They also generated a large amount of data in adults in different countries and that the safety, efficacy and immunogenicity data on the Novavax COVID-19 vaccine are very robust which includes a safety database of more than 50,000 adults with data from Australia, South Africa, UK and USA and preliminary data in 22,48 children. "Further in the ongoing Phase 2/3 study in India, more than 2,400 participants have received at least first dose of the vaccine with no safety concerns reported so far," the application stated.
