Strand will conduct the genetic test based on sequencing of 20,000 genes (humans have about 20,000-25,000 genes, with every person having two copies of each gene, one inherited from each parent), followed by genomic analysis and interpretation to identify a range of genomic risks.

In addition, a pharmacogenomics report that outlines how the individual may metabolise several drugs on account of genomic variants would also be provided.

only report studies on genomic risks with substantial scientific evidence that are clinically relevant as it intends to "keep the bar high".

The testing would be performed at the same level of rigour as the testing in a clinical setting for doctor-referred tests, the company added.

Capital is necessary for growth: Vedanta

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, March 2

ANIL AGARWAL'S VEDANTA Resources Ltd on Thursday said capital is necessary for growth and nation building and companies borrow keeping in view growth prospects and ability to repay.

Continuing its efforts to convince the investor community about debt being within manageable limits, Vedanta in a post on LinkedIn said the company has always met its repayment commitments on time and has full capability to repay.

Earlier this week, the firm, which is the majority owner of Mumbai-listed mining and oil and gas company Vedanta Ltd, had said it is in the advanced stage of finalisation to tie up $1.75 billion through a combination of syndicate loan and bilateral bank facilities.

Vedanta Resources said it has pre-paid all of its debt that was due for repayment till March 2023, deleveraging by $2 billion in the past 11 months. Further, it is confident of meeting its liquidity needs for the quarter ending June 2023.

"Capital is necessary for growth and nation-building. All, including sovereign, individuals and companies borrow keeping in view growth prospects and, therefore, the ability to repay," the company said.

'AMAZING THAT IT HAS NO MONEY TO PAY' HC pulls up DMRC over arbitral award

The court is hearing DAMEPL's petition over non-payment

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, March 2

THE DELHI HIGH Court on Thursday said it was "amazing" that two elected governments have set up Delhi Metro Rail Corporation (DMRC) which now says it has no money to pay the arbitral award.

The court asked the competent authority of DMRC to attend the proceedings so that a holistic view can be taken regarding the funds available with the corporation.

"I have before me two sovereign and elected governments who have set up this corporation and we are told that it has no money to honour the award," Justice Yashwant Varma said while listing the matter for further hearing on Friday.

The high court was hearing an execution petition filed by DAMEPL against the DMRC over the arbitral award passed in its favour on May 11, 2017.

An arbitral tribunal had ruled in favour of DAMEPL, which had pulled out of running the Airport Express metro line over safety issues, and accepted its claim that running the operations on the line was not viable due to structural defects in the viaduct through which the train would pass.

Hearing the submissions advanced by the counsel for central and Delhi government, which are stakeholders in DMRC, that they are not liable to pay the arbitral award of the corporation, the high court said imagine the message being sent outside.

"It is amazing that there are two elected governments who have set up this corporation and today we are told the law. The corporation set up by two governments has no money and it is default. Let us not distance ourselves so far which is untenable in law. Imagine what message you are conveying outside that there is a government corporation which is refusing to deal with an award," the judge said.
