Some part of the growth (AUM) will come from that," he added.

"Some part of the growth will also come from increased market share. Currently, our market share in the regions that we are present is less than 2%. Our aim is to take the market share to 4-5% in the next two years. Increased market share will give us growth. We are also looking at co-lending as an avenue to increase our market share as it gives us access to formal customers who borrow at a higher ticket size," Viswanathan added.

The home financier's assets under management rose 35%

Union Bank of India and Central Bank of India.

Fundamentally, the differentiation is on our ability to assess customers. These are customers who do not have all the documents like salary slips, etc., required to assess credit-worthiness. You have to look at other documents or do a physical verification to understand income profile of customers. That is our unique selling proposition. Secondly, we do this very quickly for customers and partner builders and it is a very frictionless process with very less paper work," Manoj Viswanathan said.

transparent manner.
