Basis for Qualified Opinion

- a) As described in accompanying Statement, Company has an outstanding demand amounting to Rs. 1,788.27 Lakhs towards Income Tax Department during the financial year. maintained by the management. As during the course of audit, we are not provided stock details quantity-wise details of the stocks. The company deals in the three different segments like: 1) Agricultural Production 2) Agricultural Trading & 3) Jewelry business, hence it becomes mandatory to have quantity-wise details to form an opinion. None-the-less, there is no segment -wise bifurcation provided by the management So here, we are unable to verify the stock.

- c) As described in accompanying Statement, we are unable obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence on the Trade payable and Trade Receivables. The balance mentioned in accompanying Statement for the Trade Receivables and Trade Payable are subject to Balance confirmation.

As mentioned above, these all points have a huge impact on accompanying statement hence, Our audit opinion is modified on these matters.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013 (the Act). Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Results section of our report. We believe that the audit evidence obtained by us is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified audit opinion on the Standalone Financial Statement.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Results

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial results as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial results.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial results, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal controls.

If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial results or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial results, including the disclosures, and whether the financial results represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the standalone financial results of the company to express an opinion on the standalone financial results. We are responsible for the direction, Supervision and performance of the audit of financial information of entities included in the Statement of which we are the independent auditor.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the Standalone financial results that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable users of the standalone financial results may be influenced. We consider Quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the Standalone Financial Results.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Other Matter
