophy hockey title.

Jugraj's strike was crucial. Along with the Asian Games gold last year, India are now the dominant force in Asian hockey.

pared to other children his age. It perhaps had to do with him lifting heavy loads when his father needed a helping hand," the former hockey player says. He recalls how Jugraj would juggle time between training and working as a street vendor at the Attari border. "Jugraj would practice in the morning and afternoon before going to sell flags to tourists. He would still be the first one to be at training in the morning," he says.

Jugraj's big break came in 2005 when a Punjab government sports wing was established at the senior secondary school by former India captain Pargat Singh, the then Punjab sports director. "We won a title in an inter-district tournament at Moga, Jugraj scoring the winning goal with a reverse hit. He drank his favourite drink, a Frooti, after the win," Navjit says.

Childhood friend and junior teammate Girish Duggal has seen Jugraj's early struggles. "He gave all the money from the sale of flags to his father to help him support the family, which includes two elder sisters and a brother," says Duggal.

In 2009, Jugraj joined the Baba Uttam Singh National Hockey Academy in Khadoor Sahib, another border town. He was good enough to be part of teams which competed in the Nehru Cup tournaments. Coach Balkar Singh, an Ar-myman, was impressed by Jugraj's will power and endurance. "His knees were very strong and he was what we call an upand-down player. We could make him run the whole ground but he would not get tired," says Balkar. Nowadays when Jugraj, now in the Navy, comes to the village, he brings along kits for young trainees. Jugraj's father believes blessings from above have helped his son shine."Working at the border post, I would often ask BSF officers to tell Pakistan border officials to pray for us at the Nankana Sahib and Kartarpur Sahib gurdwaras. It is Guru Nanak Dev ji's blessings which have guided him."

FROM FRAMING A basic psychological assessment test for selection of Agniveers to the Armed Forces and developing directed energy weapon systems for killing rogue aerial objects to giving statutory status to certification bodies under it, the Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) hopes to complete a set of critical projects this year, it has been learnt.

Officials said the basic assessment test being developed will aid the psychological evaluation of Agniveers selected by the Army, Navy and the Indian Air Force. It is expected to be adopted by the Armed Forces this year itself as soon as the DRDO is ready with it.

At present, the eligibility criteria for prospective Agniveers are specified educational qualifications that allow them to take an online common entrance examination. Those who qualify subsequently undergo physical fitness and measurement tests, followed by medical tests before a final merit list is drawn.

No psychological assessment tests were conducted during recruitment, either for Agniveers or regular soldiers

AS A CHILD, Jugraj Singh, the son of a porter, sold Tricolour flags and water bottles to tourists at the Attari-Wagah border to help his family make ends meet. On Tuesday evening, the national anthem resounded at Mogi after India beat hosts China 1-0, thanks to a Jugraj goal in the 51st minute, to defend the Asian Champions Trophy hockey title.

Jugraj's strike was crucial. Along with the Asian Games gold last year, India are now the dominant force in Asian hockey.

Jugraj, 27, is a versatile player and can play as a centreback, full-back and a dragflicker. Along with captain Harmanpreet Singh, he is one of the most powerful penalty corner experts in the sport. Scoring the winning goal, off a pass from Harmanpreet, made Tuesday the biggest day on a hockey field for Jugraj.

Jugraj's father Sukhjeet Singh watched the final on TV back in Attari. The 59-year-old has worked as a porter for 30 years and is now posted at the Attari Integrated Check Post. "I don't know anything

AMRITA NAYAK DUTTA New Delhi, September 18

FROM FRAMING A basic psychological assessment test for selection of Agniveers to the Armed Forces and developing directed energy weapon systems for killing rogue aerial objects to giving statutory status to certification bodies under it, the Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) hopes to complete a set of critical projects this year, it has been learnt.

Officials said the basic assessment test being developed will aid the psychological evaluation of Agniveers selected by the Army, Navy and the Indian Air Force. It is expected to be adopted by the Armed Forces this year itself as soon as the DRDO is ready with it.

At present, the eligibility criteria for prospective Agniveers are specified educational qualifications that allow them to take an online common entrance examination. Those who qualify subsequently undergo physical fitness and measurement tests, followed by medical tests before a final merit list is drawn.

No psychological assessment tests were conducted during recruitment, either for Agniveers or regular soldiers

Last year, Air Chief Marshal VR Chaudhari had said India's defence industries need to push the development of such advanced weapons and integrate them into its airborne platforms to get the desired range and accuracy. He had said that DEWs, particularly lasers, provide significant advantages overtraditional weapons such as precision engagement, low cost per shot, logistical benefits, and low detectability.

The Army has also identified 16 tech clusters comprising

tain emerging technologies which are at a conceptual stage. One of them is DEW and counter-unmanned aerial systems and modernising India's aerial platforms and surface-toair guided weapon systems.

Officials said DRDO also plans to prioritise development of other key systems this year such as standalone 1-km range Anti-drone High Power Microwave System to take out enemy drones and maiden launch of Long-Range Land Attack Cruise Missile for the IAF. There are plans to develop the system for all aerial, naval and land platforms.

