Stun Facts!!

Canada, Oct 17: A video circulating online captures a pack of nine wolves howling near a couple's cabin in Quebec, Canada. Michee Jules, 34, and his wife Maya Jules, 33, were in Quebec in February to celebrate Michee's birthday when they encountered the unexpected sight. Their celebration took a surprising turn as the wolves gathered outside their cabin, howling into the night. Although they had been warned about the presence of wolves in the area, neither expected to see so many right outside their glass-walled retreat. Michee, a photographer from New Jersey, shared with the New York Post, "It was a joyful experience to witness these animals up close." "I have a deep love for animals, and my passion lies in capturing moments of them interacting in their natural environment," he added. The couple stayed in the cabin for a week and reported seeing the wolves on a daily basis. Michee told the media outlet, "I couldn't believe we were lucky enough to see the wolves so close up and so often. When I opened the

According to the International Fund for Animal Welfare, Canada has over 50,000 grey wolves.
