HSBC to buy L&T Investment Management for $425 million

HARRY WILSON
December 23

HSBC HOLDINGS PLC has said it will buy the investment management unit of L&T Finance Holdings for $425 million, the latest push to build up the Asian wealth and investment business that is at the forefront of the bank's turnaround plans.

The lender said it had agreed terms to acquire L&T Investment Management, which had looked destined to be bought by Blackstone after the US fund management group was reported to be exploring a bid.

The purchase comes four months after HSBC agreed a deal to buy AXA Singapore for $575 million. HSBC has said it was looking to make three or four bolt-on acquisitions of around $500 million each.

"This transaction enhances the strength of our business in India and reinforces our status as one of Asia's leading wealth managers," HSBC Chief Executive Officer Noel Quinn said in the statement. "This demonstrates our commitment to the Asia wealth opportunity. We will continue to invest significantly to achieve that goal."

LTIM had assets under management of $10.8 billion and over 2.4 million active accounts as of September, according to the statement. The proposed acquisition will be funded from existing resources.

India has become a key market for HSBC as it looks to expand its operations in Asia, which are already the mainstay of the bank's revenues and profits.

Major UK ESG fund betting big on India

LOUKIA GYFTOPOULOU
December 23

A MAJOR BET on India as a growth market for low-carbon projects just propelled a UK fund to the top of this year's ESG rankings.

The Stewart Investors India Subcontinent Sustainability Fund, which is domiciled in Britain but manages its 442 million pounds ($592 million) of client money from Singapore, returned 31.2% in the year through November, according to Morningstar Inc. data. That's better than any other UK fund using environmental, social and governance investing strategies over the same period, according to Morningstar classifications.

India has a smaller carbon footprint than Europe and the US and is on track to increase investments in infrastructure and manufacturing, according to an analysis provided by Stewart Investors, which oversees a total of $25 billion. That outlook includes significant spending on renewable energy and low-carbon technologies, it said.

According to Sashi Reddy, one of the co-managers of the fund, the economic climate in India means that well-positioned companies stand to "benefit disproportionately," as the country invests in a future that will rely more on renewable energy and less on coal and other fossil fuels.

able energy and less on coal and other fossil fuels.

The biggest holding in the Stewart Investors fund is Tube Investments. The metals company, which makes bikes and is now exploring the market for electric scooters, is owned by Murugappa Group. The fund, which doubled in size during the past year, also has stakes in Aavas Financiers Ltd., a lender to small businesses and consumers, as well as CG Power and Industrial Solutions Ltd., a power-generation designer that was bought last year by Tube Investments.

The Stewart Investors fund is among the few top-performing ESG vehicles to post robust results without relying on tech stocks. At least half the UK's 20 top-returning sustainable funds managing more than 200 million pounds in 2021 had large positions in one or more of the technology behemoths — Microsoft Corp, Amazon.com, Apple or Google parent Alphabet, according to Morningstar and corporate fact sheets. —BLOOMBERG

Marsh ups stake in Indian arm from 49% to 92%

FE BUREAU
Kolkata, December 23

INSURANCE BROKER AND risk advisor Marsh on Thursday announced that it has increased its shareholding in Marsh India Insurance Brokers from 49% to 92%.

As part of the transaction, which has been approved by insurance regulator IRDAI, Marsh has acquired the share from local partners, including the entire shareholding of Rampart Trust. Formed in 2003 as a joint venture between Marsh International Holdings and India-based Rampart Trust, Marsh India was one of the first foreign insurance brokers to be registered as a composite broker with Irda.

Alex Moczarski, chairman of Marsh McLennan International and chairman of the board of Marsh India, said, "This is an exciting investment for Marsh that will further our leadership position in one of the world's most dynamic markets. For our clients, growing supply chain challenges, a heightened cyber threat, and the impacts of the pandemic mean that they need the very best risk and insurance advice to help them navigate an increasingly complex risk landscape. The decision to raise our stake in Marsh India reflects the success we have had, and our ongoing commitment, in bringing the very best in global expertise to support clients in India."

Oil prices stable as positive Covid news balances curbs

SHADIA NASRALLA
London, December 23

OIL PRICES WERE broadly stable on Thursday as signs that the worst effects of the Omicron variant might be more containable than previously feared were countered by new COVID-19 restrictions amid surging infections.

Brent crude futures were up 27 cents, or 0.4%, at $75.56 a barrel at 10:51 a.m. EST (15:51 GMT), after a 1.8% gain in the previous session. U.S. West Texas Intermediate (WTI) crude futures rose 20 cents, or 0.3%, to $72.97 a barrel after jumping 2.3% in the previous session.

"Oil's direction is entirely reliant on Omicron headlines, and as long as they stay more contagious but less virulent, oil's rally is likely to continue, with intra-day ranges exacerbated by thin liquidity," said OANDA market analyst Jeffrey Halley.

Both contracts are set for a third straight day of gains. So far this year, Brent has risen around 46% and WTI 50%.

The big gains on Wednesday were partly spurred by a larger-than-expected drawdown in US crude stockpiles last week.

The US authorised Pfizer's antiviral COVID-19 pill for people aged 12 and older, the first oral and at-home treatment as well as a new tool against the fast-spreading Omicron variant.

Meanwhile, AstraZeneca said a three-dose course of its COVID-19 vaccine was effective against Omicron, citing data from an Oxford University lab study.

On the flip side, governments reimposed a range of restrictions to slow the spread of Omicron.

The Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC), Russia and allies have left the door open to reviewing their plan to add 400,000 barrels per day of supply in January. —REUTERS
