ARNAB DUTTA New Delhi, 9 August

fthe past one-and-a-half years has been challenging enough for the country's electronics and appliances makers, the next two quarters are surely going to test their mettle. With repeated lockdowns, massive loss of sales and a harsh business environment, a large section of the manufacturers has already faced the storm. But the current component shortage, logistics hurdles, steep inflation and a possible third wave of the Covid-19 pandemic are keeping them on their toes.

The industry — spread across categories like to smart and computing devices - accounts for annual sales of over ₹3.5 trillion in India. The pandemic-induced disruptions, however, have impacted revenues of several key segments like air conditioners, refrigerators and televisions even as it provided unexpected impetus to categories such as notebook computers, tablets and smartphones.

Sales of most of the items have recovered since hitting a nadir in mid-2020 during the nationwide lockdown. But after subdued business for over a year, the survival of many fringe players now depends on market traction in coming months.

Take AC makers, for example. After a complete washout in the April-June 2020 quarter — the traditional peak season — sales have recovered to 75 per cent of the pre-pandemic levels in 2021. According to industry veteran B Thiagarajan, managing director of Indian AC major Blue Star, operations have recovered to normal since the unlocking process began in June.

A steep rise in component prices and shortage of shipping containers, however, forced the company to raise prices 11 per cent in the past eight months — in two tranches. Blue Star plans to raise prices again during the festive season. The problem is one that impacts the nature of demand. "The steady rise in prices is pushing consumers towards downgrading." Thiagaraian said.

For other large appliances and electronics categories, the situation is similar. Suguru Takamatsu, head of Consumer Sales Division at the unlocking of economy after the second wave, nected range of ACs, refrigerators washing machines, microwaves and other lifestyle appliances." Even so, Panasonic has incurred losses of 60-65 per cent against sales projections for the June quarter.

Deepak Bansal, vice-president, corporate planning at LG Electronics India, said the company witnessed "a challenging business environment" during the second wave. But with markets reopening in June, the firm has registered good momentum across product categories. "We could register high double-digit growth compared to the first half of 2020," he said. In July, LG's business grew 20 per cent year-on-year.

Meanwhile, Mumbai-headquartered Godrej Appliances has recorded 60 per cent YoY growth last month, after suffering loss of sales in April-

June. According to Kamal Nandi, business head and executive vice-president at the durables maker, the market is now set to grow steadily irrespective of the challenges. With consumers now spending more time at home, their need for larger and superior quality home appliances is a key driver for growth, which he expects will continue in the next two quarters.

In spite of a double-digit spike in prices of all large appliances and electronics, manufacturers are adopting different strategies as they do not expect prices of commodities and components to come down anytime soon.

To keep potential consumers hooked, Godrei personal and household electronics, appliances has lined up a premium and feature-packed range of washing machines and refrigerators. Panasonic is banking on internet of things (IoT) and artificial intelligence-based connected appliances such as ACs, refrigerator, washing machine, Wi-Fi fans and smart digital switches, apart from easy consumer finance options, cash backs and discount deals. In the con-sumertechnology space, the extent of losses this time has been lower, given the demand for notebooks, tablets and smartphones turned essential with most people either working or studying digitally. Industry estimates suggest sales of laptop and computers grew over 15 per cent in the June quarter, compared to the 2019 levels. Apple, traditionally a premium player, registered record sales in India for the June quarter, its CEO Tim Cook said last week.

According to Counterpoint Research, a global tech industry research, analysis and strategic consulting firm, overall shipment of smartphones surged 82 per cent to 33 million units YoY and remained only eight per cent lower than 2019 levels as a severe chipset shortage and lockdowns impaired most manufacturers from supplying enough quantities.

According to smartphone and smart TV manufacturers, the supply shortage of chipsets and display panels has already forced them to raise prices trice in the past one year but the trend is expected to continue as India is completely dependent on imports.