The DRDO plans to give statutory status to regulatory and certification bodies such as the Centre for Military Airworthiness and Certification (CEMI-LAC) and Centre for Fire Explosive and Environment Safety (CFEES), the officials said.

There are also plans to rightsize DRDO headquarters by around 25% by ensuring a certain percentage of scientists and technical staff return to labs across the country.

Chandigarh, September 18

AS A CHILD, Jugraj Singh, the son of a porter, sold Tricolour flags and water bottles to tourists at the Attari-Wagah border to help his family make ends meet. On Tuesday evening, the national anthem resounded at Mogi after India beat hosts China 1-0, thanks to a Jugraj goal in the 51st minute, to defend the Asian Champions Trophy hockey title.

Jugraj's strike was crucial. Along with the Asian Games gold last year, India are now the dominant force in Asian hockey.

Jugraj, 27, is a versatile player and can play as a centreback, full-back and a dragflicker. Along with captain Harmanpreet Singh, he is one of the most powerful penalty corner experts in the sport. Scoring the winning goal, off a pass from Harmanpreet, made Tuesday the biggest day on a hockey field for Jugraj.

Jugraj's father Sukhjeet Singh watched the final on TV back in Attari. The 59-year-old has worked as a porter for 30 years and is now posted at the Attari Integrated Check Post. "I don't know anything other than doing hard labour, but my son has made me and our family proud. He used to sell Indian flags at the Beating Retreat ceremony to help me run the family, but see where he has reached today," late 1980s, Sukhjeet recalls unloading 50-kg cement bags from trucks that came from Pakistan. After the 2019 Pulwama attacks, trucks from Afghanistan carrying dry fruits would arrive.

Jugraj's life would have run on similar lines had it not been for coach Navjit Singh. Navjit got money from the sale of flags to the youngster to start playing his father to help him support the family, which includes two elder sisters and a brother," says Duggal.

Jugraj's goal helped India lift the Asian Champions Trophy

In 2009, Jugraj joined the Baba Uttam Singh National Hockey Academy in Khadoor Sahib, another border town. He was good enough to be part of teams which competed in the Nehru Cup tournaments.

Coach Balkar Singh, an Armyman, was impressed by Jugraj's will power and endurance. "His knees were very strong and he was what we call an upand-down player. We could make him run the whole ground but he would not get tired," says Balkar.

Nowadays when Jugraj, now in the Navy, comes to the village, he brings along kits for young trainees. Jugraj's father believes blessings from above have helped his son shine."Working at the border post, I would often ask BSF officers to tell Pakistan border officials to pray for us at the Nankana Sahib and Kartarpur Sahib gurdwaras. It is Guru Nanak Dev ji's blessings which have guided him."

Officials said the basic assessment test being developed will aid the psychological evaluation of Agniveers selected by the Army, Navy and the Indian Air Force. It is expected to be adopted by the Armed Forces this year itself as soon as the DRDO is ready with it.

Last year, Air Chief Marshal VR Chaudhari had said India's defence industries need to push the development of such advanced weapons and integrate them into its airborne platforms to get the desired range and accuracy. He had said that DEWs, particularly lasers, provide significant advantages overtraditional weapons such as precision engagement, low cost per shot, logistical benefits, and low detectability.

The Army has also identified 16 tech clusters comprising subject specialists, each on certain emerging technologies which are at a conceptual stage. One of them is DEW and counter-unmanned aerial systems. In July, IAF Vice Chief, Air Marshal AP Singh, had said that impetus is also being given in the fields of directed energy weapons, close-in weapon systems and modernising India's aerial platforms and surface-toair guided weapon systems.

Officials said DRDO also plans to prioritise development of other key systems this year such as standalone 1-km range Anti-drone High Power Microwave System to take out enemy drones and maiden launch of Long-Range Land Attack Cruise Missile for the IAF. There are plans to develop the system for all aerial, naval and land platforms.

The DRDO plans to give statutory status to regulatory and certification bodies such as the Centre for Military Airworthiness and Certification (CEMI-LAC) and Centre for Fire Explosive and Environment Safety (CFEES), the officials said.

There are also plans to rightsize DRDO headquarters by around 25% by ensuring a certain percentage of scientists and technical staff return to labs across the country.

Schillaci also won the Golden Ball award at the 1990 World Cup as the tournament's top player ahead of Lothar Matthaus and Diego Maradona.

AS A CHILD, Jugraj Singh, the son of a porter, sold Tricolour flags and water bottles to tourists at the Attari-Wagah border to help his family make ends meet. On Tuesday evening, the national anthem resounded at Mogi after India beat hosts China 1-0, thanks to a Jugraj goal in the 51st minute, to defend the Asian Champions Trophy hockey title.

Jugraj's strike was crucial. Along with the Asian Games gold last year, India are now the dominant force in Asian hockey.

