Lloyds Engineering Secures Naval Equipment Orders Worth Over INR 81 Crores

Lloyds Engineering, a leading provider of advanced engineering solutions, is pleased to announce the acquisition of significant orders for naval equipment, marking an important milestone in the company's growth trajectory. The orders, valued at over INR 81 crores, encompass Ship steering gears System and Ship stabiliser systems, and are slated for execution over the course of three years.

These orders, in respect to new ships being built, signify the company's proactive stance in capturing the increasing demand resulting from the government's heightened defence spending. As new ship orders continue to rise, the orders received by Lloyds Engineering serve as a promising beginning in leveraging the opportunities presented by this trend.

These orders underscore Lloyds Engineering's unwavering commitment to innovation and excellence in the defence sector. They not only signify a substantial revenue boost but also represent the company's strategic shift towards emerging sectors, aligning perfectly with its vision for the future.

Mr. Shreekrishna Gupta, Whole-time Director at Lloyds Engineering Works Ltd, expressed his enthusiasm, stating,

"We are delighted to receive these prestigious orders, which are a testament to our relentless pursuit of excellence and our focus on expanding into new and promising markets.

Lloyds Engineering has always been at the forefront of providing cutting-edge steering gears and stabilizer systems to the naval and defence industry. These orders not only represent a significant addition to our revenue stream but also hold strategic importance, as they include engagements with new clientele, further solidifying our position as a preferred partner in the industry. This achievement is a testament to our dedication and expertise, paving the way for continued growth and success in the years ahead."

With a firm commitment to delivering superior engineering solutions, Lloyds Engineering is well-equipped to meet the demands of these orders and further enhance its capabilities in order execution.
