Wall collapse: Factory owner among 6 held

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE RAJKOT, MAY 20

A DAY after 12 labourers, including three children, were killed in a wall collapse at a salt processing plant in the Halvad town of Morbi, the factory owner, his brother and four employees were arrested

The accused were booked for culpable homicide not amounting to murder. Two other accused were wanted in the case,

Based on a complaint filed by Rajesh Pirana, Halvad police booked Afzal Ghoniya, the owner of the Sagar Chem Food Industries (SCFI) and his brother Waris alias Devo Dhoniya, who looks after administration and stacking and loading of salt bags. The police also booked Rajeshkumar Jain, Kishanram Chaudhary and his brother Atmaram Chaudhary who, too, have stakes in the factory and are associated with the administration. Three supervisors at the factory—Sanjay Khatri, Manoj Sanura and Asif Nurabhai, too, have been booked.

The eight have been booked under IPC Sections 304 (culpable homicide not amounting to murder), 308 (attempt to commit culpable homicide), 114 (abettor

Rajnath urges youths to build a nation rooted in India's heritage

KUNDALDHAM SWAMINARAYAN SECT'S SANSKAR ABHYUDYA YUVA SHIBIR

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE VADODARA, MAY 20

UNION DEFENCE Minister Rajnath Singh Friday urged the youth to work towards nationbuilding by learning lessons from India's heritage. Enlisting the "long tradition" of showing the "path to the world" in the field of Science and Math, Singh said India can be the "leader, guide, and light to the world facing a crisis".

"India has given the world the Zero in Math... Right from Varahamihir, Aryabhata, Brahmagupta, Bodhayan, Charak, Sushruta, Nagarjuna to Sawai Jai Singh, India has led the way in Science. Indian scientist Baudhayan discovered the Pythagoras theorem years before Pythagoras did... The list of India's achievements in science is long but I am only taking a few names.. Today, when we are all working for the creation of a New India, it is important for all of us to understand our heritage... Just like a building cannot be strong without a foundation, a tree cannot grow without roots. Similarly, a nation cannot be built without its cultural legacy," Singh said addressing Defence Minister Rajnath Singh is presented a replica of the Ayodhya temple at the event in Vadodara Friday. Bhupendra Rana the Sanskar Abhyudya Yuva Shibir of the Kundaldham Swaminarayan sect at its Karelibaug premises Vadodara.

The event was Singh's first participation in a Swaminarayan event. He was felicitated with a memento of the upcoming Shri Ram Temple in Ayodhya as well as a statue of Lord Swaminarayan riding a horse. Calling the conclave a "link" to the culture of India, Singh hailed the Swaminarayan sect for being "large-hearted" and narrated an anecdote attributing it to Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

"Narendra Modiji has told us a story about the dedication of the Swaminarayan sect towards serving the society. When he (Modi) was working in Gujarat, a natural calamity struck the state. The government needed food packets to be provided to the affected people. Modiji said that when he approached the Swaminarayan sect, they did not ask him how many packets were needed. They simply asked him at what time he needed the food packets,"

Singh invoked "youth icon" Swami Vivekanand and Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel during his 30minute-long address to drive home the point about "building the character of the youth". 'Sardar Patel has said that the country would not need a single police station if we can build the nation on the character of its people." he noted.

India's diversity has never "come in the way" of its development, the defence minister added. "India is the only country which is home to all 72 firgas (sects) of Islam and also houses one of the oldest churches in the world... This is India's culture. The world is changing and needs to think about reforming human life and India can be a leader. guide, and light to the world through its culture," he said.

At the event, Singh also unveiled the certificate by the Guinness Book of World Records bagged by the head priest of the Kundaldham Swaminarayan sect, Gyanjivandas Swami, for the reciting Haricharitramrut Sagar Katha for LIFITECHNOLOGY — also known as Light Fidelity — provided by Ahmedabad-based NAV Wireless Technologies Pvt Ltd has been satiating the internet broadband needs of Border Security Force (BSF) and tourists at Nadabet, which is the farthest and one of the most secluded points on the India-Pakistan border in Gujarat, since the last nine months.

"Nadabet is located on the border and it is connected by a small road to Suigam (in Banaskantha district) located 30 kilometres away. The saline ecosystem does not allow laying or underground or overhead optic fibre cables. Radio frequencies cannot be used as it is near Pakistan. So state government was facing an issue in providing Internet connectivity to Nadabet which is now being developed as a tourist location," said Hardik Soni, co-founder of the company that has used indigenous LiFI technology to bridge the gap and provide Internet services. LiFi technology uses light beams within visible and invisible spectrum to transmit data over several kilometers.

Fulbright-Nehru Fellowship

Being a wireless technology, it is bidirectional and can transmit data at high speeds.

'Since last nine months, internet provided by this technology is being used by soldiers of BSF and tourists alike. Around 15,000 people visit Nadabet every month and they are able to use the highspeed internet. This is the first big project taken up by the state and central governments to deploy LiFi technology at a spot having difficult terrain and security concerns," Soni said during an interaction with media persons at his office. Suigam being a gram panchayat is connected by a optic fibre cable.

"We have connected the optic fibre cable in Suigam to our LiFi devices in Suigam and Nadabet to provide high bandwidth Internet. There are multiple users and 100 MBPS (megabits per second) will not be sufficient. So this technology provides speeds in gigabytes the official said adding that the telecom infrastructure of BSNL and Gujarat Informatics Ltd is also been used to provide this service.

"We are not the telecom or internet service provider. We only handle the technology and the equipment," he added.

Nadabet is not only an important BSF base, but Gujarat government has been trying to promote