Jugraj, 27, is a versatile player and can play as a centreback, full-back and a dragflicker. Along with captain Harmanpreet Singh, he is one of the most powerful penalty corner experts in the sport. Scoring the winning goal, off a pass from Harmanpreet, made Tuesday the biggest day on a hockey field for Jugraj.

Jugraj's father Sukhjeet Singh watched the final on TV back in Attari. The 59-year-old has worked as a porter for 30 years and is now posted at the Attari Integrated Check Post. "I don't know anything other than doing hard labour, but my son has made me and our family proud. He used to sell Indian flags at the Beating Retreat ceremony to help me run the family, but see where he has reached today," says Sukhjeet. When he started off in the late 1980s, Sukhjeet recalls unloading 50-kg cement bags from trucks that came from Pakistan. After the 2019 Pulwama attacks, trucks from Afghanistan carrying dry fruits would arrive.

Jugraj's life would have run on similar lines had it not been for coach Navjit Singh. Navjit got the youngster to start playing hockey with other children on the grass field at Government Senior Secondary School, Attari. "Jugraj was well-built compared to other children his age. It perhaps had to do with him lifting heavy loads when his father needed a helping hand," the former hockey player says. He recalls how Jugraj would juggle time between training and working as a street vendor at the Attari border. "Jugraj would practice in the morning and afternoon before going to sell flags to tourists. He would still be the first one to be at training in the morning," he says.

Jugraj's big break came in 2005 when a Punjab government sports wing was established at the senior secondary school by former India captain Pargat Singh, the then Punjab sports director. "We won a title in an inter-district tournament at Moga, Jugraj scoring the winning goal with a reverse hit. He drank his favourite drink, a Frooti, after the win," Navjit says.

Childhood friend and junior teammate Girish Duggal has seen Jugraj's early struggles. "He gave all the money from the sale of flags to his father to help him support the family, which includes two elder sisters and a brother," says Duggal.

In 2009, Jugraj joined the Baba Uttam Singh National Hockey Academy in Khadoor Sahib, another border town. He was good enough to be part of teams which competed in the Nehru Cup tournaments. Coach Balkar Singh, an Ar-myman, was impressed by Jugraj's will power and endurance. "His knees were very strong and he was what we call an upand-down player. We could make him run the whole ground but he would not get tired," says Balkar. Nowadays when Jugraj, now in the Navy, comes to the village, he brings along kits for young trainees. Jugraj's father believes

blessings from above have helped his son shine."Working at the border post, I would often ask BSF officers to tell Pakistan border officials to pray for us at the Nankana Sahib and Kartarpur Sahib gurdwaras. It is Guru Nanak Dev ji's blessings which have guided him."

AS A CHILD, Jugraj Singh, the son of a porter, sold Tricolour flags and water bottles to tourists at the Attari-Wagah border to help his family make ends meet.

On Tuesday evening, the national anthem resounded at Moqi after India beat hosts China 1-0, thanks to a Jugraj goal in the 51st minute, to defend the Asian Champions Trophy hockey title.

Jugraj's strike was crucial. Along with the Asian Games gold last year, India are now the dominant force in Asian hockey.

Jugraj, 27, is a versatile player and can play as a centreback, full-back and a dragflicker. Along with captain Harmanpreet Singh, he is one of the most powerful penalty corner experts in the sport. Scoring the winning goal, off a pass from Harmanpreet, made Tuesday the biggest day on a hockey field for Jugraj.

Jugraj's father Sukhjeet Singh watched the final on TV back in Attari. The 59-year-old has worked as a porter for 30 years and is now posted at the Attari Integrated Check Post.

"I don't know anything other than doing hard labour, but my son has made me and our family proud. He used to sell Indian flags at the Beating Retreat ceremony to help me run the family, but see where he has reached today,"

Coach Balkar Singh, an Armyman, was impressed by Jugraj's will power and endurance. "His knees were very strong and he was what we call an upand-down player. We could make him run the whole ground but he would not get tired," says Balkar.

Nowadays when Jugraj, now in the Navy, comes to the village, he brings along kits for young trainees.

Jugraj's father believes blessings from above have helped his son shine. "Working at the border post, I would often ask BSF officers to tell Pakistan border officials to pray for us at the Nankana Sahib and Kartarpur Sahib gurdwaras. It is Guru Nanak Dev ji's blessings which have guided him."

Psychological tests for Agniveers, The Jugraj journey: From selling flags at anti-drone systems later this year Attari to hockey glory

AMRITA NAYAK DUTTA New Delhi, September 18

FROM FRAMING A basic psychological assessment test for selection of Agniveers to the Armed Forces and developing directed energy weapon systems for killing rogue aerial objects to giving statutory status to certification bodies under it, the Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) hopes to complete a set of critical projects this year, it has been learnt.

Officials said the basic assessment test being developed will aid the psychological evaluation of Agniveers selected by the Army, Navy and the Indian Air Force. It is expected to be adopted by the Armed Forces this year itself as soon as the DRDO is ready with it.

At present, the eligibility criteria for prospective Agniveers are specified educational qualifications that allow them to take an online common entrance examination. Those who qualify subsequently undergo physical fitness and measurement tests, followed by medical tests before a final merit list is drawn.

