PNC starts filming Season 3 of Four More Shots Please! today

Pritish Nandy Communications starts filming Season 3 of the International Emmy-nominated show Four More Shots Please! from today. The filming of the popular series, declared last year as Amazon's most watched show out of India, got postponed because of restrictions induced by the pandemic and will now start under strict security protocols.

The show created by Rangita Pritish Nandy, PNC's Creative Director, will have noted advertising film maker Joyeeta Patpatia as this season's director. The series is an Amazon Original and will appear on Amazon Prime Video across 200 countries in multiple language dubs and sub-titles.

Yours faithfully,

For Pritish Nandy Communications Limited
