Manipur sees worst flooding since 2015 amid storm havoc

People move to a safer place after heavy rain due to Cyclone Remal in Imphal, Wednesday. Reuters

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE GUWAHATI, MAY 29

MANIPUR CAPITAL Imphal witnessed its worst flooding in recent times that affected thousands of people Wednesday as the Northeast continued to reel under the effects of cyclonic storms which wreaked havoc in the region a day earlier.

Both the Imphal and Nambal rivers — which flow through the Greater Imphal area and have been above the danger level since Tuesday — breached their banks in multiple areas. Consequently, several localities had waist-deep flooding.

At least two people were also killed in storm-related incidents in the hill district of Senapati. Rescue operations are underway to evacuate those stranded in low-lying areas to higher ground.

According to officials, a 34-year-old man died in a landslide on the Senapati-Thonglang Road and three others were injured and hospitalised in the same incident. An 83-year-old woman drowned in the Senapati river.

According to an official of the State Relief and Disaster Management Department, flood wreaked havoc in almost all the districts in Manipur with Imphal East being the most affected in the valley and Tamenglong in the hills. Most of the valley areas particularly the Imphal East and West districts are inundated by the overflowing Imphal river that runs through the heart of Imphal city.

"We are assessing the damage caused by the flood. As of now, we are unable to give an accurate figure of the damage caused by the rain. Our officials monitoring the rescue operations are yet to submit their assessment reports. However, this is the worst flood Manipur witnessed since 1988 and 2015", said the official, adding that rescue operations are underway.

Manipur Governor Anusuiya Uijey expressed deep concern and saddened by the damage to homes and properties in both the valley and hills Districts in Manipur caused by the constant rainfall due to cyclone Remal over the past 48 hours has severely disturbed the lives of people in the state.

Southwest Monsoon onset over Kerala by Thursday, says IMD

Bengaluru: The Southwest Monsoon will likely hit the Kerala coast Thursday, the India Meteorological Department has said. "Conditions continue to become favourable for the onset of the Southwest Monsoon over Kerala during the next 24 hours," the IMD said.

A week ago, the IMD had forecast the Monsoon onset over Kerala on May 31. The normal date for this is June 1, with a standard deviation of a week. Heavy rainfall has continued across Kerala for a fortnight now. Between March and May, the state received 39 per cent (465 mm) surplus rainfall, of which over 90 per cent was in May. This year, the Bay of Bengal branch of the Monsoon is sufficiently strong and could facilitate its early advancement into Northeastern states. The normal date of the Monsoon onset over the Northeastern states is June 5. If an early advance happens over, the fallout from the floods, landslides and overflowing river banks triggered by Cyclone Remal aftermath will worsen. ENS