FROM FRAMING A basic psychological assessment test for selection of Agniveers to the Armed Forces and developing directed energy weapon systems for killing rogue aerial objects to giving statutory status to certification bodies under it, the Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) hopes to complete a set of critical projects this year, it has been learnt.

Officials said the basic assessment test being developed will aid the psychological evaluation of Agniveers selected by the Army, Navy and the Indian Air Force. It is expected to be adopted by the Armed Forces this year itself as soon as the DRDO is ready with it.

At present, the eligibility criteria for prospective Agniveers are specified educational qualifications that allow them to take an online common entrance examination. Those who qualify subsequently undergo physical fitness and measurement tests, followed by medical tests before a final merit list is drawn.

No psychological assessment tests were conducted during recruitment, either for Agniveers or regular soldiers

The Defence Institute of Psychological Research (DIPR) under the DRDO carries out research in psychology for armed forces personnel. Last year, a DIPR-developed psychometric test was tested on a trial basis for Agniveer aspirants at a recruitment rally.

Aside from the test, granting the Final Operational Clearance of AEW&C-KI for the IAF is also among DRDO's priority list this year, officials said.

Last year, Air Chief Marshal VR Chaudhari had said India's defence industries need to push the development of such advanced weapons and integrate them into its airborne platforms to get the desired range and accuracy. He had said that DEWs, particularly lasers, provide significant advantages overtraditional weapons such as precision engagement, low cost per shot, logistical benefits, and low detectability.

The Army has also identified 16 tech clusters comprising

tain emerging technologies which are at a conceptual stage. One of them is DEW and counter-unmanned aerial systems. In July, IAF Vice Chief, Air Marshal AP Singh, had said that impetus is also being given in the fields of directed energy weapons, close-in weapon systems and modernising India's aerial platforms and surface-toair guided weapon systems. The DRDO plans to give statutory status to regulatory and certification bodies such as the Centre for Military Airworthiness and Certification (CEMI-LAC) and Centre for Fire Explosive and Environment Safety (CFEES), the officials said.

There are also plans to rightsize DRDO headquarters by around 25% by ensuring a certain percentage of scientists and technical staff return to labs across the country.

AS A CHILD, Jugraj Singh, the son of a porter, sold Tricolour flags and water bottles to tourists at the Attari-Wagah border to help his family make ends meet. On Tuesday evening, the national anthem resounded at Mogi after India beat hosts China 1-0, thanks to a Jugraj goal in the 51st minute, to defend the Asian Champions Trophy hockey title.

Jugraj's strike was crucial. Along with the Asian Games gold last year, India are now the dominant force in Asian hockey.

Jugraj, 27, is a versatile player and can play as a centreback, full-back and a dragflicker. Along with captain Harmanpreet Singh, he is one of the most powerful penalty corner experts in the sport. Scoring the winning goal, off a pass from Harmanpreet, made Tuesday the biggest day on a hockey field for Jugraj.

Jugraj's father Sukhjeet Singh watched the final on TV back in Attari. The 59-year-old has worked as a porter for 30 years and is now posted at the Attari Integrated Check Post.

Psychological tests for Agniveers, From selling flags at anti-drone systems later this year Attari to hockey glory

AMRITA NAYAK DUTTA New Delhi, September 18

FROM FRAMING A basic psychological assessment test for selection of Agniveers to the Armed Forces and developing directed energy weapon systems for killing rogue aerial objects to giving statutory status to certification bodies under it, the Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) hopes to complete a set of critical projects this year, it has been learnt. Officials said the basic assessment test being developed will aid the psychological evaluation of Agniveers selected by the Army, Navy and the Indian Air Force. It is expected to be adopted by the Armed Forces this year itself as soon as the DRDO is ready with it.

At present, the eligibility criteria for prospective Agniveers are specified educational qualifications that allow them to take an online common entrance examination. Those who qualify subsequently undergo physical fitness and measurement tests, followed by medical tests before a final merit list is drawn.

Last year, Air Chief Marshal VR Chaudhari had said India's defence industries need to push the development of such advanced weapons and integrate them into its airborne platforms to get the desired range and accuracy. He had said that DEWs, particularly lasers, provide significant advantages over traditional weapons such as precision engagement, low cost low detectability. The Army has also identified per shot, logistical benefits, and subject specialists, each on certain emerging technologies which are at a conceptual stage. One of them is DEW and counter-unmanned aerial systems. In July, IAF Vice Chief, Air Marshal AP Singh, had said that impetus is also being given in the fields of directed energy weapons, close-in weapon systems and modernising India's aerial platforms and surface-toair guided weapon systems.

Officials said DRDO also plans to prioritise development of other key systems this year such as standalone 1-km range Anti-drone High Power Microwave System to take out enemy drones and maiden launch of Long-Range Land Attack Cruise Missile for the IAF. There are plans to develop the system for all aerial, naval and land platforms.

