Kolkata, September 16

Pernod Ricard, the world's second largest spirit-maker, has seen an 11 per cent de-growth in India business for FY20 (ended June 2020). The market, however, witnessed "good resilience" and the company is expecting "sequential recoveries" in off-trade and on-trade channels in the "coming weeks and months".

According to Alexandre Ricard, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Pernod Ricard, the fourth quarter (April-June period) was its "worst" (globally) with "most of the on-trade accounts" being closed; a lot of people were locked down and passenger traffic was "roughly down close to 100 per cent".

Incidentally, the company, in its investor presentation, main-

Three premier Indian technology institutions - IIT Bombay, Gauhati University and the Gandhinagar-based Dhirumbhai Ambani Institute of Information and Communication Technology - have joined hands to develop high-tech sensors for use in agriculture.

These tiny products, placed under the soil, detect parameters such as moisture and temperature and help fine-tune inputs for higher produce. Bosch, for example, has a suite of products for this purpose.

However, the sensors developed by these institutions is more hi-tech and can be hooked on to compatible with
