VOCATIONAL COURSES FROM CLASS 6, BUT CITY SCHOOLS CLUELESS!

PUSHPITA CHATTERJEE / Mumbai

According to a proposal announced in May of this year, students of class 6 and up in government and aided schools in Maharashtra were said to begin receiving vocational education in the current academic year in line with the National Education Policy of 2020. City schools, on the other hand, are either unaware of the issue or still awaiting information even a month after reopening.

According to the plan, the National Council of Educational Research and Training was to provide detailed guidelines for these vocational courses. However, no such aid has reportedly reached city government and aided schools.

Rizwana Satare from Anjuman E Islam in Fort said "No such notice has been issued to us yet. Only classes 9th and 10th however are learning mechanical, AI and electrical courses after 'Atal Lab' was sanctioned to them in 2021, also in collaboration with Elphinstone Technical College." Most schools promptly acknowledged teaching vocational subjects to classes 9 and 10 which was a scheme initiated in the vear 2021 however schools remain to be clueless about also introducing to classes 6 and beyond.

SM Corporation Urdu School, Bhiwandi too reiterated the fact that no such classes have been introduced in their school.

Rajlakshmi Chettiar from Adarsh Vidyalaya, Chembur said "Salam Mumbai Foundation had their induction session for classes 8 and 9 and will continue coming twice a week. For classes 6 and 7 they intend to begin

"We have been asked to arrange rooms for students to undergo vocational training," added Vidya Verma, a teacher at Jayantilal Vaishnav Vidyalaya, Ghatkopar.

Another teacher Gulabdas Achutra from Tilak Nagar Hindi Secondary school too said, "We have been teaching electronics and hardware to our students since 2021. For classes 6 and onwards we have no intimation."

Multiple attempts were made to contact Kailash Pagare, State Project Director, Samagra Shiksha to inquire about the introduction of vocational courses for grades 6 and above, but no

Cut-offs rise in third round, no seat yet for 87,000

MUSAB QAZI / Mumbai

The students hoping to find a seat at one of the popular junior colleges in the city were left disappointed as the admission cut-offs went up a few notches instead of dropping down in the third round of admissions.

There was a slight increase in the minimum required scores at most of the soughtafter junior colleges across the three academic streams namely Arts, Science Commerce, with some of the colleges recording much higher cut-offs compared to the second round of the Centralised allotted seats in their junior college of choice, leaving more than 87,000 candidates without a seat. These students will now have to try their luck in the special CAP rounds that will follow the regular rounds.

Of the total allotments in this round, 16,979 candidates (around 30%) got their first choice of college, making it mandatory for them to confirm their seats. Failing to do so will cost them a chance to participate in the next one admission. However, if the past CAP rounds are any indication, a large section of candidates

According to principals, most of the students prefer to keep trying for better opportunities instead of confirming their seats early on. Many of the students keep changing the order of preference after every round, resulting in a prolonged admission process and often loss of allotted seats.

IIT Bombay plans to mentor rural girls in STEM field

STAFF REPORTER / Mumbai

In the latest news coming from IIT Bombay, some are for women who work in Science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM). IIT Bombay has introduced an outreach initiative called WISE - which stands for Women in Science Engineering from Rural Parts of India). This is about combating the gender ratio within STEM courses.

The first event under the programme, which will now be an annual affair, was held recently. According to reports, along with aiming for rural girls studying in the ninth grade, this initiative also aims to introduce STEM courses. Besides that, the course is inclusive of a periodical mentorship structure through which student volunteers at IIT Bombay will follow up with the girls.

The first event, which was held between May 22 and 26, had a total schools studying in the rural parts Maharashtra, Bihar, and Odisha at the IIT Bombay campus. Students got an opportunity to stay at the campus for a week - in Hostel 15 – and got a special peep

Following that, girls had an intensive schedule which included hands- on experiments at various labs from the institute. Exercises ranged from building a simple light bulb circuit to a complex FM radio, building various sensor and actuator circuits controlled by a simple microprocessor, and working on a remote-controlled rover robot from scratch. The schedule is also packed with motivational interaction sessions with inspiring women in STEM fields.

Shivstuti Sambhare, one of the participants, said, "I am good at Mathematics. But I was not sure how one would make a career in days from the date of receipt of the said Notice.

program as I got to meet a professor of Mathematics at IIT Bombay. She shared how she was also good at mathematics in her school life and decided to study engineering. I will now appear for the JEE for engineering admission.

Sunita Gund, her teacher at the Jawahar Navodaya Vidyalaya in Sangli, said, "Even if ten of the girls take up STEM, this program will be successful. But what is more rewarding is how it has been able to broaden their horizons. Children who were thinking of taking up job-oriented, vocational courses are certainly rethinking their paths. These girls have been able to relate with inspiring personalities, some of whom also had rural backgrounds. We could see a great difference in the level of confidence among students after the visit to IIT Bombay."

Admission Process (CAP). At HR College, Churchgate, which is famous for Commerce, the admissions closed at a whopping 98.2%, up from 93% and 93.4% cut-offs in the first and second rounds of admission. The college had only two seats left to be filled, resulting in an intense competition. Similarly, the cut-offs for all three branches at KC Col-Churchgate, crossed 95%. In the earlier rounds, the Arts and Science cut-offs hovered around 86-87%, while Commerce had closed around 91%.

At St Xavier's College, Fort, the minimum required score for the Arts stream touch 96%, up from 93.8% and 94.6%, respectively. RA Podar College in Vile Parle, saw its Commerce cut-off rise by around four percentage points to reach 97%.

While there were over 1.44 lakh students in contention in the third and the final regular round, only 57,147 were getting the most preferred junior college choose to wait for subsequent rounds.

According to principals, most of the students prefer to keep trying for better opportunities instead of confirming their seats early on. Many of the students keep changing the order of preference after every round, resulting in a prolonged admission process and often loss of allotted seats.

Anushree Principal, Ruia Matunga, said, "It appears that students have learned the admission system. They don't take admission in the earlier round and wait till the end."

"The students take a risk in the hopes of getting a seat in one of the top colleges. However, this gamble often fails to pay off for majority of them and they are left running around to get a seat somehow," said Pooja Ramchandani, Principal, HR College.