The DRDO plans to give statutory status to regulatory and certification bodies such as the Centre for Military Airworthiness and Certification (CEMI-LAC) and Centre for Fire Explosive and Environment Safety (CFEES), the officials said.

There are also plans to rightsize DRDO headquarters by around 25% by ensuring a certain percentage of scientists and technical staff return to labs

On Tuesday evening, the national anthem resounded at Moqi after India beat hosts China 1-0, thanks to a Jugraj goal in the 51st minute, to defend the Asian Champions Trophy hockey title.

Jugraj's strike was crucial. Along with the Asian Games gold last year, India are now the dominant force in Asian hockey.

Jugraj, 27, is a versatile player and can play as a centreback, full-back and a dragflicker. Along with captain Harmanpreet Singh, he is one of the most powerful penalty corner experts in the sport. Scoring the winning goal, off a pass from Harmanpreet, made Tuesday the biggest day on a hockey field for Jugraj.

Jugraj's father Sukhjeet Singh watched the final on TV back in Attari. The 59-year-old has worked as a porter for 30 years and is now posted at the Attari Integrated Check Post.

"I don't know anything other than doing hard labour, but my son has made me and our family proud. He used to sell Indian flags at the Beating Retreat ceremony to help me run the family, but see where he has reached today,"

late 1980s, Sukhjeet recalls unloading 50-kg cement bags from trucks that came from Pakistan. After the 2019 Pulwama attacks, trucks from Afghanistan carrying dry fruits would arrive.

Coach Balkar Singh, an Armyman, was impressed by Jugraj's will power and endurance. "His knees were very strong and he was what we call an upand-down player. We could make him run the whole ground but he would not get tired," says Balkar.

Nowadays when Jugraj, now in the Navy, comes to the village, he brings along kits for young trainees.

Jugraj's father believes blessings from above have helped his son shine."Working at the border post, I would often ask BSF officers to tell Pakistan border officials to pray for us at the Nankana Sahib and Kartarpur Sahib gurdwaras. It is Guru Nanak Dev ji's blessings which have

प्रधानमंत्री नरेंद्र मोदी की अमेरिका यात्रा 21 से 23 सितंबर तक

मोदी शानदार व्यक्ति, अगले हफ्ते मुझसे मिलेंगे: ट्रंप

जनसत्ता ब्यूरो नई दिल्ली, 18 सितंबर।

अमेरिका के पूर्व राष्ट्रपति डोनाल्ड ट्रंप ने कहा है कि प्रधानमंत्री नरेंद्र मोदी अगले सप्ताह अपनी तीन दिवसीय अमेरिका यात्रा के दौरान उनसे मुलाकात करेंगे। रिपब्लिकन पार्टी की ओर से राष्ट्रपति पद के प्रत्याशी ट्रंप ने आयात शुल्क का 'दुरुपयोग' करने के लिए भारत की आलोचना की लेकिन उन्होंने प्रधानमंत्री मोदी को एक 'शानदार व्यक्ति' बताया।

प्रधानमंत्री मोदी 21 से 23 सितंबर तक अमेरिका की यात्रा करेंगे।

हाल में हत्या के प्रयास के बाद पहली बार सार्वजनिक रूप से सामने आए ट्रंप ने मंगलवार को कहा कि मोदी अगले सप्ताह अमेरिका में उनसे मुलाकात करेंगे। उन्होंने दोहराया कि भारत आयात पर भारी शुल्क लगाता है। उन्होंने कहा कि भारत बहुत ज्यादा दुरुपयोग करता है। वह (मोदी) अगले सप्ताह मुझसे मिलने वाले हैं और मोदी शानदार हैं। मेरा मतलब है कि वह शानदार व्यक्ति हैं। कई नेता शानदार हैं।

पूर्व राष्ट्रपति ने मिशिगन के फिंलट में एक सभा में एक सवाल का जवाब देते हुए व्यापार और कर के बारे में बात करते हुए यह टिप्पणी की। ट्रंप ने कहा कि ये बहुत चतुर लोग हैं। आप जानते हैं, वे अपने खेल में माहिर हैं और वे इसका इस्तेमाल हमारे खिलाफ करते हैं। भारत बहुत सख्त है। ब्राजील बहुत सख्त है। चीन सबसे सख्त है, लेकिन हम शुल्क के मामले में चीन पर नजर रख रहे हैं। उन्होंने कहा कि शुरुआत 'क्वाड नेताओं' के शिखर सम्मेलन के

'क्वाड नेताओं' के शिखर सम्मेलन के साथ शुरू होगी यात्रा

प्रधानमंत्री मोदी की यात्रा की शुरुआत 'क्वाड नेताओं' के शिखर सम्मेलन के साथ होगी। डेलावेयर के विलमिंगटन में राष्ट्रपति जो बाइडेन इस शिखर सम्मेलन की मेजबानी करेंगे। शिखर सम्मेलन में आस्ट्रेलिया के प्रधानमंत्री एंथनी अल्बनीज और जापान के प्रधानमंत्री फुमिओ किशिदा भी शामिल होंगे। मोदी इसके बाद न्यूयार्क जाएंगे और 22 सितंबर को लांग आइलैंड में एक विशाल सामुदायिक कार्यक्रम को संबोधित करेंगे। इसके अगले दिन वह

