PM Narendra Modi's love for Khadi

Vinod Chandrashekar Dixit
Free-lance Journalist, Writer & Cartoonist (dixitptrakar@yahoo.in)

We all are aware that for the last several years, our PM Narendra Modi has left no stone unturned to popularize Khadi and create a mass movement where everyone purchases Khadi products, specially on the special day of Gandhi Jayanti. Recently PM Modi inaugurated new Khadi Gramudoy Bhavan in Ahmedabad's 'Khadi Utsav' and said that Khadi instils self respect, can inspire India to become developed nation. Modi has always been promoting Khadi and has also mentioned it in his radio address multiple times. His Mann Ki Baat gives utmost importance of Khadi and its role in the empowerment of the countrymen. He even talked about the growth of the Khadi industry in this year's Independence Day address. According to him poor are getting jobs because the sales of Khadi have increased and the recent data revealed by Khadi and Village Industries Commission (KVIC) backs the claim. In relation with Khadi, Sardar Patel has said that India's freedom lays in Khadi and so does the nation's cultural identity. Our PM himself regularly wears Khadi and has been doing so since the very early days when he was working for the RSS and BJP organisation. He has popularised it among the masses and even among foreign dignitaries, while developing his own styles around khadi. He has given the

Mantra of 'Khadi for nation, Khadi for fashion' - the idea that Khadi can become a symbol of national pride and it would be in the fitness can be popular among the youth. The Khadi and Village Industries Commission (KVIC), is a statutory organisation engaged in promoting and developing Khadi and Village industries created by the Act of Parliament. Khadi refers to a hand-spun and hand-woven cloth. The raw materials may be cotton, silk, or wool, which are spun into threads on a charkha, a traditional spinning implement. Khadi was launched in 1920 as a political weapon in the Swadeshi movement of Mahatma Gandhi. The relevance of Khadi and Village Industries is that they are both labour intensive in nature. In the wake of industrialization, and the mechanization of almost all processes, Khadi and Village industries are suited like no other to a labour surplus country like India. Modi repeatedly says that "When we purchase a Khadi, we are brightening the lives of the lakhs of weavers who toil day and night. Buying a Khadi product is like ushering a Diwali in the homes of the weavers. He feels that khadi is getting wide acceptance in the society for the last decade and it would be in the fitness things for each person to buy at least one pair of khadi dress as the best possible tribute to the Mahatma. Gandhiji was the founder of Khadi, but it was Khadi which inspired Gandhiji at every stage of his life and work. The first inspiration came to him in the year 1908. He returned to India from South Africa on Jan 9th 1915 and started his ashram at Ahmedabad. Here the Khadi became a practical. Khadi became a common factor among the "satyagrah" and served as unifying thread among Indians. It was right called "the livery of freedom". Gandhiji launched the programme of Khadi and village industries as an integral part of the freedom struggle for the economic emancipation of the downtrodden masses of India by providing them with gain full employment and subsistence to them. The Charkha is a powerful symbol that Mahatma Gandhi used during his fight against colonialism and injustice. It stood for self-sustenance and a war against poverty. Mahatma Gandhi strongly advocated the usage of Khadi products. No doubt, today there is greater awareness about Khadi and it can be a powerful means of empowering the poorest of the poor. (B-15 Jyoti-Kalash Society, Jodhpur Tekra, Satellite, Ahmedabad - 380 015)

The Sri Lanka collapse carries lessons for all South Asian governments

When I first met Mahinda Rajapaksa at a conference of women panchayat members at Advhash Kaushal's training institute in Dehradun in the mid-Nineties, he was a modest backbencher in the Sri Lankan parliament with an impassioned interest in local self-government which he believed was the only way to govern his fractious nation. Empowering the people for self-government seemed to be his primary preoccupation. When he became PM, he invited me, as Minister of Panchayat Raj, to Colombo to address a mammoth meeting of elected local government representatives gathered from over the island nation in the impressive Bandaraneke Hall (their equivalent of our Vigyan Bhawan) and obliged most of his cabinet ministers to also attend. This was followed by a detailed interaction with a group of experts he had put together to draft an amendment to the Sri Lankan constitution that drew its inspiration from our 73rd and 74th amendments, initiated by Rajiv Gandhi. While his arch political opponent, Chandrika Bandaraneke Kumaratunga, warned me repeatedly to not trust the old fox, I continued my cordial relationship with Mahinda because I saw no reason to get entangled in the coils of our island neighbour's internal affairs. Soon thereafter, however, Mahinda lost all interest in panchayat raj in Sri Lanka as he became obsessed with terminating — by brutal military action — the ongoing three-decades-long insurgency led by the Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam (LTTE). Once he inducted his brothers, Gotabaya and Basil, into his active circle, the only priority became military action to root out the LTTE, whatever the cost in lives, limb and property to the local Tamil population. This was much applauded by the Sinhala Buddhist population at large. He thought he was now destined to rule his realm forever.

The 2015 elections came to Mahinda as a big blow. Confronted to all his expectations, a combined Opposition, put together largely at Kumaratunga's initiative, led to his defeat, and he retired out of sight and out of touch, growing like an injured tiger. Astonishingly, the Rajapakses returned when splits within the coalition stitched together in 2015-16 by Kumaratunga started unravelling at the seams, offering Gotabaya the opportunity of becoming president in November 2019, followed by elections in August 2020, where Mahinda triumphed overwhelmingly. Drunk with power, Mahinda brazenly set up a government with himself as prime minister; his brother Gotabaya as president; his other brother Basil, as finance minister; and his son, Nimal, as yet another Rajapaksa minister with the sports and youth affairs portfolio.
