FY20 GDP grew even slower at 4%

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, 29 January

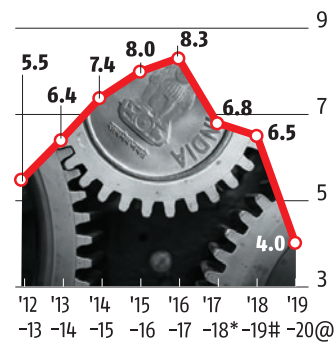

The government on Friday revised downwards the economic growth rate for 2019-20 to 4 per cent from 4.2 per cent estimated earlier, mainly due to contraction in secondary sectors like manufacturing and construction.

"Real GDP or GDP at constant (2011-12) prices for the years 2019-20 and 2018-19 stands at ₹145.69 trillion and ₹140.03 trillion, respectively, showing a growth of 4.0 per cent during 2019-20 and 6.5 per cent during 2018-19," National Statistical Office said in revised national account data.

Under the first revision released in January 2020, real GDP or GDP at constant (2011-12) prices for 2018-19 was pegged at ₹139.81 trillion, showing a growth of 6.1 per cent.

"The growth in real GVA during 2019-20 has been lower than that in 2018-19 mainly due to relatively lower growth in mining and quarrying, manufacturing, electricity, gas, water supply and other utility services, construction, trade, repair, hotels and restaurants and financial services," the data said.

During 2019-20, the growth rates of the primary sector (comprising agriculture, forestry, fishing and mining and quarrying), secondary sector (comprising manufacturing, electricity, gas, water supply and other utility services, and construction) and tertiary sector (services) have been estimated as 3.3 per cent, (-1.1 per cent and 7.2 per cent as against a growth of 2.2 per cent, 5.8 per cent, and 7.2 per cent, respectively, in the previous year. Nominal net national income at current prices for 2019-20 stands at ₹179.94 trillion as against ₹167.05 trillion in 2018-19, showing a growth of 7.7 per cent as against a rise of 10.3 per cent in the previous year.

Per capita income i.e. per capita net national income at current prices is estimated at ₹1,25,883 and ₹1,34,186, respectively, for 2018-19 and 2019-20. Per capita PFCE at current prices, for 2018-19 and 2019-20 is estimated at ₹84,567 and ₹91,790, respectively.

Fiscal deficit soars to 145% of estimate

Union government's fiscal deficit soared to ₹11.58 trillion or 145.5 per cent of the Budget Estimate (BE) at the end of December, as revenue realisation was hit by disruptions in normal business activities. According to the data released by the Controller General of Accounts (CGA), the fiscal deficit at the end of December in the previous fiscal year was 132.4 per cent of the BE of 2019-20.

In absolute terms, the fiscal deficit stood at ₹11,58,469 crore at December-end. For the current fiscal year, the government had pegged the fiscal deficit at ₹796 trillion or 3.5 per cent of the GDP in the Budget which was presented in February 2020. The fiscal deficit or gap between the expenditure and revenue had breached the annual target in July this year.

The government received ₹11.21 trillion (50 per cent of corresponding BE 2020-21 of total receipts) up to December 2020. Of this, ₹9,62,399 crore was tax revenue, ₹1,26,181 crore was non-tax revenue, and ₹33,098 crore was non-debt capital receipts.

Non-debt capital receipts consist of recovery of loans (₹14,202 crore) and disinvestment proceeds (₹18,896 crore). The total receipts till December 2020 works out to be 49.9 per cent of the BE. The receipts were 56.6 per cent of the BE 2019-20 at the end of December 2019.

The CGA also said that ₹37,164 crore has been transferred to state governments as devolution of share of taxes by the central government up to December 2020.

The centre's total expenditure stood at ₹22.80 trillion or 75 per cent of corresponding BE 2020-21. Out of this, ₹19,71,173 crore was on revenue account and ₹3,08,974 crore was on capital account.

Of the total revenue expenditure, ₹4,72,171 crore was towards interest payments and ₹2,27,352 crore is on account of major subsidies.

Indexing annuity rates to inflation or G-secs on cards

SUBRATA PANDA
Mumbai, 29 January

The Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (Irdai) is exploring the possibility of indexing annuity rates to government securities or the inflation rate so that they reflect the cost of living of consumers.

Annuity products may shift from fixed rates, which generally give lower returns, to floating rates.

Subhash Chandra Khuntia, Irdai chairman, said: "If the annuity rate is indexed to something that reflects the cost of living, it will be good for both the insurer and the policyholders."

A group has been constituted to look at this.