कंपनी का खुलासा, पेजर हंगरी में बने थे

'आपूर्ति से पहले ही डाला गया था विस्फोटक'

ताइपे (ताइवान), 18 सितंबर (एपी)।

हिज्बुल्ला के संचार नेटवर्क को निशाना बनाने के इरादे से संभवतः इजराइल द्वारा किए गए हमले के तहत लेबनान और सीरिया में जिन पेजर में विस्फोट हुए, उन्हें हंगरी की एक कंपनी ने बनाया था। ताइवानी कंपनी गोल्ड अपोलो ने बुधवार को यह जानकारी दी।

गोल्ड अपोलो ने कहा कि बुडापेस्ट की एक अन्य कंपनी ने इन पेजर का निर्माण किया है, जिसे उसने पेजर पर अपने अधिकृत ब्रांड के इस्तेमाल का अधिकार दिया था। उधर, विशेषज्ञों का मानना है कि इन पेजर में आपर्ति से पहले ही विस्फोटक सामग्री डाली गई थी।

आतंकवादी संगठन हिज्बुल्ला द्वारा इस्तेमाल पेजर में मंगलवार को लेबनान और सीरिया में एक साथ विस्फोट हुए। इस घटना में दो बच्चों समेत कम से कम 12 लोगों की मौत हो गई और करीब 3,000 लोग घायल हो गए। हिज्बुल्ला और लेबनान की सरकार ने इस हमले के लिए इजराइल पर आरोप लगाया है। ऐसा प्रतीत होता है कि यह एक रिमोट हमला था। उधर बुधवार सुबह अस्पतालों का दौरा करने के दौरान लेबनान के स्वास्थ्य मंत्री

फिरास अबियाद ने कहा कि कई घायलों की आंखों में गंभीर चोट आई है और कई अन्य के अंग काटने पड़े। पत्रकारों को अस्पताल के कमरों में घुसने या मरीजों को फिल्माने की अनुमति नहीं थी।

एक अमेरिकी अधिकारी ने नाम न जाहिर करने की शर्त पर बताया कि इजराइल ने मंगलवार को हमले के बाद अमेरिका को जानकारी दी थी। पेजर में कम मात्रा में विस्फोटक छिपाकर रखा गया था और फिर उसमें विस्फोट किया गया था। पिछले साल आठ अक्तूबर को इजराइल पर फिलिस्तीनी गुट हमास के हमले के बाद से हिज्बुल्ला और इजराइली सेना के बीच लगभग रोजाना गोलीबारी हो रही है। अबतक इन गोलीबारी और हमलों में लेबनान में सैकडों लोग मारे गए हैं, जबकि इजराइल में भी दर्जनों लोगों की जान गई है। इस संघर्ष में सीमा के दोनों ओर हजारों लोगों को विस्थापित होना पड़ा है।

हिज्बुल्ला ने मंगलवार को किए गए हमले के लिए इजराइल को दोषी ठहराया है। इस हमले ने साथ ही इस आशंका को फिर से जन्म दे दिया कि दोनों दुश्मनों के बीच नए सिरे से वृहद पैमाने पर युद्ध हो सकती है।

हिज्बुल्ला सदस्यों के जनाजे में हुए कई विस्फोट, एक की मौत

बेरूत, 18 सितंबर (एपी)।

लेबनान में पेजर विस्फोटों में मारे गए चरपंथी संगठन हिज्बुल्ला के तीन सदस्यों और एक बच्चे के जनाजे के दौरान बुधवार को कई धमाके हए।

मौके पर मौजूद एसोसिएटेड प्रेस के संवाददाताओं ने यह जानकारी दी। लेबनान के स्वास्थ्य मंत्रालय के मुताबिक बुधवार को देश के कई क्षेत्रों में इलेक्ट्रॉनिक उपकरणों में हुए धमाकों में एक व्यक्ति की मौत हो गई जबिक 100 से अधिक घायल हुए हैं। हिज्बुल्ला के अल मनार टीवी की खबर के मुताबिक लेबनान के विभिन्न इलाकों में विस्फोट हुए। उसने बताया कि ये विस्फोट वाकी-टाकी में हुए। हिज्बुल्ला द्वारा इस्तेमाल किए गए जिन पेजर में विस्फोट हुए हैं उनका निर्माण हंगरी की एक कंपनी ने किया था।

पीएमएलए मामले में पुनर्विचार याचिका पर सुनवाई 16 अक्तूबर तक टली

नई दिल्ली, 18 सितंबर(ब्यूरो)।

सुप्रीम कोर्ट ने बुधवार को इस सवाल पर सुनवाई 16 अक्तूबर के लिए स्थगित कर दी कि क्या धनशोधन रोकथाम कानून के तहत गिरफ्तारी या संपत्ति कुर्क करने की प्रवर्तन निदेशालय की शक्तियों को बरकरार रखने वाले उसके 2022 के फैसले पर पुनर्विचार की आवश्यकता है।

