Zelensky, Vance meet; Ukraine says Russia hit Chernobyl nuke plant

President Zelensky met US Vice President JD Vance at the high-level Munich Security Conference in Germany on Friday. Vance warned the US could hit Russia with economic and military tools of leverage if Putin doesn't negotiate a peace deal in good faith. Meanwhile, a Russian drone with a high-explosive warhead hit the protective containment shell of the Chernobyl Nuclear Power Plant in the Nyrz region during the night, Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky said.

Radiation levels have not increased, Zelensky said and the UN atomic agency said. Russian officials made no immediate comment, and it was not possible to independently confirm Ukraine's claims of Russian responsibility. The UN atomic agency did not attribute blame, saying only its team stationed at the site heard an explosion and were informed that a drone had struck the shell.

Zelensky said that the strike damaged the structure and started a fire, which has been put out. The strike came two days after US President Donald Trump said he would meet with Russian President Vladimir Putin to discuss ending the war in a move that seemed to identify Putin as the only player that matters and looked set to sideline Zelensky, as well as European governments, in any peace talks.

Whale briefly swallows kayaker

A humpback whale briefly swallowed a kayaker off Chilean Patagonia before quickly releasing him unharmed. The incident, caught on camera, quickly went viral. Last Saturday, Adrian Simancas was kayaking with his father, Dell, in Bahía El Aguila near the San Isidro Lighthouse when a humpback whale surfaced, engulfing

Adrian and his yellow kayak for a few seconds before letting him go. Dell, just metres away, captured the moment on video while encouraging his son to stay calm. 'Stay calm, stay calm,' he can be heard saying after his son was released from the whale's mouth. 'I thought I was dead.'

Judge orders Trump admin to allow funds for US aid

A federal judge has ordered the Trump administration to temporarily lift a three-week funding freeze that has shut down US aid and development programmes worldwide. Judge Amir Ali issued the order on Thursday in US District court in Washington in a lawsuit brought by two health organisations that receive US funding for programmes abroad.

Pope Francis hospitalised for treatment of bronchitis

Pope Francis was hospitalised on Friday to treat a week-long bout of bronchitis and undergo diagnostic tests, the Vatican said, confirming the latest issues with the 85-year-old's physical health that forced him to cancel his agenda through Monday at least. Francis was diagnosed with bronchitis on February 6, but had continued to hold daily audiences in his Vatican hall until he cancelled his agenda Wednesday and presided at an outdoor Mass on Sunday. He had hand-off his speeches for an aide to read aloud, saying he was tiring too quickly breathing.

On Friday, he appeared bloated and pale during the handful of audiences he held before going to the hospital. The bloating appeared to indicate that the medication he was taking to treat the lung infection was making him retain water. Francis, who had part of one lung removed as a young man, has long battled health problems, especially bouts of acute bronchitis in winter. He uses a wheelchair, walker or cane when moving around his apartment and recently fell twice, hurting his arm and chin.

In his order, Ali noted that the Trump administration argued that it had to shut down funding for the thousands of US Agency for International Development aid programmes abroad to conduct a thorough review of each programme and whether it should be eliminated. However, administration officials have not offered any explanation for why a blanket suspension of all congressionally appropriated foreign aid.
