Traffic violation premium in motor insurance on cards

Mumbai, 18 January

working group constituted by the insurance regulator to study the scope of linking motor insurance premium with traffic violations has recommended adding 'traffic violation premium' in every motor insurance policy, in addition to motor own-damage (OD), basic third-party (TP), additional TP, and compulsory personal accident premium.

It will float over OD and TP sections of motor insurance and can be attached to any section of motor insurance cover being purchased. "This will ensure, regardless of any insurance cover a motor owner wants to buy, he/she will be subjected to traffic violation premium, unless he/she already has in force a motor insurance policy wherein traffic violation premium has already been paid," said the group.

It goes on to say that whenever a person approaches a general insurer for any type of motor insurance, he/she will be assessed for their traffic violations and the traffic violation premium they need to pay. And, the premium has to be paid by the owner of the vehicle, thereby taking full responsibility of the traffic violations, irrespective of the driver of the vehicle.

Furthermore, the recommendations given by the group say the traffic violation premium will follow the fortune of vehicle, rather than the owner. That is to say, a new vehicle will start with no traffic violation history, irrespective of the fact that the vehicle owner may have previous violation history as a driver or with another vehicle.

"This apparently may appear inequitable. However, it was deliberated upon and kept this way for the sake of simplicity," said the working group.

Also, after sale of vehicle, the traffic violation premium shall start from ground zero from the date of vehicle ownership transfer and build up depending upon the traffic violations caused by vehicle after ownership transfer. The insurance information bureau, which is promoted by the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India, will work with state traffic police and the National Informatics Centre to collect data and make it available to all general insurers.

This will be run on a pilot basis in the National Capital Territory (NCT). Since a large number of vehicles enter NCT on a daily basis, vehicles from other states that cause traffic violation in NCT will have to pay traffic violation premium at the time of insuring their vehicles. "All general insurers registered in the country shall need to modify their motor insurance policy schedule to clearly reflect a fifth section and make changes to their information technology systems to mandatorily collect and account for this premium as a separate and additional fifth section," it said.

Moody's Analytics believes that India will drive the Asia Pacific region's efforts for distribution of Covid-19 vaccines in the coming

Rising demand from key markets drives up spot LNG prices in Asia

New Delhi, 18 January

Spot liquefied natural gas (LNG) prices in Asian markets are at record high levels for deliveries due in February 2021. These prices are driven by a harsh winter in North East Asia pushing up demand for spot LNG in Japan, South Korea, and China.

"The spot LNG price in Asia is highly sensitive to marginal demand in Japan, Korea, and China. Since these places are experiencing harsh winter, the heating load has gone up significantly. Emergency (unplanned) buying by Japanese power companies is the driving factor for pushing up prices," Debasish Mishra, Partner at Deloitte said.

spot market (headed for North East Asian countries) is broadly represented by the LNG Japan/Korea Marker (JKM). Prices for deliveries due in February zoomed to over $32 per million British thermal units (mmBtu) last week. never-seen-before record high levels were following a firming up of prices from December 2020 that had risen to above $12 per mBtu. "Since May, when the JKM Asian spot LNG price bottomed out below $2 per mmBtu due to oversupply, the market has enjoyed a remarkable rally, the JKM increasing more than 16fold to a record high of $32.50 per mBtu in January," a report by S&P Global Platts said.

The multi-fold price explosion is the result of a potent cocktail of pent-up gas demand, that had plummeted in the pandemic, and lack of adequate transport.

"This (the price hike) was driven first by an unprecedented supply-side response to low prices, with US LNG cancellations starting to rebalance the market through the summer, followed by strong winter buying demand from Asian buyers in the fall and a number of supply-side issues. Since the start of 2021, cargo shortages, transportation bottlenecks, record shipping rates, and plunging winter temperatures have lent support to the market," it said.

The surge in demand was such that LNG sellers to Pakistan LNG (a public sector company in Pakistan) refused to supply contracted quantities due in February 2021. These contracts were awarded in December 2020, but two weeks into January 2021, the gas suppliers expressed inability to meet the terms of delivering in February.

According to a note from the Institute for Energy Economics and Financial Analysis, emerging markets such as Vietnam, Pakistan and Bangladesh, amongst others, that are looking at LNG to provide a source of power, will be faced with more volatile and also higher prices. IEEFA says that Vietnam, Pakistan, and Bangladesh have over $50 billion of proposed gas-fired power projects at risk of cancellation from unaffordable LNG prices.

It is estimated that 11 to 12 per cent of the total natural gas consumed globally is through short term LNG trade mostly focused on North East Asia.