इससे पहले, बुधवार को न्यायमूर्ति सूर्यकांत की अध्यक्षता वाली तीन सदस्यीय पीठ ने मामले की सुनवाई तीन अक्तूबर तक स्थगित कर दी थी।

Psychological tests for Agniveers, The Jugraj journey: From selling flags at anti-drone systems later this year Attari to hockey glory

AMRITA NAYAK DUTTA New Delhi, September 18

FROM FRAMING A basic psychological assessment test for selection of Agniveers to the Armed Forces and developing directed energy weapon systems for killing rogue aerial objects to giving statutory status to certification bodies under it, the Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) hopes to complete a set of critical projects this year, it has been learnt.

Officials said the basic assessment test being developed will aid the psychological evaluation of Agniveers selected by the Army, Navy and the Indian Air Force. It is expected to be adopted by the Armed Forces this year itself as soon as the DRDO is ready with it.

At present, the eligibility criteria for prospective Agniveers are specified educational qualifications that allow them to take an online common entrance examination. Those who qualify subsequently undergo physical fitness and measurement tests, followed by medical tests before a final merit list is drawn.

No psychological assessment tests were conducted during recruitment, either for Agniveers or regular soldiers ON PRIORITY LIST aerial vehicles (UAVs) emerging as a significant security threat, the system uses concentrated electromagnetic energy to combat enemy assets.

Last year, Air Chief Marshal

VR Chaudhari had said India's defence industries need to push the development of such advanced weapons and integrate them into its airborne platforms to get the desired range and accuracy. He had said that DEWs, particularly lasers, provide significant advantages overtraditional weapons such as precision engagement, low cost per shot, logistical benefits, and low detectability.

The Army has also identified 16 tech clusters comprising

subject specialists, each on certain emerging technologies which are at a conceptual stage. One of them is DEW and counter-unmanned aerial systems. In July, IAF Vice Chief, Air Marshal AP Singh, had said that impetus is also being given in the fields of directed energy weapons, close-in weapon systems and modernising India's aerial platforms and surface-toair guided weapon systems.

Officials said DRDO also plans to prioritise development of other key systems this year such as standalone 1-km range Anti-drone High Power Microwave System to take out enemy drones and maiden launch of Long-Range Land Attack Cruise Missile for the IAF. There are plans to develop the system for all aerial, naval and land platforms.

The DRDO plans to give statutory status to regulatory and certification bodies such as the Centre for Military Airworthiness and Certification (CEMI-LAC) and Centre for Fire Explosive and Environment Safety (CFEES), the officials said.

There are also plans to rightsize DRDO headquarters by around 25% by ensuring a certain percentage of scientists and technical staff return to labs across the country.

AS A CHILD, Jugraj Singh, the son of a porter, sold Tricolour flags and water bottles to tourists at the Attari-Wagah border to help his family make ends meet.

On Tuesday evening, the national anthem resounded at Moqi after India beat hosts China 1-0, thanks to a Jugraj goal in the 51st minute, to defend the Asian Champions Trophy hockey title.

Jugraj's strike was crucial. Along with the Asian Games gold last year, India are now the dominant force in Asian hockey.

Jugraj, 27, is a versatile player and can play as a centreback, full-back and a dragflicker. Along with captain Harmanpreet Singh, he is one of the most powerful penalty corner experts in the sport. Scoring the winning goal, off a pass from Harmanpreet, made Tuesday the biggest day on a hockey field for Jugraj.

Jugraj's father Sukhjeet Singh watched the final on TV back in Attari. The 59-year-old has worked as a porter for 30 years and is now posted at the Attari Integrated Check Post.

"I don't know anything other than doing hard labour, but my son has made me and our family proud. He used to sell Indian flags at the Beating Retreat ceremony to help me run the family, but see where he has reached today," says Sukhjeet.

When he started off in the late 1980s, Sukhjeet recalls unloading 50-kg cement bags from trucks that came from Pakistan. After the 2019 Pulwama attacks, trucks from Afghanistan carrying dry fruits would arrive.

Jugraj's life would have run on similar lines had it not been for coach Navjit Singh. Navjit got the youngster to start playing hockey with other children on the grass field at Government Senior Secondary School, Attari.

"Jugraj was well-built compared to other children his age. It perhaps had to do with him lifting heavy loads when his father needed a helping hand," the former hockey player says.

He recalls how Jugraj would juggle time between training and working as a street vendor at the Attari border. "Jugraj would practice in the morning and afternoon before going to sell flags to tourists. He would still be the first one to be at training in the morning," he says. Jugraj's big break came in 2005 when a Punjab government sports wing was established at the senior secondary school by former India captain Pargat Singh, the then Punjab sports director.

"We won a title in an interdistrict tournament at Moga, Jugraj scoring the winning goal with a reverse hit. He drank his favourite drink, a Frooti, after the win," Navjit says.

