Govt may mandate use of green steel for making luxury cars

MAKING A START. The suggestion is still on the drawing board, an official said.

Abhishek Lax New Delhi

The government is toying with a proposal to make it mandatory for automobile companies, including luxury car manufacturers such as Audi or BMW, to procure green steel for premium or ultra high-end models.

Additionally, the proposal - which has been put forward as a suggestion - aims to promote use of green steel, characterised by low-carbon emissions during production in government projects.

An official aware of the discussions said the recommendation is that premium car makers or luxury manufacturers should utilise green steel, particularly for the high-end products. The broad rationale is that the demand for premium or luxury vehicles is less sensitive to price fluctuations resulting from technological changes.

"If not in full, part of the supplies for high-end offerings or luxury cars should include green steel. But right now, this is a suggestion still on the drawing board. Let's say it is a recommendation which is being heard," the official told.

In general, there is no specific definition of 'green steel'. It refers to the metal produced using methods that have minimal carbon emission which include use of hydrogen, renewable sources of power, and use of recycled scrap.

"Green steel will come at a premium. But, the argument put forward is as usage increases and more steel makers adopt low carbon-emitting tech, the premium on steel will come down. Apart from luxury cars, the government will also look at the possibility of procurement across its own projects so that the manufacturing facilities in India become commercially viable and there is an incentive to invest too," the official said.

EUROPEAN EXAMPLE

European car makers like Volkswagen are partnering with Salzgitter AG to source green steel. Volkswagen plans to use the low-CO2 steel from the end of 2025 across important future projects.

Mercedes-Benz AG became the first car manufacturer to take an equity stake in Swedish start-up H2 Green Steel as a way to introduce CO2-free steel into series production.

BMW and Ford are also exploring introduction of green steel as a part of their supply chains. The latter has a supply tie-up after 2030 with Tata Steel's Dutch arm (Netherlands unit) at a no specified quantity and price, apart from tie-ups with ThyssenKrupp and Salzgitter. The former has tie-ups in Europe and now also in China and the US.

E-way bill generation drops significantly to 9.66 crore in April

Shikhar Saha New Delhi

After an all-time in March, e-way bill generation dipped to 9.66 crore in April. This could have some impact on Goods and Services Tax (GST) collection for May, which will be made public on June 1.

Traditionally, March has been recording very high e-way bill generation on account of fiscal year inventory clearing exercise. However, first month of fiscal year sees lesser movement of goods, thus affecting e-way bill generation.

In March, 10.35 crore e-way bills were generated and GST collection in April touched an all-time high of ₹2.10-lakh crore. In March last year, e-way bills were 9.09 crore, a record at that time, and collection in April was ₹1.87-lakh crore, an all-time high at that time. However, in April last year, e-way bill generation dropped to 8.44 crore, and consequently, collection in May slipped to ₹1.57-lakh crore.

In FY24, barring November, e-way bill generation was more than nine crore between August and March.

Also, the last seven out of 12 months saw more than nine crore bill generations and two out of these seven months recorded 10 crore plus. Experts believe though e-way bills have long been present in the indirect tax space, the linkage with e-invoicing under the GST regime and the moving squads enforcing implementation have resulted in corresponding supplies being brought under the GST net.

Relief unlikely for OEMs with pre-deadline stocks

Original equipment manufacturers are seeking benefits under FAME scheme

NEW DELHI, 8 May

The Centre is unlikely to provide relief to original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) in selling vehicles manufactured before March 31 to qualify for benefits under the Faster Adoption and Manufacturing of Electric Vehicles (FAME) scheme.

Despite appeals from industry stakeholders, the ministry of heavy industries (MHI) will not change its stance, said sources.

"No relief could be provided to OEMs because the timeline was clear from the inception of the scheme," said a senior official inside the ministry.

Under the FAME capex, ₹1,271 crore remains unutilised. The government by the OEMs is based on this leftover amount, a consortium of OEMs has appealed to the Ministry of Heavy Industries (MHI), requesting an extension. This could facilitate the sale of their FAME-compliant vehicles manufactured before March 31, 2024.

The OEMs put forth their argument, highlighting that these vehicles were produced with a focus on meeting FAME

SEEKING INCENTIVES

- OEMs want incentives for all vehicles produced till March 31
- Manufacturers argue that they made vehicles keeping incentives in mind
- OEMs emphasise higher manufacturing costs due to compliance with FAME scheme guidelines
- They have the option to either sell at a loss or recall products to reconfigure with cheaper imported parts incentives and utilising indigenous components. They had higher manufacturing costs compared to their non-FAME-compliant counterparts.

The EV manufacturing aid adheres to the FAME scheme's timeline and programme guidelines, which mandated a 40 per cent localisation requirement. This allowance significantly lowered the manufacturing costs of their vehicles.

The OEMs also contended that if they were to sell vehicles manufactured until March 31, they would incur losses of around ₹20,000 on each e2w and ₹10,000 on each e4w.

Industry sources said that all major OEMs, including Mahindra, Ola, and Sekai Mobility, GLA, and others, had approached the government seeking relief. "We are faced with the dilemma of either selling at a loss or recalling our products from dealers and reconfiguring them with cheaper imported parts to maintain cost competitiveness," said a source from one of the major e2w companies, FAME II commenced in April 2019 with an outlay of ₹10,000 crore for a period of three years but was extended to March 2024. However, the government has clarified that there will not be another phase of the scheme beyond March deadline. On March 13, the Centre also announced a new scheme called Electric Mobility Promotion Scheme (EMPS), 2024. It is aimed at fostering compliance with phased manufacturing programme guidelines, which man-