However, most leading players such as Xiaomi, Oppo, Realme, Samsung and Apple, with Panasonic India, a full-range player, said, "With an omni-channel presence, are less worried about a probable third Covid-19 wave disrupting we are witnessing a gradual rise in demand for operations again. Madhav Sheth, vice-president our value-proposition appliances such as smart of Realme and CEO of Realme India, earlier told Rusiness Standard that despite ch expects to grow by 10-15 per cent YoY. The large appliance makers are hopeful, too. "We are very bullish about good sales as we can already see revival in the overall business environment," said LG's Bansal.

Godrej's Nandi expects to grow over 20 per cent during the festive months that contribute about 30 per cent to annual sales. "Things are gradually returning to normal, with more than 95 per cent of the market now open," he said. "We are already seeing a positive trend in consumer demand this month, and we anticipate that, like other industries, consumer durables will see strong demand in the coming months, with the festive season round the corner."

ON THE JOB

Migration from factories to farms

he reverse migration of labour from factories to farms that CMIE's Consumer Pyramids Household Survey (CPHS) has been chronicling for long is also reflected in the government's Periodic Labour Force Survey (PLFS). The latest PLFS report shows a sharp increase in employment in agriculture from 42.5 per cent of the total employment in 2018-19 to 45.6 per cent in 2019-20. This shift of labour to agriculture is larger than estimated by CPHS. Such a large shift of labour in favour of agriculture cannot be voluntary. It is a sign of distress in the labour market where non-agricultural sectors are unable to provide employment, and labour is therefore forced to shift to agriculture. The forced or at least involuntary nature of this migration is evident from the wages data provided by the PLFS. Salaried jobs provide wages of the order of ₹16,780 per month. Selfemployment provides wages of the order of ₹10,454 per month. These translate into wage rates of ₹558 per day and ₹349 per day, respectively. In comparison, casual labour. which is the type of employment provided by agriculture, yields much lower wages — of the order of ₹291 per day. Labour would not voluntarily shift to this lowest wage-rate sector unless it had no better option.

wage safety net for labour during times of distress in India. In fiscal 2019-20, real GDP growth declined to 4 per cent. This was the lowest growth rate since the global financial crisis more than a decade earlier in 2008. PLFS estimates are for a 12-month period from July 2019 through June 2020. It, therefore, includes the period when India suffered the first Covid-19 wave around April-June 2020. The sharp fall in growth before the pandemic and then the pandemicinduced lockdown could have squeezed labour out of nonfarm jobs, who then had no option but to fall back on agriculture. Arguably, this safety net provided by agriculture reduces the political pressure that widespread loss of jobs could have created had such a large contingency destination in the farmlands not existed.

The biggest increase in employment in 2019-20 was in agriculture and within agriculture, the increase was largely among women. Nearly 60 per cent of all employed women were engaged in agriculture. This shows the domination of the poor quality of employment that women get in India.

The PLFS estimate of 45.6 per cent of the working population being employed in agriculture is much higher than CPHS's estimate of 38 per cent because the PLFS definition of employment is highly relaxed. The readily available PLFS estimates on distribution of the workforce by industry is based on the Usual Status definition, which effectively considers a person to be employed during a year even if the person were to be employed only for a month of labour to in that year. Such a presentation by Current Weekly Status, which is less relaxed, is not where nonreadily available. The definition of employment in CPHS is far more stringent. Even increase in the share of agriculture in total employment — from 35.3 per cent in 2017-18 to 36.1 per cent in 2018-19, and then to 38 per cent in 2019-20. Thus, while PLFS records a 3.1 percentage point increase in labour into agriculture, CPHS estimates a much smaller increase of 1.9 percentage points.

in 2019-20. This is partly Toensure comparability, CPHS estimates presented here also refer to the July-June year.

> The rise in share of agriculture in employment raises a question on the sectors that are losing employment, According to the PLFS, the losers are manufacturing, construction and transport, storage and communication.