Annuity plans enable customers to receive payments regularly throughout their lives after they invest a lump sum. The insurance industry has seen a surge in demand for annuity products due to increasing life expectancy and rapidly declining interest rates. Experts have said the recent fall in bank interest rates has made annuity products attractive and the demand for such products will continue to soar in the coming years with a huge section of the Indian population working in the unorganised sector, where there is no pension.

The regulator recently launched a standard individual immediate annuity product — "Sara Pension" — which all life insurers have to start offering by April 1. The regulator has introduced standard products in the past few months, starting with standard health products, Covid products, term products, etc. It is also planning to introduce a few other standard products.

Speaking at the annual summit of the Insurance Brokers Association of India (IBAI), Khuntia said around 4.2 million lives had been protected under Corona Kavach and approximately 536,000 under Corona Rakshak. These were the two standard Covid products the regulator had launched in June last year. They are cheaper than comprehensive health policies.

Around 12.8 million lives have been covered under Covid-specific products with a premium of more than ₹1,000 crore, and the sum insured is more than

IN THE PIPELINE

- A group has been formed by the regulator on this issue
 - Falling interest rates has led to demand for annuity products
 - Irdai has launched a standard individual annuity
- ### COVID PRODUCTS REPORT CARD
- 4.2 million lives covered under Corona Kavach; 536,000 under Corona Rakshak
 - Overall, 12.8 million lives covered under Covid-specific products
 - Around ₹1,000 crore premiums have been collected
 - And, sum insured for these policies has surpassed ₹12 trillion

₹12 trillion. The chairman said insurance companies had been asked to have agreements with network providers (hospitals) on the cost of disposables and Covid treatment. In the initial days of the pandemic the health insurance industry saw costs rising due to disposables because there was no standard charge for such products and customers had to pay for them. But he said it was a transient phenomenon and the costs had come down.

"We would like to develop such agreements between health providers and insurers so that there is some certainty and policyholders are not asked to pay anything extra. Now, things are under control and we are keeping a watch on the situation," he said.

HC seeks response to plea by PETA

STAFF REPORTER
NEW DELHI

The Delhi High Court on Friday asked the Animal Welfare Board of India (AWBI) and the Central Zoo Authority (CZA) to respond to a plea by People for Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA), seeking to issue show-cause notices to several circuses and cancel their registration certificates due to alleged violations committed by them.

A Bench of Justices Vipin Sanghi and Rekha Palli asked the AWBI and the CZA to file detailed replies within three weeks, and posted the case for further hearing on February 25.

PETA submitted that as per the AWBI, only six circuses are functional now, but show-cause notices have been issued to only two of them. To this, the AWBI and the CZA said show-cause notices have been issued to all the six circuses and action is being taken against them.

The plea was filed in a pending petition by PETA for protection of animals in circuses stranded across the country due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Another plea by Federation of Indian Animals Protection Organisation, seeking similar relief, is also pending before the High Court.

BJP goons asking farmers to vacate protest sites at Delhi borders: AAP

Manish Sisodia seeks explanation as to why BJP is terming protesters as traitors

STAFF REPORTER
NEW DELHI

Senior AAP leader and Deputy Chief Minister Manish Sisodia said that it was not local residents, but "goons of the BJP" who are asking farmers to vacate protest sites at different borders of Delhi.

While visiting a protest site in Ghazipur at Delhi-Uttar Pradesh border on Friday, Mr. Sisodia said the BJP should explain why they were terming "sardars as traitors".

Meanwhile, Water Minister Satyendar Jain, who had visited the Singhu border with water tankers claimed that the police did not even allow supply of basic facilities such as water to the farmers on the BJP's orders. "It's unfortunate that 'sardars', who are strong patriots, are being called traitors. The real traitors are the ones who are calling the farmers that. Central government is wronging the farmers under the pressure from 'capitalist friends'. AAP always stands with farmers and the Sikh community," Mr. Sisodia said.

He said that farmers who feed the nation are being called traitors, being abused and being called violent. "The BJP is calling them traitors. The BJP will have to tell the country why they are calling 'sardars' traitors," the AAP leader said.

Mr. Sisodia said that on Thursday, Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal had talked to Rakesh Tikait, one of the leaders of the farmers. "He [Mr. Tikait] had said that the Uttar Pradesh government has removed facilities for water. We made arrangements last [Thursday] night. We have arranged nine to 10 tankers and toilets on directions of the Chief Minister." When asked about local people allegedly asking farmers to leave the protest sites, Mr. Sisodia said, "These are not locals. These are goons of the BJP."

"Rakesh ji, we are completely with the farmers. Your demands are valid. It is wrong to discredit the farmers' movement, call farmers as traitors and make false cases against leaders of farmers who have been agitating peacefully for so many days," Mr. Kejriwal said in a tweet in Hindi.

