Mallya files for permission to appeal against extradition

ADITI KHANNA
 London, February 15

amounting to an estimated ₹9,000 crores, has filed his application in the UK High Court, seeking permission to appeal against an extradition order signed by the British home secretary.

The 63-year-old businessman, who remains on bail on an extradition warrant in the UK, made the application in the administrative court division of the High Court on Thursday, 10 days after home secretary Sajid Javid signed off on the order triggering a 14-day window for his appeal application.

"The application has been sent for a judge on papers decision, which is expected any time between two to four weeks," a UK court representative said.

A "judge on papers" decision will involve a High Court judge determining the merits of the application and if it is accepted, the case will proceed to a "substantive hearing" in the next few months' time.

In the event that Mallya's application is rejected at this stage, he will have the option to submit a "renewal form".

The renewal process will lead to a 30-minute oral hearing during which Mallya's legal team and the Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) — on behalf of the Indian government — will renew their respective claims for and against an appeal for a judge to determine if it can proceed to a full hearing.

The process, to be heard in the Royal Courts of Justice in London, could take months as the listing of a hearing will depend on the availability of judges and other factors.

Following the outcome at the High Court level, both sides could apply for the right to appeal to the Supreme Court, which would involve at least another six weeks. However, that process is more complex as the UK High Court must certify that the appeal involves a point of law of general public importance, and either the High Court or the Supreme Court gives leave for the appeal to be made.

Mallya and his legal team have not made a renewed comment in relation to the appeal but soon after the UK home secretary had signed off on the Westminster Magistrates' Court order in favour of extradition on February 4, the businessman had taken to social media to confirm his plans to seek an appeal.

"After the decision was handed down on December 10, 2018 by the Westminster Magistrates Court, I stated my intention to appeal. I could not initiate the appeal process before a decision by the Home Secretary. Now I will initiate the appeal process," he said in a Twitter statement earlier this month.

The former boss of the now-defunct Kingfisher Airlines took to Twitter again this week to call on Prime Minister Modi to accept his settlement offer in relation to the airline's loan default.
