Quote

“Before presenting the traditional performance highlights of your company during financial year 2018-19, I would like to mark the passing of our founder and long time Chairman and Managing Director, Mr. K. Mahesh. While I would not be here were it not for him, I think the selfless effort, time, and love he put into building the company means that most of us would not be here today were it not for him. The automotive industry, TVS, and most of all Sundaram Brake Linings were his highest priority. This company, he founded, was the first in the TVS group to go public and to export products from inception. His dynamic leadership led to this company becoming an established brand in the global arena and exports grew to nearly half out of net turnover even when Indian export was almost unknown. Mr. Mahesh’s relentless pursuit of perfection led to SBL being the first friction material manufacturer in the world to be awarded the Deming Prize. Given the company’s many achievements under his leadership and the debt we will forever owe him, I would like to ask us all to observe a moment of silence to mark the passing of a beacon of probity, love for employees, and hard work who put this company above self.”

Unquote