Mr. Jain claimed that the central government and the BJP leadership were behind this "shameful decision" to stop the water tankers at Singhu. "They want to keep the farmers thirsty and hungry because they think in this way, they can stop the protest. The Kejriwal government believes that when the farmers are in Delhi, it is our fundamental duty to provide them with water and toilet facilities," he said.

BJP condemns 'resurgence of miscreants' at borders

Party accuses AAP of supporting them

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT
NEW DELHI

The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) on Friday sought to condemn "the resurgence of miscreants and arson elements" on the Singhu and Ghazipur borders besides accusing Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal and the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) of "standing shoulder-to-shoulder" with them.

Delhi BJP president Adesh Gupta questioned as to why Mr. Kejriwal had not met the policemen injured during the violence on Republic Day or spoken about the incident.

"The condition of many policemen remains critical, but Kejriwal has neither visited the injured security personnel yet nor condemned the incident. These 400 jawans are also sons and daughters of someone and are residents of Delhi," he alleged.

"Kejriwal, who calls himself the son of Delhi, thinks it is better to respect those who spread anarchy than to honour those who fight against such elements. This is the reason why when the police arrived to remove the miscreants peacefully, Kejriwal's entire staff stood with the miscreants," he also alleged.

AAP and Congress stood in support of "miscreants" at protest sites, Mr. Gupta alleged, with Delhi government Ministers "facilitating them".

The stand of the Kejriwal government in respect to those who "disrespect the national flag" was an insult not only to Delhi, but the entire country, he also alleged.

'U.P. ordinance on conversion capable of public mischief'

It violates fundamental right to practise religion: Justice Shah

SOIBAM ROCKY SINGH
NEW DELHI

Justice Ajit Prakash Shah, former Chief Justice of Delhi High Court, on Friday said the controversial Uttar Pradesh Ordinance aimed at checking unlawful religious conversions for inter-faith marriages was "capable of great public mischief".

Justice Shah made the remarks while speaking at a virtual meet organised by the Delhi High Court Women Lawyers' Forum on 'Attack on Love Marriage and Freedom of Choice'.

Justice Shah, who headed the High Court Bench that decriminalised homosexuality in 2009, said the idea of fraternity is being tested most in India today. "We are watching this attack on this most fundamental of democratic principles play out in our backyard through the Uttar Pradesh Prohibition of Unlawful Religious Conversion Ordinance, 2020," Justice Shah said.

The former Chairman of Law Commission of India said: "This Ordinance has been promulgated to combat the perceived threat of 'love jihad', a term commonly used to describe inter-

An aggrieved person can lodge a complaint against anyone. With the executive and legislature having failed us on this front what can the third arm of the government [judiciary] do.

faith relationships and marriage. The ordinance makes it a criminal offence for a person to convert another by coercion, misrepresentation and so on. There is nothing objectionable in that itself. But it greatly violates the freedom of conscience and the fundamental right to practice religion. It also strikes at the right to life and liberty guaranteed by the Constitution."

Burden of proof

He explained that ordinarily, in any given case the burden of proof is on the prosecution. Under this Ordinance, however, every religious conversion is presumed to be illegal. The burden of proof now lies with the person accused of religious conversion to prove that it is not illegal.

The offence is cognisable and non-bailable, so the police can arrest the accused without a warrant, Justice Shah said, adding, "Interestingly, reconversion is not illegal."

"An aggrieved person can lodge a complaint against anyone. A lot of people can be brought under this net. This law is capable of great public mischief. Indeed my own marriage is inter-faith as amongst one of my children. Such relationship should be celebrated, instead we are criminalising them," he remarked.

"With the executive and legislature having failed us on this front what can the third arm of the government [judiciary] do. In a recent case, the Allahabad High Court held that marriage is a matter of choice and every adult woman has the fundamental right to choose her partner," Justice Shah said.

Speaking at the virtual meet, advocate Kirti Singh said the entire drama of 'love jihad' was done to target inter-faith marriages, and particularly Hindu and Muslim interfaith marriages.

Republic Day celebrations in Delhi come to a close

Arrangements made adhering to COVID-19 norms; attendees, performers wore masks

HEMANI BHANDARI
NEW DELHI

Seats were at a fair distance from each other, and not only the attendees but the officers who performed with their drums and pipes had masks on. What stole the show of Beating Retreat was an old favourite composition by the Air Force Band.

As the Republic Day celebrations came to a close with Beating Retreat at Vijay Chowk on Friday, the drums embedded with white light played by the Air Force Band, especially during their composition "Evening Star", got a round of applause louder than the rest.

