COURT REVERSES '21 RULING IN CANON INDIA CASE

DRI Officers can Issue Show-cause Notices & Recover Duties: SC

Apex court says they are 'proper officers'; big win for Central govt

Indu Bhan
New Delhi: The Supreme Court (SC) on Thursday held that officers of the Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI) are "proper officers" to issue show-cause notices under Section 28 and recover custom duties on goods already cleared for import under the Customs Act, 1962, giving a significant boost to the Union government.

tion stands resolved in favour of the revenue department, the assesses and the revenue department will now face each other and continue to litigate the pending matters on other arguments," he told ET.

The Customs department and the Union government had filed the review petition against the 2021 judgment that laid an officer of DRI cannot issue a show-cause notice or demand customs duty against importers unless they have been entrusted with the functions by the Central government. The court had also then held that the "proper officer" to issue a show cause notice is the officer who originally assessed the imports or their successor. The review petition had sought to revalidate the show-cause notices which have an estimated value of over ₹22,000 crore in potential tax and penalties.

PUT ON NOTICE

Cos facing DRI notices include Vedanta, Vi, Adani, TVS, Samsung India, Godrej, BSNL, among others

Realtors Oppose Registration Duty for Noida Homes After 10% Payment

New Delhi: Real estate developers in Noida and Greater Noida have strongly opposed the local body's new mandate of registration of builder-buyer agreements after payment of 10% of the price of the residential property. The mandate requires homebuyers to pay 6% stamp duty on payment of 10% of the total cost of the house, which, according to developers, will spell financial burden for buyers. "This would not be a favourable practice, as it imposes an unnecessary financial burden on buyers, who already have to arrange a significant amount at the time of booking," said Manoj Gaur, chairman of the Confederation of Real Estate Developers' Associations of India.

"In other states, the sale agreement is processed on a nominal stamp paper valued between ₹1,000 and ₹10,000, which is not the case here."

Trump doesn't want you to see this movie

After it premiered at Cannes in May, the US president-elect warned filmmakers not to pursue a distribution deal

If you know one thing about the recent Donald Trump biopic The Apprentice, it's likely this: The US president-elect doesn't want you to see it.

The drama, which debuted to mostly positive reviews at the Cannes Film Festival in May, follows a young Trump as he meets — and falls under the spell of — lawyer and political fixer Roy Cohn; brashly courts, then quickly tires of his first wife, Ivana Trump; and becomes single-mindedly obsessed with winning, at everything, at all costs.

Here's what to know about the off-screen saga and the on-screen story.

What does the film portray?

Chronicling Trump's younger years as a New York real estate developer, the movie begins with a 27-year-old Trump meeting Cohn at a swanky New York club in 1973. It follows his bumbling courtship of — then separation from — Ivana and ends with Trump's efforts to distance himself from Cohn, who was suffering from AIDS, as he dies in 1986.

In the film, Trump is portrayed as driven. He courts the assistance of the well-connected Cohn to get himself and his father out of legal trouble when they're sued over racial discrimination in housing. But it also depicts him as vain (he undergoes liposuction and scalp reduction surgery to get rid of a bald spot), callous (he appears indifferent to the suffering of his dying mentor) and cruel (he sexually assaults his wife).

Who is Roy Cohn?

A cutthroat prosecutor and later a defence lawyer, Cohn put dozens of alleged communist sympathisers on trial during the Red Scare of the 1950s. A hardball deal maker who frequently extricated clients — including mafia bosses — from legal jeopardy via insider connections in New York real estate, politics and business, Cohn drove gay government workers out of their jobs while leading a secret gay existence himself.

Cohn was indicted four times on charges of extortion, securities fraud and obstruction of justice, but never convicted. Weeks before he died, he was disbarred for, among other offences, defrauding clients.

Donald Trump's presidential campaign called the film a defamatory work of "pure fiction which sensationalises lies that have long been debunked"

A still from the film 'The Apprentice'

How factual is the film?

It opens with a disclaimer that a few aspects of the story are imagined but notes that most of it is documented.

The reality? While books and articles have speculated about some kind of hair procedure, the president-elect has consistently denied it.

As for the accusation of sexual assault, in her divorce deposition in 1990, Ivana, under oath, detailed the incident by Trump. Journalist Harry Hurt III obtained the testimony and wrote about it in his 1993 book, Lost Tycoon: The Many Lives of Donald J Trump. But she later walked back her claim and said she hadn't intended for her description to be taken literally. Trump has denied the accusation.

How did Trump react to the film?

After it premiered at Cannes in May, he threatened to sue to block its release. A spokesperson for his campaign, Steven Cheung, issued a statement calling it a defamatory work of "pure fiction which sensationalises lies that have long been debunked". Trump's lawyers also sent a cease-and-desist letter warning the filmmakers not to pursue a distribution deal.

Why a baseball star is the 'Mona Lisa of the museum'

Agent Scott Boras indicated Juan Soto may be seeking to top Shohei Ohtani's record $700-million contract because he is three years younger than the Japanese two-way star was when he reached his deal with the Los Angeles Dodgers. [Ohtani's deal contains $680 million in deferred money payable from 2024-43.]

Calling Soto "the Mona Lisa of the museum", Boras said only a handful of players have matched Soto's accomplishments at age 26, mentioning Willie Mays, Hank Aaron and Ted Williams. "He has 15 years more of his prime to offer," he boasted.

While Boras wouldn't publicly discuss specifics of what Soto is seeking, he dismissed the idea of Soto accepting deferred money similar to Ohtani. "I don't think that tax considerations are the focal point when you're talking about a business opportunity where you can make literally billions of dollars by acquiring somebody," he said.

Soto was traded from Washington to San Diego in 2022 after turning down a $440 million, 15-year offer. He was dealt to the New York Yankees last December and hit .288 with 41 homers, 109 RBIs and 128 runs, hitting second in the batting order ahead of Aaron Judge.

The New York Mets is reportedly one of the teams courting the 26-year-old.
