WHITE HOUSE SIGNALS REGULATORY SHIFT

As Trump Pauses FCPA, Adani Execs may Benefit

US will stop all new FCPA investigations and review existing cases for 180 days

Our Bureau

Mumbai: The executive order by US President Donald Trump pausing enforcement of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA) to amp up the global economic competitiveness of American companies and national security could bring relief for the Adani Group executives indicted in November 2024.

The 1977 law prohibits American companies and foreign firms from bribing foreign officials to secure business. The order directs Attorney General Pam Bondi to stop new FCPA investigations and review existing cases for 180 days.

The White House said the FCPA has been enforced beyond its original scope and has harmed US businesses. The order states that enforcement wastes prosecutive resources and puts American companies at a disadvantage in global markets. The administration says the pause will allow a review of enforcement policies to align with US economic and national security interests.

Ashish K Singh, managing partner of Capstone Legal, said the order is a relief for Adani executives. "The six-month review period would also entail careful reassessment of facts, and it is unlikely that any further action will be taken given the facts and circumstances of this case. All said and done, this comes as a major relief for Adani and other Indian businesses which are doing business with the US," Singh said.

"The Order also improves certainty for Indian businesses that they would not be selectively targeted by foreign law enforcement agencies. In the long run, it would help US companies looking to grow their business aggressively under the new administration."

A US court has consolidated civil and criminal cases against Adani Group executives, including founder Gautam Adani, his nephew Sagar Adani, and senior executive Vneet S. Jain.

US President Donald Trump holds up an executive order on the FCPA in the Oval Office at the White House, Monday - AP

While Adani Green Energy Limited clarified the three executives were not charged under the FCPA or bribery-related violations, they face charges of securities fraud conspiracy, wire fraud conspiracy, and securities fraud, including allegations tied to a 2021 bond offering.

The SEC has linked the Adani case to an ongoing FCPA investigation into former Azure Power executives Ranjit Gupta and Rupesh Agarwal, accused of bribery to secure Indian government contracts. Additionally, Cyril Cabanis, Saurabh Agarwal, and Deepak Malhotra - affiliated with Canadian institutional investor CDPQ - face obstruction of justice charges for allegedly destroying evidence and withholding key information.

The executive order comes amid other actions by the Trump administration to ease regulatory burdens on business. The White House statement says American companies must compete globally without excessive legal barriers. The order also states that FCPA enforcement has been unpredictable, creating uncertainty for businesses.

Pallavi Pratap, Managing Partner of Pratap & Co., said the accusations against Gautam Adani are, in themselves, extremely flimsy.

"Claiming that he orchestrated a bribery scheme is an exaggerated interpretation of these allegations. It is not as though President Trump is entirely abolishing the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA), rather, he is temporarily pausing its enforcement to assess whether it has been misused," said Pratap. "We will see whether these charges hold up under the preliminary review being conducted by the Department of Justice," she added. Himanshu Vidhani, partner at law firm Chandniok and Mahajan has however a word of caution.

"The unprecedented suspension of FCPA enforcement creates a complex legal landscape. While this may affect certain aspects of ongoing investigations, but the securities fraud allegations under SEC jurisdiction may not be affected," said Vidhani. "Further, the SEC can still bring action under the FCPA as the Attorney General's directive does not impact the SEC's authority. The executive order's scope appears limited to foreign bribery provisions, leaving other significant regulatory enforcement mechanisms intact," he added.

Solar PSU Forfeits Azure Group's Bank Guarantees

New Delhi: Even as Trump's latest orders on the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA) may bring relief for the Adani group over alleged bribery-fraud deals, the Indian government has sprung into action. ET has learnt that the Centre has forfeited Azure Group's nearly Rs 35 crore worth of bank guarantees for failing to complete 700

MW power projects across five states—cases similar to the one in Andhra Pradesh that is at the centre of the bribery allegations. ET has gathered the Solar Energy Corporation of India (SECI) sought invocation of bank guarantees through communications sent out to Azure group in late November of 2024. —Anubhuti Vishnoi

Group may Restore Power Supply to B'desh

Our Bureau

Mumbai: Adani Power may restore full electricity supply to Bangladesh as the country starts clearing dues, according to sources aware of the development. Bangladesh's power dues have fallen from their peak of $1 billion in August 2024 to $700 million now, they said. Since October 31, 2024, Adani has halted its power supply to Bangladesh due to payment delays, caused by the country's foreign exchange shortage.

In December however, the Bangladesh Power Development Board (BPDB) had conveyed to Adani to halve power supply due to low demand owing to the onset of winter. Adani Power did not reply to an emailed query.

"The power dues are down as Bangladesh is making payments of around $85 million per month to Adani Power," said an official aware of the development.

According to news agency Reuters, BPDB and Adani officials were due to meet virtually Tuesday following another meeting recently to work out various issues between them.

"As per our requirement today, they have planned to synchronise the second unit, but due to the high vibration, it didn't happen," BPDB Chairperson Md. Rezaul Karim told Reuters, referring to some technical problems that stopped the unit from restarting on Monday.

"Right now, we are making a payment of $85 million per month. We are trying to pay more, and our intention is to reduce the overdue. Now there is no big issue with Adani," he told Reuters.

Adani Power supplies nearly 1,000 MW of power to Bangladesh as its coal-fired plant in Godda, Jharkhand. It has two units of nearly 800 MW each. It had signed a 25-year power purchase agreement (PPA) with BPDB in 2015 and meets a tenth of Bangladesh's electricity needs.