Performances

"All of it was absolutely amazing. But 'Evening Star' stood out for me. It was really upbeat and different. It was a performance which millennials like us could connect with," said Sneha Bhansali (21) who had come with her friends to the event for the first time on Friday.

Another element of the event which caught people's keen attention was a song on the Indian Army titled 'Hum sher hai Galwan ke', with a video playing out in the background of Army officers in Galwan.

The event started with Navy, Army and Air Force chief arriving in their cars followed by Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Vice-President Venkaiah Naidu and finally President Ram Nath Kovind with a fleet of decked-up horses.

There were a few new performances this time, including 'Tiranga Senani' and 'Nidar Yodha' presented by the Air Force Band, 'Bharat Vandana' by Naval Band, and 'Abhinandan Bharat' and 'Sambhodan

Echo' by Army Military Band. The retreat ended with the hymn 'Abide with me' followed by 'Saare jahan se achha', which visibly evoked a feeling of patriotism in the crowd.

While the number of guests this time being limited owing to COVID-19, a few managed to get entry passes. Harsh Bhandari (17), a resident of Hauz Khas, who had come with his mother, said: "I have come for the third time and I think I will continue to come as I want to join the Army eventually. This event fills me with patriotism."

This was the first time for 76-year-old Krishna Aggarwal at the event, which he had been wanting to attend for last many years. Her four daughters and husband are working for the defence forces and she never got an opportunity to attend one. "I was born before independence so all such events fill me with pride," she said.

IIT-K submits proposal to Delhi govt. on real-time pollution study

It follows move to terminate Washington University's study

NIKHIL M BABU
NEW DELHI

IIT-Kanpur has submitted a proposal to the Delhi government for conducting a study to find what exactly are the sources of pollutants in the city's air on a real time basis, a Delhi government official told The Hindu.

The move follows a decision by Deputy Chief Minister Manish Sisodia to "terminate" the same study, which was being done by University of Washington in St. Louis for the Delhi government, in December.

Cost of project

"According to the proposal, the new study will cost about ₹11 crore. An expert committee will examine the proposal and, if found feasible, then the study will be allotted to IIT-Kanpur on nomination basis without a tender. The decision will be taken by the Cabinet," the official said.

The proposed study is different from the earlier

one as a whole team will be working on the new one. Also, a "super monitoring site", a tall structure with sensors, will be set up by IIT-Kanpur, as part of the study, according to officials.

"IIT-Kanpur will analyse the data and create an algorithm which will give what are sources of pollution on a real-time basis," the official added. As per the proposal, it will take 18 months to complete the study once approved.

The study is important since what causes pollution in the city has been a matter of constant debate between the city and the Central government.

The Delhi government has been stating that stubble burning in Punjab and Haryana is the major cause of air pollution in Delhi during the winter.

On the other hand, the Centre has multiple times pointed out that local pollutants in the city are also a main reason.

In 2018, the Delhi Cabinet, headed by Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal, had approved a proposal for the study by University of Washington in St. Louis.

The university went ahead with the study and the government paid them more than ₹50 lakh. However, a three-member committee appointed by the Delhi government raised red flags about the study in October and November.

Later, a decision was taken in December to cancel it and find a new agency to do the study.

'Daily habits can lead to spinal ailments'

ASSI launches injury prevention and awareness programme

STAFF REPORTER
NEW DELHI

Association of Spine Surgeons of India (ASSI) on Friday said that everyday habits such as prolonged sitting or standing, poor posture, carrying heavy bags, unsupervised or excessive physical training are major contributors to spinal ailments.

"Since the lifestyle is more sedentary now, you are sitting more, and people tend to slouch in chairs or bed. Especially during the COVID-19 crisis, people are working from home and since there is no proper work environment in most cases, it leads to more bad postures and that in turn leads to spinal ailments and back pain," said H.S. Chhabra, ASSI president and chief of Spine Services at Indian Spinal Injuries Centre, New Delhi.

The ASSI on Friday launched a country-wide injury prevention and awareness programme and drive about "spine-healthy lifestyle" and will partner with 1,000 institutions, including schools, colleges and other organisations.

"It is not just mishaps or accidents that result in spinal injuries. Simple everyday habits such as poor posture, carrying heavy bags, inadequate furniture, unsupervised or excessive physical training or not wearing helmets are major contributors to injuries. Simple interventions, such as wearing seatbelts and helmets diligently, using ergonomic furniture in offices and schools and adoption of correct posture can go a long way in reducing burden of injuries and back pain. Apart from stressing on the need for using effective safety equipment, the awareness programme will also incorporate awareness on spine-healthy lifestyles, posture-correction techniques and exercise regimens," said Gautam Zaveri, Joint Secretary of ASSI.