Such a large shift agriculture cannot be voluntary. It is a sign of distress in the labour market agricultural sectors are unable to provide employment saw the biggest fall CPHS has recorded a steady (0.9 percentage points). The next largest loser is construction (0.5 percentage points). And then transport, storage and communication (0.3 percentage points). These three account for a little over half of the increase in the share of employment in agriculture. The rest is mostly accounted

It can be conjectured from the above that large parts of employment from the relatively unorganised construction sector and the unorganised manufacturing sector moved into agriculture. We estimate that nearly 60 per cent of the employment in manufacturing industries is in the unorganised sector. It is labour from here that migrated into agriculture.

We know anecdotally that the manufacturing sector and the construction sectors waited for the migrant workers to return to work. But, 2020-21 (July to June) panned out differently. This period saw the second wave of Covid-19. India reacted differently to the second wave. CMIE's CPHS tells us that 2020-21 saw a continuation of the reverse migration to agriculture. The share of agriculture in total employment jumped to 39.4 per cent in the year from 38 per cent in 2019-20. More importantly, the share of manufacturing dropped sharply from 9.4 per cent to 7.3 per cent. But, construction has recovered. Its share in total employment, which had fallen from 15.4 per cent in 2018-19 to 13.5 per cent in 2019-20, shot up to 15.9 per cent in 2020-21.

Apparently, government efforts to boost manufacturing through production-linked incentives or liquidity support to medium and small scale enterprises have not been effective in stemming the decline of manufacturing in India.

There's considerable uncertainty about that. नई दिल्ली = एजेंसियां/डेस्क दिल्ली हाईकोर्ट में याचिका दायर करके दिल्ली के पुराना नांगल की नौ वर्षीय दुष्कर्म पीड़ित दलित बच्ची की पहचान उजागर करने पर कांग्रेस नेता राहुल गांधी के खिलाफ एफआईआर दर्ज करने की मांग की गई है। राहुल गांधी ने पीड़ित बच्ची के माता-पिता से बात करते हुए उनकी तस्वीर ट्वीट की थी।

यह याचिका मकरंद सुरेश म्हाडेलकर ने दायर की है। याचिका में कहा गया है कि राहुल गांधी ने पीड़ित बच्ची के माता-पिता से मिलने का फोटो ट्विटर पर अपलोड कर जुवेनाइल जस्टिस एक्ट और पॉक्सो एक्ट के प्रावधानों का उल्लंघन किया है। याचिका में कहा गया है कि राहुल गांधी को

पीड़ित बच्ची के माता-पिता की पहचान को उजागर करने पर पॉक्सो एक्ट की धारा 23(2) के तहत छह महीने से एक साल तक की कैद होनी चाहिए। याचिका में जुवेनाइल जस्टिस एक्ट की धारा 74 के तहत एफआईआर दर्ज करने की मांग की गई है।

उल्लेखनीय है कि पिछले दिनों पुराना नांगल के एक श्मशान घाट पर वाटर कुलर से पानी पीने पहुंची नौ साल की दलित बच्ची की दुष्कर्म के बाद हत्या कर दी गई थी। इस घटना के बाद राहुल गांधी उसके परिवार वालों से मिलने पहुंचे थे। उन्होंने अपने ट्विटर अकाउंट से पीड़ित बच्ची के माता-पिता से मिलने वाली तस्वीर डाली।

इस मामले पर राष्ट्रीय बाल अधिकार संरक्षण आयोग ने संज्ञान लेते हुए पिछले 4 अगस्त को राहुल गांधी का ट्वीट हटाने का आदेश दिया था। इस आदेश के बाद ट्विटर ने राहल गांधी का ट्विटर अकाउंट सस्पेंड कर दिया था। याचिका में कहा गया है कि राहुल गांधी ने इस घटना का लाभ उठाने की कोशिश के तहत ये कार्य किया। याचिका में राहुल गांधी के खिलाफ एफआईआर दर्ज करने की मांग की
