COLOMBIA
3rd flight of 105 deportees lands

A Colombian Air Force plane landed in Bogota with 105 Colombian nationals deported from the United States, marking the third flight of its kind this week, the Colombian Foreign Ministry said. "Deportees arrived in the morning from San Diego, California," the ministry said in a statement on Wednesday, adding that the government remains committed to ensuring the rights and dignity of citizens abroad. Two previous flights landed on Tuesday, bringing back 201 Colombian nationals in total, reports Xinhua news agency. On January 26, Colombian President Gustavo Petro refused entry of US military planes carrying handcuffed deportees. A high-level meeting was held in Washington to reach an agreement on their safe and dignified return, said the ministry.

al-Sharaa is Syria's interim President

Syria's Military Operations Administration announced the appointment of Ahmed al-Sharaa as President during the transitional period, granting him authority to establish an interim legislative council until a permanent constitution is ratified. Spokesman Hassan Abdel Ghani said al-Sharaa would serve as interim President and represent Syria in international forums. He also announced the immediate dissolution of all military factions and revolutionary political bodies, with their integration into state institutions, Xinhua news agency reported. The announcement came during a "Victory Conference" held in Damascus.

Imran's PTI to observe 'black day' on Feb 8

The Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) has decided to observe 'black day' on February 8 to protest against its 'stolen mandate' in general elections held on February 8 last year and announced a plan to hold a public gathering in Minar-i-Pakistan ground, Dawn reported. The newly appointed Punjab chief party organiser Aliya Hamza has given an application to the Lahore deputy commissioner, requesting for "No Objection Certificate" for the political gathering.

GAZA TRUCE HOLDS | Israel is set to release another 110 prisoners in exchange
Hamas frees 8 more hostages

KHAN YOUNIS (GAZA STRIP)

Hamas-led militants freed eight hostages on Thursday in the latest release since a ceasefire in the Gaza Strip took hold earlier this month. Israel was expected to release another 110 Palestinian prisoners. The release was delayed by a chaotic scene in which a crowd of Palestinians surrounded and jeered at hostages as they were turned over to the Red Cross.

The truce is aimed at winding down the deadliest and most destructive 15-month war ever fought between Israel and Hamas, whose October 7, 2023, attack into Israel sparked the fighting. It was held despite a dispute earlier this week over the sequence in which the hostages were released. The first hostage, a female Israeli soldier Agam Berger, was released in northern Gaza. Hours later, a chaotic scene unfolded as thousands of people pressed around a handover site in the southern Gaza city of Khan Younis, in front of the destroyed home of slain Hamas leader Yahya Sinwar.

Footage showed Arbel Yehoud, a 29-year-old hostage, looking stunned as she was led through the crowd by the militants toward waiting Red Cross vehicles. Hundreds of militants from Hamas and the smaller Islamic Jihad group arrived with a convoy in a show of force, and thousands of people gathered to watch, some from the tilted rooftops of bombed-out buildings. Many in the crowd shouted and surrounded Yehoud as masked militants pushed people away and escorted her through.

Minister Benjamin Netanyahu condemned the "shocking scene" and called on international mediators to prevent similar events in the future. A number of foreign workers were taken captive along with dozens of Israeli civilians and soldiers during Hamas' attack. Twenty-three Thais were among more than 100 hostages released during a week-long ceasefire in November 2023. Israel says eight Thais remain in captivity, two of whom are believed to be dead.

Bill to curb birthright to citizenship

WASHINGTON

A group of Republican Senators has introduced a Bill in the US Senate to restrict birthright citizenship to the children of illegal immigrants and non-immigrants on temporary visas.

According to Senators Lindsey Graham, Ted Cruz and Katie Britt, who introduced the Bill, the exploitation of birthright citizenship is a major pull factor for illegal immigration and a weakness for national security. The US is one of only 33 countries in the world with no restrictions on birthright citizenship, they said. The legislative move comes after an executive order on the matter, signed by President Donald Trump on the first day of his presidency, has been blocked by a federal judge in Washington state. The Center for Immigration Studies estimates that in 2023, there were 2,25,000 to 2,50,000 births to illegal immigrants, amounting to close to 7 per cent of births in the US. It is long overdue for the United States to change its policy on birthright citizenship because it is being abused in so many ways, said Graham. "One example is birth tourism, where wealthy individuals from China and other nations come to the United States simply to have a child who will be an American citizen.

'MINORITY RIGHTS SUPPRESSED'

DHAKA

The Bangladesh Hindu Buddhist Christian Unity Council, country's largest minority rights group, has accused the interim government on Thursday of failing to protect religious and ethnic minorities from attacks and harassment, a claim the government has denied. The minority body accused the Muhammad Yunus interim government of using state institutions to suppress minority groups. In a news conference on Thursday, the council reiterated its claim of earlier attacks and said 174 new incidents of communal violence had taken place between August 21 and December 31 last year.

Virgin birth
Baffling: Swell shark cub born in all-female tank

Agencies

The birth of a baby swell shark born in a Louisiana aquarium that houses only females has flummoxed marine experts. Yoko, the swell shark pup, hatched on January 3 after an egg was spotted by the US aquarium's animal husbandry team eight months ago. The egg could have gone undetected for up to two months prior to that, according to the Shreveport aquarium.

The two female sharks present in the tank had not been in contact with a male for more than three years, the team says. This suggests either a process called parthenogenesis, a rare form of asexual reproduction, or delayed fertilisation may have occurred.

A DNA analysis once the pup is big enough for a blood sample to be taken will determine the truth about the mysterious birth, but that will take months.

"This situation is incredible and shows the resilience of this species," said Greg Barrick, the curator of live animals at Shreveport aquarium. "We are very excited in the coming months to confirm whether this was indeed a case of parthenogenesis or if it was delayed fertilisation." The baby shark - named after the Native American Chumash people's word for shark, "onyoko" - was said to be thriving, although the aquarium acknowledged that sharks born through such reproductive events often face significant challenges. Should Yoko's time with us be short, they said, she will leave an "unforgettable legacy" to the study of shark reproduction and conservation.
