Banks Eye One Social, Climate Framework

Plan to include environment in risk management policy

Dheeraj Tiwari
@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: Banks are looking to create a common framework for environmental, social and governance (ESG) issues while carrying out credit assessment and include climate risk as part of their risk management policy.

Bank on 'em
Common framework for ESG to be part of credit assessment

IBAs to coordinate for a common framework

SBI has initiated discussions on devising an internal framework

Investors/lenders seek ESG policy of cos before investing

A senior executive told ET that the Indian Banks' Association (IBA) is looking into the matter.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi said on Monday at the COP26 global climate summit that India will meet a target of net zero emission by 2070.

"Already international investors have started demanding information about the ESG policy of the companies before investing into the equity and liability products. The time is conducive to decide about the ESG framework for Indian banking," he said on condition of anonymity, adding that companies are aligning their policies with the commitment their countries are agreeing to.

Another executive, who did not wish to be identified either, said, "Right now we are looking at whether to follow the best practices followed across the globe and leave it to the individual banks to decide on adoption of policy best suited to them or create a framework and give it to member banks to build on."

Experts said banks need to plan in accordance with the country's climate goals, and that managing climate risk for a sustained growth is what the ESG framework ensures.

"Banks, being a conventional provider of debt capital, also want climate risk mitigated for sustained growth and recovery of capital," said Dinesh Anand, national managing partner, Risk & ESG at Grant Thornton Bharat.

Another senior banker said already some lenders are following their individual policies at some level and that there needs to be an agreement on the common metrics before attempting to implement them.

"The effects on risk assessment need to be understood and it may take some time to arrive at a consensus," he said.

Last month, the chairman of the country's largest bank, State Bank of India (SBI), Dinesh Kumar Kharia, had said the bank was also in the process of identifying climate risks that have the potential to generate a substantive change in business.

"The bank acknowledges the increasing risk of climate change embedded in its credit portfolio and has initiated the process for devising a framework for climate risk management in this regard," Kharia had said.

For loans exceeding Rs 50 crore, borrowers are assigned scores based on their performance on various ESG parameters.

'SBI Ex-chairman Arrest Sub Judge, Govt Can't Intervene'

Arrest on plaint filed by loan defaulter, not by probe agencies'

Our Bureau

New Delhi: The government is seized of the arrest of former State Bank of India chairman Pratibha Chaudhuri in a non-performing loan settlement case, but feels any official intervention is not possible at this stage as the matter is before court, people very close to the development told ET.

Moreover, the arrest is on a complaint filed by a loan defaulter and not by government investigation agencies, they said.

In this case, the due process of law would have to be followed and there is very little the government can do. On the larger issue of protection to bankers on bona fide business decisions, the officials said "The new accountability framework that will come into effect next April will further strengthen their protection."

Chaudhuri was arrested by the Rajasthan Police on Monday on a complaint from a loan defaulter in an over decade-old secured-loan case. He was arrested from his Delhi residence and taken to Jaisalmer on Monday. His bail application was rejected by the local magistrate.

"The government is seized of the matter ... but there is nothing that can be done as the case is now sub-judice," said an official, adding that the due process of law would have to be followed.

Also, in this case no government agencies are involved directly or indirectly or government sources said. The arrest is by the local police on a complaint filed by a borrower.

The arrest relates to the 'Garh Rajwada' hotel project in Jaisalmer, financed by SBI in 2007. The account had become a non-performing asset category in June 2010. SBI sold the loans to Alchemist Asset Reconstruction Co (ARC) in March 2014 after Chaudhuri had retired.

Chaudhuri later became chairman of Alchemist ARC. "It transpires now that the borrower had initially filed an FIR with the state police against the sale of the asset to the ARC. Aggrieved against the negative closure report filed by police authorities, the borrower had filed a 'protest petition' before the CJM court," SBI said in a statement.

Bankers have voiced concern that such events would undermine decision-making.

"The government has put in place systems to protect bankers from action in the case of bona fide decisions, the official said.

The new Accountability Framework for NPA Accounts upto Rs 50 crore (other than fraud cases) will become effective April 1, 2022. It will ensure bankers are not investigated for bona fide commercial decisions that went wrong.

Govt, Flipkart Tie Up to Sell Artisans' Goods

Our Bureau

New Delhi: The rural development ministry has tied up with Flipkart to sell products made by millions of artisans under the Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihood Mission (DAY-NRLM) programme on the country's leading e-commerce platform.

"This MoU will enable rural women to sell their products to more than 1 crore of Flipkart's customers," rural development minister Giriraj Singh said on Tuesday.

He said rural products from self-help groups (SHGs) have huge potential of acceptance among the masses in India and abroad and e-commerce platforms will prove to be an effective tool to harness it. "We are identifying and collaborating with all possible partners who can contribute to this cause, and partnership between DAY-NRLM and Flipkart will help in the process."

The ministry in a statement said this move will help empower local businesses and SHGs, especially those led by women. The MoU is a part of Flipkart Samarth programme. It aims to provide skilled yet underserved communities of craftsmen, weavers and artisans with national market access through the e-commerce marketplace, and offer them dedicated support for knowledge and training.
