PRESS RELEASE

Cyient Receives Modern Network Management Award at Esri Infrastructure Management and GIS Conference

Hyderabad, October 11, 2023: Cyient, a global Digital, Engineering and Technology solutions company, received the Modern Network Management Award at the 2023 Esri Infrastructure Management and GIS (IMGIS) Conference held in Palm Springs, California on October 10.

Esri is the global leader in location intelligence with a network of over 2800 partners worldwide. The award winners are organizations that have demonstrated innovative and creative ways to solve complex problems by using Esri's ArcGIS software and those who have done exceptional work in advancing geographic information systems (GIS) technology. Cyient was one of 15 Esri partners who received an achievement award at the conference.

"Cyient is honored to receive the Modern Network Management award from Esri. We have worked diligently to create solid data foundations for our utility partners. This award reiterates our commitment and innovations in using the Esri Utility Network platform for our customers. In these fast-moving and challenging times, we find that utilities are extending their GIS capabilities to many new areas of their operation. By building a solid data network, our utility partners can creatively solve new and existing use cases with confidence that their data is accurate. This data foundation supports their projects and will strengthen their move to digitize, modernize, and decarbonize while meeting company goals," said Herman Kleyhans, Senior Vice President & BU Head - MEU

"Esri congratulates Cyient on their 2023 IMGIS award in recognition of their innovative work leveraging ArcGIS software," said Richard Cooke, Corporate Director and SVP Global Business Development at Esri. "We are proud to partner with Cyient to foster the use of GIS technology to support our mutual customers improving infrastructure."