Childhood friend and junior teammate Girish Duggal has seen Jugraj's early struggles. "He gave all the money from the sale of flags to his father to help him support the family, which includes two elder sisters and a brother," says Duggal.

In 2009, Jugraj joined the Baba Uttam Singh National Hockey Academy in Khadoor Sahib, another border town. He was good enough to be part of teams which competed in the Nehru Cup tournaments.

Coach Balkar Singh, an Armyman, was impressed by Jugraj's will power and endurance. "His knees were very strong and he was what we call an upand-down player. We could make him run the whole ground but he would not get tired," says Balkar.

Nowadays when Jugraj, now in the Navy, comes to the village, he brings along kits for young trainees.

Jugraj's father believes blessings from above have helped his son shine."Working at the border post, I would often ask BSF officers to tell Pakistan border officials to pray for us at the Nankana Sahib and Kartarpur Sahib gurdwaras. It is Guru Nanak Dev ji's blessings which have guided him."

AMRITA NAYAK DUTTA New Delhi, September 18

FROM FRAMING A basic psychological assessment test for selection of Agniveers to the Armed Forces and developing directed energy weapon systems for killing rogue aerial objects to giving statutory status to certification bodies under it, the Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) hopes to complete a set of critical projects this year, it has been learnt.

Officials said the basic assessment test being developed will aid the psychological evaluation of Agniveers selected by the Army, Navy and the Indian Air Force. It is expected to be adopted by the Armed Forces this year itself as soon as the DRDO is ready with it.

At present, the eligibility criteria for prospective Agniveers are specified educational qualifications that allow them to take an online common entrance examination. Those who qualify subsequently undergo physical fitness and measurement tests, followed by medical tests before a final merit list is drawn.

No psychological assessment tests were conducted during recruitment, either for Agniveers or regular soldiers aerial vehicles (UAVs) emerging as a significant security threat, the system uses concentrated electromagnetic energy to combat enemy assets.

Last year, Air Chief Marshal VR Chaudhari had said India's defence industries need to push the development of such advanced weapons and integrate them into its airborne platforms to get the desired range and accuracy. He had said that DEWs, particularly lasers, provide significant advantages overtraditional weapons such as precision engagement, low cost per shot, logistical benefits, and low detectability.

The Army has also identified 16 tech clusters comprising subject specialists, each on certain emerging technologies which are at a conceptual stage. One of them is DEW and counter-unmanned aerial systems. In July, IAF Vice Chief, Air Marshal AP Singh, had said that impetus is also being given in the fields of directed energy weapons, close-in weapon systems and modernising India's aerial platforms and surface-toair guided weapon systems.

Officials said DRDO also plans to prioritise development of other key systems this year such as standalone 1-km range Anti-drone High Power Microwave System to take out enemy drones and maiden launch of Long-Range Land Attack Cruise Missile for the IAF. There are plans to develop the system for all aerial, naval and land platforms.

The DRDO plans to give statutory status to regulatory and certification bodies such as the Centre for Military Airworthiness and Certification (CEMI-LAC) and Centre for Fire Explosive and Environment Safety (CFEES), the officials said.

There are also plans to rightsize DRDO headquarters by around 25% by ensuring a certain percentage of scientists and technical staff return to labs across the country.

पुणे, दि. १८ : पुण्यात अनंत चतुर्थदशीच्या दुसऱ्या दिवशीही गणपती विसर्जनची मिरवणूक सुरू आहे. मानाच्या गणपती विसर्जन मंगळवारी झाल्यानंतर इतर गणपतीचे विसर्जन अद्यापही सुरू आहे. दुसऱ्या दिवशी सकाळी सहा वाजता विसर्जन मिरवणुकीला सुरुवात झाली आहे. साधारण २७ तास होऊन गेल्यानंतरही केळकर रोड, लक्ष्मी रोड, टिळक रोड येथे मिरवणूक अजून सुरू आहे. तर कुमठेकर रोड वरील मिरवणुका संपल्या आहेत. अलका चौकाच्या पुढे सार्वजनिक गणेश मंडळ एका जागी थांबून डीजे वाजवत होते. त्यामुळे ऐकत नसलेल्या मंडळाच्या कार्यकर्त्यांना पोलिसांकडून चोप देण्यात आला. त्यामुळे पाठीमागून येणाऱ्या मंडळाची मोठी कोंडी झाली या ठिकाणी काही वेळ तणावाची परिस्थिती निर्माण झाली होती. त्यानंतर पुणे पोलीस दलातील वरिष्ठ अधिकाऱ्यांनी त्याठिकाणी येत वाद थांबावत त्या गणेश मंडळाला पुढे सरकवले. आतापर्यंत

३ वाजण्याच्या सुमारास मिरवणूक संपली होती. तर यंदाच्या मिरवणूका संपण्यासाठी अजून २ ते ३ तास लागण्याची शक्यता आहे. त्यामुळे यंदाही गणपती विसर्जन मिरवणुका उशिरापर्यंत चालणार असे चित्र पाहायला मिळत आहे.
