Ahmedabad city from tomorrow (Monday) and the night curfew that was enforced in Vadodara, Rajkot and Surat since Saturday will continue."

The three-member central team visiting Gujarat to assess the Covid-19 situation held an extended meeting with the chief minister and Deputy Chief Minister Nitin Patel in Gandhinagar where it expressed "satisfaction" over initiatives and efforts taken by the state government to control the spread of the infection.

Urging people not to panic, Rupani said the state government has ensured adequate beds in hospitals, deployed additional teams of doctors and made all arrangements.

The Chief Minister said coronavirus cases has increased not only in Gujarat but in different states and cities after the festival and the government had to take an immediate decision to implement curfew in Ahmedabad so that the number does not go up further. Requesting people, especially youngsters, to follow the night curfew, Rupani said, "I request the youngsters to follow the curfew strictly. If infected, you will get well soon but if you go home with the infection and pass on to your elders, it will be difficult for them to recover."

Prior to the meeting with the CM, the central team led by director of National Center for Disease Control (NCDC) in New Delhi, Dr Sujeet Kumar Singh, NCDC additional director Dr Jain and pulmonologist at Dr Ram Manohar Lohia Hospital, Dr Kaushik, visited Ahmedabad, Vadodara and Mehsana to take stock of the situation.

"The central team expressed satisfaction over the successful experiment of Dhanvantari Rath in Gujarat and said that this model could be adopted in other states as well. Dr Singh also praised home isolation, area-specific surveillance and systematic monitoring in Gujarat. The team was fully satisfied with linking the house-to-house survey with the Dhanvantari Rath that helps in tracing and treatment follow-up that has largely controlled community transmission," a statement released by the state government stated.

"The adult care (AMC's Vadil Sukhakari Sewa) initiative for high risk vulnerable population is also to be appreciated. Also, the use of technology through CM's dashboard in addition to Arogya Setu and ITHIAS app that have been effectively used for contact-tracing and managing hot spots in advance in a planned manner, to monitor and co-ordinate at state and district level has been implemented in Gujarat... an initiative that can be taken forward," Dr Singh said in a video message.

"Dr Singh also said that the examples of patients in Gujarat who have benefited from yoga-pranayama and AYUSH methods in post-Covid conditions can also be spread to other states and the need for this ancient method should be widened," it added.

Chief Minister Vijay Rupani briefed the team in detail on all initiatives taken to control the spread of Covid-19, including regular meetings and co-ordination with private hospitals.

The team took feedback from the Accredited Social Health Activists (ASHA) workers, female health workers as well as citizens.

2,000 home guards were deployed across the city to ensure strict adherence to the curfew restrictions, officials said.

The curfew, announced by the state government Thursday due to rising Covid-19 cases, will remain in effect till 6 am Monday. The government allowed people associated with essential services to commute during the curfew. Relaxations were also extended to rail and air passengers and exam aspirants to reach test centres.

"Among the 351 people arrested, 43 were held under IPC Section 188 (disobedience to order given by public servant), 27 under Epidemic Diseases Act and 281 under Disaster Management Act as mentioned in the guidelines issued by the Union Home Ministry amid the pandemic. In total, 349 FIRs were lodged on Saturday and Sunday," a statement released by Ahmedabad Police on Sunday read. The police also penalised 160 vehicle drivers and collected Rs 11.63 lakh in fine for violation of lockdown rules.

Pvt hospitals frame Covid admission criteria, comorbidities top the list

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
AHMEDABAD, NOVEMBER 22

AFTER THE Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation (AMC) accused them of creating an "artificial shortage" of beds, private hospitals in the city laid down admission criteria for Covid patients.

As per the five-point criteria for admission released by the Ahmedabad Hospitals and Nursing Homes Association (AHNA), people above 60 years of age, with co-morbidities or associated medical conditions such as hypertension, diabetes, heart conditions-IHD or cardiomyopathy, those with post-transplant issues, malignancy, chronic kidney disease, obesity, chronic liver disease, HIV, chronic neurological condition, etc., and those on immunosuppressive therapy or steroids have been listed under the top criteria.

AHNA president Dr Bharat Gadhavi said that after a telephonic communication with additional chief secretary forest and environment, Rajiv Kumar Gupta, who is in charge of Covid situation in Ahmedabad, the association had an emergency meeting with city's Covid experts Sunday to finalise the criteria for admitting Covid patients in the designated Covid care facilities.

The second criteria has patients with persistent fever more than 101 F for more than three days followed by those with oxygen saturation (SPO2) less than 94 per cent on room air, irrespective of age.

The move comes after the Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation accused private hospitals of creating an 'artificial shortage' of beds

The other admission criteria includes patients with significant breathing discomfort and increased respiratory rate irrespective of age and those with features suggestive of non-lung complications such as drowsiness and chest pain, irrespective of age.

Clarifying that the final decision regarding admission is of the treating doctor and these will remain broad guidelines as it is "difficult to list all the conditions for which admission may be required", AHNA stated adding that details are being informed to the general public.

After a review meeting chaired by Rajiv Kumar Gupta, especially to access the bed situation in city's Covid hospitals, Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation (AMC) stated that a few private hospitals were admitting patients with sufficient saturated oxygen levels and do not require admission.

"Such a practice of filling beds is illegal and unethical. AMC is well aware about the names of these hospitals. They are advised and informed to stop immediately the practice of creating an artificial shortage of beds," a statement released by AMC mentioned.

"In some cases, relatives of patients have been forcing hospitals to admit patients with mild and low infection," AHNA president Dr Bharat Gadhavi told this paper, adding that bed availability has become an issue as Ahmedabad has been witnessing a surge in Covid cases for the past few days.

This was brought to the notice of Ahmedabad Medical Association (AMA) office-bearers, directing that such hospitals should be alerted immediately and no such unethical activity should be allowed in the present situation, AMC stated.

On the accusation of creating an "artificial shortage" of beds by private hospitals, AMA president Dr Kirit Gadhavi told The Indian Express, "When there is crisis of beds and long queues of patients, why would hospitals do it?"

He added that private hospitals were nearly 98 per cent full. However, as per pulmonologists, this wave is not that critical as we are witnessing a very low death rate, Dr Gadhavi added.

AHNA has also made standard protocols for treatment of patients with injectable anti-virals at home or in a day care setting and the same has been made available to the treating doctors.

The AMC is also planning to add around 10 more hospitals to its existing list of 77 private hospitals designated for Covid care. It has also directed private hospitals to admit all infected members of the same family in one hospital.

BJP to cancel all public events

Gandhinagar: As parts of Gujarat are battling a surge of Covid-19 cases, state BJP president CR Paatil Sunday asked all party leaders and workers not to hold any public event till further instructions. In a statement issued from the party's media cell, Paatil also instructed them to cancel all their future public functions.

The development came in the wake of two public functions, attended by senior minister Saurabh Patel and party's newly elected MLA Atmaram Parmar, facing criticism. Gujarat BJP has already deferred its Chintan Baithak that was to be attended by Paatil, the Chief Minister and the Deputy CM. ENS
