"While crypto currency would be an asset class... I think CBDC is eventually going to transform how cross-border transactions take place... my reading is that it is only a matter of time... there is no way countries across the world can stay away from CBDC," Setty said while addressing participants at the ISB Leadership Summit 2021 on the "Future of banking" here on Saturday.

He pointed out that the introduction of CBDC is expected to throw up many questions such as — what happens to the intermediation role of the bank and also how it will impact the monetary as well as fiscal policies of the country.

In July 2021, RBI deputy governor T Rabi Sankar had stated that introduction of CBDC has the potential to provide significant benefits, such as reduced dependency on cash, higher seigniorage (difference between the value of currency and the cost of producing it) due to lower transaction costs, reduced settlement risk. In fact, central banks across the globe are engaged in exploring CBDCs and a few countries have also introduced proofs of concept as well as pilots on CBDC.

asked states and UTs to strictly monitor and implement measures at district level clusters of new Covid-19 cases, with a particular focus on areas reporting over 10% positivity rate or over 60% bed occupancy on either oxygen support or ICU.

The health ministry has also raised concern over districts with high positivity rate in three states — Mizoram, Kerala and Sikkim.

The three states have eight districts reporting more than 10% positivity.

Besides, 19 districts in Kerala, Mizoram, Arunachal Pradesh, Puducherry, Manipur, West Bengal and Nagaland have been reporting positivity rates between five and 10% in the last two weeks.

"Thus, these 27 districts need to be monitored very closely," health secretary Ra-Jesh Bhushan said in a letter to states and UTs on Saturday.

"In case of any district reporting a surge in cases, or rise in positivity rates, intensive action and local containment as per the containment framework must be initiated," Bhushan said.

The Centre suggested specific containment measures to ensure there is no sudden surge in cases and healthcare systems are not burdened.

The government maintains that at present the health systems are not burdened due to Omicron.

However, there are clusters where cases are increasing rapidly. While Delta continues to be Testing and surveillance interventions include ramping up testing and active case search, testing of influenza-like illness (ILI) and severe acute respiratory infection (SARI) cases through rapid antigen tests (RAT) and re-testing by RT-PCR of symptomatic RAT negative tests.

India sends 1st consignment of med supplies to Af kids' hosp

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: In view of the "challenging humanitarian situation" in Afghanistan, India dispatched humanitarian aid consisting of medical supplies on a return evacuation flight on Saturday. The medicines will be handed over to the representatives of the World Health Organisation (WHO) in Kabul and administered at the Indira Gandhi Children Hospital, Kabul.

The medical supplies were sent on a return flight that had brought 10 Indians and 94 Afghans to Delhi from Kabul on Friday. "The first consignment of medical aid from India arrived to Kabul this morning. 1.6 metric tonne of life saving medicines will help many families in this difficult," tweeted Afghanistan ambassador to India, Farid Mammadzay.

The people were brought under India's Operation Devi Shakti which was launched to evacuate Indians as well as Afghans from Afghanistan following the Taliban takeover of Kabul on

Anti-vaxxers who gave in now scrambling to 'undo' their jab

Mohua.Das@timesgroup.com

At 44, Vishal Hiwale, bravely states that he neither believes in Covid 19 nor the vaccines. Even as two waves of the coronavirus swept through the country; Hiwale held his ground and refused to wear a mask or get inoculated. Fast forward to November, he stands one jab down, one more to go. Meanwhile, 22-year-old Marian Mashraki, whose parents raised her to believe that the best medicine is all natural, after months of deliberation made peace with the needle and is now jabbed with two doses of the vaccine.

In a surprising twist in the pandemic tale, some anti-vaxxers like Hiwale and Mashraki are either getting vaccinated or are planning to. Not because of a change of heart but begrudgingly given the social pressure, stricter curbs and workplace mandates that warn of action against the unvaccinated.

the unvaccinated from availing government schemes," rues Hiwale, describing what drove him to the vaccine camp.

For a newly graduated Mashraki, taking the jab was about getting herself out of a sticky wicket. "When you're brazen about not vaccinating, your peer group ostracises you. Also, access to malls, restau-spects with her anti-vaccine stance were also high. "My parents still don't want it but my brother, who recently got into engineering college, will soon get vaccinated." But even as many vaccine deniers yield to the Covid shot, anti-vaxxers are a hardened bunch who continue to cling to their fixed ideologies. "I don't believe in Covid-19. It's an international
